Season's First Hunt Casualty Reported

Fashion monguls who have had the female hemline going up and down like a venetian blind year after year have now turned their attention to men's pants. Here is one of innovations, introduced at a showing of men's fashions in Paris, and borrowed from the days of the crinoline when men wore the tight pants with the cuffs elasticked to their shoes. The new idea, as you see eliminates a turn-up at the rear part of the leg and cuff is held to the shoe by an elastic strip. The lady here seems to be entranced by the new style.

King Mohammed V of Morocco is shown speaking to the people of Tangier for the first time since the proclamation of Moroccan independence a year and a half ago. The king assured his hearers that the city will remain a free money market and that capital and personal income will remain tax free.

Queen of Muskoka for the season is Leah Brock, 17, of Gravenhurst who was crowned to lead the Cavalcade of Color through the Ontario resort area.

Virtually no chance of survival within 5 miles of big A-blast Lindsay CD leader tells group

"Within five miles of a big atomic explosion there is virtually no chance of survival for anyone . . . There would be little of anything left, except a gaping, possibly dangerously radioactive, hole in the earth." So declared Lindsay's Col. J. T. Truman at Arnprior as he outlined the potential destructive force of the H-Bomb to a gathering of Civil Defense personnel. The CD group is meeting at Arnprior in preparation for National Civil Defense Day on Friday and Mr. Truman is defence co-ordinator for this area.

"There is very little hope," Col. Truman continued, "of survival for anyone living within eight miles of the spot. For one atomic weapon can carry easily the equivalent blast of five to ten million tons of old-style high explosives.

"If they were in shelters, people within nine to twelve miles of an atomic explosion might survive the blast and heat. The only catch even for these is that nobody knows the exact point where an atomic weapon might hit.

"The best defence is dispersal. The only way to evacuate the large cities and industrial areas most likely to be target centres in a war is to plan it out in advance.

"It is because Civil Defence offers a way of making this necessary preparation in advance that Friday, October 4, has been designated Civil Defence Day in Canada. Canadians must not forget that they need Civil Defence. In this case, in these uneasy times, forgetfulness could cost their lives.

"Civil Defence planners aim at preparing the nation to disperse all unessential people when political developments deteriorate to the brink of war. This should be capable of completion in eight hours.

Next, the rest of the target-area population would be moved at least 50 miles out during the three-hour warning period given by the radar lines across the northern and coastal areas.

"Those in refuge outside the blasted areas would stay there until advised to come out. Trained rescuers would move into damaged zones to help any survivors.

"The final CD phase would be rehabilitation of those who lost their homes. CD workers would try to bring families back together and re-establish those with no place to go.

"But in all these things, the CD plan could work only if all Canadians had learned their part in advance. It would be too late to carry out so large a plan once the bombs started dropping."

Editorial

MENACE BECOMES APPARENT

We do not subscribe to the unnecessary slaughter of wild animals at any time and it was with regret shared by many others that we learned it had become necessary to end the life of a moose which had been making its home on a farm in the Downeyville district. Realizing that some action would have to be taken to get it off the farm where it was making a nuisance of itself, it was hoped that some way would be devised which would ensure the animal's return to its natural habitat.

According to the Dept. of Lands and Forests, Lindsay, several attempts were made to persuade the big bull moose to "clear out" but they were either resisted or ignored. As a "last resort", and because the moose was interfering with normal farm operations and constituting a menace to human beings, it was disposed of with finality.

Just how dangerous these creatures can be, especially at this season of the year, is apparent from a Timmins report this morning. A moose up that way is reported to have charged a bus, tipped it over and injured two people. It is thus evident that these are animals which aren't particularly safe to have around populated areas, and we can take satisfaction from the knowledge that the Downeyville moose was disposed of before anyone was injured . . . There are limits to which we can go in protecting wildlife and the boundary lies at that point where they become a menace to humans.

Lindsay's Reeve Gives Westerners Woman's Viewpoint On "Planning"

Third Local Boy Is Making Bid For 'A' Spot

Another Lindsay boy is reported to be trying out for a spot in Junior "A" hockey this season. He is Merle Reeds, son of Mrs. Viola Reeds, Caroline Street and he is making a bid for a place on the Peterborough Junior "A" entry.

Merle was scouted last year by Montreal Canadiens following a Lindsay Rotary Midgets game with Simcoe Gunners in which he turned in a stellar performance. He was the Midgets captain last season.

Lindsay's Reeve Greaves has been in the news at Saskatoon where she attended the Canadian Good Roads Association convention.

The Saskatoon Star-Phoenix gives Miss Greaves special mention on its "Women's Page" of September 27th Under the caption "Brings Woman's Viewpoint Into Municipal Planning," the Star-Phoenix writes:

"Although she had many interests, Miss Ada Greaves of Lindsay, Ontario, admitted a special interest in town planning, particularly from the woman's viewpoint. Miss Greaves has been in Saskatoon this week to attend the Canadian Good Roads Association convention at The Bessborough, and will continue her journey west to Vancouver, where she will attend a convention of the Canadian Planning Association.

"In an interview Thursday, she said she had worked on the Town of Lindsay's planning board for about five years and last year was chairman. Problems of the board were similar to those in all towns and cities across Canada—organizing, developing and co-ordinating housing, commercial areas, industry, schools and parks. "In a small town, you are close to people and to problems of planning, which helps you as you go along," she said.

"The sparkling brown eyed visitor has spent some 14 years in various fields of municipal politics. She was the first woman alderman elected to the council of the Town of Lindsay and during the last five years has been one of two Lindsay representatives on the County Council of Victoria, of which Lindsay is a part. In January of this year she became warden of the county council elected by its reeves and deputy-reeves. Lindsay, she explained, was the only member of the county with a town status of 10,000 population.

"What did a warden do? Miss Greaves sketched rapidly a few of her duties. She presided at four council sessions a year, wearing her robe of office at each session; she served on all county committees and represented the council at meetings and conventions, "like this interesting one."

"Besides a busy municipal schedule, she held the office of secretary-treasurer in an electrical appliance business, of which her brother, Morley, was president. He organized the firm some 30 years ago. A sister, Florence, was a graduate nurse who "goes to sea" as a member of the ship's staff of SS Brazil.

"Miss Greaves chatted enthustically about Lindsay and of its centennial celebration in August of this year. She said she lived in the family home, which was more than 80 years old. What did she do in her spare time? There seemed to be little of it, but she enjoyed membership in the Business and Professional Women's Club, found golf "hard to fit in" and occasionally enjoyed brief visits to her summer cottage on a secluded lake close to town.

"With Miss Greaves, from the County of Victoria Council, here for the convention were Mr. Ted Brien, reeve of Fenelon Township; Mr. George Gamble, reeve of Verulam Township, and Mr. F. L. Weldon, clerk-treasurer of the county council, with Mrs. Weldon."

Spare the Stakes, Gas Company Asks

"Watch the children please, don't let them pull out the surveyors' stakes on the Town boulevards", is a request from Consumers' Gas Co., at noon today.

Surveying by the company started early this afternoon on Mary Street, a Town official told "The Post".

Next week four crews, one in each ward will start digging and laying the piping.

If parents concur in this request, work will be facilitated as soon and as cleanly and neatly as possible. The distribution system is hoped to be completed within a month, it was further stated.

HELP!

A stranded resident of Hilden West, Germany, puts in a hurry call from a telephone booth in a flooded downtown section of the city and asks for a boat. He is up to his knee caps in flood water brought on by torrents of rain which caused the Itter stream to overflow its banks.

First Day Out, Loses Finger In Gun Mishap

The season's first hunting casualty has been reported in this district and a Lindsay man was the victim of the accident.

Having the third finger of his left hand shot off was the tragic result of the first day of hunting for a Lindsay man.

Mr. Tom Bagshaw of St. Paul Street North is reported to have lost the finger when the gun he was carrying accidentally discharged it was learned.

The injured man, who was hunting in the Minden district, was treated at the Minden Outpost Hospital, the office of the Minden O. P. P. informed "The Post."

Dr. F. E. A. Griffiths attended the injured man who, he said, reported he had been carrying the gun by the barrel.

Earle Grey Players Coming To L.C.I.

The Earle Grey Shakesperian Players will be in Lindsay shortly presenting excerpts of Shakespeare's plays at the L. C. I. auditorium.

The group is willing, and will arrange, through the Community Programmes Branch and the Recreation Centre, to present a drama workshop and discussion group that evening for any adults interested in this recreation field. The group comes to Lindsay on the first Tuesday in November.

Anyone interested in organizing or taking part in the workshop session should contact the Recreation Office as soon as possible, according to Recreation Director John Thorsen, so the arrangements may be made.

Norland Observers At Conference

On Sunday, a conference which brought together all regional supervisors and chief observers of the RCAF Ground Observer Corps was held in the Huntsville Council Chambers.

F/L W. S. Wood detachment commander of the Peterborough Filter Centre welcomed the group and called upon F/L J. I. Renaud, CD, No. 5 Unit headquarters, North Bay to speak on future planning, operations, etc. F/C Costello outlined operational standardization which covered reporting procedures and the types of aircraft to report to the filter centre.

Mr. Clare Keevil, Claremant, gave a brief outline of publicity and advertising now being used by the detachment. This concluded the morning session, and the group reconvened after lunch for a question and answer period, and to meet the new district officers.

Among those in attendance were: Mr. L. H. Lecraw, and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Henderson, Norland.

WILL LEARN SOON IF PROTECTION COMING

The Canadian Woollen and Worsted Textiles Industry will learn next month whether it will receive increased protection against outside competition—mainly from the United Kingdom.

First effort successful

The first attempt of the Ancient Mystic Order of Samaritans to make attendance at the Lindsay Central Exhibition possible for children who might otherwise not get there, was declared successful by the participating members. Grand Monarch Chas. Symonds and A.M.O.S. brethren are shown above along with a group of boys who enjoyed an evening at the exhbiition, everything provided, including transportation to and from their homes. The boys are reported to have had a wonderful time.

Gas Company Surveyors Commence Staking Town

Survey crews for the Consumers' Gas Co. have moved into Lindsay and are starting work today, a Town official informed "The Post", this morning.

Stakes driven in the boulevards will make the location of the gas mains which will be entrenched at a depth of 2' 6", it was further learned.

Digging is scheduled to start on Monday as the company is anxious to get the mains laid and the resultant cleaning up and sodding done before bad weather sets in.

Many enquiries are being made as to when natural gas will be available in Lindsay. In this regard, the spokesman stated that a Company store will be opened on Kent Street next week and all particulars will be available then, regarding installation, fixtures, rates, etc.,

Also it was disclosed that the branch line feeding Lindsay from the main trunk line will be finished next week. There are three crews working on it at present and it follows Highway 35 from the south.

SHORT SHORT STORY

Luck Of the Irish

By DEE RANDALL

3-Minute Fiction

ANN and Terry were young. They were in love. That's why the sky looked bluer, the clouds looked whiter as they lay arm in arm on the fresh green grass.

"Just think," said Ann. "Tomorrow at this time I'll be Mrs. Terrence Patrick O'Halloran."

"Sure and the O'Hallorans were always lucky," Terry exclaimed, mimicking his grandfather.

After the wedding it was grand fun going together to the little white frame house they had selected. Most of their savings had gone into the modestly furnished little place. But it was a home. Theirs.

Then Marianne was born. A sweet pale baby but so delicate. It took a great deal of skimping to meet all the expenses.

They lived simply and Ann knew how to get the most out of everything.

Right in the middle of this economical but ecstatic heaven of theirs a thunderbolt crashed.

Terry lost his job.

But youth is not easily discouraged. Terry set out to find another job. He was eager to work. He was sure to find something better.

His enthusiasm wavered however after several weeks. Too many, "Sorry, young fellow, but we're not taking anyone on."

Back home evenings with Ann though, he was optimistic. "I've got a good prospect tomorrow," he would say, and Ann's answer invariably would be:

"Don't worry Terry. We've still got a little money in the bank."

Terry thought to himself, how little it was.

ANN tried to keep her worries from him too. She didn't tell him that there was going to be another baby, until it was impossible to keep it a secret any longer.

He took her in his arms. "Ann darling, it's wonderful." But he couldn't keep the note of despair out of his voice as he said. "if it's a boy, I hope he's a better success than I am."

Their money dwindled down to nothing. Debts piled high. They lost their little home.

They moved to a smelly, dank tenement. But they weren't discouraged yet. The future surely held something good for them.

But Terry gradually declined; pulled himself into a shell. Ann was sweet and kind. Terry misunderstood. He thought she grieved. He brooded. There was only the one way out. Suicide. It would look like an accident.

GAS would be the best way. He planned the whole thing stealthily. He knew he was a coward. But he had to do it. He couldn't bear to see Ann go on this way any longer.

It was the way he always had loved to wake up.

The $1,000 insurance would mean Ann could go to a hospital when the baby was born. After that . . . he couldn't think of any more.

His opportunity came quicker than he had expected. That night Ann said she was going for a walk in the fresh air.

She kissed him goodbye, then went out, telling him to take care of Marianne. "I'll take a nap," he said, "my head aches."

Alone, he went to the kitchen. Turned on the gas. Then laid down exhausted. He dozed off.

He didn't know how soon after but it seemed like an eternity, Ann was gently stroking his head. It was the way he loved to wake up in the morning.

It all seemed so unreal. Ann was excitedly waving a paper in front of him. "It's from your firm. They want you back. Things are picking up. You'll take old Jim Blake's place. And there'll be a $10 raise."

Now Terry was sure he was dreaming. "The gas . . ." he said.

"Oh, how did you know?" questioned Ann. "I didn't want to tell you but we can have it turned on tomorrow. They were really very polite, waiting until after supper time."

"Yes," said Terry, "the O'Hallorans were always lucky."

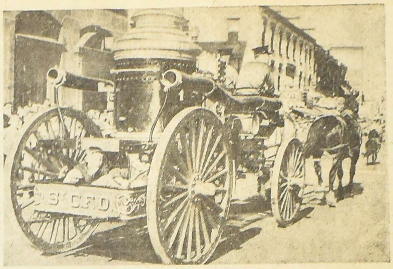
Supplies Vitamin C

As an inexpensive source of vitamin C in family meals, cabbage is an important vegetable. It's popular and widely used the year around, and often is cheaper than the fruits rich in this vitamin.

Similar Bacilli

Leprosy bacilli so closely resembles the tubercle bacilli which causes tuberculosis that it is impossible for the "laboratory" to distinguish between the single organisms of the two germs.



A century of grape-growing in the Niagara peninsula inspired a parade of old-time cars, fire reels and costumes in the Grape Festival at St. Catharines, Ont. Other towns sent floats and exhibits to make the parade a provincial spectacle. This ancient fire wagon drawn by horses could still answer an alarm and function—but it never gets an opportunity to demonstrate its effectiveness now except in parades.

Textile Plants Face Extinction With Tariff Protection--Speaker

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Miss Viola MacIntosh was hostess for the September meeting of the Fenelon Falls Women's Institute at which the president, Mrs. J. E. Barrett, presided. Following the Ode and Mary Stewart Collect the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison and Mrs. Barrett welcomed everyone to the first meeting of the fall season, which had as its theme "Those who plant kindness gather love."

Minutes of the June meeting were read by Mrs. D. A. Scott. The roll call was "wear a print dress or pay a fine," and three members paid the fine. Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. McCallum and Mrs. L. Smith were appointed as a committee to consider preparing the skit "Who Are The Canadians"? In view of the fact that the only available dates for the Extension course in Millinery were not deemed suitable, it was decided to cancel the course for this year. Mrs. Scott was named as the delegate to the Annual Convention in the Royal York in November, with Miss Elva Maybee as an alternate delegate. Mrs. Barrett and Mrs. Scott will attend the School for Leaders in Lindsay.

The programme, Agriculture and Canadian Industries was introduced by Mrs. A. McGee substituting for the convenor, Mrs. J. B. MacKay, who was unable to be present. Mr. J. E. Barrett, owner and operator of the Fenelon Botany Spinners, Ltd., one of the 17 spinners of worsted yarns in Canada, was the guest speaker and his talk was full of interesting information, as he explained in detail the process of spinning worsted yarn from wool and the synthetic fibers, nylon and rayon. Australia and New Zealand supply 62 per cent of the world wool, which is also of top quality, coming from thoroughbred sheep. Canada's wool is excellent for felting but is not considered top quality for yarn. In conjunction with the spinners Mr. Barrett operates a dye plant in Lindsay and he touched briefly on that subject.

Mr. Barrett spoke of the importance of the textile industry to Canada and dealt with some of their problems, greatest of which is competition from Japan and Italy where labour is very cheap, for example a baby set of jacket, bonnet and bootees made in Japan will retail in Canada for 90c. Unless the textile industry is given tariff protection, in five years all plants would be forced to close, he said.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. McGee moved a sincere vote of thanks to Mr. Barrett for his most interesting talk, in her remarks Mrs. McGee reminded the ladies to remember "that what Canada makes, makes Canada."

MR. DAIRYMAN

At this time of year most dairymen are faced with the problem of pastures drying up and their cows going down on milk production. With the milk quota season approaching the dairymen know that once the cows are down it is almost impossible to pull them back in this lactation. So what is he to do?

MAY WE SUGGEST
If you have your own grain, let us pick it up at your farm, roll, mix concentrate and molasses and rteurn you a PURINA BALANCED RATION. Or for the dairyman who, has no grain yet, we mix a low or high protein DAIRY MIX using all WESTERN GRAINS. Come in and discuss your DAIRY FEEDING problem with us . . . tell us what protein you want and let us see what we can do.

BEEF
Have you tried PURINA RANGE CHECKERS for fattening cattle? One, two or three pounds per day per head depending on the grass . . . this is a half inch checker and can be fed on the ground without waste.

Paintings

Loose dirt and dust can be removed from oil paintings and frames with gasoline-type, dry-cleaning fluids and cotton or a soft brush. Wax-emulsion "cream" furniture polish will brighten dulled paint surfaces. Be sure to follow directions, using test area first. The thin film of remaining wax is harmless. Don't treat paintings with oil, alcohol, soap, water, erasers, bread crumbs, raw potatoes, sliced onion or strong household cleaners as they can prove harmful. Neglect is less dangerous than inexpert treatment, so consult professional restorer.

Leather

Dust regularly with clean, soft, untreated cloth. Use saddle soap and elbow grease! To condition, apply a few drops of olive oil, raw linseed oil, paraffin oil or lanolin with soft cloth. Polish with soft silk or woollen cloth. White vaseline may be used on light-colored leather to season it. If dirt begins to show, wash it with the mildest soap and a minimum of water. Be sure to wipe off soapy water with damp cloth because soap film collects grime. Almost every kind of household stain can be removed from leather with milk soap treatment if applied as soon as possible. This includes foods, oils, pet accidents and ink.

To Eliminate Chores

Lacquer brasswork to keep those articles forever bright and to eliminate weekly shining and polishing chores; Use stain resistent place mats and tablecloth in dining room; investigate fabulous drip-dry fabrics for curtains and draperies. Cut down on dusting and polishing chores by housing collections of small items, hobby assortments in glass cupboards or glass-sealed shadow boxes or under glass-topped coffee table. Use a buggy-on-wheels (type you wheel in market) for toting cleaning tools from room to room for extra-quick mop-ups. Keep especially treated dusting, shining cloths in pockets of your plastic apron for instant, on-the-spot spruce-ups.

Plaid Fingernails

Painting plaid finger-nails is an Indian idea . . . for fine lines, girls dip a lipstick brush in the nail polish. For safe storage of personal letters, some Louisiana girls depend on dime-store lockboxes . . . curious little sisters must be satisfied with seeing only the names.

Advises No Curtsey

Washington hasn't been so shook up since the British burned it in the war of 1812. This 1957 invasion planned by Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip has thrown the capitol city socialites into nervous tizzizes. How shall I address Her Majesty? Should one keep her gloves on when and if one shakes a queenly hand? Do I shake hands with her at all? Mrs. Carolyn Hagner Shaw — the American capital's unofficial social arbiter—advises all callers not to curtsey. It's often dangerous—she says—especially in the case of the over-60 dowager who fell flat on her face before the Duke of Windsor. So a handshake will be substituted. Then comes the problem of gloves. Mrs. Shaw remembers one socialite who had to wear bandages for weeks after a huge reception because she carelessly chose lace gloves to wear in the receiving line. A final word from Mrs. Shaw—"The queen is addressed as 'Your Majesty'—except in extended conversastions when 'Ma'am' is allowed."

Tally-Ho!

Tally-ho! The Queen may also visit fox-hunting country while she is in the U-S. Informed sources say Queen Elizabeth—a horse fancier—may travel from Washington to an estate in Upperville, Virginia, after she fishish her official duties in the capital. The sources say her majesty's party will see Oak Spring, the estate of Paul Mellon—son of the late U-S Ambassador to Britain and Secretary of the Treasury.

Houshold Hint:

To remove odor of fish or onions from the frying pan put a little vinegar into pan, heating it to the boiling point . . . wash.

In Memoriam

WELLINGTON—In loving memory of my dear wife, Margaret, who passed away October 4, 1950 and daughter Violet, who passed away Jan. 20, 1930:
I often think of bygone years,
When we were all together,
Fond memories will last forever.
To me they have not travelled far
Just entered God's eternal home
—Always remembered by husband and father. (4191)

CORRIE—In loving memory of our dear Dad and Papa, John W. Corrie, who passed away Oct. 2nd, 1956:
Dad, you are not forgotten
Though on earth you are no more
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.
—Sadly missed by Alice, Claude, Jackie and Alan. (4242)

CORRIE—In loving memory of my dear husband, John W. Corrie, who passed away Oct. 2nd, 1956
Nothing can ever take away,
The love a heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
—Sadly missed by wife, "Kate". (4239)

In Memoriam

CORRIE—In loving memory of our dear son-in-law, John W. Corrie, who passed away October 2nd, 1956:
Sweetest rest follows pain,
God bless him,
Till we-meet again.
—Ever remembered by Mum and Dad Glass, Kilmarnock, Scotland. (4240)

RICHMOND—In loving memory of our dear son who passed away 3 years ago, Oct. 5, 1954:
He is gone but not forgotten,
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of him are always near,
Days of sadness will come o'er us
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow,
That lies within the heart concealed.
—Sadly missed by Mother and Dad.

CORRIE—In loving memory of our dear brother and uncle, John W. Corrie, who passed away Oct. 2nd, 1956:
Your grave too far away to see,
But not too far to think of thee.
—Ever remembered by sister, Jenny, Jimmy and Jim. Paisley, Scotland.

LINDSAY IN REDUCED GAS RATES AREA

FORMER HOUSE SPEAKER SPEAKING HERE

When the Canadian Club resumes its fall-winter activites this month the first meeting will feature the Honourable L. Rene Beaudoin, former speaker of the House of Commons who will address the club on the subject of "Parliament", with which he has intimate knowledge. There are about 40,00 members of Canadian Clubs in 100 rural and urban centres from coast to coast and the purpose of the organization is defined as "to foster ininterest in public affairs and cultivate attachment to Canadian institutions." The new season opens a week from Friday.

CNE May Cut Its Admission

Toronto Oct. 1—BUP—The admmission price at the Canadian National Exhibition may be cut from 75 to 50 cents next year if city' council's advice is followed.

The Toronto civic fathers asked the CNE board of directors to consider cutting back the price to the 50 cents it was prior to this year.

The new price was the subject of criticism by citizens and out-of-town visitors who complained to councillors and in letters to local newspapers.

But first she took a bow

A circus aerialist fell 35 feet to the floor of Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens Mon. night and lay stunned for several seconds while most of the audience regarded it as part of the fact. Betty Pasco's fall was broken by her husband, Bud, who raced to her side and allowed her to slip sideways on a fur rug. She was taken to Toronto General Hospital but first she took a bow with her husband and said "There is a first time for everything. I've had it."—BUP.

FUEL BOARD APPROVES CONSUMERS' RATE CUTS, INCLUDE LINDSAY ZONE

Lindsay, when its natural gas installations are complete, will be among the Ontario municipalites sharing in the latest Consumers' Gas Company rate reductions.

Mayor A. E. Hick announced Monday, that he had information to the effect that Lindsay would share in the latest rate cuts and the following report confirms this:

"Rate reductions varying between 10 and 40 per cent and amounting to a saving, it is claimed of $1,000,000 a year to customers of Consumers Gas Co., were approved yesterday by the Ontario Fuel Board.

"The reductions, which cover all types of natural gas consumers,, becomes effective today.

"The new rates represent the fourth voluntary reduction tha company has passed on to consumers since natural gas replaced manufactured gas in its system in February, 1955.

"The rates apply to all customers of the Company in Ontario, including new areas which it will be serving before October, 1958. These include Ottawa, Brockville, Lindsay and other municipalities.

"The largest reduction will apply to residential subscribers using gas for water heating and cooking. The company said a saving up to 40 per cent a year could be expected. The company has introduced an optional rate for this service to bring about the reduction.

"Also introduced was a new flat rate water heating schedule for consumers who prefer to rent company-owned equipment and pay for the gas it consumes at a predetermined basis.

"The changes include a new rate program featuring a scaled reduction for residential heating customers.

"Calculated on the number of customers on hte company's customers on the company's lines in May, 1958, it will provide for credits from two to five cents per 1,000 cubic feet of all gas used monthly in excess of 2,500 cubic feet from this October up to next May.

"Commercial and industrial users can expect a reduction of about 10 per cent in their bills, bringing a total rate reduction of approximately 25 per cent in the little more than 2½ years since the gas changeover.

"The latest voluntary rate reductions are possible because of the acceptance of the benefits of natural gas by the public and by the anticipated growth in this next 12 months," Oakah L. Jones, vice-president and general manager of the company, said.

"Fuel Board chairman A. R. Crozier said the reductions indicate the acceptance being accorded natural gas as it is being introduced to parts of the province not previously served with this type of fuel.

"Natural gas, he added, was taking its place in the energy-short fuel market on a competitive gasis.

"The natural gas being marketed by the Consumers' Gas Co. is being imported from the United States, pending the completion of the trans-Canada pipeline late next year when Alberta gas will be supplied to consumers."

Seeking Good Place To Barber? Southwest Offers Opportunities Sometime Lindsay Barber Writes

"Go southwest young man, not west nor north . . . but southwest if it's a good place to locate in the barbering trade you're seeking." That seems to be the point a former Lindsay barber makes in his most recent letter to the old home town.

Bert Naylor, now in Los Angeles, has sent a message of the thriving conditions in Los Angeles, Calif., where he has resided for some years, to his friend, Marshall Stevens of Lindsay.

Speaking of the barber business in that city, Mr. Naylor says—"hair cuts are from $1.10 to $2.00; shaves $1.00 to $1.75."

And the barber business there is thriving as is evidenced by a newspaper clipping from the Los Angles Examiner. This contais 40 classified ads for "Barbers Wanted" in a classified section. Wages offered vary from $100 to $150 per week for a five-day week.

"I often talk on the phone to two ex-Lindsayites, who live here," Mr. Naylor says. They are O. Pepper, one of the Pepper twins and V. Mulverhil, who lived on Russell Street in one of those white brick houses, between York and William streets, near where E. E. W. McGaffey lived. They both wish to be remembered to every person in Lindsay. V. Mulverhill's father was with the G. T. R.; Vern is now with the Santa Fe Railroad in Calif., and one of the Vice-Presidents, he further relates.

Mr. and Mrs. Naylor intend to motor in their new Buick to Detroit, Toronto, Uxbridge and to probably renew acquaintances in Lindsay for one day.

Mr. Naylor sends his best regards to old friends in Lindsay and would like to see them all when here.

All these messages were conveyed in a letter, done in the beautiful handwriting of this gentleman, "who although well over the three-quarter century mark is full of vim and vigour," states his friend Mr. Stevens.

Cannot Be Beat

Do not be worried by fall chores or preparation for winter. Just insert an ad in "The Post", Classified Section, making your requirements known.

Couple Take Second Honeymoon Prior To Golden Anniversary

An event of special interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. St. John, 57 Bond Street, Lindsay, on Wednesday, September 25, when they were at home to their friends on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. St. John, along with their son, Ray, and his wife from San Marino, California, and their daughter, Dorothy, received some 200 friends on this wonderful occasion.

The tea table was tastefully arranged with a three-tier wedding cake, decorated in white and gold, beautifully arranged shasta mums and maiden hair fern complimented the silver candelabras. Among the numerous gifts were many beautiful flowers, including yellow roses, mums and carnations, which decorated the living room where the reception took place.

Pouring tea in the afternoon were Mrs. F. S McHattie, sister of Mrs. St. John, and Mrs. P. R. St. John, daughter-in-law, and, in the evening, Mrs. R. L. Dunn, niece of Mrs. St. John and her daughter, Dorothy.

The week prior to their anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. St. John were taken on a second honeymoon by their son and his wife when they journeyed to Ottawa, into Quebec, and home by the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Mr. and Mrs. St. John, (the former Mary V. Hurren) were married in Beaverton by the Reverend H. V. Monteer.

Lindsay Lads Trying For Junior Spot

Two Lindsay hockey players are having the workout of their lives at St. Catharines these days. They are promising young hockey enthusiasts Bill Speer and Dick Grozelle, members of last winter's Midget team which went through to the finals, bowing out to Simcoe.

Bill and Dick are trying out at the Chicago Black Hawks' training camp and a favorable nod from the talent scouts could give them a Junior "A" playoff spot with St. Catharines Teepees.

Use Of Law-breaking Informers Criticised By Ontario Justice

Peterborough, Oct. 1— (BUP) — Mr. Justice J. K. Mackay of the Ontario Supreme Court criticised the use of police informers who are also law breakers in a royal commission enquiry's findings into the Peterborough Police Force.

The findings were made public last night at a Peterborough City Council meeting.

The inquiry was ordered by Attorney General Kelso Roberts last July after citizens complained bootlegging was permitted in the city, wire tapping practised and a large number of crimes unsolved.

The judge found that Deputy Chief William Clarke was a conscientious and hard-working officer although some of his actions had led to dissatisfaction among the policemen

The judge said the use of informers who openly and flagantly bootlegged in return for supplying information to the police was "not to be condoned or tolerated."

NOW, LAST YEAR AT THIS TIME . . .

Last year at this time we were back in the throes of Standard Time. Daylight Saving Time . . . an arrangement designed to give us extra daylight during the summer months when there is lots anyway . . . was always cut off towards the end of September. This never seemed like a very good arrangement to many people because the daylight hours were curtailed just when they needed them most . . . in early fall when some urgent outside jobs beckoned which couldn't all be crowded into a short weekend, or when they would have enjoyed that extra hour's daylight to leisurely complete a trip in that most beautiful of all seasons--autumn.

South of the border some of the states in the union were carrying on Daylight Saving Time through October and this situation was causing some confusion, travel and communication-wise, with the result that several Ontario centres urged, and got, an extension of DST to coincide with neighbouring U.S. centres. Now that it is here, how do you like it?

Isn't it rather pleasant to go home to the evening meal and afterwards be able to spend a little while outside before darkness sets in? Isn't it nice to be able to make it home in daylight and enjoy the beauties of the fall landscape when you have time to relax about it? And, to those who aren't so favorable disposed towards the extension, it is really such a hardship, when you know that many others are getting pleasure from the extra ration of pre-winter sunlight?

Hip Fractured, Lay 7 Hours On Basement Floor Of Home

Fen. Falls (PNS) Her hip fractured, a 77-year-old Fenelon Falls resident, lay for seven hours on the basement floor of her home, alone and without help.

This was the unfortunate fate of Mrs. Robert Eyers when she fell down the cellar stairs of her village home.

The tragedy was discovered by a neighbour, Mrs. Tiers, who called on the unfortunate woman at about 3.30 in the afternoon. Mrs. Tiers then called for help and Mrs. William Patterson came to the scene. The ambulance of the Fenelon Falls Legion was summoned and the injured woman was removed to the R. M. H.

It was learned that Mrs. Eyers was preparing breakfast, when she decided to go down cellar for some jam. It was while doing this that she fell down the cellar steps and suffered the injury to her left hip.

Mrs. Eyers lived alone, her husband having predeceased her about one year ago.

A sister, Mrs. Bryans had been speaking with Mrs. Eyers by telephone in the early morning of the accident, and was assured she was alright. Her non-appearance during the day was therefore not noted or investigated earlier.

Latest reports from the R. M. H. describe the injured woman's condition as satisfactory and say that she is resting as comfortably as possible.

Sees Old Age Pensions $55 Monthly By January

Toronto, Oct. 1 (BUP)—The Toronto Telegram reported today that old-age pensions in Canada will be boosted to 55 dollars a month at the coming session of parliament.

The newspaper's correspondent in Ottawa, Peter Dempson, said in a despatch that the higher pensions would probably go into effect next January 1st.

The present pension for all Canadians 70 years of age and over is 46 dollars a month. During the last Federal election campaign the Conservatives criticized the former Liberal administration on the grounds that the pension was not enough.

Firemen Practise Do-it-Yourself

"Do-it-Yourself" technique is being exemplified with remarkable results in one of Lindsay's Municipal buildings.

Those who care to see a work of artistry in blossom pink and grey, should drop into the office of Lindsay's Fire Department.

Here the Fire Chief and Members of the Department have been wielding paint brushes and the result gives a new look, and speaks of the initiative of the department outside of routine duties.

The result adds much to the overall picture of gleaming firetrucks in an immaculate environment of readiness.

West, Not East Mother Notes

Frances June Thurston who received a fractured right leg in a cycle-car collision on Queen Street, Saturday evening, was riding west, not east as was described in Monday's "Post."

This error was pointed out by Mrs. Traynor, mother of Keith Traynor, who was also involved in the accident but suffered no injuries.

FLU TO YOU

On Friday afternoon the Ontario Department of Health announced that it had officially established the identity of the flu virus sweeping Ontario as that of the Asian type. This morning it is announced that "The Provincial Health Department expects to make public today reports on whether a respiratory illness sweeping the province is Asian flu."

Quite apart from the confusion which apparently prevails in the department causing contradictory statements to be issued on the flu epidemic, isn't it strange that there should be so much doubt as to what type of flu virus the people are being attacked by? There has been a great "to-do" about the possible invasion of this country by Asiatic flu and preparations have been started to vaccinate sections of the population against the virus. Vaccine is being prepared both in Canada and United States at a great rate and it is hoped to be able to minimize the onslaught of the latest flu epidemic by mass vaccinations. And now with all this work afoot the people are amazed to learn that the health authorities are aparently having a difficult time identifying Asian flu as opposed to other strains.

In view of this contradictory situation about the only thing we can conclude at the moment is that if you get the flu it will be flu to you and probably to your doctor too. He likely won't be able to spare the time to analyze the strain but rather will have to work along general lines of treatment for respiratory ailments in the influenza category.

VALUABLE EQUIPMENT

Over the years, "The Post" has advocated that small municipalities take reasonable steps to protect themselves from the hazards of fire rather than depend on larger centres to provide fire-fighting equipment. Many of these smaller communities in the district have taken such action and, in several instances, there have been rewarding developments.

A very recent example of the value and effectiveness of an on-the-spot fire fighting unit is to be found in the village of Oakwood. Almost everyone we talked with out there Thursday evening, when the big old building on the southeast corner of the main intersection was burning, agreed that the local fire fighting equipment had played an effective role in preventing the fire's spread to buildings a short distance away. True, it wasn't able to save the doomed building but this circumstance is not restricted to smaller fire departments . . . the largest of them have their failures when it comes to saving the fire's immediate target but the important thing is that they be capable of controlling and confining a blaze.

When enough small communities have some equipment of their own, the co-ordinated efforts of their neighbours can minimize the threat of fire to these areas. And, while on the subject of co-ordination of effort, there was a nice bit of teamwork displayed at the Oakwood fire by Lindsay, Oakwood and Little Britain.

CONSULTING THE PEOPLE

The City of Peterborough's voting public is to decide the fate of a natural gas franchise . . . Whether it shall be given to the city's public utilities commission or to the Consumers' Gas Company, is going to be the decision of the electorate.

A plebiscite on the issue was arranged when public protest followed a city finance committee's decision to exclude the gas company and give the franchise to the public utilities commission. Peterborough Council, acknowledging receipt of many protests following the finance committee's decision, ruled that a plebiscite be held to determine to whom the franchise shall be granted.

We believe Peterborough's Council has made a wise decision and we commend those who protested the action of the finance committee. It is a healthy sign to see the citizens of a municipality demanding a say in major issues. The ballot represents the democratic way of deciding important matters and the outcome ensures that the wishes of the majority will prevail.

Lindsay citizens could do no better than to take a leaf from the Peterborough book and insist that large and lasting transactions be submitted to the electorate for endorsement or otherwise. It is only by persistently pursuing such a course that the citizenry can be assured that they will be given a say in determining important municipal policy.

Fall Farming Picture Bright, Agro Representative States

"Things are looking pretty well across the County," said Agricultural Representative, LeRoy Brown, commenting on the farm picture this morning.

He continued, saying, fall ploughing is going along well, silo filling is being completed and then of course there are the roots and tubers to harvest.

The pastures have made a good come back and cattle are in good condition.

The corn crop could have been bigger—the dry weather of summer and late planting in spring was detrimental to the crop. In some areas where early planting was possible, its yield was average however.

The farmers have had quite a rush with haying and harvest overlapping, but when current ploughing is completed, there should be a lull before the cattle are stabled and winter chores are assumed, he added.

"The ploughing matches will claim the attention in the next weeks, the annual match of the Victoria County Plowmen's Association coming up in early October. This will draw much interest as it is staged two miles east of Woodville, he added.

Article Given On Evangelism

Reaboro (PNS) —"If My People" was the name of an interesting article read by Mrs. James Robinson on Evangelism at the September meeting of the Mission Circle which was held in the vestry of the Church with a very good attendance.

Prior to the meeting, members of the mission circle with the help of some of the men of the congregation cleaned the church.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. W. C. Veals in the absence of the Vice President, Miss Veals. Following the call to worship the hymn, "O Worship the King" was sung. The scripture which was taken from II Chronicles, chapter 7, verses 14 to 20 was read by Mrs. Max Aldous. Mrs. Robinson was then asked to present the topic which was on Evanvelism called "If My People" which stressed that "Revival is always in the Heart of God" and gave reference to the scripture verse taken from II Chronicles, chapter 7; verse 14, in which we like to think that the truth expressed in that passage, belongs to us as well as to His people of long ago.

It also referred to a statement made by Dr. Billy Graham, "We are witnessing a reaction to the feeling of frustration and futility that has taken hold of both clergy and laity. It may lead to the real thing, but has not as yet arrived." The writer explained this was a real heart-cry of this great evangelist.

Mrs. Robinson then read a poem, called, "Heart's Desire" which was composed from the scripture passage Psalm 37, verse 4.

Mrs. Lewis Soles and Mrs. Huber Burke then led in a season of prayer after which the Roll call was taken and each member responded by a verse of scripture. Th minutes were read by Mrs. James Robinson and adopted as read.

A short business session followed in which it was decided to hold the meeting a week earlier in October so it would not conflict with another meeting. Mrs. Veals then gave some interesting new items concerning a number of missionaries, some of which were familiar people to members of the circle, having heard some of them speak at Conventions and elsewhere. She also told about the stewardship in the Westmount Circle in Quebec and how they plan to give one hundred dollars for some needy missionary cause each year. Mrs. Veals also described the Missionary Fair which is held at Ingersoll by all the denominations showing displays and exhibits of the Mission work going on in the various fields.

The speaker went on to say this should prove most interesting having all the churches work together on this project and that each should widen their views and would profit by it.

Mrs. Veals then read a list of the "DO's and DONT's" for members of the circles to follow which gave some very good suggestions to carry out to improve the circle, and encourage greater membership.

Th meeting then closed with the hymn "O Master Let Me Walk with Thee" and prayer. A social half hour followed and a lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Veals, Mrs. Leigh Reeds, Mrs. James Robinson, Mrs. Max Aldous and Mrs. L. Burke.

Bobcaygeon Fair Impresses President Ontario Fairs

It would be a grave mistake to do away with small fairs. That is the opinion of a man who has been closely associated with them--Mr. Stan Darling.

"Where could be found a happier picture than here today?", asked Mr. Darling, President of Ontario Fairs and Exhibitions, as he voiced his appreciation of the Bobcaygeon fair on Saturday.

Mr. Darling who officially opened the fair, said he was greatly impressed by the outstanding parade, the beautiful and spacious grounds, the splendid buildings and the large showings in all exhibitions, topped perhaps by the horse show and the cattle show.

"I am a champion of the small fairs", Mr. Darling declared, as he looked over the sea of people, cars and attractions, from the race-track stand. "This is the day of their lives", he continued as he spoke of the estimated attendance of 6000 as they were spread over the vast expanse of the picturesque grounds. "There is a move on foot to do away with small fairs, this would be a grave mistake; they are a delightful community effort, a splendid get-together where old friends meet, a highlight of the year in any community", he summed up.

Announcer Monty Robson, in attendance for the 14th year of the fair, said he saw a tremendous improvement, in the grandstand, the cattle show, etc., gave much more convenience and relieved congestion, he added.

Premier L. M. Frost addressed the audience unofficially, saying he just came down to meet the people and wander about and visit with them during the afternoon, and he did just that, adding much to their pleasure.

Clayton W. Hodgson was there too and greeted friends from near and far. But there was no one present who expressed their appreciation of the splendid show more than Mr. William Hewie, 97-year-old visitor from Cameron, who has enjoyed the Bobcaygeon fair since its infancy.

The Saturday show had a very interesting program with the big parade getting things off to a good start at 1.30 p.m.. Headed by the Peterboro Sea Cadets Trumpet band the school children marched, and beautifully decorated cars as well as the comic entries drew much applause. Of these an old fashioned lady and gent featuring plumes and high silk hats of an era long past, were awarded first prize as they, with stylish turnout of horse and buggy with headlamps and all, drove smartly along. A gypsy couple without much style also drove their pinto horse and buggy, and carried everything from a washboard, pots, pans, sack of potatoes and a conglomeration of everyday necessities; little Shetland pony teams, all in show glamour wewe driven by little folks, with vehicles one of which was strikingly decorated with yellow and mauve flowers.

The Regional Hereford shows was in progress and drew much spectator interest; the Bradt Amateur show, an annual feature was largely attended all afternoon; the large midway also had a large quota of the attendance.

The Community Arena was housed with splendid exhibts in laides' work, school work, grain seeds etc. Here as always the luscious cakes, pies, etc., made the molth water; the cooked fowl and that five-pound crock of dairy butter made many an eye to wander to feather-light homemade bread which would make a toothsome addition.

There was so much to see and hear that it was difficult to decide the most interesting place in which to linger.

The five exhibitions of four-horse teams were splendid. In these the placings were S. R. Dawson, Lindsay; W. G. Shea, Manilla; Alvin Mark, Cameron; S. G. Nesbitt, Carnarvon; G. Leishman, Kahshe Lake.

Fifteen saddle entries of the parade were judged in a close competition. The little Shetland mare and her tiny foil as shown by a small cowboy rider and cowgirl, all in striking western attire, stole the show and was awarded first placing. These diminitive ponies were the entry of Mossom Junkin.

"The horse show was the biggest ever", said director Winston Anderson in describing same to "The Post". Saddle races, road races, ladies' single driver, gents turnout etc were featured.

The pony show was realy thrilling. In a tandem hitch of four entries, Gorgeous George and Indiana Sunny Dasher, the striking chestnuts with white manes and tails of the Wainman stables, Lindsay, won first placing; Angus Jewell's entry, second. Sadler and Webb third and fourth.

It was a day of parades. The Bobcaygeon 4-H Calf Club with 20 entries, was a spectacular one with every entry receiving a bonus cash prize from Clayton W. Hodgson M.P. the parade of the stars, a parade of cattle was staged at 4 p.m. This was headed by the Peterboro Cadet Band and was very impressive. The Shorthorns from the Regional Show were in the lead, with winners from the Winterbottom, White, Junkin, Shraeder Grills, Johnston and Cosh stables.

Next came the Shorthorns of Moore, Simms, Roslyn, Fleet, Williams and Mahood.

The Holsteins followed with entries of Stan Reeds and Percy Schroter.

These and many other features made this years version of Bobcaygeon fair an outstanding success.

A floor show and dance in the arena at night brought the big day to a close.

Cool; cut in bars. Makes about 32.

Simple Recipe

These are called Oatmel Crips and and the ingredient: 1 cup brown sugar, ½-cup shortening, 1-4 cup butter, 1 well-beaten egg, ½-teaspoon soda, ¼-teaspoon salt, 2 cups quick-cooking rolled oats. Combine brown sugar, shortening and butter in saucepan. Stir over low heat till butter melts. Stir in egg, soda, salt and rolled oats. Mix well. Drop by teaspoons on well-greased cooky sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375) about seven minutes. Cool slightly before removing from pan. Makes about four dozen.

School Snack

Now that apples are coming in be sure and candy-coat some for the young fry. They wil love taking them to school for a snack at recess and they are so easy to make. Color the candy syrup with red if you like but they will taste fine if you don't care to. Apples are good for young appetites and a snack at recess gives them a chance to keep from being hungry. Apples are good for everyone so make good use of them.

Sticks To Six-Shooter

The International Geophysical Year—space ships, missiles and the like — doesn't bother junior when it comes to toys. He still likes his trusty six-shooter. This is the conclusion of toy manufacturers from 20 states—who put their heads together at a convention in Cincinnati. The manufacturers say the six shooter will not give way to electronic wonders recently introduced in this country. Little boys would still rather be cowboys than men from Mars. Furthermore—they say the rage for toy guns is spreading abroad.

A piquant parisian named Francoise Sagan apparently isn't impressed with Hollywood. The 22-year-old authoress--who has written three best-selling novels--has turned down a 19-thousand dollar offer for the movie rights to her new book, "In A Month, In A Year". The studio--Twenthieth Century Fox--has made a new offer of 42-thousand 857 dollars for the novel. Miss Sagan's first novel--"Bonjuor Tristesse"--is now being turned into a movie in Southern France.

Valuable as Diamonds

There are half a dozen words, all one-syllable ones, that are as valuable as diamonds. Use them frequently. They are: "Please," "Thank you," "I love you." Toss them into your daily doings.

Peach Spice Puddin' Cake!

Prepare 1 package of lemon pie filling (not instant) as directed on package and spread in oblong pan. Arrange No 303 can sliced peaches, drained, over pudding. Add Betty Crocker honey spice cake mix batter or your own recipe. Mix batter. Bake about 50 minutes at 350 degrees. Serve warm, cut in squares and turned upside down in dessert dishes. Fresh peaches can be used if one wants to cook them.

Easy Dessert

If your family likes ice-cream be sure and give them some for deserts. You can make them eat it . . . but you won't have to force them to. They will love you for it and it is good for them too! You can make it yourself without much bother or shop for it and keep it in the freezer. Much better for them than pies . . especially rich one . . you might add a couple of cookies with it and anyone can see it is an easy dessert and a healthy one for your family.

Gossip

In old England, there were usually two godmothers to sponsor a child. They were called "Godsibbs," a kin or relative through God, "sibb" being Angol-Saxon for "kin." The two godsibbs often met in the home of their mutual godchild and had little chats together. The term "Godsibbing" came to be applied to these trivial talks. Later corrupted to "gossiping," the word gradually lost its original meaning, and now to gossip is to carry tales or spread scandal.

True Humility

True humility is possible only for the greatly successful. The tallest mountains know how far they are from the stars.

Rug Treatment

Dry cleaning rugs removes the sizing so that they do not stay in place as well as before. Try two coats of shellac on the under side of the rug and see how much it helps.

Holiday Plan

Some Canadian women might envy 10-thousand Norweigian women. For one week of the year at least.

The 10-thousand women get a one-week holiday on funds supplied by the Norweigian government and welfare agencies. They comprise about one in 70 housewives in the country who are listed officially as "persons without occupation."

The vacation—at home or at vacation areas—is part of a Norweigan five-year-old holiday plan.

Many women in the industrially undeveloped country would never be able to take a vacation without the plan. One of the women who had a week's holiday last year said it was her first vacation in 60 years.

Weird Information

Electronic brains come up with some pretty weird information.

One in Paris polled Frenchmen visiting the textile information centre, and discovered . . . one out of three Frenchmen does not wear pajamas in winter and summer . . . . and 28 per cent of those who do, wear only one of the two pieces.

Sour Cream Cookies

½ cup butter or other shortening, 16 cups sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 eggs, 4½ cups sifted enriched flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½-teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup sour cream. Thoroughly cream butter and sugar; add vanilla and eggs; mix well. Sift together dry ingredients; add alternately with sour cream, mixing well after each addition. Drop dough by teaspoons on greased cookie sheet. Dip the bottom of a glass in water, then in sugar, and press top of each cookie to flatten. Dip glass again in sugar and press; repeat until each cookie is thin and generously coated with sugar. Bake in hot oven (425) about 8 minutes, or until delicately browned. Makes about 6 dozen.

New Wardrobes

Autumn fashions are coming up and women are wondering if they should wait a bit or go ahead and get ready for the fall and winter ahead. Even fabrics are different and there is a wonderful selection. The fabrics come in many weaves to satisfy any woman. They are pushing the head-to-toe color coordination, the elegant fabrics for late day-time and evening wear to dressy accessories, it's all shown in the fashion parade. Fabrics are rich in color this season so check on your favorite and go ahead with your Fall wardrobe. Choose your color first and then dig in and make up your mind what you want to wear. You'll find it is hard to choose from so many lovely fabrics and unusual colors.

Contour Chairs

Contour chairs are very popular and one could say they "fit you like a glove". They come in chairs and lounges and to sink into either one is a treat for sheer comfort. There is also the Island Chair that combines a foot.rest along with this Island chair. You just sit in the chair and put you feet up. Comfort is so pleasant that one should be more careful in buying furniture to suit the whole family. Manufacturers are making better furniture and they wil give your whole family comfortable chairs for every member.

Music

"And sure there is music even in the beauty, and silent note which Cupid strikes, far sweeter than the sound of an instrument; for there is music wherever there is harmony, order, or proportion; and thus far we may maintain the music of the spheres".—Sir Thomas Browne.

Tulip Queen

A tal blonde Dutch girl is off on a tour of the U-S--carrying a goodwil box of tulip bulbs for big cities all over the country. Gussie De Zoete is the 1957 Dutch Tulip Queen. Her tour--sponsored by Dutch bulb growers--wil take her to a dozen U-S cities, Atlanta, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Des Moines, Detroit, Little Rock, Louisville, Memphis, Milwaukee, Nashivlle, Rochester, New York and St. Louis. The visiting Queen will present officials of each city with bulbs for planting in public places. The 23-year-old Gussie--selected partly for her knowledge of gardening--also is expected to address garden clubs.

Women's Shoes

Sometimes it is hard to get a shoe that feels right the minute you have it on. Now, you can choose your shoes yourself but you will do better if you engage a clerk that knows how to do it . . . that is to give you the most comfortable shoe he has in stock. Don't just try on one pair . . . another style might suit you better. Shoes nave to be comfortable so take time to find out the one that is comfortable and your right size and color.

Comfort First

Many of the shoes today lack bows and other ornaments and if you are using goloshes they are by far the best under the circumstances. Others may be prettier and these can be used when they don't need protection. Colored shoes are popular but black ones will take you anywhere.

For Freckles

Bleach-cream them out of the spotlight if they are big and bold. Cleanse your skin thoroughly with a rich emollient cream; Smooth bleach-cream into the areas that are most freckled and leave it on for several hours. Repeat this process with your regular skin care routine until the big, blotchy areas give in and lighten. Make-up that gives an even tone to the skin will lighten freckles. A clear-liquid bronze which can be smoothed on as a foundation darkens freckles slightly, but it also darkens the whiter skin, making the contrast less intense.

Birthmarks

Hide them with a make-up cream that comes in shades and colors so blended to natural skin tones that it becomes virtually impossible to detect the circumference of the mark. Subtle, covering rouges add to the overall natural look.

Wrinkles

Smooth them out with moisture. A rich lubricating cream at night and an eye cream are "musts". Never use a dry, caking foundation, for it sinks into the lines and accents them. Use, instead, a sheer foundation that contains lubricant. Beware of heavy powders--the finer, the better. Creme rouge, blended into cheekbones and up toward the corner of the eyes, softens the tracks of time.

Household Hint:

To clean dark spots and lines from the tiles ,of the bathroom wash down the tiles with a paste made of plaster of Paris. Allow it to dry and then wipe off.

A Bit Glum!

Another member of Britain's Royal family is a bit unhappy these days. Nine-year-old Prince Charles is reported to be pretty glum about settling down to a life at boarding school. Eyewitnesses say the Prince found it hard to keep a stiff upper lip after his parents had dropped him off for his first year at the exclusive Cheam School.

New Look

Christian Dior -- acknowledged hear of fashion's royal family--has come out with a new look--the backward look. The French designer put away his scissors and picked up a pen to write his memoirs--"Christian Dior and I". He has traced the growth of his dressmaking establishment in Paris from 1947--when his "New Look" 'set off an internationl style revolution--to the present with his name a household byward. Dior says he has been called anything from "Madman" to "Empror."

Recovering

Italian film beauty Sophia Loren is recovering from some painful injuries to three of her fingers. Someone accidentally closed her car door on her hand. The actress is continuing work on the movie "Houseboat."

Shown above following their marriage in Janetville United Church are Mr. and Mrs. William John Whitnell. The bride is the former Lois Ruth Hickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hickson of Janetville and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Whitnell of Cavan.

Janetville United Church was the scene of a pretty fall wedding on September 14, 1957 at 2.00 p.m. when Lois Ruth Hickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hickson of Janetville, was united in marriage with William John Whitnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Whitnell, of Cavan.

The ceremony was performed amid cascades of gladioli with Rev. Jas. Burn of Sharbot Lake officiating. The music was played by Mrs. Horace Heaslip while soloist for the occasion was Mr. John Burn. Before the ceremony he sang "Wedding Prayer", during the signing of the register, "Wedding Hymn"; and at the end of the reception, "A Perfect Day."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor-length gown of white chiffon with a shirred bodice, lace yoke, having a low scalloped neckline, and long lace fingertip sleeves. A white nylon mesh veil edged in matching lace was held in place by a pearl hat-effect crown. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white baby 'mums.

Mrs. Jean McCabe, sister of the bride, was matron of honor; and wore a street-length gown of pink chiffon, with shirred bodice and embroidered yoke, having a low circular neckline. The bridesmaids, Rosemary Robertson and Beverley Curtis wore dresses similar to the matron of honour, but of blue chiffon. They wore matching feather headdresses, net gloves, and matching tinted shoes. The flower girl, Eleanor McCabe, niece of the bride, looked charming in pink with white eyelet organdy and a little white picture hat trimmed with pink. The attendants of the bride carried bouquets of Shasta Daisies and pink carnations, while the flower girl carried a nosegay of the same.

The best man was Barry Whitnell, brother of the groom; and the ushers were Douglas Hickson, brother of the bride, and Charles Danford, a friend of the groom.

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the C. O. F. Hall at Janetville. The bride's mother received the guests wearing a dusty blue crepe dress trimmed with lace, navy accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations. Assisting her the groom's mother wore a brown sheath dress, beige accessories, and a corsage of yellow 'mums.

Following the reception the couple left for points east. For the trip the bride chose a light blue wool suit with pink and blue accessories. She wore a corsage of red sweetheart roses. The couple will reside at 216 Wolsley Street, Peterborough, following their return.

Out of town guests included people from London, Aldershot, Toronto, Oshawa, Peterborough and Sunderland.

The church was decorated with several floral displays of dahlias and gladioli, which added greatly to the atmosphere of the meeting. Guests were present from Manilla, Salem, Sonya, Wick, and Port Perry. The meeting was opened with quiet music, Mrs. Bruce Currie presiding at the organ. The worship was based on the 5th verse of the twenty-third psalm. "My cup runneth over". The theme of the meditation was "The Overflowing Cup".

Prescriptions cannot be mass produced on assembly lines. Each one must be compounded individually because it is specifically written for one person. For that reason it usually shortens sickness time.

Invariably the medicines in a prescription give relief much more quickly than patent medicines or home treatments. Your physician's skilled diagnosis usually prevents serious sickness — if you consult him at the first sign of trouble. The shortest way to continued better health is to do this one thing first — consult your physician when sick.

SPECTACULAR FIRE MENACES OAKWOOD

Mystery Blaze Races Through Old Building, Harness Shop Destroyed

Heat so intense windows across road are shattered but fire confined, nearby buildings are spared

An early evening fire raced through one of Oakwood's oldest buildings Thursday and before the sun had set it was in complete ruins.

The fire broke out in a storage room adjoining Frank Ferguson's harness shop in the Thorndike building on the southeast corner of the village's main intersection.

Frank Ferguson's brother, Gordon, was in the harness shop along with the proprietor and Mr. Frank Rich when the fire was first noticed. Gordon happened to look towards the door leading to the storage room and he saw flames through the gap between it and the floor. His brother Frank hurriedly opened the door and was greeted by a wall of fire which singed his hair, eyebrows, eyelashes and face. The force of the fiery blast knocked his eyeglasses off and they were consumed in the inferno.

All three men fled to safety and the alarm was quickly sounded. In a matter of minutes the Oakwood fire brigade was pressed into action with portable and mobile fighting units. The portable unit was housed in the fire hall next door to the burning building. The portable and mobile equipment drew water from a 20,000-gallon cistern in the fire hall and the efficiency of these units was credited with saving three close-by premises from meeting a fiery fate . . . . . The public library and fire hall building . . . Symonds service station and Bell's grocery store. With the fire at its peak, garage operator Frank Goard reported the cistern's water level holding well.

The Oakwood brigade put up a gallant and effective battle against the fire until it was joined some minutes later by the Little Britain brigade. Soon afterwards the Lindsay Fire Department sent a pumper to the scene and with all three outfits co-ordinating their efforts, the fire was brought under control and the safety of the nearby premises assured.

Dense smoke belching skyward from the building could be seen by motorists leaving Lindsay on Highway No. 7.

So intense was the heat from the fire that two large windows in Bell's grocery store, directly west of the burning building, were cracked. Spectators were warned to keep well away from the largest of the two cracked windows in case it gave 'way and fell on them.

Mr. Ferguson (the harness shop proprietor) stayed at the scene of the fire throughout and told reporters something of the loss the fire entailed for him. He had just received his fall shipment of rubbers and work boots and the fire spread so rapidly that there was no opportunity to salvage anything. In addition to the harness and other goods in the store, all his records were lost. He expressed confidence in the inherent honesty of his customers and said he was sure those who owed his accounts would arrange to settle with him. He was concerned over the loss of some of his sustomers' equipment which included binder canvasses, etc., that he had been in process of repairing.

Mr. Ferguson said he had absolutely no idea of how the fire started. He had been in Lindsay most of the afternoon and had returned home only a short time before the fire broke out. No official estimate of the loss was available.

Hoses were played on Symonds' service station by firemen wearing protective shields when the fire was at its worst. Hydro wires in the area were also taking a scorching and hoses were played on these and the poles carrying them, which ignited from time to time.

Mr. Herald Jenkins, local electrician, cut the power lines leading to the burning building and, incidentally, it was the second time in the village's history that he had been called upon to perform a similar task. The last big fire the village experienced was in August, 1929, when a general store operated by the late Thos. Jenkins was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Herald Jenkins also disconnected the power lines on this occasion. The Jenkins' store stood on exactly the same spot as the service station which was menaced in this latest fire.

Mr. Alf. Bell, proprietor of the grocery store across the road from Thursday's fire, telephoned the alarms to Little Britain and Lindsay.

Fortunately for the nearby buildings, the wind was not strong and what there was fanned the smoke and embers away from them.

By a queer twist of fate, one of the Lindsay firemen who battled the blazewas a former resident of the doomed building. He was Jack Dames whose mother was at one time telephone operator for the Oakwood Telephone Company. The burned-out building at one time housed the telephone exchange and living quarters for the chief operator.

Six hoses were playing on the fire at its height and with telling controlling effect, but unable to halt it in time to save any of the structure. As the fire ate its way into the structure, the roof caved in and then the sturdy brick walls began to buckle and collapse in a heap of rubble. One group of men with pike poles tried to push in the south wall of the structure (one of the last standing) but it threatened to fall on them and the effort was abandoned.

Also destroyed in the fire was a 1954 car owned by Eric Webster of Little Britain. The car was just a burned-out hull when the fire had subsided.

Mr. Ferguson said he had some insurance on the stock and equipment but he was not sure just now he would come out in the final analysis. He had been doing shoe and harness repairs at the same stand for approximately 30 years.

The fire was first discovered around 5.40 p.m. and by 6.50 — one hour and ten minutes later—it was virtually all over. Most of the rambling structure had been levelled and danger to neighboring building was considered over. But firefighters continued to hose it down and cleanup operations were commencing.

At 7.10 p.m. Ontario hydro crews arrived to make the necessary adjustments to the power lines to restore service to the rest of the village which was temporarily without power.

Walking around the smouldering ruins in the vicinity of the harness shop section of the burned-out building, odds and ends of the trade were seen lying about. There was a scorched bit, two cans of Brasso which were none the worse for the fire and pieces of scorched harness. An oil heater and a box stove looked out of place in the midst of the smouldering rubble.

Hundreds of people stood around in the chilly September twilight as the fire burned itself out. Some of them were "old timers" who speculated on the age of the building and recalled some of its history. They were relieved that the village had escaped more serious loss and they were sympathetic towards those who had suffered as a result of the conflagration.

Gradually, as the fire spent itself, they drifted away but it will be a long time before they forget what they saw.

There was general agreement among those who saw the fire from the beginning that the village's fire-fighting equipment had proved its worth in helping halt the spread of the blaze to nearby property. The threatened service station was just across a narrow laneway from where the fire broke out . . . the almost new library and fire hall was just across another narrow laneway to the south of the blaze, and the general store which sustained the heat-shattered windows was across the county road which bisects the village and forms the main intersection with Highway No. 7.

Flares were set up east and west of the fire and O. P. P. Constable Tom Fitzpatrick, Lindsay detachment directed traffic at the scene. PC's Henley and Keating of the Lindsay Police Department were also at the fire.

Long-time resident of the Village —Jas. Irwin—told "The Post" later that all seemed well when he came home from work around 5.30 p.m. He had supper and was just going for a pail of water when he saw flames shooting out of the harness shop windows.

54,000 Attended Exhibition Many Compliments Received

"Of the 54,000 people who attended the Lindsay Central exhibition not one had anything but words of praise for the big four-day show," Manager Newton Wilson told "The Post", Friday morning.

"We have received compliments from every side, the man in the street, the exhibitors and others too numerous to mention. We are open to suggestions for improving any angle of the show and already are receiving some splendid ones," he added.

"One major consideration will be discussed at our board meeting next week—the building of a new grandstand," the manager revealed. "It has come to a point where something has to be done in this regard, he stated.

All concessions are booked solid in the new Consumers Building for 1958; merchants are asking for increased space stating that they were amazed at the active sales results from their exhibits in this newly modernized and spacious accomodation.

Saturday's crowd, estimated at 28 to 29 thousand was considered by public opinion as the largest on record.

The congestion on the grounds, in the buildings and downtown was the greatest ever-remembered by those who were in a position to know, the manager stated.

Thursday, with an attendance of 15 to 16 thousand, was certainly a record," he declared.

"But the whole brilliant four-day success was due to the splendid co-operation of the Town, the public and the weather, coupled with the hard work of the officials, he added.

"It never rains but what it pours"

"It never rains but it pours," said Fire Chief Watson, speaking of a fire which occurred in Town, while a detachment of the Lindsay Fire Department, including one truck was at the Oakwood fire on Thursday evening.

The call came in at 7.40 p.m. and was from the home of Hector Blair, 163 Kent Street East where a chimney fire had got out of hand.

Arriving at the scene Chief Watson and fireman Jones found it necessary to cut a section of the kitchen walls into which the fire had spread.

"We managed to completely extinguish the fire in about 15 minutes," the chief said.

"The fire started in the walls from the defective chimney," he added.

No Need To Worry About Flu, Premier, Health Minister Say

Toronto, Sept. 27—(BUP)—Premier Leslie Frost and Health Minister McKinnon Phillips say the recent outbreak of respiratory illness is no cause for alarm.

Frost said yesterday that the illness lasted only a few days and only between 10 and 12 per cent of the population were affected in the areas where the virus was reported.

The Health Minister confirmed the number of known cases of Asian flu in Ontario have now risen to eight: Four in Sudbury and two each in Aurora and Orangeville.

Hospital Plan Is Outlined At Lindsay

The government hospitalization plan will be available for all as of January 1st, 1959, it was learnes as Monsignor J. Fullerton of the Ontario Hospital Services Commission addressed a meeting of the Regional Hospital Council, district No. 8, at the R. M. H, Thursday evening.

Announcements made at this meeting regarding government hospitalization were the first heard in this locality. It was largely attended by 80 persons.

Msgr. Fullerton explained that anyone entering the government scheme will pay a premium for the service. "What will the cost be?" the speaker was asked.

"That is the $64 question, he replied, but the rate will be cheaper than the Blue Cross rate as of January 1959."

The hospitalization will be available for all; compulsory for groups of six or more employed persons and under this scheme there will be absolutely no indigents the speaker explained. How hospitalization of pensioners, etc., will be handled has not yet been finally decided the speaker said. Many such considerations will have to be worked out, he explained.

The Blue Cross Hospitalization plan will be dsicontinued when the government hospitalization comes into effect, it was further stated. Mr. David Ogilvie head of the Blue Cross will assume the same position with the Hospital Commission and all other personnel of the Blue Cross will be taken into offices of the Commission.

The government coverage will include ward care; nursing services; laboratory and diagnostic tests; use of operating services; use of radio-therapy, drugs etc., it was explained.

Chairman F. N. Abrams of Port Hope introduced Monsignor Fullerton. He advised that a meeting of the Ontario Hospital Association will be held in Toronto next month, where some 2500 delegates from all parts of the Province will be present, it is expected.

The winner was decided at Thursday night's lodge meeting.

Troublesome Moose Goes The Route . . . . Last Resort

The days of the troublesome bull moose in the Downeyville district are over. He has been removed from the scene and will provide meat for residents of the Victoria County Home for the Aged.

For weeks the moose has been making a nuisance of himself by hobnobbing with cattle on farms in the district. Lands and Forests officials were called in to try and shoo him back to his native habitat but the moose wasn't having any. He faced snarling dogs, defying them to attack, and he withstood a hail of fine buckshot fired to try and persuade him to depart. As a last resort, department officials report they had to dispatch him with finality.

According to a spokesman for the department the moose was causing distress and property loss to farmers in the district and was a constant danger to children going to and from school. Farmer Cliff. Padgett was the most seriously affected and his children had to be driven to school daily, remaining there until they were called for when school was out. It was on his farm that the moose made its headquarters.

Game officials state that a bull moose can be very dangerous at this season of the year and there are many recorded cases in Ontario of moose attacking and seriously injuring humans. They emphasized their reluctance to take drastic steps in the case at hand but it was a "last resort" move.

CLAXTON'S

Not Certain If It's Asian Type Some Severe

There are a lot of severe cases of flu with complications in Haliburton and of course a lot of mild cases to which we are not called, a Haliburton doctor told "The Post" today.

"No I would not like to say definitely whether it is the Asian type of not. It runs its course in about a week.

We are prescribing light diets, rest in bed and of course in the more severe cases, suitable drugs.

It is best to treat this flu wisely on the start in order to avoid complications", he added.

Mixed up bird

Why did it behave this way?

There was a mixed up bird in Lindsay last week but it didn't stay that way too long.

Arriving home around 9.30 p.m. a local resident was confronted by the spectacle of a golfinch fluttering up and down on the outside of his living room window. The room was brightly lighted inside and the bird, apparently thinking it had found an "island in the sun" at night, seemed to be trying to get to that more promising land.

On one of its downward swoops it was grasped gently by the resident and protested loudly. Relaxing his grip on the bird, it flew off into the night, freed from the lure of the bright lights.

Ajax Plant Closing Out, Hope To Place Displaced

The local industries in the Ajax area are being contacted, and it is hoped that the Company will be able to find employment for many of the displaced employees.

On Wednesday evening September 30th, 1857 a meeting was held in Blythe Church in this area; there were ten members enrolled. The first pastor was Mr. Daniel Wright, missionary to Lindsay, Fenelon Falls and Verulam.

Public services were conducted in the Blythe School until 1869 and December 28th of that year the congregation met in the new chapel on Queen St of the village of Fenelon Falls.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The earth is full of the goodness of the Lord. Psalm 33:5.

We are just beginning to understand the amazing love God has showered upon this earth. Two hundred miles of atmosphere protects us from the burning rays of the sun and from the frightful cold of night. No mind can measure or comprehend the infinite care the Infinate Father showers upon all living creatures.

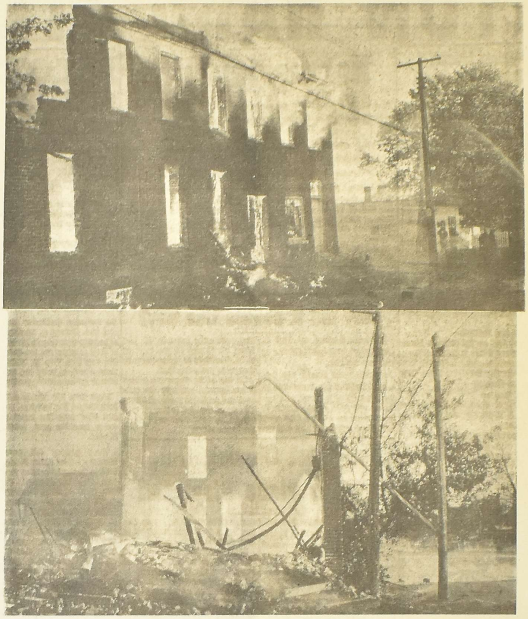
Old Landmark Fire Victim At Oakwood



An old landmark in the village of Oakwood fell prey to flames on Thursday at the supper hour. It was the Thorndike building on the southeast corner of the village's main intersection and the fire started in a storage room at the rear of Frank Ferguson's harness shop. Mr. Ferguson had just received a new fall shipment of boots and rubbers when the fire liquidated his business. His brother Gordon saw flames through a crack at the base of a door leading from the harness shop to the storage room. When the proprietor opened the door to investigate he was greeted by a fiery blast which singed his eyebrows, hair and eyelashes. His glasses were knocked off as he brushed his hand across his seared face. They were lost in the fire too. The Ferguson brothers and a customer--Frank Rich--fled to safety. A nearby service station, store and the village's newly-built library were within striking distance of the fire. The village's own fire fighting equipment kept the fire from spreading until joined by a pumper from Lindsay and Little Britain. No one was injured and the cause of the fire has not been determined. There is no official estimate of loss. Proximity of the public library and fire hall can be judged by the upper picture . . . the white structure just behind the burning building housed the fire fighting equipment, a 20,000 gal. cistern and public library. The clean sweep made by the fire is indicated by the picture below which was taken head-on facing south from Highway No. 7. Hundreds of people gathered to watch the fire's progress and render what assistance they could.

Lindsay is the subject of a two-page article in the company magazine of Dominion Brake Shoe Company Ltd. A special 24-page issue of the Brake Shoe News is devoted to the subject of Canada and the Company's facilities in this country. Two pages of this issue include pictures and articles about Lindsay, and two pages describe the firm's American Brakeblok plant here.

Referring to Lindsay as a "fairly small and pleasant town . . . whose people seem to like living in their home town," the article traces the history of Lindsay and describes its present business and residential aspects. "On its hundredth anniversary, Lindsay looks forward to continued growth and prosperity," the article adds.

The staff of the magazine recently spent several days in Lindsay gathering information about the town and photographing the highlights of Lindsay and the American Brakeblok plant. The publication also used photographs supplied by the Chamber of Commerce, including pictures of the Scugog River, the Collegiate, the Central Exhibition and St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Here is what the magazine writers had to say about the town:

"Lindsay, Ontario, located about seventy miles east of Toronto, celebrated its 100th anniversary this year. It is the largest city in two counties, Victoria and Haliburton, and is known as the "Gateway to the Kawarthas," a group of lakes just north of the town. It is a hub for holidayers who visit the fine lakes and resorts in this part of Canada from all parts of the world. Many Americans sail up to this inland city in private boats through a series of rivers, canals, and lakes. A fairly small and pleasant town it has remained about the same size and population (except during the summer) for many years. Its people seem to like living in their home town and many families go back six and seven generations. It was founded in 1827 by an American family who migrated to Lindsay and erected a sawmill and gristmill. In its early days, lumbering was its main industry. In order to ship its lumber to other cities, Lindsay erected a railroad in 1857 at which time the city received its charter. Lindsay has been closely associated with the railroads ever since. Today about eleven thousand people live and work in Lindsay. Besides our Brake Shoe plant, the firms located in and around Lindsay, are Visking, Ltd., manufacturer of plastics, National Textiles, and Lindsay Woolen Mills, Ltd. There are, of course, numerous paper and lumbering mills which use the fine forests to the north. Only sixty miles north are uranium mines. Adjacent to the town is a large and prosperous farming area which provides further economic security. And of course, the tourists trade is big business too. On its hundredth anniversary, Lindsay looks forward to continued growth and prosperity."

The article about American Brakeblok plant states that it supplies Canadian industry with industrial and automotive friction materials for passenger cars, light and heavy duty trucks, busses and industrial lining for commercial equipment. The plant which employs about 100 people was built here in 1947 and is a major industrial firm in Lindsay.

SIX MEN DIE IN DENSE FOG

Cobourg, Sept. 30--(BUP)--Six Toronto men were killed today when their car smashed head-on into a tractor-trailer in dense fog 10 miles east of Cobourg.

Provincial police said the crash occurred on the brow of Salem Hill near the village of Brighton. The force of the collision welded the car to the truck.

Police said one of the victims apparently was the owner of the car, Antonia Bianchi of (Donald Ave.) Toronto.

Bianchi's sister said he had set out this morning with five other tile-setters for a construction project at Kingston. The other five men have not yet been identified.

The driver of the truck, 31-year-old Glen Fox of Parham in the Kingston district, escaped with minor cuts and bruises. He said he had just topped the hill on highway number two when the car rammed into his vehicle.

Plans Of Promise For Birthday Tea

The Blythe Chapter of the I.O.D.E. held its first fall meeting with the Regent Mrs. Glen Gordon presiding.

Following the opening of the meeting the Secretary called the roll call and presented her report The Treasurer's report was then read and approved.

Mrs. Gordon Pepper Educational Secretary, reported that she has secured books for the adopted school in Kirkfield and is presently waiting for educational pamphlets to arrive from Toronto.

Home and Abroad Convenor, Mrs. H. Tamblyn, requested all knitting to be turned in as soon as possible.

Mrs. W. N. Gregory, Convenor for Empire and World Affairs, read a particularly interesting article by the Rt. Hon. Allan Lennox-Boyd, Secretary of State for the Colonies. It dealt with the independence being given to the Colonies and as he so aptly put it. "The Empire is growing up . . . Not breaking up."

Mrs. Pete McNabb accepted office as social convenor for the remainder of the year.

Mrs. H. R. Davies gave her report on "The Tea and Lingerie Fashion Show.", to be held in October, at the Canadian Legion Hall. This is the annual birthday tea and it is simply bursting with wonderful plans and ideas to make this one the most exciting and interesting one yet, it was disclosed.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Queen, followed by a film on the Shakespearean Festival and tea.

Money by the potful

Money by the potful was being salvaged on Kent Street this morning.

No it wasn't a pot of gold, but a pot of coppers—some 800 in all, "The Post", learned.

It was really interesting to watch the operation as a staff member of a Lindsay Department Store, removed the coins from their Kent Street, personal weighing scales.

"Yes we always get about this amount per month," he explained and as the pile of coins was examined dimes were also detected in the lot.

A passerby remarked, "I guess these young fellows don't stop for lack of 1c when they get all that important information with the deal."

He was referring to the explanation of dreams, guiz questions to test what you know and fortunes in love, marriage and finance — all given as a bonus with your honest weight.

"These machines among others seem to be really paying off in the machine age," the passerby commented.

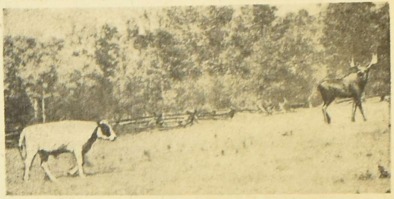
BULL'S FRIENDLINESS SPELLS DOOM FOR DISTRICT MOOSE



Bruce the Moose could have been saved from execution by the bull in this picture if the bull had been less of a Ferdinand. About six weeks ago Bruce ambled on to the property of Cliff Padgett, near Downeyville, proclaimed himself head of the herd of Hereford cattle, and kept both the cows and Mr. Padgett worried. It's illegal to shoot a moose, so Cliff brought in the bull, who should have chased Bruce right back to Moose Factory or wherever it is that Bruce came from. But it didn't work out that way.

Like Ferdinand, the bull preferred to sniff the pretty flowers and was quite content with the status quo. But Mr. Padgett then appealed to the game warden, who waived the out-of-season laws and disposed of Bruce. The moose stood eight feet to the tip of his antlers and weighed 1,700 pounds. To tourists he was known as Haliburton's Handsome Hatrack.

Blair Says Dunnies Will Not Switch To 'European' Style Hockey

"We will continue to play the same style, while we are in Europe that we will be playing during the regular season here at home", Said Manager-Coach Wren Blair of the Witby Dunlops. "We are not an especially rough playing team and depend upon other factors to give us our victories. It we get a lot of penalties, then I feel our superior playing ability will more than offset the effect. We intend to slow-down the opposition."

"After all hockey started in Canada, and its development here should be the pattern for the rest of the world so far as hockey is concerned," continued the Dunnies Spark Plug. "We play under exactly the same rules here as in the World Championships, the difference is in the application of those rules. But I can assure you that we are out to win the World Championships for Canada and in a very decisive manner."

Mr. Blair was speaking at a Press Conference called for the benefit of press, radio and TV representatives to give them a chance to take pictures of the team in pre-season style and to generally become acquainted with the members of the team.

New Uniforms

Members of the team after skating drills and an inter-squad game, changed into the uniforms they will be using when they represent Canada at the World Championships. The smart new sweaters carry the familiar Dunlop Whitby Crest and the word Canada in large block letters.

There will be no organized senior hockey in Whitby after the team leaves for Europe. It is planned to play 89 games during the season. 20 of these games will be European exhibitions and 8 in the World Tournament. There will be 10 pre-season games in Canada and exhibition games with Russian and American World Tournament representatives. In addition there will be 12 games with teams of the northern and western leagues.

"I do not feel that it is feasible to play many games when we return", said Mr. Blair. "If we win the World Chompionship's that is a big enough job. If we lose, we won't want to play any more hockey. There may be a bit of barn storming, but that is all.

Bible Thoughts

His mother kept all these sayings in her heart. Luke 2:51.

A mother would do that. There was no room for Him at the Inn, but surely there is room in our hearts?

He passed by on the other side. —Luke 10:31.

A priest and a Levite might do that, but this parable has inspired the founding of a thousand hospitals, in heathen as well as in Christian lands. It illustrates our love for our neighbors as ourselves.

Let us go again and visit our brethren in every city where we have preached. Acts 15:36.

Some of the greatest sermons were not in words at all but in deeds. We all do a little preaching.

THEY PAY NO TAXES

A "CORPORATION TAX" is not a tax on the corporation, but is, rather, a tax on the customers who buy the goods or services it produces.

Taxes are a cost of doing business. They must be included in the price structure along with wages, and the costs of raw materials and supplies.

An increase in corporation taxes, or in any other taxes, is an increase in costs which must ultimately be reflected in prices. Hence, a decrease in corporation or other taxes would ease the upward pressure on costs and prices.

Q ARE THEY PERFECTED YET?
A The Duomatic was introduced in 1952. Now, in hundreds of thousands of homes and in its fifth year of production, it's fully perfected! The Duomatic is the only washer-dryer all-in-one that is time-proved in the field!

Q HOW AUTOMATIC IS IT?
A This one machine gives you more freedom than a separate automatic washer and dryer. It washes deep-clean and dries bone-dry with just one setting of the controls. Your laundry is finished ready to use-fluffy and sweet as new. And the Moffat-Bendix Duomatic can be used as a washer only, as a dryer only, or as a washer. It's the most automatic laundry appliance you can buy.

Q "WATER SAVERS" TRUE OR FALSE?
A The Duomatic completely washes and triple rinses a full load with less hot water than one filling of an old-style center post agitator washer. The fact is that most so-called "Water-Saving" devices mean recirculating already used dirty water and adding more hot water to it. The Moffat-Bendix Duomatic uses only clean water load after load and still uses less hot water than most other machines on the market.

Q HOW EXPENSIVE IS A DUOMATIC WASHER-DRYER?
A There are two Moffat-Bendix Duomatics—the "Custom" and the "Deluxe". Whichever Duomatic you choose, you're sure to pay far less for it than you would for a comparable quality separate washer and dryer in other brands!

Ideal Weather Favors Match; County Plowmen Awarded At Their Annual Dinner

Tuesday was one of those beautiful fall days when outside work can be done so easily and Fall Fairs and Plowing Matches are well attended. It was the Victoria County Plowing Match which for many years has been an annual feature in the County. By 9:00 in the morning a number of farmers with their equipment arrived at the farm of Mr. Clarence Lillico and Sons, east of Woodville, site of the local plowing match, to make entry in the different classes. Among the plowmen were two young ladies, Misses Faye and Sharon Mark of Cameron whose father is Mr. Alvin Mark, the champion plowman at the 1948 International Match. Because of the excellent weather, and the wonderful location for the match, everyone was in good spirits and plowing was under way by 10:00 in the morning. At noon the plowmen and helpers were served a bagged lunch in the field so that work could be resumed as quickly as possible. By 4.00 in the afternoon, plowing in all of the classes with the exception of the horse class in sod was finished. This one particular class was very keenly contested by three previous winners and there was considerable speculation among the crowd as to how the judges would place the class. It was easy to see that the judges were finding the decision a difficult one to make because they walked back and forth across the land several times before coming to the end to announce the awards. During the afternoon, Mr. Newt Wilson, Manager of the Lindsay Central Exhibition, very kindly assisted the Directors by judging the plow teams at the Match.

At 6:30 the plowmen and their guests assembled at the United Church in Woodville for the Annual Plowmen's dinner. Mr. Lloyd Lillico, President of the Victoria County Plowmen's Association, acted as chairman and very capably handled the evening meeting. Mr. Reid Torrey, one of the good Junior Farmers of the Woodville district and President of the Woodville Junior Farmers Association, who had recently returned from a trip to Washington and a visit to the United Nations Building in New York, gave a very interesting talk on his trip. Mr. Hugh Baird of Blackwater, who represented Canada at the World Plowing Match in Peebles, Ohio, recently, told of his experiences at the World Match and the wonderful time he had as a guest of the World Plowing Match organization when they toured New York City and Washington, along with plow men from twelve other countries. He stated that despite the language barrier, all members of the group had a wonderful time and were just like one big, happy family. Mr. Baird used a number of excellent coloured slides to illustrate his talk. The speakers were thanked by Mr Alvin Mark. Mr. John Alton, Reeve of Eldon Township thanked the ladies who catered to the dinner and Mr. Joe E. Nesbitt thanked the Lillicos for the wonderful facilities they had provided for the Annual Plowing Match.

Just before the meeting concluded, the Secretary-Treasurer was called upon to announce the results and have the various trophies presented. The Bank of Montreal trophy, presented by Mr. Morgan Smith, Manager at Lindsay, for the best plowed land in stubble, open to all plowmen was won by Joe E. Nesbitt of Woodville No. 3. The Canadian Bank of Commerce spec.al, a gold wrist watch, presented by Mr. Bundscho, Manager, for the best plowed land in stubble with tractor by boys and girls under 18 years of age, was won by Miss Faye Mark of Cameron. The Toronto-Dominion Bank trophy, presented by Mr. Roberts the Manager, for the best plowed land in sod with horses, was won by Ivan Bell of Kirkfield. The Royal Bank of Canada trophy, presented by Mr. Lyons, the Manager for the best plowed land in stubble with tractor, by a boy under 21 years of are, was won by Harvey Nesbitt, of Woodville No. 3. Hydro May Erase Debt To Lindsay By End Of Year

The Lindsay Hydro Commission will soon have its debt to the Town of Lindsay paid in full. By motion of Waddell-Hick at last evening's meeting of the Commission an amount of $25,000 will be paid to the Town immediately.

This decision was made when Secretary John Lightbody announced that there was a balance of $37,000 in the bank and asked what the Commission wished to do with it.

It was unanimously agreed that 25 thousand dollars be paid off the debt to the Town of Lindsay, this leaving a balance of 25 thousand dollars owing the Town.

We could clean up that balance by the end of the year was the suggestion. This decision, was also agreed upon.

"That is pretty good," remarked chairman Charles Lamb.

"Yes Sir, that's fine" stated Commissioner George Baldwin, emphatically.

RECOMMENDATION

New hydro services of 100 amp. capacity are advocated by a letter from the Electric Service League

Can Heidi Read Minds?

Can Heidi read minds? that's the quesion being asked by psychologists who are conducting further tests on Heidi, London Ontario's frisky mathematical Dachshund.

Dr. John Paul, a psychologist at the University of Western Ontario, says—and we quote — "if I didn't think something was there I wouldn't be conducting the tests."

Dr. Paul and Research Assistant Dr. Josephrhine of Duke University, Durham, North Carolina, have recently completed a series of tests, as follow-up to a series given last year.

Dr. Paul says they got nowhere. Either Heidi was just indisposed or too preoccupied with a new toy but they gained no further evidence.

The two-year-old dog startled everyone last year when it was learned she could apparently add, subtract, multiply, and divide and usually got the right answer. She could even handle complicated problems and fractions. The answers are barked out. —BUP.

Endorses Vote On Any Money From Town For RMH Expansion

Lindsay, Oct. 8, 1957.

To the Editor of "The Post".
My Dear Sir:

In last night's "Post" I read where Mr. Joe Hutton proposes a vote on R. M. H. moneys. I would like to say as a ratepayer that I agree with Mr. Hutton absolutely. If this vote had been granted to the people in the first place instead of a dictatorial attitude, our problems would have been solved long ago. The little people are intelligent enough to know that we need a new hospital. They are will to help in this project but not under pressure, or not by being ignored in the scheme of things. This is supposed to be a democratic country, let us keep it that way.

I have heard rumours of adding Sir and Lady to certain people. Let us get this straight. There isn't any aristocracy in Canada. In Europe it is different—the titles have been handed down from generation to generation—that is a different story.

I overheard Mr. Hutton saying once that he would always be honest and faithful to the ratepayers who would always be his bosses. I believe that Mr. Hutton has an honest, manly heart and without that, no man is worth regarding.

We all want a new hospital I am sure.

A Ratepayer.

To Editor,
Lindsay Daily Post,
Dear Sir:

That Mr. Knowles, the second man in the C. C. F. disguised Socialist party, would refuse the office as speaker was to be foreseen. But that an allegedly Conservative Mr. Diefenbaker should offer this office to a Socialist is news. It shows that Mr. Diefenbaker is not what he pretends to be. The Liberals and Mr. St. Laurent were not so bad after all!

Yours sincerely,
Citizen.

Lindsay Public, High Schools Stay Open; 300 Away From L.C.I.

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Fenelon Falls High School was closed Tuesday due to the influenza epidemic which resulted in the absence of 50% of the 318 pupils enrolled. It will remain closed until October 21st, it was learned.

Secretary J. Stanley Dix confirmed this information in speaking with "The Post" today, stating that Principal Mr. C. M. Thompson had telephoned him yesterday, advising that M.O.H. Dr. G. C. Graham had enforced the measure on Tuesday.

As far as the L.C.I. is concerned it is still open as usual, with absentees of 300 being approximately the same as yesterday, Principal Eberlee disclosed.

In regard to closing of the L.C.I. here or any of the public schools in Lindsay, "there is nothing being done", M.O.H. Dr. W. R. Crowe stated at noon today in answer to an enquiry by "The Post".

Want Daylight Saving Time Restricted To July, August

The Victoria County Fedration of Agriculture would like to see something done about controlling the length of Daylight Saving Time in Ontario. A resolution passed at its executive meeting urges the Ontario Federation to use its influence to reduce the period of DST to the two months of July and August.

Delegates were appointed to attend the Zone meeting of Napanee on October 15th. were Milburn Hutchinson, Grantin McKay, Roy Morrison, Mrs. George Lee and Mrs. Mac Moynes.

Delegates to the annual convention of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture to be held at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, on November 5, 6, 7, are Hugh Davidson, M. Hutchinson, G. McKay, Mrs. G. Lee and a Junior Farmer.

A committee of M. Hutchinson, G. McKay, Roy Morrison, Clayton Taylor, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Moynes, the Secretary and a Junior Farmer were appointed to make suggestions for the annual meeting. This committee will report to the next executive meeting in November.

Resolutions approved to be forwarded to the annual meeting of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture include these:

1. That we request the Ontario Federation of Agriculture to use its influence toward restricting the length of Daylight Saving Time in Ontaria to the months of July and August.

"2. We petition the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, as well as the Canadian Federation of Agriculture to take the necessary action to bring before the Federal Government, the advisability of putting the Canadian dollar on a par with the United States dollar.

"3. We go on record as favoring the suggestion that we adopt the pound and hundred system of weight, rather than the bushel as at present.

"4. We believe that compete Free Trade with the United Kingdom would be of advantage to the Canadian farmer, and approve of the suggestion of the British Minister of the Exchequor.

"5. We request that the Government be asked to investigate the recent abnormal drop in the price of hogs to the producer, under the Combines Investigation Act."

4 Will Attend Hydro Convention

Hydro Commissioners, Lorne Waddell, George Baldwin, Mayor A. E. Hick and Secretary John Lightbody will attend the Hydro Convention at Cornwall on October 23rd. This was decided at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Commission.

The above-named delegates to represent Lindsay are very enthusiastic about the trip and feel it will be very educational. They intend to leave on the afternoon of October 22nd and return after the close of the convention on October 23rd.

Carousel Key-fest May Unlock Door To Many Prizes

Colin Horsefield, Shell Oil sales representative at Lindsay, is expecting a lot of keys to be tried in the carousel "key-fest" in the next three days. Mr. Horsefield, along with Howard Black and Charles Vine who are opening a new Lindsay St. south service station, have been busy distributing these keys for several days now in preparation for their opening days' novelty prize-awarding scheme. If anyone (and Mr. Horsefield declares there are several) has a key which fits the carousel lock, they are entitled to a valuable prize. "Everyone is welcome to a free key and we have no idea how many there are that fit the lock," he declared.

Students Move On The Double For Special Fire Drills Here

"School were completely evacuated, within one minute." Stated Fire Chief A. Watson in speaking of the fire drills held in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week and staged on the first day, Monday, in four Lindsay schools.

These schools were Alexandra, East Ward, South Ward and St. Mary's, it was learned.

"The orderly and quick action of the pupils speaks highly of their excellent training and discipline under their teachers in the matter of fire drills," the chief further remarked. "The other Lindsay Schools will be tested in this respect later in the week," he added.

When two men in blue were noticed tacking up posters in the main business section of Town on Monday, pedestrians paused to investigate.

From the flashes upon their uniforms it was learned that these were members of Lindsay's Fire Department; closer investigation revealed it was Firemen Dale and Woodley and the posters were an exemplification of fire hazards, in keeping with prevention of fires.

This completed the busy first day schedule as worked out by Lindsay's Fire Department for the first day of Fire Prevention Week.

THE FLU AND CLOSING SCHOOLS

There is no denying that influenza is taking a heavy toll among Lindsay and district school children and the percentage of pupils absent from the public and high schools is unusually high. Some schools have closed their doors because of the inroads made by the disease and in an effort to stem its progress. One of these schools was the privately-operated St. Joseph's Academy at Lindsay and another is the publicly-operated high school at Fenelon Falls.

It is natural that officials are reluctant to close schools due to a threatened or near epidemic such as we are now experiencing and we realize that there are pressures being applied both for and against closing them while the outbreak is at its height. However, this would seem like one time when pressures should be foregone and the medical officers of health left to use their own judgment, having the overall welfare of the area affected in mind. The matter should be regarded strictly from the health standpoint and not measured in terms of dollars and cents as reflected in school grants and related factors. If a medical officer of health decides a school would be better closed down for a period of time, he should act with firmness and dispatch, secure in the knowledge that the public will endorse any honest attempt to protect their interests.

BANK MANAGER SHOT, KILLED, LAUNCH MANHUNT FOR GUNMEN

Blind River, Oct. 9—BUP— One of the biggest manhunts in Northern Ontario history was under way today for two gunment who shot and killed a bank manager in Blind River.

The bandits cut down J. J. Walter Brydges, aged 50, in a ruthless blast of gunfire when he told them to "get the hell out" of the bank, The Bank of Commerce.

Brydges, who was unarmed, was killed instantly by bullets from the guns of the two holdup men.

The killers fled empty-handed from the bank. After abandoning a stolen getaway car six miles from the booming uranium mining town they took to the bush on foot.

In Toronto Ontario Attorney-General Kelso Roberts posted a 25-hundred dollar reward for the capture and conviction of either of the cold-eyed killers.

Police believe they have the men cornered in the dense bush. Carrying rifles, submachine guns and drawn pistols the posse of more than 50 officers is slowly advancing through the tangled undergrowth.

They have been given "shoot to kill" orders if the gunmen show any signs of using their weapons in an effort to shoot their way clear.

Police said the bandits forced their way into the bank just before it opened at 10 a.m. EDT by following the mail clerk in when he reported for work.

Brydges, who lived in an apartment above the bank, heard unusual noises from the bank and went down to investigate. He faced up to the two gunmen, who were foiled in their attempt to get money because the time lock on the vaults had not yet released the locks.

After storming at the bandits to get out the gunmen fired at Brydges at point-blank range. Brydges crumpled to the floor and blood spurted from his mortal wounds.

Running from the bank the bandits tried to get their parked car to start. The engine wouldn't work.

In an apparent effort to scare off pursuit the bandits emptied their guns into the air and fired at shop windows on the town's main street. The roaring volley of shots failed to hit anybody.

The bandits reloaded their guns and forced Norm Sullivan, sitting in his parked car nearby, to get out. They drove out of town in the car. The car was abandoned on Graveyard Hill Road six miles northeast of the town.

Happy James Hoffa waves to acknowledge the cheers of convention at Miami Beach, Fla., following his election to the presidency of the giant International Brotherhood of Teamsters. The 44-year-old target of labor scandal, who was elected chief officer of the 1,500,000 members by a margin of nearly three to one over the combined vote of two opponents, pledged to turn the organization into a "model of trade unionism". But before that happens the union will have to survive the almost certain ouster from the AFL-CIO, which found Hoffa corrupt and unfit to remain in organized labor, a renewed investigation by the U.S. Senate rackets investigating committee and a court attempt to throw Hoffa out of office.

SHORT STORY

Shaggy Dog

By

HANK McCALL

HERMAN'S career as a theatrical agent flashed just long enough to burn all his money. He was flat broke. Not only was his wallet folding air, but his spirit slept in the gutter. He had to get an act, a good act, or forsake his wonderful free life for a job.

He lit a cigarette and wandered through the dusk. His aimless course led him into an alley dividing a row of run-down apartments.

Suddenly he heard a piano playing, distant and faint, but very distinct. The notes had a fleeting quality that bewitched him.

Even in Carnegie hall, no cadenzas flourished like these cadenzas. They were great! They were beautiful! Never had he listened to playing like this playing.

3-Minute Fiction

Herman found the window, peered in, saw the back of a young man stooped over a piano. The agent waited until he finished the score before rapping.

The artist came over calmly and asked, "Yes?"

"Look, Mister, I'm a music lover. That last number was great! How about letting me in?"

"Sure. What would you like next?"

"Anything. Just play."

THE pianist sat behind his instrument and tip-toed into Rachmaninoff's Second Concerto. Herman was amazed. Truly, the man was a genius. No one in the world could play with such feeling!

The music ceased with the first movement. Herman bounded to the piano.

"Look, I'm a theatrical agent. I know what I'm talking about. You're a find. I'll give you one hundred dollars a week if you will sign my contract."

"No, I couldn't do that. This is just my hobby. Besides, I like what I'm doing now."

"Look, I'll give you one hundred and fifty dollars a week to start. You'll be famous! Think of it. Wealth, fame, glamour! Everything you want!"

"No, I can't do it. I'm not interested. How many times must I tell you?"

"Well, I just thought I could change your mind."

"You can't. Besides I've got something better than my piano playing. Right here in this apartment, too."

"Yeah? What?"

"A dog that can play the piano better than I can and a parrot that can sing better than the greatest contralto in the Metropolitan Opera."

"Let's see 'em."

The young man disappeared into another room and after a few minutes, returned. He had a macaw in a cage and an airedale on a leash. The bird was ornery and the dog hostile.

"What do you want to hear?"

THE dog keyed the ominous chords of Wagner's Lohengrin; then quickly prepared for the parrot's solo. His piano became alive, frenzied. No man could hope to equal his technique!

Herman found the window, peered in.

The bird came in on the heroine's cue. She was beautiful. Never had a human voice carried such tone, such depth. Her control was uncanny. Herman sat in a drugged stupor until the last note.

"What did I say? It was marvelous, miraculous! Where did you ever find them?"

"Oh, that's another hobby. I just trained them."

"Look, friend, don't turn me down now. This is the greatest act on this green earth. I'll give you one thousand dollars a week."

"No. I can't do it, I tell you. My life would be ruined. Besides it's all a fraud."

"Fraud? How can it be a fraud? I saw it with my own eyes."

"Well, I'm orry, we can't sign. It's all one big fake."

"Look, friend, tell me. How is it a fake?"

The young man shrugged, "The dog's a ventriloquist."

Meat Balls

The next time you are using ground steak for dinner be sure and try cheese in a cross about half an inch wide, when it is broiled you'll love the flavor. With it a small salad, just the light kind for a side-dish.

Green Tomatoes

Don't throw away any of those green tomatoes for they are delicious when fried with butter as a vegetable. They have a nice flavor when cooked on top of the stove and you'll enjoy the fine flavor.

Pressure Saucepan

This is the greatest timesaver when you're preparing foods that require long cooking. The one we saw featured a helpful control knob. Be sure and clean vent tube with cleaning wire; remove hard water stains from inside with a strong vinegar solution of 2 tablespoons of cream of tartar to a quart of water in pan; keep outside bright by using silver polish. Store pressure saucepan when not in use with cover upsidedown on pan.

Pie Quickie

This pie is easy to make. In double boiler, melt 1 pound marshmallows 5 squares of bitter chocolate, 3-4 cup milk . . . cool. Whip 1 pint of whipping cream . . . fold in. Put in baked pie shell. Use 8-inch pan . . . chill.

Reading Trouble

Johnny can read, all right. It's just that he needs more help than most schools give him. This is the opinion of a group of teachers in Plainedge, New York—who have discovered a unique after-hours remedial reading program. The woman behind the program at Schwarting Elementary School—Principal Rita Duffy—says they felt "too many children of average or above-average intelligence had trouble reading. They couldn't get the help they needed in crowded classrooms . . . so we set up a reading improvement program—apart from regular school work." The children spend three hours a week in special sessions before or after school. Mrs. Duffy says surveys show seven out of 10 children in remedial groups are boys. "They aren't ready to learn to read so soon" . . . . she says. Mrs. Duffy explains the technique as "finding the root of the trouble and working on that. We teach a child to concentrate."

Wrong One

Queen Elizabeth didn't know it—but she invited a pubkeeper to a very elite charity ball. The invitation was addressed to the Marquis of Anglesey. But there are two Marquis of Anglesey. One is the Covent Garden Pub run by Reg Christ and the other is the real live Marquis. Says pubkeeper Christ — "The regulars would love to go. But they haven't got the evening dress stipulated on the back of the invitation."

Sweet, to remember him who once was here
And who, though absent, is just as dear.

—Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by wife Pearl and son Donald. (4375)

Ideal

Limited, for the best plowed land in sod, was won by Ross Nottingham, of Little Britain. The Esso Champion Horse special, a cash award donated by Imperial Oil Limited for the best land in sod classes, was won by Ivan Bell of Kirkfield.

The Simpson-Sears Limited special, a silver plated relish dish for the best plow team at the Match, was won by Byrnell Wylie of Oakwood No. 1. The W. D. Roblin special, a ten dollar cash award, plus a beautiful trophy, for the best plowed land using Massey-Harris-Ferguson equipment by a plowman uder 21 years of age was won by Miss Faye Mark of Cameron. The Weldon Equipment Co. special, presented by Mr. Ray Weldon, a ten dollar cash award for the best plowed land using International Harvested equipment was won by Mr. Joe E. Nesbitt of Woodville No. 3.

The Reeve specials, presented to the best plow teams from the different townships were won as follows: Reeve John Jenkins of Mariposa Township presented a cash award of five dollars to Byrnell Wylie of Oakwood for having the best plow team from Mariposa Township. Reeve Joe A. Nesbitt of Fenelon Township presented a five dollar cash award to Mr. Ivan Bell of Kirkfield for the best plow team from Fenelon Township; Reeve John Alton presented a five dollar cash award to Mr. Herman Coolidge of Woodville for the best plow team from Eldon Township.

In the class for the best plow team at the Match, Mr. Byrnell Wylie's team was first, Ivan Bell's team was second, the team owned by Herman Coolidge of Woodville was third and the team driven by Gerald Bell of Woodville was fourth.

Along with the fine weather and excellent facilities, a good number of people interested in Match Plowing were on hand to watch the various contestants perform this work of art. Unfortunately, present day conditions in agriculture do not induce many young people to take part in our coaching classes for plowmen with the result that the entry each year is gradually dropping off with most of the participants being older plowmen. Eight years ago, when the last County Match was held in Eldon Township at the farm of Mr. J. C. Butler, there were fifty-six plowmen taking part compared to the eighteen who entered in the County Match this year. This is a standard trend in many of the Counties across the Province and some organizations are finding it difficult to carry on. The County Match in 1958 will be held in Mariposa Township.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

And it came to pass after seven days that the waters of the flood were upon the earth. Gen. 710.

Recent excavations have established the truth of a vast flood 4000 B.C. that completely submerged most of ancient Sumer whence Abraham later came. The province of Eden lies to the east.

Ladies To Cater For Masonic Banquet

Glenarm (PNS) — Members of the Ladies Aid held their regular meeting on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Joe E. Nesbitt and Mrs. James Nesbitt Sr.

Almost all the ladies of the society were in attendance and 2 visitors.

Mrs. Mac Murchison accompanied for the singing of several verses of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

Mrs. Wm. Hoyle chose a portion of the 6th chapter of John, verses 15 - 25. The commentary on this passage was taken from "Every Day Magazine" more interesting for the fact that their minister Rev. Jackson supplied material and Sermonettes for this magazine over the next three months for daily reading (along with several other ministers) and this being one of his articles.

Mrs. Gordon Jamieson read a poem on "Church Suppers" and the pleasure the ladies take in preparing these suppers. This was quite in keeping with the meeting for the main business seemed to be centred around a "Ladies Night" for a Masonic Banquet.

It was moved by Mrs. James R. Nesbitt and approved by Florence McKay that they cater for a Turkey supper for the Masons and their wives in October, after which the menu was discussed and ladies appointed for the various foods and cooking the fowl.

It was also decided to give a donation to a neighbouring society to show their appreciation of loaning an article to the society a couple of times.

Mrs. Clifford Douglas read the minutes of the September meeting and also read a letter concerning the ordering of Church calenders for 1958 with the daily message from God's word. These calenders were placed by the society in every home for 1957 but this for the present time was tabled.

The treasurer's report was submitted by June Nesbitt and a controversy of a Fall bazaar and tea to be held the Saturday afternoon following Thanksgiving.

The birthday box was on hand and a reminder for the ladies who still try to remember their birthdays.

Rev. Jackson was present and after a few words of encouragement to the society brought the meeting to a close with prayer.

The Nesbitt family assisted by several members of the society, also by Mrs. May Wilmott of Toronto (visiting with her family) served a dainty lunch prior to which Mrs. Clifford Hargrave on behalf of the society extended thanks for the use of their home and hospitality.

The ladies in charge of the meeting for November for the Ladies Aid are Mrs. Wesley Black, Mrs. Jack Clark and Mrs. George Thornbury.

TURKEY SUPPER TIME IS APPROACHING

Small towns and rural dwellers are an especially fortunate people, gastronomic wise, for nowhere else can one be so satiated with good food as those who are lucky enough to attend a turkey supper prepared by a church group or community organization.

And these sumptuous suppers are about to begin at various points around the district.

Better start skipping breakfast or luncheons, coffee breaks or in-between-meal snacks, you folks who are conscious of excess poundage or a slight thickening around the middle. After attending two or more of these man-sized meals you will probably suffer from one of the aforementioned anyway, but you can always soothe your conscience by saying "Well but .. . I did try."

The turkey, that haughty bird, who can look almost as noble while preening his feathers inside his cage as he can lying golden brown and succulent on a perfectly appointed dinner table has, through the years, gone the full circle. And unlike the movie star who rose from rags to riches and, after a brief hour, faded out of sight, the turkey has retained his place and continues to gain in popularity.

It was the turkey that the Pilgrim Fathers dined on shortly after they landed on American shores. The turkey it was the Indians offered as a peaceful gesture to the new white neighbors who settled on their lands for it had been, for long years, one of the chief foods of the first inhabitants. The turkey bird was a mainstay in the diet of the first white settlers who opened the land when all meat produce must be procured by the aid of gunshot and steady aim.

That was in the beginning. Then followed an iterim when turkey was rated as the millionaire's diet, the main course for anniversary or special company meals; the fare for weddings or other occasions of note.

For the average man, turkey was something he could look forward to for Thanksgiving, Christmas or a New Year's dinner. It was not a meal he could anticipate on and off, any time during the year.

The pendulum swings back. Turkey is found listed on most restaurant and hotel dining menus. Homeowners find the cost of turkey not so prohibitive that they can't indulge in a dinner of the tasty meat at least a few times between the special occasions when it would be ordinarily served.

Still, the excitement and expectation of a church or club sponsored turkey supper is something that hundreds of people look forward to each fall. We suspect that the meeting and eating with a large crowd of happy friends and acquaintances has a great deal to do with the anticipation of such events but the fact that "Turkey is on the menu" is still a big drawing card.

Now, where is that exercise chart? Oh well, see you at the suppers.

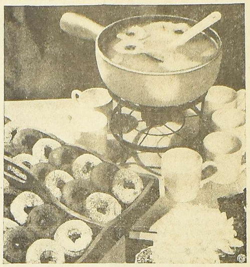
Football Fare With A Florida Air



The nippier the day, the more fun the football game, and the more bracing the air, the more everyone thirsts for a bracing warmer afterwards. Ideal fare is mulled Florida orange punch served with doughnuts.

This year's crop of juicy thin-skinned Florida oranges is going to be a record one, and the quality is fine now. Get them by the dozen or the bag, and buy plenty so that you'll have juice handy for thirst-quenchers and also for adding flavor to many recipes. The small-sized fruit coming into local markets are exceptionally good buys and, regardless of size, you're assured of getting more than a quart of juice from every five pounds of Florida oranges.

After the game, this hot punch would be welcome refreshment indeed. The slight heating which you give the orange juice doesn't damage its natural vitamin C goodness to any great extent. Float "mums" made from orange peel on the punchbowl for a gala touch.

Mulled Florida Punch

½ cup sugar
½ cup water
12 whole cloves
2 2-inch pieces stick cinnamon
2 quarts Florida orange juice
1 quart sweet cider

Combine sugar, water and spices in saucepan; simmer 10 minutes; strain. Add Florida orange juice and cider. Reheat and serve hot from punch bowl. Float orange "mums" on top. To make "mums", cut 2 inch rounds from orange peel. Press 4 or 5 cloves in center of each round. Cut ⅛-inch strips with scissors from edge to clove center. Float on top of punch. YIELD: 26 ½-cup servings.

You can't go "ALL-OUT" If you feel "ALL-IN"

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. 53

Segregationist John Kasper, left, who had just finished picketing the White House in Washington in protest against the president's conference with southern governors, walks past an opposing picketing group. Kasper and a small band of followers picketed the White House for 3 and a half hours in what police described as "a very orderly demonstration". Before Kasper and his group walked away with a three-man police escort, they had been picketed themselves by two Negroes and heckled by two white spectators. The headstrong segregationist, free on bail from charges that he attempted to incite a riot in Nashville, Tennessee, made no effort to answer his hecklers.

Banquet Plans Are Arranged By W.A.

Bethany (PNS) — There were 28 members present at the United Church W. A. meeting held at the home of Mrs. W. Neals with Mrs. John White presiding. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Ross Davidson, with Mrs. Gervon Mulligan giving the explanation of the lesson and leading in prayer.

The correspondence, read by secretary Mrs. M. Porteous, included a letter of thanks received from Mrs. Frank Bigelow, of Cavan for the W. A.'s gift of an aluminum Lazy Sisan and from Mrs. Stewart Speller and Mrs. Harry Van Week for gifts to their new babies.

The main item of business was planning to cater for the Durham County Five Hundred Bushel Potato Club Banquet to be held in Bethany in October. Committes were formed to arrange for the dinner.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Thomas Jackson, who spoke briefly on "The Challenge Of The Cross." Miss Mary McKenzie gave a thought-provoking talk based on "Our Commitment to Service."

Following the closing devotional period, lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Donald Cathcart, Mrs. T. Jackson, Mrs. M. Porteous and Mrs. H. Coppins. Mrs. James Fraser expressed the thanks of the ladies to Mrs. Neals for her hospitality and to all those who had assisted in providing the program and lunch.

IN AUTUMN GLORY

Haliburton (PNS) — Over the weekend hundreds of cars arrived in Haliburton to view the brilliant colors of the trees. There were no disappointments as the trees were all in their glory. One can hardly believe the countryside could be so lovely and they presented a picture no artist could paint.

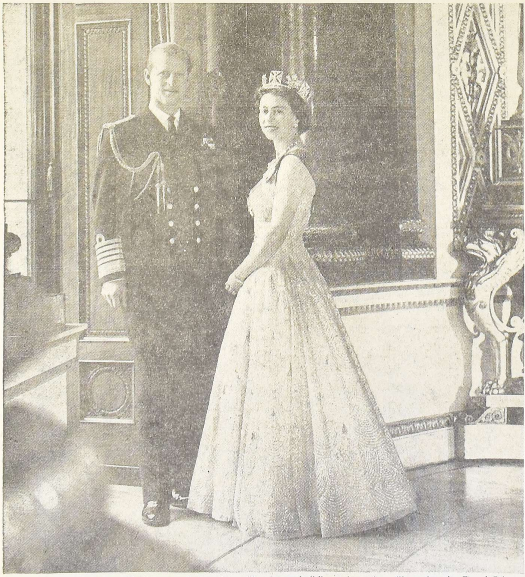
Long May-She Reign!

Elizabeth II Queen of Canada



Her Majesty, Elizabeth II, Queen of Canada, will formally open Canada's 23rd Parliament on October 14, 1957. It will mark the first occasion in Canada's history that a reigning monarch has performed this function. Accompanied by His Royal Highness The Prince Philip, the Queen will travel in a state procession to the Parliament building where she will receive the Royal Salute on the steps of the Peace Tower. She will then proceed to the Senate Chamber, where, before the assembled Senators and Members of the House of Commons, she will read the Speech from the Throne.

National Film Board of Canada Photos.

The Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod is the personal attendant of the Sovereign (or the Governor General) when the latter is in the House. It is his duty to summon the Commons and their Speaker to the Upper House to hear the Speech from the Throne.

Bearing the Mace — ancient instrument for maintaining order and present-day symbol of authority in the House of Commons — Lt. Col. W. J. Franklin, Sgt.-at-Arms, will lead the procession to the Senate Chamber where the Queen will open Parliament.

Historic scene in the Senate Chamber took place during the tour of Their Majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth in 1939. His Majesty created a precedent in Canadian history by giving Royal Assent to bills prior to the proroguing of Canada's 18th Parliament. On His Majesty's right is the then Prime Minister of Canada, the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and on Her Majesty's left is the Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Leader of the Senate.

WEST GERMANS HOLD MANOEUVRES

Youngsters and their elders stand on the sidelines and watch tanks roll through the streets of Hamburg near the East-West German border. The tanks, among 250 participating in the first manoeuvres of the West German army, were manned by the first draftees who have now completed their basic training. The unit, however did not participate in the NATO exercises because they had not completed drilling program.

ADJOURNMENT PROMPTLY FOLLOWS SURPRISE NOTICE OF MOTION

Zion Fenelon

The regular Zion W. M. S. and W. A. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Sims on Tuesday last with an average attendance.

A number from Zion attended the shower held in Cameron Hall in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lee of Pleasant Valley on Friday evening of last week.

Mr. Morley Byrnell and Harold Worsley enjoyed the trip by bus to the St. Lawrence Seaways held from Cameron on Saturday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cull of Toronto were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Palmer of Little Britain were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Worsley.

Would Have All Money Affecting Tax Rate Put To Popular Vote

A last-minute "notice of motion" took Lindsay councillors by suprise this week just when it looked as though an uneventful routine meeting was drawing to a close.

It came when Councillor Jos. Hutton quietly rose to his feet and announced that he would like to serve notice of motion in which he would propose that any monies from the Town of Lindsay for the Ross Memorial Hospital Expansion program, whether in the form of grants or issuing of debentures, or in any manner affecting the tax rate, be voted on in the form of a money by-law at the forthcoming election in 1957 for 1958.

There was a moment of stunned silence before all took shelter as it were under the sudden proposal of adjournment. It was the concensus of opinion, however, as councillors left the chambers that when Councillor Hutton makes this proposed motion at the next meeting of Council on Monday, October 14th, this issue which has been "kicked about" for so long, will burst into action. An interested public will be on hand, it was thought, to see how this new angle in the R. M. H. controversy will be handled.

The thought was further expressed by some members that there will be a need for diplomacy being shown when further consideration is given this major issue that concerns so many.

Valentia

Mr. and Mrs. Les Robertson and family of Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Casement Davidson and her mother Mrs. Hugh Rogers, of Little Britain called on Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pogue.

Mrs. Philip Mark and daughter Mrs. C. Jordan, enjoyed a pleasant visit with her daughter Mrs. Cecil Graham and Mr. Graham at Cornwall, also with her son Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mark, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Glassford and daughter Nina Nora spent Saturday at Oshawa and visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Melville.

Mrs. Jack Coulson has returned home after spending a few days with her mother Mrs. Dunford who was on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mark and daughter Pamela and his mother Mrs. Russell Mark, motored to Mimico Sunday and spent the day with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mark, also Mrs. Marks grandmother, Mrs. Wakelin of Mimico.

A pleasant time was spent on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hood when they had a birthday supper for their son Kenneth Hood who was one year old. A number of pictures were taken before the sun set, also Kenneth and his sister Brenda had a picture with his birthday cake dtcorated with "Happy Birthday" and one candle in the centre.

COUNCIL CAPSULES

At a meeting of Town Council on Monday evening the following matters were thus taken care of:

NO ACTION

It was suggested by Deputy-reeve Holtom that the Town Council concur with other municipal bodies in voicing its objection to the proposed increased rates of the Bell Telephone Co. It was decided no further action be taken at this time.

REQUEST GRANTED

The request for re-zoning that portion of St. Patrick Street from Needham to Colborne Streets was granted. This portion includes an area fronting St. Patrick Street and with a depth of 125 feet. The area was zoned as "Industrial" and will in future be "Residential."

. . . .

AUTHORIZATION

Parks Board Chairman, Carl Brown, was authorized to submit an offer of $750 to the C. N. R. for a portion of land lying south of the Iron Bridge on the riverbank.

Mr. Brown assured council that this sum which included the cost of issuing deeds, survey charges, etc., was a very moderate one. He assured Council it was good business to acquire this riverside property, with an eye to establishing a complete riverside, parkway drive in the future.

At present it will be an excellent site for the storing of fill, he explained.

OIL BURNER GOES

The oil-burner and tanks formerly used at the Firehall will be advertised and tenders for same will be presented to Council. A new coal heating system with stoker is presently being installed at the Firehall, it was stated.

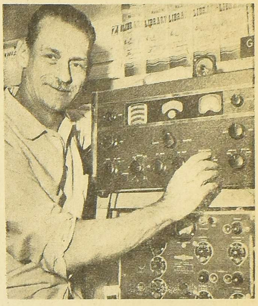
COAL TENDERS

Coal is to be purchased for both the Town Hall and Fire Hall by Councillors Peirce and Polito, based on the tenders submitted for same.

Listen For Red Moon



Ham radio operators all across Canada sat up all night following the launching, listening for radio signals on the wave length of the Soviet moon which sound like a deep beep, beep, beep. Gil Stevens, above, of Toronto, was one of the few to pick up the satellite broadcasts more than once. His two signals were almost one hour and 35 minutes apart. In announcing the launching of the first earth satellite ever put in globe-girdling orbit under man's controls, the Soviet Union claimed a victory over the United States, which is planning to launch its satellites next spring.

Aided By Helicopter, 100 Scour Bushland But Without Success

Charles H. Hopkins, 32, of Downsview, believed to be lost in the Silver Lake district bushland north of Bobcaygeon, was still mising as of 10.30 a.m. Monday, but the search has been halted.

Provincial Constable John Williams of the Fenelon detachment told "The Post" that the search party has been disbanded.

The search was carried on for three days in the Silver Lake District, the Bass Lake district and Galway Township. 100 men were in the search party on Sunday and came from Toronto, Fenelon Falls, and Bobcaygeon, the constable said

A helicopter was also used in the search and Game Wardens Jess Bradshaw and Ray Simpson of the Bobcaygeon area were out. A lead from the Gooderham area was also checked but all to no avail.

Everything is done that can be done, continued Constable Williams. hunters, newspapers, radio, etc., have all alerted the county of the tragedy. It is not practical to continue the search in this area, which is the worst bush country imaginable, being dense swampy, wild, rocky and really tough, the constable revealed.

It has been a worrisome search, augmented by the fact that all the missing man's identification was left in his abandoned car, police said. This car was found abandoned Thursday alongside No. 500 Highway near Silver Lake, contained a wallet, gun case and ignition keys, it was learned.

"We will check the area from time to time and any leads which come in will be immediately investigated."

$100 reward has been offered by the father of the missing man for information leading to his recovery or to the person who finds him.

It was further learned that the missing man was an electrical engineer with the Hydro.

His wife of Downsview, was at the scene of the search, north of Bobcaygeon on Friday.

Grosbeaks Return Early

R. R. 2, Lindsay,
October 5th, 1957

Editor The Post,

Sir:

Perhaps the strongest (visible) migration wave this fall occurred Sept. 28 to 30. An incursion of Evening Grosbeaks was noted on the first two dates. This is a departure from their status for some years though in the past abundant for a short time in spring rarely and at times common in winter. This bird seldom appears before November. Other arrivals from the north are the White Crowned Sparrow on the 28th. Lapland Longspur and Pipit on the 29th and Palm Warbler on the 30th. During late August and September the Gadwall, a scarce western duck was observed. Eleven Turkey Vultures (very rare here), were observed near Woodville on Sept. 8, by Dave and James Calvert.

Yours truly,
E. W. Calvert.

Freak Accident Befalls Aged Cresswell Man

A 90-year-old man, a patient in the Irwin Rest Home, Little Britain, suffered a fractured hip in a freak accident in his room and is hospitalized in the R. M. H. as a result.

Authorities said that apparently Mr. Abraham Noble, had fallen asleep while sitting in his armchair in his room after breakfast.

Awakening he decided to lie down on the bed and arose to do so. In stepping on the floor his leg gave way and he fell heavily to the floor.

Mrs. Milton Irwin, the matron who was in an adjacent room heard the crash and investigating found the man injured.

He was taken by McArthur's ambulance to the R. M. H., Lindsay and is under the care of Dr. Blackwell.

Latest reports from the hospital state that Mr. Noble's condition is improving and he is fairly comfortable at present.

/ Mr. Noble is a native of Cresswell and has been an inmate of the Irwin Home since last December.

"He was up and around, took walks down to the village several times a day and enjoyed a game of euchre at the garage," Mrs. Irwin says.

"It is believed, the elderly man lost his balance when one leg which "had gone to sleep" did not support him as he arose to his feet," the matron explained.

9,000 Attend Rosary Hour

Many Lindsay people attended the Rosary Hour held in Peterborough Memorial Centre on Sunday afternoon. Attendance was estimated at 9,000 people. The Catholic Women's League chartered two buses for the occasion.

Deputy-reeve For Ops Unlikely In Next Year, Township Clerk Reveals

It is unlikely Ops Township Council will have a Deputy-reeve in the 1958 term, Clerk E. Smith informed "The Post."

In the past the count of electors did not give Ops the right to have a Deputy-reeve. It is unlikely the count this fall made on the same plan as formerly and before nomination day will make any change in this regard stated Mr. Smith.

But in 1958, when the count of the electors is tallied in a different way, according to an amendment of the Municipal Act, Ops Township will send a Deputy-reeve to County Council for the year 1959. This is thought to be a certainty he added. Correspondence was read from the Department of Municipal Affairs at the October meeting of Ops Council, verifying as to what term the new amendment would apply.

A by-law to authorize a franchise agreement between the Corporation of the Township of Ops and the Consumer's Gas Company was given its third and final reading. It was felt likely therefore that many in the Township along the line bringing the natural gas into Lindsay will avail themselves of the opportunity of gas distribution to their homes.

Mr. Jasper Forman addressed the Council on VON services in Ops Township. No decision was made in this respect.

It was decided that a registered letter be sent to Mr. Dave Brasier advising him that he would be required to start building a fence around that portion of his property, used as a wreckers yard before the issuing of his new license for 1958.

It was also decided to select jurors on the night of Oct. 10th at 8 p.m.; that Court of Revision be held on Oct. 26 at 10 a.m.; that road inspection be held Oct. 23 at 10 a.m.; that a grant be made to the Victoria Plowmen's Association; that the fences around the cemetery on lot 17 concession 2 be put in better shape.

Would Study Ways To Halt Inflation

Toronto, October 8 -- (BUP) -- Ontario Hydro Chairman James S. Duncan has called for a Federally-appointed committee to study ways to stop inflation.

He told the Toronto Board of Trade Club yesterday that since 1914, the dollar has lost half its purchasing power. Duncan also urged Canadians to voluntarily re-orient their purchasing from United States products to United Kingdom articles.

Plan To Erect Plaque In McDonnell Park

A plaque, suitably engraved with highlights of the Town's history is to be set up somewhere in McDonnell Park, date of unveiling was suggested by the Mayor as October 16th. This was decided at Monday's meeting of Council.

Mr. Carl Brown, Chairman of the Parks Board will decided on the best place in the Park.

Mr. Brown expressed the opinion that this plaque should be erected somewhere along the river.

Other locations such as at the Library were suggested by Councillors Peirce and Hutton. But Mayor Hick and others contended that the plaque should be in the eastern area of the Town and on the site of the original Purdy's Mills if that could be located.

However, it was decided to place the plaque in McDonnell Park for the present, and the suggestion was made that it could be moved if thought necessary later on.

Car Hits Soft Shoulder Mishap Hospitalizes One

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Mrs. Mervyn Leach is in Ross Memorial Hospital following an accident on Sunday afternoon. Returning from Minden, on the Kinmount road, the Leach car struck a soft shoulder on the road, at Nelson's Corner, which threw it out of control. The car crashed into a telephone pole and was wedged between the pole and a tree, which caused considerable damage to the front part of the car. Dr. Grattan Graham was called and took Mrs. Leach to hospital. Mr Leach, who was a passenger in the car received a cut in the head and a severe shaking up. Constable M. Baker of the Lindsay Detachment O. P. P. investigated.

Community Chest Asks Council To Endorse Its Campaign With Show Of Checks

As cheques were handed over, pictures were taken and the new Community Chest Appeal was thus endorsed by Town Council at last evening's meeting.

A deputation of 1st. Vice-President Col. R. I. Moore and Campaign Manager, R. A. Cozens from the Community Chest approached Council. With Mr. R. A. Cozens as spokesman, it was asked that the Council, if it saw fit, endorse the Community Chest appeal and its increased objective of $16,000.

Mr. Cozens continued saying, he would like to see if the the Council would make a contribution tonight; if so a photographer present would take a picture of the Mayor and the Council in this mode of endorsation. He also suggested that donations separately or collectively should be increased 15 per cent as had the total objective been advanced.

Councillor Hutton voiced his endorsation of the project and as he said "to more or less get the ball rolling." produced his cheque.

Mayor Hick spoke of the tremendous job which the Community Chest was doing and expressed the hope that every citizen get behind it and endorse this new objective.

Councillor Lamb suggested each councillor give a meeting's pay as their donation.

Councilor Maidens—"I wish I had known what Russell was going to suggest before making out my cheque, I would have saved myself some money."

Councillor Lamb—"It won't hurt to the Councillor Maidens' cheque go in.

Councillor Peirce expressed the opinion that he endorsed the project in part but felt the matter of donations a rather personal affair.

Deputy-reeve Holtom 'I think in principle the council should favour this proposal here to-night. The Council should be prepared to endorse leadership in this kind of campaign. If we increase our individual contributions we should increase them 15 per cent."

The Mayor—"We should endorse this 100 per cent."

It was then that plenty of blank cheques were supplied by Mr. Cozens to those who did not have them and the picture was taken by a Kenlin photographer.

The group were arranged on the dais with Mayor Hick presenting the cheques to Col. R. I. Moore and

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Fire Prevention Week, now in progress across the nation, is being participated in by the Lindsay Fire Department. This is one "week" which can be made to pay dividends to those who take an interest in it by reading and absorbing helpful fire prevention hints which will be coming their way through the various media of public education.

We have only to examine the statistics issued periodically in Canada to become aware of the terrific loss of human life and property which occurs annually as a result of fire. And it is total loss in many respects . . . It is true that insurance does compensate to some extent for property loss but it can never replace a life snuffed out by fire, often the life of a child who had just begun the adventure of living.

It is with the thought of avoiding wasteful expenditure of life and property to the ravages of fire, sometimes preventable, that we urge readers to learn what they can about protecting themselves from this hazard. Fire Prevention Week serves to emphasize the need for doing this but it is not enough to be alert for one week in the year . . . fire prevention is a year-round job which may save the life of someone close to us . . . it might even be our own.

What better reason could we ask to incite us to do our part in preventing fires in our own community?

Our firemen do what they can when fire breaks out . . . Will you do what you can to see that it doesn't?

Churchill Closes Farming Career

Sir Winston Churchill Friday wrote the closing chapter to another of his many careers--that of a commercial farmer.

Eighty-two-year-old Sir Winston who led England through the trying war years, sold the last of his farm equipment. Farmers and businessmen, but very few souvenir hunters gathered at Chartwell Farm near Westerham, Kent, as the machinery was auctioned off.

Churchill, who will be 83 on November 20th, is vacationing on the Riveria. —BUP

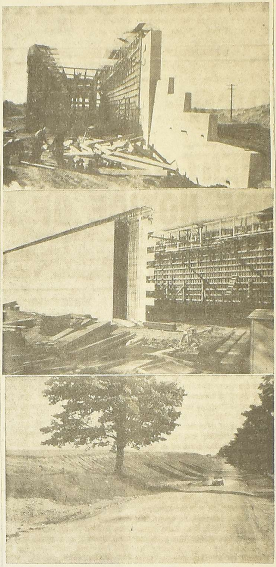
Trans-Canada Progresses



Direct residents are taking quite an interest in the progress of work on the local section of the Trans-Canada highway these days. Some ideas of the magnitude of the highway revamping job may be gained from these pictures. Top photo shows work in progress on the over-pass directly west of Lindsay where the CNR Midland line bisects old Highway No. 7. The centre shot portrays the construction detail required in such an undertaking. Note the intricate crib-work. The bottom picture furnishes a very good illustration of the amount to "fill" which is used in re-routing a highway. This stretch of road is part of the new highway south of No. 7 and near the old wooden bridge which spans the CNR's Toronto line. Extent of the fill can be gauged by the car coming north up the old township road. There is considerable speculation about completion time of the highway . . . Will it be this fall . . . or later?

52 Blind Persons In County Urge Support Of Campaign

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Mr. Caruck, field secretary for the Canadian Institute for the Blind was the guest speaker at a public meeting in the auditorium of Fenelon Falls Public school, under the auspices of the Women's Institute. In his informative talk, Mr. Caruck said there are 52 blind in Victoria County and three in the village of Fenelon Falls. It costs $600 per year to pay for the free services supplied to each blind person and since Victoria County is not paying its share it was decided to sponsor a canvass in the near future. When the canvassers call on you remember how fortunate you are to have your eyesight and "dig down." Miss Helen Dawson, well known to the blind in the village and Miss I. Cowan also spoke, emphasizing what it meant to be blind, and demonstrated the first steps in teaching Braille.

An enlightening film was shown by Mr. Caruck and all who attended the meeting received beneficial knowledge on the care of the eyes.

During the Lindsay Exhibition Mrs. Scott and Mrs. McGee looked after the Sale of Blindcraft products for one day and report quite a good response from the public.

First Full Reunion In 41 Years Reaboro Brothers, Niece Together

Reaboro (PNS) — Mr. James Blair was pleasantly surprised on Saturday night when his three brothers and niece from the West arrived at his house for a visit. Two of the brothers, Messrs. Clayton and William Blair and daughter Annie are from Gretna, Manitoba and the other brother, Mr. David Blair is from Neche, North Dakota. There is just the road between the latter's farm and his brother's farms but it is the boundary between the province of Manitoba and the state of North Dakota. On Sunday the Blair brothers were joined at the home of Mr. James Blair by their two sisters, Mrs. R. Hanthorn of Fenelon Falls and Mrs. Stewart Miller of Whitby making a happy reunion of the brothers and sisters all together for the first time in 41 years. Miss Eileen Blair, R.N., also arrived home to spend the weekend with her father and Mr. Hanthorn and Mr. Miller were also present for this special occasion. After an enjoyable reminiscing day, Mr. and Mrs. Miller returned to Whitby and were accompanied by Mr. Clayton Blair who will be their guest for a week. The Messrs. David and William Blair and Miss Annie Blair motored on Monday to visit friends in Belleville. Mr. Hazen Blair of Mimico, arrived home on Tuesday and accompanied his sister and cousin Annie to Donald where they had the opportunity of visiting with other western cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Mace Harrison and son Breen of Alberta who are also visiting in the East. Close friends of the Blairs, Mr. and Mrs. William Munt of Peterboro were supper guests of Messrs. James and David Blair on Tuesday night.

The Blairs formerly came from Lochlin in Snowdon Township and will be visiting in that district during their five or six weeks stay here in the east.

Mr. James Blair moved to this district about 30 years ago with his wife, who has since passed away and his family. Mr. Blair farmed until recent years and is now Mail Carrier, and is widely-known throughout the district and village as a good friend and neighbour. His brother Clayton of Gretna, Man., also has many friends here as he has been visiting in Reaboro on several occasions. Their friends extend best wishes to the four Blair brothers and their two sisters for a happy holiday together and many more Blair family reunions.

Final Offer Of $5,000 No Good, Haines States

The proprietor of Haines Yard, R. R. 3, Lindsay, states he is not going to accept a final offer of $5,000 from the Town of Lindsay for his property on the Bobcaygeon highway.

Mr Haines told "The Post" Friday he had received an offer of $5,000 for his property and had been told "that's it." He said he had never put a price on the property but this wasn't a fair offer in his opinion.

Under these terms the only thing I can do is refuse to sell and hope for a better deal from the judge if expropriation is proceeded with. The Town of Lindsay has done the preliminary work on expropriation procedure.

Victoria County Farm Union Holds Convention At Cameron

Mr. Stanley Smith, of Bury's Green local and Mrs. Harold Hopkins, Norland local, were re-elected Director and Women's Farm Union Director for Victoria County at a well-attended annual convention at Cameron this week. Messrs. Mike Donahoe, Reaboro and Lloyd Hawkins were chosen as Sub-directors. Messrs. Fred Palmer, Little Britain, Fletcher Goodhand, of Norland local and Jack McNabb, Cameron, were elected as Zone directors with Mrs. Russel Goodhand, Cameron and Mrs. Don Armstrong, Bury's Green as Women's sub-directors. Mr. Joe Jenkins, Little Britain, capably conducted the nominations and elections.

A resolution was passed, which requested the Ontario Farm Union Provincial Executive to recommend an increase in membership fees equivalent to the needs of efficient operation and a further resolution stating that because hog directional points are expensive, ineficient and objectionable, that farmers are demanding a vote which might rob them of their scheme and authority and asking the Provincial Government to authorize and supervise such a vote but that the Ontario Farm Union should have representation on the committee which words the ballot.

President A. V. Cormack reviewed the many activities and achievements of the Union during the past year.

Reference was made to O. F. U. being first to recommend that the Provincial Government be responsible for Brucillosis vaccination as they are in T.B. and also that O. F. U.'s brief to Ontario Hog Producers in 1954 recommended discontinuance of United Livestock Sales and a further brief in 1956 requested abolition of assembly points and that trucks be directed to truck hogs direct from farmers stables to processors, paying asking price.

Violin and guitar music was provided by guest artists Guardie and Gifford Gransden. Ladies from the several farm union locals provided lunch.

Ontario County Farm Union convention was held in Wilfred Hall in Ontario County on October 2nd and Durham County in Pontypool on October 3rd.

Wedding

Lowensbrough-Chatten

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Saint Thomas Anglican Church, Belleville, Ont., Saturday, August 24, 1957, at 2.30 p.m. when Margaret Annie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Chatten of Corbyville, became the bride of William David Lownsbrough, only son of Mrs. and the late J. E. Lownsbrough, of Oakwood, Otnario.

Rev. Canon McConnel officiated at the double ring ceremony, amid a setting of pink and white gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked radiant in a floor length gown of white pleated nylon net and French lace over satin. Her gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice with a sweet heart neckline, lily pointed sleeves and a full skirt. Her finger-tip veil of illusion and imported French lace was held in place by a dainty coronet of seed pearls, sequins and rhinestones.

A set of three-stand pearls, tiny pearl earrings and glass slippers, completed the costume. She carried a white Bible (the gift of her Grandmother Chatten)) with an orchid and stephanotis arrangement.

She was attended by her sister, Barbara, as maid of honour, and Doris, as bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of pink and blue nylon over taffeta, featuring fitted bodices and full skirts. They wore white headdresses and accessories with identical gold and silver necklaces and earrings, a gift of the bride. They carried contrasting bouqets of carnations.

The tiny flower girl, Helen Chatten, wore a gown of blue nylon over taffeta with a flowered headdress and white accessories. She wore a silver bracelet which was a gift from the bride and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The wedding music was rendered by Mr. A. Robert Bell at the organ and Miss Helen Found of Cannington, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "O Perfect Love' during the signing of the register.

Mr. Peter Harcus of Toronto attended the groom. Mr. Bill Chatten of Dunsford and Mr. Murray Tiel of Woodville acted as ushers.

The reception which followed the ceremony was held in Carmel Hall, Corbyville. The brides' mother received, wearing a charming dress of blue turquoise crepe with white accessories and corsage of pink sweetheart roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who was gowned in blue crepe and lace with blue and white accessories.

The bride's table was daintily appointed with a white damask linen cloth centred by a three-tier wedding cake and the bridal bouquets. Some girl friends of the bride assisted the W. I. ladies in serving. They were Margaret McMahey and Maureen Amey of Dunsford, Lorrain Rogers of Oakwood and Cecelia Whalen of Corbyville.

Following the reception the bride and groom left amid a shower of confetti for a honeymoon to Algonquin and district.

The bride chose a powder blue going away outfit with white accessories and an orchid corsage. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm at Oakwod Ont.

Guests were present from Oakwood, Woodville, Cannington, Toronto, Lindsay, Peterborough, Omemee, Dunsford, Young's Point and Corbyville.

Angel Cake

This cake is a favorite and yet it is easy to make and there won't be a crumb left over. Bring out the refreshments at any party, and you're sure to hear somebody say, "Oh, dear! Here goes my diet!" Even the perfect Thirty-Sixes are watching their diet these days, and with this in mind, here's a real angel of an angel cake that goes easy on calories and consciences! The secret is that it's made with Sweets, the new concentrated no-calorie liquid sweetener. Here is the recipe: 1 cup sifted cake flour, 1 1-4 cups egg whites (10 to 12 egg whites, ½ teaspoon sweeta, 1 1-4 teaspoons cream of tartar, ½ cup sifted sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1-4 teaspoon almond extract.

For Children's Party

....You won't need to give them too much to eat if you make candied apples which are good for them and extra sweet coating will make them happy. All you have to do is to candy some apples, use some nuts in small pieces around the lower part of the apple and a stick to hold on to it. You don't have to wait for a party for every mother knows that apples are good for the children and grownups. They are ten times as delicious if you party them up a bit.

Fall Crop

If you like apples baked, just peel them down about half way, put some delicious red jelly over them and they take on a party look. We've been looking forward to the new crop of Fall apples so make good use of them while we can. Some like them to eat raw but you can also please others with them in any way

Save Summer Bulbs

Pack your tuberous begonia and fancy leaf caladium bulbs in dry sand or vermiculite. Keep at about 40 degrees. Pack dahlia tubers in damp sand or peat and keep slightly cooler. Clean and sort dried gladioli bulbs. Dust with 5 percent DDT powder to control thrips. Store in boxes or paper sacks where it's 32 to 50 degrees.

Fall Chore

Be sure and fork up the soil in your garden and all you'll have to do is rake it next spring. Before putting in seeds for a very early garden of sweetpeas, annual larkspur, poppies, California poppies, peas, and lettuce . . . Leave it lumpy as you turn soil over for frost action to mellow it. Your early-spring garden will save money at the time when fresh vegetables are scarce and high priced.

It Really Works

Somebody has finally designed a circular house that keeps Mom from running in circles.

Sounds confusing—but it works. The nine-room home is believed to be the first of its kind. It makes the kitchen the hub of family activities—and combines a circular living area with a rectangular four-bedroom wing.

The sympathetic artitect of the new dreamhouse is Michael Radoslovich—who believes that the housewife "shouldn't have to keep running from room to room."

"We centered the kitchen between the main areas so the wife can have cocktails . . . play with the kids and cook pratically at the same time." — he says.

"From the hub of the wheel — a rotunda or hall—" He explains— "The wife can get to any room easily . . . look into the rooms and keep an eye on the children both inside and outside the house."

The house—which was recently opened at Roslyn Hills, New York— uses every inch of space and can be adaptd to any site.

Radoslovich says the center of the circle is "just a round version of the old-fashioned central hall . . . but it lets in natural daylight through a plastic dome in the ceiling."

The kitchen includes a built-in refrigerator . . . wall oven . . . freezer . . . dishwasher and island-type range with attached snack bar. Other highlights are a soundproof master bedroom . . . main floor laundry . . . basement workshop and two-car garage.

Fault of Educators

Charles Calitri — an education consultant — feels he knows why children leave their homework and rush for the T-V set. Calitri says its the fault of the educators. He says the Educators often forget to aim their books at the child's desires and interests — therefore the child regards reading as a chore. The consultant says both textbook and teacher have failed—if the pupil is unable to answer the question— "What does this book mean to you?"

Exclusive Styles

You'd better start reducing ladies for the clothes coming up are slim all the way from your hemline up. Suits are the same, some belted and a new double kick pleate show up to advantage in skirts. They call them slim and they are not exaggerating. Clever draping moulds a sheath in flaxen beige wool jersey. Deep folds at the waistline fade towards the bodice and skirt. A wide decollete and short draped sleeves complete this after-five dress.

Wool Tweed

Tweeds are back with us again but they are a bit different. One style bold and beautiful is in black and white wool tweed coat. Black velvet trims the collar while black also tips the front ties. Oversize clown buttnos parade down the front of this double-breasted slim and straight wool coat.

Soft Crepes

One soft crepe dress in an interesting tan and black print. The back blouses softly below a cowl neckline with double panel split back and smart self-fabric belt. The perfect dress for your new Fall wardrobe.

From Paris

From Paris comes this winter version of the bush-shirt in a blue grey wool tweed by Christian Dior. Slight fullness is gently caught in by a wide self-fabric belt passing through loops and slightly lowering the waist.

Clever Draping

Clever draping moulds a sheath in flaxen beige wool jersey. Deep folds at the waistline fade towards the bodice and skirt. A wide decollete and short draped sleeves complete after five dress. A dress that would make any woman look slim. The neck has soft, low collar, short sleeves and a daintily draped boddice and hipline. A dress you could go anywhere.

The Weaker Sex

Lady Astor Says: They call us the weaker sex. But men are weaker sex. They know it and we do too!

Predicts End of Short Hair

A leading hair stylist for the theater world predicts the end of short hair fashions. Ernest Adler— who hairstyles for Faye Emerson, Patti Page and other stars — says he's a "long-hair boy." He says short hair is nice for beauty shops . . . but there is nothing like "that crowning glory bit." Also—he says —"I wouldn't be surprised it we brought back rats."

One Version

Simonetta — The chic Italian Duchess-turned-designer — thinks fashions everywhere are getting too simple and too practical. "We live at too fast a pace"—she says. "We're too travel-minded. It's killing inspiration." The designer believes women must be glamorous again. "Wear more long evening gowns"— she advises — more elaborate day clothes. Everyone wears a little chemise today and it's a pity."

The Beret

Northing polishes of a costume better than the right hat. And the beret is the hat to do it. The beret can be worn on or off the forehead or dipped to one side. In satin—it becomes a dressy evening hat. Trimmed with a jewelled clip or banded with ribbon—it accessorizes afternoon costumes.

Beauty Tip:

When you buy clothes—don't confine color to your age bracket. Choose colors that harmonize with complexion and make-up.

Ginger Puddin' Cakes!

Prepare gingerbread mix according to package directions. Fill 10 custard cups two-thirds full. Tie on foil caps; steam 30 minutes in two inches of water, serve with hot canned or freshly made applesauce —spiced with raisins and cinamon. Country Good! Here's another you won't want to miss: It's cherry pudding cake. Use your favorite fresh fruit filling or canned cherry pie filling. Bring to a boil with a guarter cup of water, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1-4 teaspoon cinamon. Place in 1½ quart baking dish and top with one cup of plain cake batter (cake mix) in 9 inch square pan.

Unmanageable Curls

We wonder what the gals would do if they hadn't a hair-set that will stay in whether the weather is damp or dry. There are many on the market to choose from and when you find the one you like you'll be content. You just spray it on and forget about it and you'll not be bothered with your curly locks. Rain might harm them but it's surprising how they do hold their curls.

September 1907

"At almost any rairoad station of any small town or city you will see a bevy of young girls, showily dressed, with uncovered heads, often with bare arms and necks, whispering and giggling and engaged in flirtations," Well, we've come a long way since then!

Fifty Years Ago

The world's largest liner, the Lusitania, arrived in New York on her maiden voyage in September, 1907. Paris decreed new "tender" fashion colors, copied from Watteau canvases of blue-grey, gray violet, and "tea green." Wisteria, ferns and ribbons trimmed the new drooping mushroom or scoop-shaped hats The Merry Widow had its premiere in America . . . and for a time the waltz swept into the background, the fox trot, turkey trot, the grizzly bear and the bunny hug.

Give Her A Chance

A London paper thinks that Queen Elizabeth should use women instead of men ghostwriters to write her speeches. The paper says that "a new approach will be needed during the Queen's visit to the United States—and suggested the Queen hire such writers as Daphne Dumaurier . . Nancy Mitford or Dame Edith Sitwell.

Honeymooning

No rough waters ahead for Marilyn Bell and Wesley Di Lascio. Marilyn . . . Canada's champ long distance swimmer—and Wesley, a former life guard of Atlantic City, New Jersey. The two are honeymooning after their wedding recently in Alderwood, Ontario. Six-hundred persons jammed the small church for the service—including some who had watched the gallant Marilyn battle her way across the English channel . . lake Ontario . . and the straits of Juan De Fuca. The couple's romance began more than three years ago when Marilyn won the women's world championship while she was in Atlantic City. They will settle in Camden, New Jersey, where the bridegroom has a job as State Parole Officer.

Hydrangeas

Hydrangeas can be given a blue color by applying to the soil for use in pots, a part of blue aluminum sulphate to 200 parts soil. If a pink color is desired, apply hydrated lime in the same proportion.

Damp Cellar

Chronic dampness in the cellar can be counteracted by placing large chunks of unslaked lime around in the corners. Use only if the cellar is damp, not actually wet, and replace with fresh pieces when the old chunks don't seem to be absorbing any more moisture.

Pancake Weather

For supper these nights you can't go wrong with pancakes for the family. If you have a little cold ham in your refrigerator you might like to put it in your pancake batter. Just grind it and blend it in the batter. It just gives more body to these delicious pancake batters. When days get chilly, one wants hot dishes and this one is an easy one.

Curling

Curling won't be far off and plans are being made by both men and women. The ladies have had one meeting and it won't be long before the schedule will start. The club is being repaired where it is needed.

Varnished Floors

To make it easy to varnish floors, place the can of varnish in a shallow pan of hot water and the varnish will not only flow more readily, making the task easier, but it will dry almost twice as quickly.

Wants to be Actress

Jayne Mansfield and the City of London have discovered each other. And the two are hitting it off rather nicely. The shapely blonde actress was given front page play by most papers—and even called "A Sweetie" by one. Attired in a snug woollen dress for a news conference —Miss Mansfield told the gaping crowd that she doesn't want to be famous just on the basis of her appeal. "I want to be an actress' — she said.

Object Matrimony

A carnival of "dancing, drinking, flirting and what have you" is off to a running start in Grevenbict, Holland. An estimated 14-hundred widows and widowers from seven European countries are meeting for their first "World Congress". Topic of discussion: Matrimony. The consensus from the gay conventioners is—"A good matrimonial market.' Gerard Greyn—promoter of the congress and wed to one of the ex-bachelor girls—says his immediate interest "is in seeing that the 14-hundred who come this year leave satisfied."

Sixty Members Join Dysart H.&S.

Haliburton (PNS) — The Dysart Home and School Association held the first fall meeting in the new county high school and sixty members joined the association.

It was meet-the-teachers-night and those who were present had the opportunity to meet the many new school teachers in the area and get acquainted. All teachers were introduced by Mr. A. Stouffer P.S.I. and the high school staff of teachers were introduced by Mr. Norman Sisco.

The new public health nurse, Mrs. Miller of Wilberforce, for this area was present. A discussion on "Starting Your Child to School" by Mrs. George Elstone, Miss Ferguson and Rev William Armitage from a health, home, school and church standpoint proved to be very interesting.

The home and school association is under the direction of Mr. Max Archer and is launched on another banner year judging by the "meat" in the initial program and the enthusiasm of everyone in attendance.

The social feature of the meeting was very pleasant when Miss Linda Robertson and her piano accordion with William Gliddon at the piano provided an excellent interlude. Light refreshments were served.

The October Home and School Association will be of exceptional interest when Rev. Alfred C. Forrest of the United Church Observer who has just arrived back from an extended trip to England, Europe, and Africa will be the guest speaker. Mr. Forrest has a most interesting way of telling the people his story and his description of what is happening in Africa will be fascinating.

Ask If Industry By-passing Town Due To Hospital

"Could it be that industry is by-passing Lindsay because of the lack of modern hospital facilities." This question is asked in a leaflet put out by the Ross Memorial Hospital Association and currently being circulated among its members. The leaflet goes on to state in part: "Parry Sound, with a population of 5,338, supports two modern hospitals, both larger than the present Ross Memorial Hospital. Our people are deserving of the best hospital care available . . . . Let us provide it for them now!"

Rev. M. Morden Guest Speaker

Reaboro (PNS) — A memorable occasion took place when the Reaboro Baptist church observed its 84th Anniversary Services and had as the guest speaker the Reverend Malcolm Morden, a former Reaboro boy who has been pastor of the Mount Dennis Baptist Church, Toronto, for several years but is moving to Sault Ste. Marie in October to become the minister of the Coulson Ave. Baptist Church.

The church was filled to capacity for these special services and former members and friends from various places were in attendance. The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of gladioli attractively arranged, centred by a lovely fern.

Following the Call to Worship Rev. Mr. Morden opened the service with a hymn after which the 37th psalm was read. The scripture was taken from St. Matthew chapter 6, verses 24 to 34 inclusive. A lovely duet was sung by the Misses Enid Skuce and Marilyn Chisholm, of Toronto, after which Rev. Morden led in prayer. Another beautiful duet was then rendered by Miss Anne Morden and Mrs. Douglas Burke.

Rev. Mr. Morden expressed his pleasure in bringing a message in his home church and extended greetings from the Mount Dennis Baptist Church in Toronto, from where he is soon leaving to take up his duties in the Coulson Ave. Baptist Church, Sault Ste. Marie. The speaker explained that it was heart-warming to be in Reaboro Church, a sacred place to him, where he had committed himself to God and to see so many friends and former childhood playmates. The speaker then delivered an inspiring sermon on the 37th Psalm.

The speaker went on to say:

First—Trust in the Lord which is most difficult to carry out at times but we must trust everything to God —everything depends on Him.

Secondly—Delight thyself in the Lord—delight in God's work.

Third—Commit yourself to the Lord.

Fourth—Rest in the Lord—satisfied, contented to go forth in the Lord.

Following the sermon, Mr. Morden closed the service with prayer and the benediction.

The evening service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. C. Smith who welcomed all the visitors and a special welcome to the three ministers present, the guest speaker, Rev. Mr. Morden and wished him God speed on his departule to Sault Ste. Marie, and a welcome to Rev. S. France and best wishes were extended to he and Mrs. France as they leave for India where they will do missionary work, and to Rev. P. C. Reed, a former pastor of Reaboro church. Mr. Smith also thanked those responsible for the lovely flowers placed in the church for these special services and to those who contributed special music.

Following the announcements, Mr. Jimmy Sloan sang a lovely solo, "Beyond the Sunset" which was much appreciated, after which Rev. P. C. Reed led in prayer. Miss Anne Morden and Mr. Keith Morden then rendered a beautiful duet, "Waiting on Jesus". The scripture was taken from Luke 4 verses 16 to 32. After being introduced by Rev. Mr. Simth the guest speaker, Rev. Morden expressed his pleasure in being present and to have Rev. France and Rev. P. C. Reed, a former pastor of his who was instrumental in directing him to his first Home Mission Church. The speaker then chose as his theme for his sermon, "Where two or three are gathered together in My name, there will I be also" and delivered a most interesting and stirring message.

Rev. Morden concluded his excellent talk by stressing that Jesus is always present, and the hymn "Pass Me Not O Gentle Saviour" was sung after which Rev. S. France pronounced the Benediction.

Following the service, those present took the opportunity of greeting Rev. Mr. Morden and Mrs. Morden and family and extending best wishes to them for their future happiness in their new home in Sault Ste Marie.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

If thou wilt therefore worship me, all shall be thine. Luke 4:7.

Millions of men have from early times to this day taken the Devil at his word. Mostly they have ended in poverty and disgrace. This is not the Devil's world and he has nothing of sound value to give away. (Press Radio Bible Service Inc.)

Union Leader Warns Hospitals Change Attitude, Face Strike

Toronto, Oct. 3—(BUP) A union leader warns that Ontario hospitals may some day find themselves strike bound if they don't change their attitude about bargaining with their employees.

Albert G. Hearn, International vice-president for the Building Service Employees' Ontario Provincial Joint Council, Number 32, gave the warning yesterday.

Hearn presented a brief to the Provincial Government's Select Committee on Labor and said although the union had legal right to organize and strike, it did not have the moral right to strike because of the hardship and tragedy such action could cause.

He said though the union lacked the strike weapon, some hospital managements refused to discuss certain bargaining managements with the union and left no other recourse other than strike.

The union represents employees in 29 of Ontario's 155 hospitals.

Temporary Ban On County Home Visitors

Lone Case Of Influenza Prompts Precaution Taken

No visitors allowed is the rule being enforced at present at the County Home for the Aged, Supt. R. Cross told "The Post" Thursday. The reason — there is one case of flu in the building, he disclosed.

This measure is one of precaution to prevent the spread of flu either in or out of the building, Mr. Cross explained.

A young lad -- the cook's boy -- is the victim, but is up and around again after a few days in bed, the supertindent reveals.

The flu which sickened the boy has not been identified as the Asian strain. County Home Doctor L. V. Shier is the attending physician.

"We expect if no further cases develop, the Home will be open for visitors within a few days," declared Supt. Cross.

Will Take Long-Range Look At Canada's Liquor Problem

The United Church of Canada says that it will take a long-range look at the liquor problem in this country.

Toronto lawyer John L. Grogan—a church layman—has been named chairman of a committee set up by the church's board of Evangelism and Social Service to conduct the two-year study.

Among topics to be studied are: Drinking in high schools and colleges; drinking and traffic hazards; voluntary total abstinence; drinking in moderation; temperance education; nationalism of the liquor industry; drinking in other countries; rehabilitation of alcoholics, and the church's role in preventing alcoholism.

The Commission membership will include representatives from every province with the first commission meeting scheduled for next February in Toronto.—BUP.

Sculpture Defined To Guild By Celebrated Frances Loring

"Sculpture is the Artist's interpretation of Life in terms of form; in terms of three dimensions; in terms of silence,' said Frances Loring, quoting her favorite definition of the art in which she herself excelled perhaps above all other sculptors in Canada. Dr. Loring, R.C.A., O.S.A., S.S.C., was speaking to the Lindsay Art Guild at its first meeting of the new season.

Introducing the guest speaker, President, Nellie King told of the many major works for which Miss Loring is celebrated, which include the dynamic statue of Sir Robert Borden on Parliament Hill, Ottawa, and the ten-foot figure of a mother with her children, on the facade of the new Queen Elizabeth building at the C. N. E.

Illustrating her lecture with slides, Dr. Loring began with contemporary works, to explain the several angles from which modern sculptors are working. She emphasized the prominence of England's Henry Moore, probably the greatest influence in sculpture today, with almost all students imitating his unique style which puts such importance on the hole, "all in the wrong places," said the speaker whose humor kept her audience chuckling. Showing one of Moore's works "Double Standing Figures," She pointed out that the forms were suggested by bones, and warned her listeners that these experiments must not be branded as ridiculous, but rather considered as phases of development out of which something important might come.

Rodin, the 19th century Frehcn sculptor, was discussed at length, as an artist who breathed new vitality into sculpture. He created a new and intimate type of monument, seen at ground level instead of high on a pedestal, having a rought vibrant surface now described as the "ball" technique. A powerful, peasant type, he was morbidly emotional, reflecting the writings and poetry of his day.

The workers of Jacob Epstein, the speaker said, were almost repulsively earthy. He is best known for his great figuras for the London Underground, "Night", and "Day". One may not like his work, but it cannot be ignored nor forgotten.

It was not until Dr. Loring began to speak of Mistrovic that one detected how profoundly she admired the work of this one-time shepherd whose schooling was the Bible, and whose first efforts were carved from the field stones as he tended sheep in his native Serbia. During the war he found refuge in United States, where (in spite of pressure from Tito to return to Yugoslavia) he still creates his monumental, mystical figures. Dr. Loring summed up the three gret scultors to whom she had devoted most time, as Rodin, personal; Epstein, earthly; Mestrovic, spiritual.

The thanks of the Guild were expressed to Dr. Loring by Mr. E. Banks, and during the coffee hour many had an opportunity of meeting the distinguished visitor. Other business of the evening included plans for the forthcoming bus trip to the Harlander Pottery Studios at Brooklin.

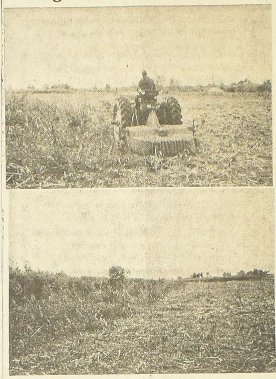
King-size Power Mower



Motorists using the old Oakwood road saw an interesting piece of equipment at work the other day. It was the king-size power mower (upper photo) which was mowing scrub instead of grass. The outfit was operating in brushland owned by Ernie Walker, district farmer, who was having the waste land cleared for cultivation. The machine slashed off good-sized saplings with the greatest of ease and its method of operation is exactly like that of a power lawnmower. Ernie Cavanõ of Bethany is the owner of the unit which is officially designated as a John Deere brush cutter and the operator is Harry Johnston, also of Bethany. Mr. Johnston says he believes the machine's service will be in big demand when people realize how easy it is to reclaim waste land. The picture below shows cut-over land adjoining brush waiting to be mowed down. The work was in progress at a point on the old Oakwood road near the new Highway 35 cut-off road leading north from the Trans-Canada west of Lindsay.

Once Had Plant At Lindsay Firm Goes Into Bankruptcy But Employees Savings Safe

Tilbury, Oct. 3—(BUP) — Employees of the bankrupt Chatco Steel Company in Tilbury who were buying some 24-thousand dollars worth of Canada Savings Bonds by payroll deduction have been assured they will get their money back. (Chatco Steel Co. at one time had a plant in Lindsay.)

At first, it was feared they would lose their contributions when the firm went bankrupt, because the money was used in a general fund as factory expenses by the company.

However, an Ottawa spokesman for the Finance Department said yesterday that payroll deductions towards Canada Bonds were legally in trust for the Crown and would be set aside from the company's assets before the firm's affairs are settled with creditors.

He said even if the assets did not cover the bond deductions, the government would settle from an Investors' Indemnity account.

Waged Own Private War On Cigarettes Theatre Manager Halts Losing Battle

New York, Oct. 3 —(BUP) — A Brooklyn theatre manager has decided woefully that you just can't keep people from smoking their way to the cemetery if that's what they want to do.

Two months ago manager Al Greene became so convinced that cigarettes cause lung cancer and assorted other ills that he refused to sell them anymore at the lobby stand.

Green's crusade against what he called "coffin nails" set off a chain (smoking) series of reactions, none of them salutary:

1.—Customers began to leave the theatre during intermissions to buy cigarettes — and candy -- elsewhere.

. Ticket attendants fell into the habit of passing these patrons in on seeing a pack of cigarettes, without asking to see tickets' stubs.

3. Neighborhood teen-agers noticed this, quickly learned that a 30-cent pack of cigarettes could get them an 85-cent theater seat.

"People were staying away," Greene added. "I couldn't really stop the addicts. But I did reduce the vibration in the theater from tobacco coughs.

This week Green halted his losing battle and posted this sign out front:

"Our crusade is now over. Live modern. Buy your coffin nails at our lobby stand."

REABORO FAMILY LOSES ALL IN FIRE

Frame Dwelling Is Destroyed, Cause Unknown

Reaboro (PNS) — Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hart of this community are homeless and without possesions following a fire which destroyed their rented home on Thursday.

According to neighbours, the fire broke out in early afternoon and the frame dwelling was destroyed in a very short time. No fire brigade was called and the owner, Mr. Jas. Calvert, was in Lindsay at the time. He was notified by telephone of the fire.

The frame home stood about 1½ miles south of the village, just below the CPR railway line running between Lindsay and Dranoel.

First noticed by Mr. Jas. Robinson, the fire was first thought to have been confined to a chimney. However, Mrs. John Barrett, another neighbour, says that when she was approaching the scene the fire seemed to be in the roof on the south portion of the house.

Form Historical Society, Small Beginning Planned; Executive Nucleus Named

"The Victoria County Historical Society" was formed and named by a group of interested citizens at the Town Hall on Thursday evening Oct. 3rd, of the Centennial year.

Present were those interested in the preservation of relics, marking the way of life of our ancestors, the pioneers of this County. The establishment of a museum in which to house these objects of historical value is to be a major consideration.

Mr. Dan McQuarrie was moved Chairman of the Society; Mrs. Doris Acheson, Secretary; Mr. Murray Grant, Treasurer.

It was decided that Mr. McQuarrie, as Chairman of the Victoria County Historical Society, get together information to promote the development of the Society and report back to a meeting, to be arranged at a later date, Mr. McQuarrie to name a committee to work with him.

Addressing the gathering the Chairman expressed the opinion that as the project of the establishment of a museum had been talked about for a long time, if anything was going to be done about it the present was the opportune time.

"Why Lindsay has not had a museum years and years ago, I don't know," he said. "Our own ancestors who came to this country in sailing vessels and lived among the Indians have left their mark here. Our county is full of reminders of these people many of Irish and Scotch descent; many of these relics are being destroyed and their historical interest therefore lost. Take for instance The Quaker Church at Cambray and Biddy Young's Tavern on the Portage Road in Eldon which have been torn down. It is interesting to note that Lady McKenzie got her first start in life by walking to this tavern in her bare feet to do kitchen work. Later she married Sir William McKenzie, who left his mark in the building of Canada's railroads, he related.

Mr. McQuarrie spoke of the interest taken in the articles of the past displayed during Centennial week. These are all valuable relics and if not preserved will pass into oblivion, he said.

"We are here tonight to talk this matter out," he said and asked for suggestions.

Among those who voiced their opinion was Mrs. Doris Acheson, who was, she said, in agreement with Mr. McQuarrie and felt the best procedure was to elect an executive and acquire housing for the historical objects.

Col. R. I. Moore spoke of his interest in articles of the past, mentioning a cradle of 1845 vintage. Mr. McQuarrie asked if it was a grain cradle, but the magistrate replied "no, a baby cradle." "I still have information being given to me of interesting relics and of these I was given a homemade square of date 1867, made by one of my ancestors with "Moore" engraved on it." He spoke of the interest of Premier Frost in the history of this County, saying it will be regrettable if we don't carry this project out, even as a few I think it is not too late to get machines and hand tools of the earliest life of the County.

Mr. McQuarrie revealed that storage of these relics in the basement of the Registry Office, would not be approved. Another suggestion of storage in the upper floor of the Firehall was discounted. Mrs. S. R. Pitts and Mr. Ford Moynes, also spoke of their interest in founding a museum.

Another gentleman stated he considered the scheme a good one; the first step was to organize a historical society; the next to gain the interest and support of the people; the third to accumulate the articles; and then the acquiring of the property for housing should not be too difficult. Service Clubs and other societies would surely help, he added.

Miss King stated, that nothing could be done unless an organization was formed. "I would like to see a museum, but it would take a lot of money and time and the would-be founders should not be discouraged," she added.

Mr. W. R. Allely voiced the opinion that the first step was to form a Historical Society.

Mr. Stan Pitts said it was just a question of organizing a Historical Society and making a little start. "There must be information of what to do and not to do and as for building a museum, we could get help and leadership here," he said. He spoke of the interest of Premier Frost in historical things and of the probability of perhaps arranging for the museum in the new Provincial Government building to be built on the Western boundary of the Town. "I think we should organize and then make enquiries as to proper procedure from other societies," he added.

Mr. Jas. McQuarrie stated that the organization should be got underway tonight.. "I have often been embarrassed that we haven't got an outstanding point of interest like a museum to show visitors," he added.

Others voiced their approval of starting in a small way, collecting articles, and acquiring a modest building.

Mr. McQuarrie asked direction as to how to form a Historical Society, saying, "we should have a place to sort over relics and hoard them for the day when we have a proper building.

It was at this point that Mr. Schwarz moved that the society be formed and named "The Victoria County Historical Society" and the nucleus of the executive was named.

The attendance there present, numbering 20, were embodies as members.

MOH Predicts Flu Will Mar Visit Of Royal Couple

Ottawa's Medical Officer predicts that the Queen's visit to Ottawa this month will be marred by a full-scale influenza epidemic in the nation's capital. Even now, says Dr. R. A. Kennedy, more people than usual are absent from offices and schools.

And the situation is going to get worse. Two hospitals in the Ottawa area have been closed to visitors and a number of schools are shut down. —BUP.

Toronto, Oct. 4—(BUP)—Premier Leslie Frost has authorized an extra day for a four-day Thanksgiving holiday for school children to honor the royal visit this month.

The extra day will be a Tuesday. Frost also announced yesterday a 30-day amesty off each year of sentence for prisoners in provincial reform institutions.

Rev. V. Walker Guest At 95th Anniversary

Yelverton (PNS) — Sunday was a big day in Yelverton with the church celebrating its 95th Anniversary. Capacity congregations at both services attested to the esteem of the guest speaker, Rev. Victor Walker, who preached at Balyduff Nestleton and Janetville Presbyterian Churches (residing at the latter) for 21 years. Since then he has been at the Stirling charge for 19 years.

Old friends were pleased to note little change in Mr. and Mrs. Walker over the years.

In the morning the local junior choir and quartette provided the music. In the evening the Kedron male quartette — Messrs. Murray Mountjoy, Ron Werry, Jack Francis and Bill Werry were heard with Mrs. Ross Lee as organist.

Many of the visitors were welcomed at Yelverton homes.

Ma'colm MacLean

Former Victoria Co. Businessman Dies In Port Arthur

A former prominent businessman in Victoria County, Malcolm MacLean, died Sunday, Sept. 29, in Port Arthur, Ont., at the age of 86. He had been ill in hospital six weeks.

Born in Glengary County, Mr. MacLean moved to Carden with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacLean, at an early age. Mr MacLean took up the grocery trade in Bolsover and Eghert. Following his marriage to the former Rachel Campbell of Eldon, in 1899, he started in business at Eldon Station. Mr MacLean ran a sawmill, grain elevator and farm.

He was prominent in Eldon Presbyterian Church, organizing and supervising the Sunday school and for many years was head of the Eldon School Board. At the time of his death, he was still a member of Victoria Lodge Masons.

The family moved to Port Arthur in 1924 where Mr. MacLean continued in the grocery business.

When he retired in 1937, Mr MacLean owned seven grocery stores, was the first man to start the chain grocery system at the Lakehead, and was proprietor of the only privately-owned gas station. He had served many years in St. Paul's United Church, superintendent of the Sunday School and member of the Session, and had been on the Board of Education. He was also an honorary member of Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce.

Surviving are three sons, John and Sam of Denver, Dan of Ottawa, who attended the funeral; three daughters, Flora, Mrs. H. L. Chapman and Mary of Port Arthur, and Christine, Mrs. A. B. Nichol of Claremont, Calif.; a brother Dr Angus MacLean of Des Moines, Iowa, also at the funeral. His wife two brothers, Rev. Sam MacLean of Ottawa, Norman of Moose Jaw, and a sister, Mrs. Annie Hopkins, of Port Arthur, predeceased him.

The funeral and burial was held Tuesday in Port Arthur.

Hall Says He Won't Leave Western

London, Oont., Oct. 4—(BUP) — Dr. G. E. Hall, President of the University of Western Ontario, said last night that he would not leave Western to fill the vacancy left by Dr. Sydney Smith's appointment to Minister of External Affairs for Canada.

It was reported earlier that Hall was one of the top prospects for the position of President of the University of Toronto.

However, Hall said there was "a big job to be done" at Western and he intends to stay to see it gets done.

He said the campus is now overcrowded and needs a new engineering building, for which plans are now complete. He adds that an additional arts building, a Nursing Science building and a Library addition also are needed.

Film 1958 Model Cars On Lindsay's Outskirts

Motorists on Highway No. 7 west of Lindsay were a little surprised last Friday to see new cars being unloaded just opposite the Trans-Canada detour route. It seemed unusual that the new cars were being unloaded here rather than that at one of the local dealers.

Enquiries revealed that these were indeed new cars . . . 1958 Dodges, DeSotos, etc. . . and they weren't being delivered to anyone. Reason for the highway unloading was for filming purposes. A spokesman for the camera crew, who was shooting the film for "Climax" television presentation late this fall, said the area lent itself well to demonstrating the "torsion bar" action of the new cars . . . No one disagreed on that point, there being plenty of rough stretches while the road is under construction.

Evening Auxilary Holds Thank-Offering Meeting

A very impressive autumn service of the Cambridge Street United Church Evening Auxiliary was held in the Church Parlour. The president, Mrs. G. E. Phelps presided and there was a good attendance of members.

A brief business period was conducted by Mrs. Phelps. Mrs. K. G. MacDuffee read scripture and Mrs. K. M. Bailey, representative from the auxiliary on the Missionary and Maintenance Committee, announced that a very special meeting has been called by the Presbytery for Tuesday, October 15th at 8 o'clock to be held in Cambridge St. United Church Dr. Allan Knight, Minister of Agriculture to Angola, just recently returned to Canada is to be the speaker. Miss Doris Edwards Literature Sec'y, briefly reviewed each of the seven new books which have been added to our "Book Shelf." These books are for circulation among the members and one not only very enlightening on our missionary work but provide delightful reading material. The president reminded the members of the bale of clothing which is to be packed in November. The members were reminded also of the Young People's Conference to be held in Lindsay October 18 - 20, and asked for billeting accommodation for these young people. Mrs. R. H. Martin and her group had charge of the devotional service, which opened by singing a hymn of Thanksgiving, "Sing to the Lord of Harvest." Miss N. Brown read from Archibald Alexander's book. "The Staff of Life," the quote, "Harvest time, when we view nature in all its glory and abundance of growth, we are made aware of a broader horizon. The religion of Jesus Churist gives us this wider vision and broader outlook. Christ indeed is our way to a wider horizon." Prayer was offered by Mrs. M. F. White for the work of our missionaries at home and in fields afar off. The regular offering, and special Thank Offering was received and dedicated. A very lovely number "Just for To-Day" was sung unaccompanied by Mrs. E. Freeborn, Mrs. J. Lamb and Mrs. C. Frise.

Due to the illness of our minister Rev. R. K. McLean, who was to have addressed the auxiliary, Rev. W. R. Rackham brought a very informal but impressive message. Directing our thinking to Thanksgiving Day, Mr. Rackham quoted in part from David Grayson—"No holiday throughout the year is comparable to Thanksgiving Day. There is no war to commemorate; no one's birthday to be marked; no church ritual, but the co-operative celebration by the common people in gratitude for the plenteous harvest." The speaker commented that the Nation and the Church did well to set aside a special day to give thanks to Almighty God for His rich and abundant blessings. Mr. Rackham spoke further on a very thought-provoking subject "Possessing our Possessions," and based his remarks on verses from the Book of Obadiah, in the Old Testament, saying, Some have great worldy possessions, but do not avail themselves of their true worth, while others with very few possessions, enjoy them to the full. Through the magic of memory, one may review and relive many pleasures—in this way re-possessing the first pleasant experience.

Hymn 857 was sung and the benediction pronounced by Rev. Rackham. A social half-half was enjoyed, when light refreshments were served by Mrs. H. Rutherford and her group.

Omemee Loses To Newtonville

Omemee (PNS) — Omemee, Champions of the North Durham Baseball league, bowed out of the finals by losing two straight to Newtonville in the best two out of three series.

Newtonville won the John James (former Liberal M.P. for Durham) Trophy for the second time as last year they defeated Keene.

Contributing largely to Omemee's defeat were two factors, a shortage of pitchers and over three week idleness awaiting the games resulting in the boys being out of condition.

They lost the first game played at Kendal 13-2 and the last one here 10-2.

Otherwise they faced stiffer opposition in their own league than Newtonville proved to be.

Angola Mission The Best Rev. Forrest Tells Auxiliary

The first meeting of fall season of the Eliza Dunoon Auxiliary W.M.S. was held in Cambridge Street United Church. As it was a special meeting the whole congregation was invited as well as members from churches in surrounding districts. Mrs. Dix, president with a few well chosen words welcomed all and hoped each would find inspiration and help in the service:

Hyhn 252, "In Christ there is no East or West" was sung and Miss F. Moore read the Scripture lesson Romans 12 Chapter. Miss Ethel Flavelle led in prayer. A solo by Mr. John Moore, "Oh Israel Trust in the Lord" was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Forrest, mother of the guest speaker, introduced her son, Rev. A. C. Forrest, who in his opening remarks expressed his pleasure at revisiting Lindsay and Cambridge Street Congregation. On another occasion he was here when Dr. Stranyway of Anagola, Africa, was also present

He spoke of his recent trip abroad to Africa where he visited Dr. Stranjoy and his wife in their Mission work. He left Toronto and first visited Scotland, home of his ancestors. Then he continued to England and heard many of the prominent ministers there. Then on to Rome where he heard the Pope. From there Athens was visited and Mars Hill where Paul the Apostle preached his wonderful sermon in Bible times. "Architecture very wonderful in Athens at one time is now partially in ruins and yet the gospel which had been preached has gone out to bless the whole world", he said.

Next he visited the Holy Land. Many of the familiar places of New Testament stories are built over and some commercialized. Gaillilee where Jesus taught his disciples and the crowds of people who followed him, the mountains and hillsides, the valleys and roads he travelled on, the sea whose troubled waters he stilled, on which he walked to his disciples in their distress, all these were most interesting. He visited Jordan and entered into Israeli and saw so many refugees and heard both sides of the tragic dispute.

Then going to Egypt and Cairo, was appalled by the hundreds of thousands of people who live in slums. So many little children had tragic faces and were hungry and ragged.

Then he went on to Africa. Of the missionaries were: One young Toronto missionary, a radiant personality glad and joyful to be missionary to foreign field; another was a young misionary from Peterboro, serving the Baptist Church and much of her support coming from a small country church. He had the privilege of attending a Missionary Conference to meet many workers there and among these were two young men from Addis Ababa, whom he had known in Alberta some time ago. Ethiopia had had Christianity since the fourth century, yet Education and Medical work there is practically nil. Evangelistic work is carried on now newest mission being in Copper Belt in Rhodesia. Here are found the highest paid miners in the world. well to do people. Tens of thousands of Africans leave their simple country home life to earn big pay; this creates a big problem for missionaries. One fine building there, the beer parlor creates another big problem. The heaviest task is that of dealing with different races. Missionaries stick to Evangelism. The state runs schools and hospitals. Jehovah Witnesses are in Ethiopia by the thousand. White people are building a fine new church. He attended an African service in Angola. Men sat on one side of the church and women on the other. Nearly every woman had a baby on her knee. They like Canadian Missionaries. Nearly every Sunday there are new members at this church. At Dondi he visited a leper village. All lepers except missionary and himself, so many with fingers and toes off and feet and hands all twisted. At the edge of the village he saw a poor woman with babe crying at her breast and a little ten year old girl, a very sad sight. Next he travelled 80 miles to Dr. Stranjways home, where he and Mrs. Stranjway serve together in a very simple but lovely home. The missionaries had gather to meet him and a special turkey dinner had been prepared for them. All kinds of delicious fruits and fresh vegetables, from Dr. Stranjways farm garden were served. He found it very interesting to meet these missionaries to hear of their work in its different phases.

Rev. Forrest said Dr. Strangway as well as being a Dr. and Surgeon, teaches the natives to farm and has introduced plows so they may cultivate the land and produce better crops and more food. There are no lepers at the hospital, all are treated in their homes and at 63 outstations. It was very prevalent when Dr. Strangway first went to Angola but they have it well under control at present, with children all attending mission schools. Three young lads went out as student missionaries into the jungle and one by one stayed off alone in pagan villages as they came to them to work alone. Rev. Forrest related a man and his wife later walked hundreds of miles to visit them and see how they were getting on.

"If our missionaries had to come out of Africa the native missionaries would carry on with the Christian work there", he stated. He saw nothing in all his travels better than in our own Angola mission; There he found wonderful buildings cheaply built. Consercrated missionaries whose compensation and reward cannot be bought.

Mrs. Golden very fittingly voiced the appreciation of the W.M.S. to Rev. Forrest for his very interesting address to Mr. Fletcher organist; to Mr. John Moore for his solo contribution and to the choir for so ably assisting with the music.

The offering was taken by members of W.M.S. and dedicated by Rev. Forrest who pronounced the Benediction.

All were invited to the Sunday School room for refreshments and a social time.

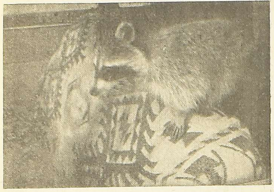
First Trip



The first car ride this raccoon ever had proved to be one of great interest to it and when the car was parked downtown, the curious creature decided to see what made things tick. Scrambling up from the back seat onto the front, it fixes a sharp eye on something up ahead. Below, the object of its interest is revealed . . . it's the steering wheel and the raccoon looks almost human as it sits hunched over it and peers ahead at the road. Believed to have a pet coon, its owner was quickly found when its benefactor--Allan Spencer--made some enquiries.

Same Street, Same Day Sees Trio Of Accidents

Mrs. Douglas Burke Prepares BYPU Topic

Reaboro (PNS) — "How He Died" was the interesting article read by Mrs. Douglas Burke at the weekly meeting of the BYPU which was held in the vestry of the church on Tuesday evening with a very good attendance of 15 members.

The meeting opened with hymn, "What a Friend We have in Jesus' after which the scripture was read by Robbie Littlejohn and taken from number 332 in the hymnary, a psalm of Thanksgiving and Praise "Wonderful Words of Love" followed after which Mr. Burke, Mr. Veals and Rev. E. C. Smith led in a season of prayer. Members answered the Roll Call by repeating a verse of scripture from the book of Amos. The topic prepared for this meeting by Mrs. Douglas Burke was an interesting and enlightening resume of Jesus dying on the Cross, which was greatly appreciated by all present. "He Leadeth Me" was the closing hymn after which Mr. Robert Reeds dismissed the meeting with prayer.

Teenagers Frolic With Live Skunk

People in the vicinity of Kent and William Sts. were amazed at what they saw around ten o'clock Thursday evening. A group of teenagers were seen to whisk a skunk out of a waste receptacle by the tail and set it free. Laughing and jostling, they went after it and repeatedly lifted it up by the tail and set it down, apparently without any retaliation from the skunk. Spectators were left wondering how they did it.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

If thou be the Son of God cast thyself down from hence. Luke 5:9.

Christ came to this earth for a purpose that would have been defeated had he responded to a silly taunt. He endured for the joy that was held before Him. That joy has been realized.

Urge People To Protect RMH Patients From Flu By Not Visiting Them

No visitors PLEASE!

The Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, has asked the public to cooperate during the current influenza outbreak by refraining from visiting people in the hospital.

Hospital Administrator Norman Mutter said today that the request was being made to prevent the spread of the flu to patients in hospital. They already have enough sickness to contend with, he pointed out, and it would seem kinder not to visit them than to run the risk of inflicting further illness on these people.

In the case of critically ill patients special permission to visit them may be obtained from either the director of nursing or night supervisor, Mr. Mutter stated.

The flu's prevalence is not regarded to be "epidemic" but "The Post" has learned that it is widespread, with many people coming down with the virus. Officials say the virus has not been identified as the Asian strain. A fair percentage of the school-age population is reported to have been affected.

It's different on the Farm

Toronto, Ont.,
September 27th, 1957

Editor,
"THURSDAY POST",
Lindsay, Ont.

Dear Sir:

I was impressed with the thought in the following lines in your keen column (FROM other pens . . .) in your Aug. 14 issue, credited to the C. C. of Commerce News Letter: "Despite the fact that man has made such strides in the field of science that it is now necessary for him to spend less than a third of his time at the job of earning a living, man would appear to be no happier than he was when he spent more than half his time struggling to keep body and soul together. Man just hasn't faced up to his responsibility to put his free time to effective use . . . This is the age of escape literature, tranquilizer pills, spectator sports, late, late TV shows and other devices to ease the boredom of increased leisure!'

Without doubt, I suggest that the above is a pretty accurate picture of the bulk of the two or three-paycheque homes along the city pavements in the United States and Canada? On the other hand, I feel that the formula does not cover the farms of either nation—and, obviously, does not apply to the 70 per cent of the human family, elsewhere, directly at work in the world's fields, barns, rural homes? In these latter, I think it is valid to assert that if there is a minimum of income of 'escape literature and tranquilizer pills' there is, also, a minimum of 'boredom' and a maximum of WORK? One of your farm contemporaries (Family Herald) flashes the following revealing table before its readers, in which the stubborn figures, resulting from a cost study of 50 mixed farms (carried out by the Alberta government) tell a thought-provoking story. I commend it to the notice of gainfully employed Canadians along the pavement:

Average capital investment	$33,000
Average gross revenue	$ 7,049
Man equivalent, per farm	1.5
Average operating expense	$4,794
Average net farm income	$ 2,255
Less interest on capital at 5 per cent	$ 1,650
Operator's labor earnings	$ 605
Farm perquisites (value of home-grown products consumed	$ 533
Total earnings of operator	$ 1,138

Woodville Man's Entry Surprises Ottawa's Connaught Park Fans

A Woodville man's entry at Connaught Park, Ottawa, made a name for herself by winning two Quinellas in a single week. It also established one of the season's highest pay-offs when she set up a $170.50 Quinella.

"N. I. Morrison's 'Patsy Harvester,' a 16 to 1 shot, slipped into second place in the fifth race and helper provide 20 persons with a Quinella payoff of $170.50—big enough to make them forget all about the chilly air at Connaught Part last night." So wrote the Ottawa Citizen's sport columnist on the morning of September 23rd.

He continued: "It was among the 10 highest One-Two returns at the Aylmer Road plant this season and due largely to the presence of Patsy Harvester in the place spot. Teaming up with Morrison's bay mare in the rich Quinella was Van Silver Boy, which came from last place in a roaring finish to get the nod."

On the Saturday following the long-shot Quinella win, Patsy Harvester again won a Quinella, its second within a week.

The winning horse was piloted by Graydon Sheldon of the Manilla district who has been racing at Richelieu Park, Montreal and Connaught Park this season with some noteworthy successes.

Mrs. Torrance Robertson contributed to the Program with a letter from the Call; Winnifred Simpson, a story of their trials and difficulties en route to the airport with two missionaries coming home on furlough. The Roll Call and collections were taken; the Scripture was taken from Psalm 9, followed by a season of Prayer. It was decided to choose a chapter from the Book of Proverbs of each meeting for the coming year and the verse for the Roll Call to be taken from this

All officers were re-elected on motion of Mrs. Art Kennedy and Mrs. Bert Robertson.

The meeting closed with a hymn and Prayer. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess .

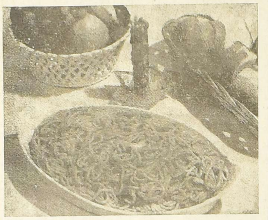
FOR FALL... HEARTY ITALIAN FARE



An autumn meal needs many things. But most of all, on crisp fall days, folks hunger for a main dish which has robustness and the piquant flavor of a well-seasoned, well blended casserole.

Italian food has this warmth and sturdiness. And with the help of canned spaghetti and diced cooked chicken, you can achieve such a flavorful main course, which is heated top-of-stove and table-ready in less than 20 minutes.

SPAGHETTI SICILIAN will be a hit in any supper or dinner menu. Star with it, in the Italian manner, large hunks of crisp bread, a colorful and zesty salad, and a light dessert of fruit with soft cheese. Coffee, of course, for the beverage.

The bright colors, blended flavors and cheery touch of this menu will help your table companions "eat with their eyes" too!

SPAGHETTI SICILIAN

⅓ cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
⅔ cup diced cooked chicken
2 cans (15 ounces each) spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese
2 to 3 tablespoons dry red wine (optional)

Cook green pepper in butter until tender. Add chicken, spaghetti and, if desired, wine. Heat well. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SOUP SCOOPS

SAUCE UP YOUR POTATOES

Ever think a change in serving baked or mashed potatoes might be pleasing to the whole family? Well, sauce up your baked potatoes tonight with this simple and delightfully mellow sauce. Blend 1 can (10 ounces) condensed cream of asparagus soup with ⅓ cup milk. Add 1 tablespoon grated onion. Heat slowly, but do not boil. Stir in ¼ cup sour cream; heat 2 minutes longer. Serve over potatoes. Makes 1¾ cups sauce.

BACK TO SCHOOL lunch boxes should contain a vacuum bottle of soup. It gives the hot food for the noontime meal. All kids have a favorite kind of soup. Those which rank highest in their esteem are TOMATO, CHICKEN NOODLE, and VEGETABLE Fill your child's vacuum bottle with one of these, or make a combination of two.

Favorite combinations are:

- Canned condensed green pea soup with tomato.
- Canned condensed clam chowder with cream of celery.
- Canned condensed bean with bacon plus vegetable soup.
- Canned condensed chicken gumbo with tomato.
- Canned condensed Scotch broth with cream of mushroom soup.

Bible Thoughts

The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, but the word of our God shall stand forever. Isaiah 40:8.

In Isaiah's day the better part of the Bible had not been written. It is more honored today than at any time in three thousand years. Even in minute details it has been verified as startlingly true.

In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth, and the earth was without form and void. Genesis 1:1.

Fifty years ago leading scientists could not account in detail the story of creation and an intelligent creator. Today the creation story originating, we think, in the Sumer before Abraham, left it is accepted by the soundest scientific scholars. The word Yom in that connection before there was sun rise and set set twenty four solar hours but a period of undetermined length means there is no quarrel now before science and revelation.

The Human Mind and Body

By Peter J. Steincrohn, M.D., F.A.C.P.

SEX TALK DIFFICULT EVEN FOR A DOCTOR

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I would like to know the best source of sexual information I can get to help me in my woman-to-woman talk with my ten-year-old daughter. She has, somewhat without my help, passed the birst and bees phase.

My daughter is at the frank question stage and there are times, I hesitate to admit, that I feel inadequate to advise her, as my teaching knowledge of the subject is somewhat limited. Can you suggest some reading material (either for me or my 10-year-old)? She has the curiosity of a teen-ager. Thank you for your time and advice. Sincerely, Mrs. W. W. M.

Answer: I found your letter on the same day I had been discussing this important question with a group of parents. I had been surprised, at how much prudishness and squeamishness seem to influence the thinking of so many people.

Two of these parents were "sure beyond question" that the bees and the birds illusion has become a horrible joke. They were of the opinion —and it seemed rooted in cement— that sex should not even be discussed with youngsters. They said: "We grew up without lessons in sex and we have seemed to do all right. Why call attention to it in young minds as if it were something dirty? We don't believe in making our children unnecessarily conscious of sex and its problems."

The other parents were aghast! They couldn't understand "how two intelligent people could be so stupid!" (I felt as if I were caught in the cross-fire of a political or religious argument.)

"Where do you want your children to get their sex information?" they said. "Do you want them to learn it from kids as equally ignorant about it as they are? Is the streets the place to learn?"

Seemingly getting nowhere in their argument, they all turned to me. Being the only doctor there, they asked me to judge their differences.

I told them that I would anwser as a parent and as one who was also at times frustrated in looking for the correct answer. Therefore, I hoped they would not be expecting an oracular pronouncement.

I believe that innocent children should not be allowed to stumble around in the garden of sex. I believe that parental "crossing of fingers" that everything will turn out all right is nineteenth-century thinking. Speaking of bees, I believe it is poor and defenseless logic to hope that one 10-year-old can effectively teach another 10-year-old about sex.

Therefore, it is our job as parents to do business with reference departments in our public libraries. They will readily recommend many accepted books on sex suitable for senior and junior reading. We should be frank (and adult) in our discussions of sex with our youngsters. We should see to it that the school boards know that, as parents, we are interested that our children receive instruction in biology, hygiene and sex. (Of course, the method of presentation is as important as is the type of teacher chosen for the job.)

VITAMIN B12 MANAGES ANEMIA OF PREGNANCY

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am worried about my wife. She seems very sick while carrying our second child. Before she became pregnant she was as healthy and strong a girl as you ever saw. Now she has no appetite, is pale and weak, runs a low fever, complains of a sore tongue—and even her feet are swollen.

We live in a small town and don't have the benefit of any specialists and consultation. Therefore it's hard to believe, as our doctor says, that it's all due to anemia associated with pregnancy. He has just prescribed what he calls "folic acid" for her and promises that she will soon be all right. Would you be good enough to discuss this condition, Dr. Steincrohn? Sincerely Mr. R. R.

Answer: The medical term for your wife's condition is (assuming that the diagnosis is correct): Megaloblastic Anemia of pragnancy. It occurs in about once in every 200 pregnancies; most commonly in women over thirty who have already had children.

It is diagnosed by examining the patient's blood smear or/bone marrow. Your doctor is right in promising you that your wife will most likely recover from its effects after taking folic acid. This is specific and effective treatment. Sometimes vitamin B12 is used; also liver extract—and transfusion occasionally.

We don't know the exact cause of the condition which prevents the body from utilizing folic acid normally. Some investigators believe that deficiencies in the patient's diet contribute to the anemia.

CANCER: CIGARETTES OR AIR POLLUTION?

Many persons are certain that cigarette smoking is the sole cause of lung cancer. There is no doubt that it plays a part. However, I believe that all of us should remain open-minded, and read without prejudice, any other theories regarding its cause. For example, here is quotation from modern Medicine which has digested a recent report by W. C. Heupner of the National Institute of Health:

"The epidemiologic data do not support the theory that cigarette smoking is primarily responsible for the increase in lung cancer. The rise in death rate from respiratory neoplasm (cancer) began before cigarette smoking was widespread . . . Lung cancer is twice as frequent among the male population of England and Wales as among men in the United States; per capita consumption of cigarettes, however, is 30 per cent higher in the United States. However, cigarette smoking probably does contribute to the production of lung cancer to a limited extent."

Heupner seems to believe that air polution—especially in the cities—is a more important cause than cigarette smoking.

DIAGNOSIS OF RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS

Many people have asked me if there is a special test for diagnosing rheumatoid arthritis. I tell them that usually we can make the diagnosis without difficulty. However, there are borderline cases that tax our diagnostic ability.

It is interesting, therefore, to read of a new test that helps in differentiating it from other conditions. It was discovered by Dr. Joseph H. Bunim and his associates. It is called the (BFT) Bentonine Flocculation Test. They say it can be performed quickly in the physician's office. However, I doubt that it is now available to the profession.

JUST THE THING

A quick-thinking lady druggist in Epinal, France, knew just what to do when a horse hurtled in through a window of her shop. The horse was tossed through the window when its carload of wood got away on a steep street—and the lady druggist left by another window.

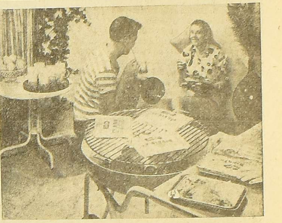
THIS BARBECUES A BREEZE!



Take a tip from these teen-agers who know how to have a good time at their own parties.

This cook-out barbecue illustrates their easy-does-it approach to party food. They've settled on easy to fix, easy to eat, ready-prepared dinners from the freezer, and have come up with the ingenious idea of cooking them over a barbecue grill. Keep your freezer well stocked with convenient frozen dinners, and you'll be set for a "real cool" barbecue at any time.

Here are the simple directions: Leave dinners in freezer until you're ready to begin the barbecuing. Start your fire in the grill with charcoal briquets, allowing them to burn down to a bed of glowing coals. The surface of the grill should be 5 to 6 inches above the hot coals. Now you're ready to remove the dinner plates from their cartons, leaving the foil sealed around the plates. Place the dinner plates directly on the grill and heat them about 20 to 25 minutes (25 minutes for chicken). For even heating, move the dinners around on the grill once or twice. To test for doneness, just touch the foil lightly. When it's hot all over, your barbecued dinners are ready.

What are the yummy looking drinks these youngsters have concocted? "Ginger-Peachy" and "Strumberry" Sodas, they'd tell you. Here's their "recipe": Among 4 tall glasses, divide 1 package of thawed, frozen peaches or strawberries. Into each portion, blend ¼ cup of milk; then add 1 big scoop of vanilla ice cream. Fill glasses to top with chilled ginger ale; give mixture a quick stir; add straws; drinks are ready!

FOOD NEWS FILLERS

Next time you open a can of frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup, try this: Heat the soup with ½ soup can of milk and ½ soup can of water over low heat; stir often. Then add ½ cup of finely chopped celery and a dash of onion juice. Gives an intriguing new flavor accent. 3 servings.

SO GOOD WITH CHEESE

Here's a touch of glamour for old-fashioned vegetable with beef soup. In a saucepan, combine a can (10 ounces) of frozen condensed vegetable with beef soup with 1 soup can of milk. Heat over low heat until thawed, stirring occasionally. Add 1 cup of shredded sharp cheese. Continue to heat, but do not boil, until well blended. Serve for lunch with a salad and a quick hot bread. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Secondary School Students Score Conference Holiday

Twenty Secondary Schools will declare a holiday for their pupils on October 23rd, to enable the teachers to attend the Second Annual Educational Conference of District Nine of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers Federation at Bowmanville High School.

Mr. Arnold Edinburgh, Editor of the Kingston Whig-Standard, will be the guest speaker at the evening banquet. Many other outstanding speakers will address the conference.

The teachers will meet in general sessions to discuss current educational problems, and in subject groups to compare notes on individual subject techniques.

Reactions occurred over the whole of the Province from last year's Conference, when the Social Studies group vigorously attacked the policies of the Department of Education in that subject field. A recent announcement by the Department that changes were to be made, parallels the policies advocated by the Conference.

District Nine, OSSTF extends over the following schools: Pickering D. H. S., Ajax H. S., Whitby D. H. S., Oshawa C. V. I., Oshawa C. C. I., Bowmanville H. S., Port Hope H. S., Cobourg C. I., Lindsay C. I., Fenelon Falls H. S., Peterborough C. V. I., Kenner C. V. I., Kinmount C. S., Blackstock H. S., Campbellford H. S., Lakefield H. S., Haliburton D. H. S., Millbrook H. S., Norwood H. S., Omemee H. S., Orono H. S.

Mrs. Wm. Wicket Hostess To WMS

Little Britain (PNS)—The October meeting of the W. M. S. of the Little Britain United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Wickett with twenty one members in attendance. The opening hymn "A Charge to Keep I Have" was sung with Mrs. S. Chidley at the organ. Mrs. L. Heatlie read an article on "Responsibility"—only by doing and accepting responsibility can we hope to accomplish the purpose for which we are here on earth. Mrs. Heatlie then led in prayer.

Mrs. Moys Avery read the minutes of the last meeting and in the absence of the treasurer also gave Mrs. Casey's report. Both were accepted as read. Reports were given by Mrs. Prouse, and Mrs. Connor. Mrs. Fred Gilson read an article on "Alcohol" which is giving us a great deal of concern as an increasing problem which must be controlled by each individual.

Mrs. Casey again has a wide selection of Christmas cards and in her absence Mrs. Stuart Chidley took orders for later delivery. The baby Band Social will be held in November. The Fall Rally will be held on October 29th at Queen St. United Church in Lindsay. Our Society is taking charge of the worship service. Delegates appointed were Mrs. S. Chidley and Mrs. Harry Gorrill with Mrs. H. J. Falk as alternate.

Mrs. P. Prouse is in charge of the Nominating Committee.

Valentia has a Missionary, Miss Wilson, as guest speaker for Friday night and our Society has been invited to be present. Those able to attend were asked to contact Mrs. L. Heatlie.

The Worship service was in charge of Mrs. S. Chidley's group. Mrs. Wm. Wickett opened the service with the hymn "Lord of the World's Above" following with prayer and the scripture reading from Phillipians Chapter 1 verses 27 to 30 and Chapter 2 verses 1 to 4. Mrs. Connor gave the commentary on this text emphasizing that we must have not only Church Union but also united members in the church and if we as members are united among ourselves we will have Church Union. Mrs. C. Palmer closed with prayer.

The first phase of the study book "Man of Japan" was given by Mrs. Geo. Avery and Mrs. S. Chidley. This brought home to us how much those who have accepted Christ endeavour to bring others in Japan into the Christian Church. All take an active part in the Evangelistic program of their church.

The offering was received and dedicated with prayer by Mrs. Wm. Wickett.

Mrs. Connor read a very timely article on "The Song of Colour." God made us all regardless of our colour. Meeting closed with singing hymn "Jesus with Thy Church Abide". Mrs. J. Mills and Mrs. Sloan thanked the hostess and the group in charge for the very worthwhile afternoon.

The group served a dainty lunch and a social hour was enjoyed.

A nice selection of items, to be sold at the Bazaar, was on display at the meeting.

The devotional period and program were in charge of Mrs. Arthur Hill and Mrs. Howard Foster. Mrs. Lawrence Gillson read the scripture lesson from the 17th Chapter of St. John, and Mrs. Arthur Hill read the material on the Topic Card: The minister, Mr. McNeil, gave a short talk on the subject "Commitment for Service".

Mrs. Howard Foster sang a solo, and readings were given by Mrs. Bruce Hawkins, Mrs. Doug Fish and Mrs. Marvin Hill. Mrs. Owen Sweetman sang a solo, and Mrs. Howard Foster gave a reading.

The minutes were read and approved, and seventeen members answered the Roll Call . There was one visitor present.

It was moved by Mrs. Arthur Hill and seconded by Mrs. Howard Foster that the W.A. serve lunch at the sale of Mrs. Norman Moase on Thanksgiving Day. This was carried.

A "Thank You" card was received from Mr. Alf Dowson.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. A. Nicholls, in November.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Lawrence Gillson, Mrs. Arthur Hill and Mrs. Howard Fosetr.

Combination Arena, Fair Building Advocated

33 COTTAGES ARE MOLESTED, 6 MEN CHARGED

Six men appeared in court here today to answer charges laid after 33 cottages in the Haliburton area had been molested in varying degrees.

The charges followed investigations by Constable Kennedy, assisted by Constable Art Watson, both of the Minden OPP detachment. Constable Watson told "The Post" in court that the men were remanded for one week and that they had been under observation for some time.

Wilful property damage is reported to have been done to some of the numerous cottages involved. This included smashed windows, etc. Some goods were stolen from the cottages including a number of rifles.

The case will be tried in magistrate's court at Lindsay next Wednesday.

Accommodation For Magistrate Under Study By Committee

Council has under consideration private accomodation for the Magistrate and other officials in connection with holding of Court in the Town Hall.

The matter was discussed in this way at last evening's meeting of Council:

"I noticed an article in the paper asking that accomodation be made for the Magistrate," stated Mayor Hick. "I wonder if there is anything we can do to make more office accomodation available in the Town Hall?" he asked.—'

"Lawyers, policemen, etc., have no accomodation in conjunction with the courtroom either," he added. "Not even a private telephone."

It was asked how many offices were available over the Fire Hall. Polito assured that there were three.

In a suggestion that the Board of Health move its office over the Fire Hall, it was learned that this Board did not favour such a move. The firehall stairs were not conducive to mothers ascending them, the Board had advised.

Councillor Maiders — "Why don't we get a plan for building an addition here of extra offices."

Deputy-reeve Holtom—"We expect the town to grow and develop now and the Town Hall hasn't even got a Committee room.

Mayor Hick observed that the Town Hall was terrifically crowded and there was splendid offices over the Fire Hall.

On motion Holtom-Lamb the chairman was requested to make an investigation of available office space and report back to the Council.

Reeve Greaves Visits Officer Who Commanded HMCS Lindsay

Lindsay residents will be interested to learn that Reeve Ada Greaves had a short visit with Captain G. A. V. Thomson during her recent visit to Victoria. Captain Thomson will be remembrede as the Commanding Officer of H.M.C.S. "LINDSAY."

Since the end of the war he has been in the Royal Canadian Navy Reserve in Victoria and he is now Commanding Officer of H.M.C.S. "MALAHAT", having been promoted to the rank of Captain in January, 1955.

Captain Thomson, who is vice-principal of Victoria High School, asked to be remembered to all whom he knew in Lindsay. He told Miss Greaves that his six-year-old daughter Julie, has a three-year-old brother John Lindsay Thomson, named in honour of the town of Lindsay. Captain Thomson said that he was looking forward to bringing his family to Lindsay in the not too distant future to show them the town in which he is proud to claim honourary citizenship.

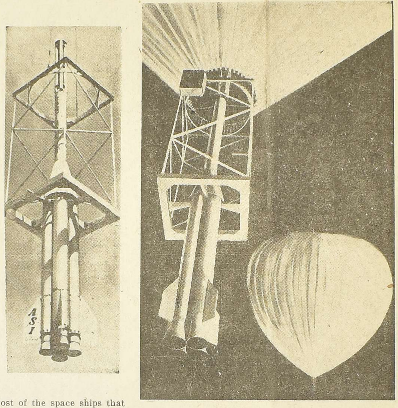
MOON SHIP READY TO GO



Most of the space ships that are topics of conversation now that the Russian satellite is circling the earth, are still the dreams of artists and science fiction writers, but here is one rocket that is built and ready to go. It is the one now at Eniwetok atoll in the Pacific, which will be lifted by balloon to 100,000 feet above the earth and then fired into space. This one, and others like it are expected to photograph the far side of the moon and return to earth. The diagram right, shows how the rocket assembly will be fitted to the balloon. When fired it will go up through the centre of the balloon.

Fair Grounds Mentioned As Housing Subdivision, Would Accommodate 120

Deputy-reeve Holtom in giving a comprehensive report on the availability of serviced residential areas in Lindsay, at last night's Council meeting, stated that he wasn't making any recommendation, just making a report of the situation as is.

This report reads in part:

"In viewing land use in Lindsay, some consideration should be given to the Fair Grounds which occupy approximately 30 acres of desirable land, and which is fully used ONLY ONE WEEK PER YEAR. This property is exempt from taxation. From a Municipal Economics point of view, this is a most inefficient use of land. If this area were fully developed for housing, the Corporation would derive approximately $500,000.00 in new assessment.

Lindsay would benefit greatly if:

(a) The Fair Grounds could be relocated, or

(b) If the area could be put to better use for business or recreational purposes on a year-round basis.

Russian Star Over Lindsay

Early Riser Reports Seeing Red Rocket

The Russian Rocket was seen over Lindsay at 6:03 this morning and will again be visible on Thursday at the same time, according to schedule.

A citizen and his wife braved the early morning chill and from their garden vantage point on the outskirts of town, saw the object moving in the sky. Its passage was from northwest to southeast and first became visible at a point which could be designated as over the Fenelon Highway. It disappeared in the direction of the Peterboro Highway, the viewer described.

The object appeared as like a moving star of an orange and yellow coloured.

"We waited from 5:50 to 6:03 a.m. and were thrilled with the sight,' the citizen related. "I am keenly interested in the Satellite and the rocket which can now be discerned."

"I will be looking forward to seeing the phenomenon on Thursday morning and will again rise early," he added with enthusiasm.

This rocket was slated to appear over Lindsay on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the above early hour, it was learned.

Condensation, Not Leaks Cause Present Trouble Engineer Says

An Arena which would be jointly used by the Recreation Committee and the Fair Board has been under consideration for some months now, Chairman Lloyd Found disclosed at last evening's meeting of Council. The building could be erected at an estimated cost of 100 to 150 thousand dollars,' he stated. But in the meantime the roof of the Arena is bad, the rain just pours down in pools and something has to be done to repair it.

"There has been no provision ever made for major repairs. We will have to let the public know whether we are going to maintain the arena or let it fall down," he continued.

"A committee appointed, has recommended that repairs to the roof be proceeded with,' Mr. Found advised. It also advised the sagging of the floors on the recond floor be investigated, as there must be some deterioration at ground level he further revealed.

At this juncture Mr. Found introduced a representative of the Panther Roofing Comping who stated that for the sum of $3,000 his company would re-roof the building making it rustproof, waterproof and stop 80 per cent of the condensation which was causing the rusting and resultant leakage.

Councillor Lamb--"All know the town property has got to be looked after I can't see where we would lose if we spent $3,000. We have to have the roof fixed. I say have it done."

Councillor Peirce remarked that these monies should have been provided in the budget. At this time of year it did not seem the thing to do. Some provision should be made in next year's budget.

Reeve Greaves and Deputy-reeve Holtom questioned the advisability of deciding on one product and one price. Councillor Polito expressed the opinion that Engineer Timberlake should be consulted in every phase of the Arena repairs and if the Engineer gave sanction to do this . . .

Asked his opinion, Mr. Timberlake stated that the trouble with the main roof was not leakage but condensation and the project of re-roofing as advocated by the representative would only reduce the trouble 30 to 40 per cent; the flashing was mostly gone on the flat roof and the new product advocated might not stand up. Condensation can only be stopped by insulation he summed up.

Chairman Found—"In my position I acted on the recommendation of the committee."

Accordingly it was decided by motion that the Recreation Committee obtain quotations on repair with flashing on the flat roof from three sources; also further recommendations as to the main roof of the building.

Councillor Lamb observed, "I believe it is a step in the right direction, if the Recreation Committee and the Fair Board go together on a new building. Look at the Bobcaygeon Arena which

BUT NO LITERATURE

Hundreds of cars swarmed through Algonquin Park over the long and particularly beautiful Thanksgiving weekend. For those who were visiting the park for the first time, there was much of interest to see. The landscape itself was particularly appealing to say nothing of the many friendly deer which came out to the highway to be fed apples, and other tasty morsels by their curious human audience. There was an abundance of picnic table accommodation, numerous picturesque places to stop and view nature in this protected realm and just about everything which goes to make an outing of this type pleasant.

At the entrance to the park there is an impressive gateway and rest room facilities including a display stand, apparently designed for descriptive folders of various types but on this occasion it contained only one folder . . . a brochure giving a rundown on things to do in Ontario. Several first-time visitors to the park were naturally interested in obtaining some data relating to it and were surprised to discover that none was available at the park itself. (A folder was obtainable at one of the privately-operated roadside stands just before entering the park proper but this confined itself largely to pictures.)

Any highly-publicized centre of attraction, such as this natural park, would seem to warrant preparation of an authoritative descriptive folder which would be available to visitors. Perhaps the season's demand had exhausted the supply, in which case it is likely next year's order will be increased.

Fall Colours

Very soon now the leaves up north will be at their best and you'll want to drive up there to see the lovely colours nature gives us. Whether they will be as colourful as some years we don't know but they will still be worth seeing. Some years they are better than others. One chap went up north the other day and he said they weren't as colourful as usual but it may be due to the cool weather.

Dutch Dills

Cut 4 large dill pickles in crosswise slices ¾ inch thick Put slices in a bowl, cover with brown sugar (takes about 1½ cups). Let stand in the refrigerator for at least six hours. Pickles get even crisper when mellowed longer. If you haven't all your pickles made now, be sure to get busy and make some. You won't regret it!

Jesting

He who never relaxes into sportiveness is a wearisome companion; but beware of him who jests at everything! Such men disparage by some ludicrous association, all objects which are presented to their thoughts and thereby render themselves incapable of any emotion which can either elevate or soften them; they bring upon their moral being an influence more withering then the blasts of the desert—By Southey.

Take Up The Slack

Lying on back, bring knees up, casp hand around knees and pull towards abdomen. Drop feet to floor, slide legs out to first position. Do four times; rest; repeat four times. Good for abdomen and leg muscles; it gives flexibility to knee and hip joints. Get on hands and knees, with arms outstretched, toes curled under. With head up, arms straight, lower torso. Return to first position. Do three times; rest; repeat. Strengthens back, waist, upper arms, neck and abdomen.

Novelty

Novelty has charms that our minds can hardly withstand. The most valuable things, if they have for a long while appeared among us, do not make any impression as they are good, but give us a distaste as they are old. But when the influence of this fantastical humor is over, the same men or things will come to be admitted again by a happy return of our good taste.

We Eat With Our Eyes

What would you do if you saw a purple banana? Chances are—you will never see one and couldn't eat it if you did. Color Researcher—says that tests "show we eat with our eyes. The appetite is conditioned by our senses of smell and taste. Color can effect the emotions . . which in turn affect our digestive system. The Institute demonstrated this theory at a recent dinner party. Standard white lights were switched to colored. Steaks appeared bilious gray . . celery became pink . . . salads a muddy violet . . green peas black . . milk red . . eggs blue and coffee yellow. Most guests suddenly changed their minds about being hungry. Those who forced down the food became ill.

Household Hint

Baby's bottles will stay upright in the refrigerator and can be reached easily if kept in a soft drink carton.

Food Speaks

Northern New York is one place where food speaks louder than words. This area does a good tourist business with French-speaking Canadians. As a result — many businessmen tack up signs telling the visitors that French is spoken on the premises. But one operator apparently has more confidence in his cooking than in his French. His sign reads—in translation—"We do not speak French well . . but will you try our cooking?"

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

SHORT SHORT STORY

A Perfect Alibi

By ANN HARRIS

"BUT, sergeant," Gilson insisted, "last night at midnight I was home in bed. He—" pointing to a pompous individual sitting near, "he didn't see me at that hour. He couldn't, unless he was up in my room."

The other sneered. "Yeah," he said, "you were home in bed. Your ghost, I suppose, was walking about at midnight."

The sergeant raised his hand for silence. He had known Frank Gilson, whom he was questioning with regard to a burglary of the night before, as a quiet family man, employed as a mill accountant for a number of years, and always honest and trustworthy. He was loath to believe that Gilson had now turned to burglary, breaking into a hardware store, cracking the safe and robbing it of $2,000.

3 - Minute Fiction

The mills, however, had been closed for nearly six months, and Gilson may have been driven to theft through need. He had a family to provide for.

Although Howard Crossley, the pompous one who claimed to have seen Gilson fleeing from the vicinity of the store at midnight, was a newcomer to the town, yet he was respected by all who knew him.

The sergeant knitted his brows. It was a case of mistaken identity he felt sure.

"Maybe," Gilson spoke up, "Maybe he robbed the safe himself."

"What!" Crossley shouted. "How dare you intimate that I would do such a thing?"

"Why did you say that?" the sergeant asked Gilson.

"Well," Gilson replied slowly, "one day last week I saw him examining the back windows of the store. He noticed, too, that I was watching him. That is why he is now accusing me. It was through the back windows you say the burglars got in."

Crossley sprang to his feet. "You lie," he cried hoarsely, "you never saw me near the windows."

THE sergeant told him to be quiet. Crossley apologized.

"Now the man you saw near the store," the sergeant asked Crossley, "you are sure was Gilson? Perhaps you made a mistake."

"I made no mistakes," Crossley replied firmly. "It was he."

"Tell us again just how you came to be there at the time, and saw Gilson coming away."

"As I said before," he began, "I had been at my office all evening. It was nearly midnight when I left. I walked down Main street, intending to go to the restaurant.

"At the corner of Main and Pine streets, where the store is, I turned into Pine. The restaurant where I usually lunch is at the other end. When about in the middle of the block I noticed a man slinking close to the building, occasionally [illegible]ting backwards over his shoulder. When he caught sight of me he jerked his arm up and pulled his hat down over the side of his face, the side closest to me—the right side. I had already recognized him, though. It was Gilson."

"He was slinking close to the building."

"What did you do after that?" the sergeant asked.

Crossley continued, "From the man's actions I suspected that something was wrong and started to hunt for the constable."

"You positively identify Gilson as the person you saw?"

"I do. I saw his face clearly before he pulled his hat down."

All the while Crossley was speaking, Gilson was listening attentively. "You say," he asked finally, "that I pulled my hat down over my face and ran back? How could I see where to run with my face covered?"

"I didn't say you covered your whole face," Crossley snapped. "I said the right side. Your left eye was open and I guess you could see with that."

"What are you laughing at, Gilson?" the sergeant broke in. "Unless you can prove where you were last night, it may go hard with you."

Gilson made no reply but took off his spectacles and wiped them carefully. Suddenly he pulled his left eye out of its socket and handed it to the sergeant.

The eye was glass.

Richard Brothers Take Turns Harassing Their NHL Rivals

(By British United Press)

The Richard brothers, Maurice and Henri, seem to be taking turns harrassing their rivas during the early stages of the National Hockey season.

Maurice raised his regular-season career output to 497 goals with a "hat trick" against the Detroit Red Wings Sunday night and then came through with two goals last night to earn the Montreal Canadiens a 3-3 tie against the Chicago Black Hawks.

The Black Hawks gained a 3-2 lead in the first period with the help of two goals by Eddie Litzenberger, but Henri Richard's second tally of the night at 3-12 of middle stanza gained Montreal the standoff. Although shutout by Chicago goalie Glenn Hall, Maurice Richard assisted on both of his younger brother's goals.

In tonight's only game, the New York Rangers open their home season against the Boston Bruins.

Note: Approximately 15 homes have been built in Ops Township within one mile of Lindsay in the past two years. It would appear that lower taxation and lower land values are the chief reasons for building outside the Corporation.

CONCLUSION:

Available Building Sites	Serviced	Need Trunk Sewer
Ward 1	15	60
Ward 2	10
Ward 3	40
Ward 4	34	200

These sites have varying degrees of desirability depending on the desires, tastes, and fiancial status of the prospective homeowner. Insofar as this survey is concerned, they are all available.

2. Present site of Fair Grounds could accommodate an additional 120 homes.

3. Planning and Zoning By-law will ensure that value of new homes in new areas will not be depreciated by undesirable construction in same neighbourhood.

4. Industrial development has not been hampered by lack of building sites.

Deputy-reeve Holtom in the ensuing discussion was complimented by several of the Council including Councillor Lamb, Reeve Greaves and Mayor Hick.

Councillor Found, however, questioned the availability of the sites mentioned asking "are these lots for sale."

Deputy-reeve Holtom assured him they were.

Speaking of the available sites across the river, Councillor Lamb declared emphatically "When you get a bridge across the river and access to Verulam Road, if a millionaire should build a subdivision there half the North Ward would move out to that location." "The nicest view in town can be had from there," he added.

Councillor Maidens advised that the only way to get any tract of land developed was by a subdivider.

Mrs. F. Webster Made Life Member

Cambray (PNS) — The October meeting of the Cambray W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Jno. Louden with an attendance of 19 members and 4 visitors.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Lorne King with the singing of the Institute Ode, repeating the Lord's Prayer and the Institute Creed in unison. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary Mrs. Harry Montgomery and were approved.

Correspondence consisted of an appreciated card from the Jewell family, announcement of the Area Convention in the Royal Hotel, Toronto and also a letter from Miss Frances Lampman, Home Economist, giving the dates in October for the Training School in the Presbyterian Church basement, Lindsay.

It was resolved to have a social evening in November, directed by the branch directors and they be allowed extra money for expenses. Euchre, a miscellaneous programme and lunch will be a very pleasant evening for everyone. Mrs. Lorne King and Mrs. Harry Montgomery were elected to attend one day of the Area Convention with expenses paid. Mrs. King and Mrs. Bert Daniels offered to attend the Training School.

The 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Jno. Louden, will be in charge of the December meeting at the home of Miss Susie Sinclair. The secretary was asked to send a thank you note to Mrs. Bert Tamlin for her donation to the bake sale.

The president thanked the hostess and programme convenors and welcomed all visitors. Mrs. Ray Daniels expressed thanks to all who helped make the bake sales held during the summer months and especially thanked the ones who attended the sales regularly.

The meeting was then turned over to the program convenor, Mrs. Murray McKinnon. Mrs. H. Montgomery favoured with a readin, "Along The Sideroad" and all sang the Institute Rally Song; followed by a splendid paper on "Agriculture and Canadian Industries" by Mrs. Bert Daniels who stated that when you want assistance in preparing a paper contact Miss June Wilson, County Librarian who is always more than pleased to help in this work.

The special event of the afternoon was the presenting of a "Life Membership Pin" to Mrs. Frank Webster by Mrs. Geo. Bagshaw and Mrs. A. E. Tamblyn read the address. Mrs. Webster was very pleased and stated how much these courtesies mean to older people and, after expressing her thanks, gave some remarks on the beginning of the Cambray W. I.

Mrs. McKinnon gave a reading "Thankfulness" and Mrs. Bert Daniels conducted a contest for which Mrs. Mark Gordon won the prize. Mrs. W. Walker was the winner of the lucky draw.

The meeting closed with "The National Anthem", after which all enjoyed a dainty lunch and cup of tea.

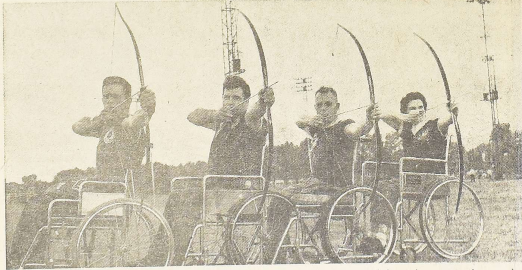
Canada's Wheelchair Athletes

Paralympic Players Prepare



Canada will be represented at the 1958 Paralympic Games by the Wheelchair Wonders and Wonderettes from Montreal. Founder of this annual sports event for crippled athletes is Dr. Ludwig Guttmann, a German neurosurgeon who went to Britain in 1938 and became interested in the plight of paraplegics. In 1944 he launched a sports program to help patients strengthen weak muscles. Athletes from 10 countries will compete in next year's event. Above, Canada's archery team: Pierre Brousseau, Roch Poirier, Jean Rochon and Thérèse Tourangeau.

Popular coach of the Montreal team, Bill Hepburn, instructs Bertha Gilbert in the proper grip for the javelin throw. Canadian team placed 4th in javelin throwing in the 1954 games.

Star contestant Jean Rochon has won gold medals in swimming and archery. Travelling expenses to Paralympics are paid by individuals themselves with assistance if necessary from the Canadian Paraplegic Association.

Although they will never leave their wheelchairs, most paraplegics are able to support themselves, hold jobs in offices and factories. Rochon, trained as an electrician, earns a good living for his family of five.

Miss Clymar Sowery practices for the swimming event. Paraplegics use a swimming stroke invented by Dr. Guttmann: swimmer sits upright in the water, paralyzed legs floating in front, and propels himself backward.

The Canadian basketball team which reached the semi-finals in 1954 is today a formidable force and high hopes are pinned on the team for the 1958 games. Club members (35 men and 15 women) are also trained in ping-pong and floor hockey. Coach Hepburn has successfully taught members to concentrate on their abilities rather than on their disability.

Dr. R.M. Parker Shows Films To Reaboro W. I.

Reaboro (PNS) — The members of the Reaboro W. I. had the privilege of seeing some very beautiful scenic moving pictures of Yellowstone National Park and other colorful pictures of local beauty, which were shown by Dr. R. M. Parker, of Lindsay, at the October meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Mahood with a very good attendance of members and friends.

The President, Mrs. Jack Simnett, was in the chair and welcomed all members and visitors. The Lord's prayer was repeated in unison following the singing of the Opening "Ode". The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Ward Holmes, and were adopted, after which she presented financial report which showed a balance of $220.09. The correspondence was dealt with which contained a letter concerning the Senior Leaders Training School to be held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church under the direction of Miss Mary Coulis. It was decided that the Institute would pay for the dinners of the delegates who attend this course.

Mrs. Simnett then congratulated the members on the splendid success they had achieved at the Lindsay Central Exhibition in obtaining second place in the W. I. Exhibits. It was also learned that the prize money to be received would amount to $19.00 which included the Singer Sewing Machine prize too. Further business discussed was that the final arrangements were made to have a Home Bake Sale in October. Each member was asked to supply enough food to sell for the amount of $2.00. Members were also asked to make home-made candy and there will also be a few articles from the Fair exhibit for sale. Mrs. Kenneth Thorn was appointed to look after the arrangements for the Sale and to choose the committee.

Mrs. Simnett then asked for the estimate on the erection of Playground equipment in the Reaboro Schoolyard. Mrs. Littlejohn reported that approval had been obtained from the School Board. After the committee had visited the teachers of the school and viewed the school yard they discussed what would be most practicable. It was decided to secure an estimate on an 8 ft. sandbox, a junior teeter and three swings of different heights. The estimate on this work and material was $80.00. After a brief discussion it was decided to accept this estimate and Mrs. Littlejohn was instructed to ask Mr. Harper to commence this work as soon as possible.

It was decided to give Mrs. Ward Holmes the usual amount granted to the delegate attending the Central Area convention being held in Nov-

Mrs. Holmes then read the resolutions which will be presented at the Convention.

The flower report was given by Mrs. Harold Fleming who reported two baskets had been sent since the last meeting and a card was also signed by the members to be sent to an absent member. It was also reported with regret that Mrs. Jim Robinson was absent owing to a fall she had had sustaining an injury to her knee. Hopes for her speedy recovery and that of Ronnie Boyce, who has been ill with a sore foot, were expressed by all. The flower collection was taken. Mrs. Kenneth Thorn gave the Red Cross Report.

The Roll Call was answered by "A supper Dish" and some good recipes were given which were appreciated by the members.

Mrs. Elmer Mahood, Convenor of Public Relations and Community Activities, arranged the program and Mrs. Kenneth Thorn was asked to give the current events which proved most interesting.

Mrs. Simnett thanked Mrs. Thorn for these interesting current events.

The President then welcomed Dr. and Mrs. Parker and introduced them to the members. Dr. Parker expressed his pleasure in being able to show his pictures of Yellowstone Park and other scenes to the W. I. and gave a most interesting commentary of the pictures as he showed them.

The pictures revealed a great variety of natural wonders which were found in this area and the speaker explained that the Park has about 3000 geysers and hot springs but just a few hundred are named. Among the beautiful and spectacular places shown and the description given was that of Dragon Moss Spring, Grand Canyon Falls, where the turbulant river rushes over the cliff and drops 308 feet to the brilliantly colored floor of the canyon. Numerous other outstanding places were Tower Falls, Morning glory Pool and also Old Faithful, favorite geyser to many visitors.

Dr. Parker's second film was taken while en route West. Beautiful pictures of Banff were taken showing snow on the mountains. Dr. Parker remarked, "that mountain beauty in Canada is surpassed by none in the world."

The third film showed local scenes taken from Bobcaygeon Fair, Haliburton and the beautiful fall coloring of the leaves. Lindsay Cadet Band made a splendid showing in the movies as well as the various scenes taken at Burnt River, Horseshoe Falls, Partridge Lake and the film concluded with snow scenes which were very lovely giving thought of the future weather which is soon to come.

Mrs. Mahood moved a vote of thanks to the speaker and this was seconded by Mrs. Harry Hickson for this very enjoyable entertainment.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem after which a social half hour was enjoyed when the hostess served a delicious lunch assisted by Mrs. Lewis Soles and Mrs. Harry Hickson. The members were very pleased to welcome Mrs. John DeNure as a new member and who also very kindly acted as pianist for the meeting.

The Rebel Leaves at One

By MARION WALLS

"IT ISN'T that I don't love you, Stan! I want to do something else before I settle down to marriage—I want to learn how to design, I—oh, what's the use! You won't understand it."

Reaching up, Stan broke off a twig from the chinaberry tree. "No, I guess I can't," he admitted. "I guess I belong to the old-fashioned school which thinks marriage means everything to a girl."

The girl touched his arm. "I do love you, Stan; and I want to marry you. But not now, I want to amount to something first, be somebody."

Unexpectedly, she laid a swift kiss upon his cheek. "Run along back to your farm, dear," she advised. "The Rebel leaves at one in the morning and I must finish packing. But I'll be looking for you tonight."

3-Minute Fiction

Anita raced up the steps to her room on the second floor of Mrs. Petrilla's boarding house. It was several hours later that Mrs. Petrilla called: "Miss Davileno! Telephone! And hurry, please."

Fuming, Anita disconnected the iron. She had no time for idle conversations this day. "Hello—Stan?" Her breath quickened.

"Anita, can you help me out for a little while? Katja's boy, Ben, cut himself with an axe and Joe had to take him to the hospital. Mom's still in bed, and that leaves me in a jam—Katja's baby is here to tend to. Jim Haggerty said he could bring you out."

Anita's response was immediate. "Sure, I'll come. Tell Jim I'll be ready in 15 minutes."

Anita was relieved when Jim's truck turned into the Dusak's drive. Stan was sitting on the porch holding the baby.

With a relieved smile, he laid the child in Anita's arms. "He's teething, the little rascal won't let you put him down."

"Run along," she encouraged. "I'll put the baby to sleep."

Going into the house, Anita put the child to bed and went in to see about Stan's mother. She was sleeping, sunshine spraying across the quilt. Drawing the shades, Anita went out noiselessly.

Anita wandered back into the big room. On the wall hung an oil painting; bold splashes of color about a mill and a rushing brook. Puzzled, Anita was still staring when she heard quick steps upon the porch.

IT WAS Katja, worn but with triumph in her eyes. "Ben's going to be all right!" she cried, taking Anita's hand. "I stopped by and told Stan. How's Mom—and the baby?"

"Your mother is still sleeping," replied Anita softly. Her eyes went again to the painting. "Katja, there's something familiar about that scene. Where did you get that picture?"

She was in his arms now.

The older woman's eyes went briefly to the wall. "Oh, that's the old mill down near Stonewall. I painted it one summer. Let's have a bit of tea—I need a pick-up."

In amazement, Anita said: "You painted this! Why, Katja, it's beautiful." Following the other woman into the kitchen, she probed: "Katja, it's a shame you didn't try to develop your talent. You might have created something beautiful for all the world to see!"

Katja was thoughtful. "I'll admit that in the beginning, I did wonder . . . but after Joe and I were married . . . no, Anita, I'm never sorry any more."

Stan came tramping up the steps. "Say, I'm no tea drinker," he called, "but you can pour me a cup now."

Leaning against the cupboard, he said to Anita: "I can run you back to town now that Katja has come."

"There's no hurry," she said, not looking at him.

"But your packing—and the Rebel leaves at one," he reminded her.

She smiled. "Maybe some rebels just start to leave, Stan, and don't ever really go."

She was in his arms now. Katja had left them but it was to Katja she was really speaking when she whispered, her mouth against his, "I'll never be sorry any more."

Our Greatest Killer

Accidents are the greatest killers of young people between the ages of 2 and 28 years. They are almost three times as deadly as tuberculosis in the 15 to 19 age group alone, and nearly six times as deadly as heart disease.

Finding the Pickerel

Look for pickerel along the edges of grassy places at the sides of an eddy or pool at the foot of a rapids. All pike like to feed around vegetation in the winter.

The Runaway Boy

By

SHIRLEY RAY

SOMEONE was coming down the stairs. The still and darkened house seemed to amplify each soft footfall to Rhoda who hoped the sound of her own breathing would not give her away.

Now the steps, still guarded and cautious, were in the hall, and then only a few feet from where she stood. There was the sound of a hand on the doorknob and the door swung open. A small form slid past her. The door closed again and the sudden return of darkness stirred Rhoda into action. She grasped the knob and flung the door open.

"Where are you going, Jimmy?" she asked sharply.

The small boy stared at her from the bottom step. He lowered his eyes and scraped the toe of his shoe in the soft dirt.

"Going away," he mumbled.

"Come sit down, Jimmy," she said. "We may as well have a good-bye talk."

Jimmy sat next to her, his bundle in his lap.

"Now," said Rhoda, "where are you going?"

"Going to hitchhike to the city." His eyes met Rhoda's for the first time. "Pinky Duggan hitchhikes all over," he informed her.

"Pinky Duggan?" she repeated.

"You know Pinky's mother," Jimmy said.

"Oh, yes, I know," Rhoda replied.

"Pinky lives in the city. He goes to the movies every night," Jimmy continued. "In this old town we have only one movie."

RHODA was thinking of saying exactly the same thing to Jimmy's father that Jimmy was now saying to her.

"There's nothing to do in this small town, Jim. We don't even have a choice of two movies."

His voice filled with enthusiasm, Jimmy went on.

"There are tall buildings and big electric signs that go on and off and double-deck buses and everything in the city."

"I tell you, Jim, this pokey town drives me crazy. I'm used to the city. I like the bright lights and the traffic and the noise!"

"Pinky says only jerks live in a town like this," Jimmy declared.

"I can feel the hayseed sticking out all over me. I saw Kay Duggan today—we used to work together in the city—and I realized what a bumpkin I am."

Rhoda sighed. "Yes, Jimmy, the city is nice." She felt helpless. She was this boy's mother. She should know what to say, what to do. But she was at a loss for words.

There was a long silence.

"Mom, Pop doesn't let me do anything."

"Jim, I'm not old. I want to go places, do things, get out of this rut."

Jimmy reached into his pocket and brought forth two shiny cubes.

"I tell you, Jim, this pokey town drives me crazy."

"Look, Mom. Pinky swapped 'em for my Boy Scout knife."

MAYBE it was the sudden chill in the breeze. Maybe it was the sight of the white dice in the small hand. Suddenly Rhoda did not feel helpless any more.

"Jimmy," she said, "I used to live in the city in an apartment, the same kind that Pinky Duggan lives in now. There are lots of families in one big building. You can't run through the house or turn the radio on loud or make any noise. You can't even have a dog, Jimmy."

His eyes were wide.

"No dogs, Jimmy. And you can't play ball in the streets because they're too full of cars."

"And no dog?" the boy repeated.

The two sat in silence. The night was bright but not cold. There was a half moon and a few scattered but bright stars. At last the little boy rose and started up the stairs.

"Still going to the city, Jimmy?"

"I guess not, Mom."

Rhoda sat for a long time. Then she got up and went into the house. Her hand groped in the darkness until it grasped the handle of a suitcase. She was glad that Jimmy hadn't asked her why she was up, fully dressed, at this hour of the night.

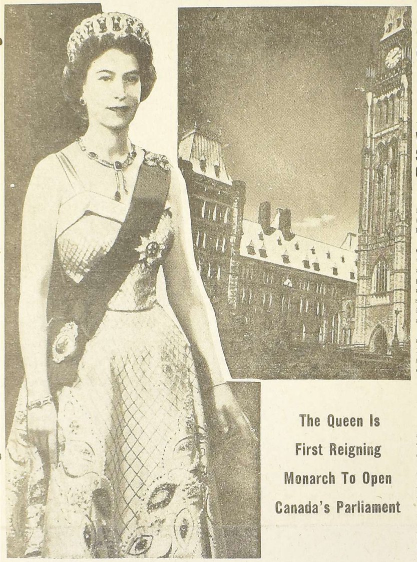
REPORTED MISSING, FOUND DROWNED



The Queen Is First Reigning Monarch To Open Canada's Parliament

Monday, October 14, 1957, was marked as a memorable day in Canada's history as Queen Elizabeth opened Parliament, reading the speech from the throne. It was the first time a reigning monarch of Canada had ever presided at the Parliamentary ceremony. All of Ottawa was in a festive dress for the occasion.

Millbrook Girl, 7, Dies In 50-foot Well Plunge

A seven-year-old Millbrook district girl lost her life in a tragic accident when she fell down a 50-foot well Sunday afternoon.

Barbara Elizabeth Pinck was dead when a would-be rescuer reached her side at the bottom of a well into which she had fallen a few minutes before. The little girl's body was recovered by a man believed to be a member of the family present. He was lowered into the well by means of a rope held by a member of the Millbrook Fire Department which had been summoned by sirens, when the accident happened.

Reportedly, Barbara and her youthful cousin had gone to the well to get a pail of water to wash the car. As she stepped on the board platform covering the well, the boards gave way, letting the child drop into the watery depths below.

The child's parents, her brother and sister, and visitors standing nearby, were horrified and help was summoned by siren.

However, although the child's body was soon pulled from the well, it was lifeless. A bad cut on her head was believed to have caused death when the stone walls were struck as the child hurtled to the bottom of the well.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pinck, who resided at the Zion Line, west of Millbrook, Barbara would have been 7 had she lived until next Sunday, it was learned.

She was buried Tuesday.

Queen Opens Queensway
10,000 Await Arrival

(British United Press)

An hour before Her Majesty appeared for the opening of the "Queensway"—a capital city express highway—a surging crowd of 10-thousand was on hand to wait her arrival and hear a massed band concert.

The wailing bagpipes of the Cameron Highlanders' band alternated with the lively marches of the Governor-General's Foot Guards band.

Army, navy and air force men and women lined the streets along which the Queen passed to open the Highway and Princess Louise Dragoon Guards in shining silver helmets with white plumes and carrying lances stood stiffly at attention.

The Queen drove in a black Lincoln convertible to be met by Ottawa Mayor George Nelms and his wife. Mrs. Nelms presented the Queen with a bouquet or red roses which matched the Queen's holly berry suit.

Son Reports Dad On Missing List, River Yields Body

The body of a 46-year-old Lindsay man was recovered from the Scugog River at 1.20 p.m. Sunday afternoon, within 20 minutes of the start of dragging operations. Life was extinct.

The drowned man was identified as Tom Sanders and his body was found in the vicinity of the junction of Kent Street East and Simcoe Streets by members of the local Fire Department under the direction of the Fire Chief Watson and the Lindsay Police Department. Coroner Dr. M. R. Crowe was called and the man was pronounced dead.

At 11.50 a.m. Sunday Charles Sanders of 2 Simcoe Street reported to police that his father, Thomas Sanders of the same address was missing. Police said, enquiries indicated that Mr. Sanders had not been seen since Friday, October 11th. Reportedly he was seen getting into a boat at the rear of the Northern Casket Company's plant about 8.30 p.m. Friday.

A boat belonging to Mr. Sanders was seen drifting in the river just before noon on Sunday, police further stated.

P.C. John Henley after checking with a number of citizens called Fire Chief A. Watson and dragging operations began at about 1 p.m. Sunday. About 20 minutes later the body of the drowned man was recovered from the river near the vicinity of his home.

Tom Sanders had been in the employ of the Northern Casket Company for some 12 years; he had resided in Lindsay for about 40 years and at present lived with his son, his wife having predeceased him about 10 years ago.

He was a brother of Joe Sanders of 69 Russell Street East, "The Post" further learned in speaking with his relatives.

Prince Warns That Man Must Control Industrial Monster

Prince Philip has warned that "man must remain in charge of the industrial monster which he is building."

He said in a trans-Canada radio broadcast today from Ottawa that the way to do this was to analyze the mistakes of the past and thoughts for the future and by placing family and human relationships above all else.

He explained the origin and background of his "Study conference in human problems of industrial communities within the commonwealth and Empire," which took place last summer at Oxford, England.

Philip said that after viewing industrial development in Canada and other parts of the commonwealth, he found in the United Kingdom plenty of evidence of what happens if industry just grows without careful forethought and plannng — planning of plenty of mistakes and plenty of food for thought.

He added that as a result he thought it might be useful to hold a commonwealth industrial conference.

Orillia Ham Picks Up Beep-beep Of Satellite

Ham radio operators close to home have been successful in picking up radio signals from the "red moon" as it streaks through outer space.

Frank "Piper" Bain, ham operator at Orillia contacted the steady beat of the radio beam sinal over his station VE3GJ on Friday evening at 11:15 and later at 12.45.

Frank repored that the signal was a steady beat which increased in tempo as the satellite approached his station and then graually died away as it passed over, in an interval of about 6 minutes.

He picked up the signal on a frequency of 20,005 megacycles.

Study Satellite

Scientists of most countries in the world are studying the satellite which is circling the earth at 560 miles altitude travelling at a speed of 18,000 miles an hour. Although the artificial satellite was released by Russia it will provide much data to all scientists who study it.

By tracing its orbit track across the sky and measuring its speed and altitude from time to time much information will be collected. Any change in its calculated course, speed or altitude can be checked against anticipated changes and any margin of error studied so that future satellites may be calculated more accurate in their behaviour. Other information regarding the temperature and the nature of the atmosphere between it and the earth may be revealed.

Mother, 4 Sons Burned To Death

Smith Falls, Oct. 15 (BUP) —A mother and her four young sons were burned to death this morning in a fire at Lombardy, Southwest of Smith Falls.

Provincial police said the fire of unknown origin trapped and burned 29-year-old Mrs. Mary Jordan, and her four children, six-year-old Ron, five-year-old Peter, three-year-old John and 18-month-old Patrick.

Jordan escaped from the blazing house with minor burns. His brother-in-law, Joe Hailey, also suffered burns but was not seriously hurt.

The fire broke out in the log cabin farm home of James Jordan at about 4 a.m. EDT. He raced to a neighbors home to phone for the Smith Falls fire department.

Four fire trucks and every available fireman raced from Smith Falls to the farm on the outskirts of Lombardy but by the time they arrived the home was engulfed by flames.

A fireman said that the mother and her four sons "mercifully couldn't have known much what was happening. It appears they were overcome by smoke before the flames reached them."

Few Accidents, Police Credit Driver Care

Three minor weekend accidents with no hospitalization were reported by the local O.P.P. office.

Maidenhead, England, Oct. 15----(BUP)--Former workmates of Charles Blackman turned up in force at St. Peter's Church in Maidenhead, England for his funeral. Twelve family mourners awaited at home.

Then the undertaker made his announcement. The body was gone from the hospital and probably was at that moment in an aircraft high over the Irish Sea and heading for Ireland.

The undertaker said another firm of undertakers had taken the wrong body. The Rev. James Wildman of St. Peter's said it would need a government order to have Blackman's body returned to England.

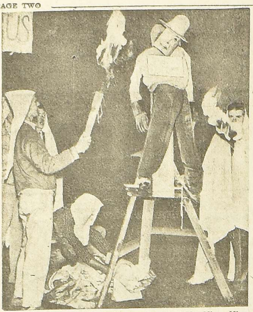
Two sisters of Hamilton, Ont., say they were told a secret on the death of their mother in England which may mean a title for one of them. Mrs. Bernice Knickle right, shown with her sister, Mrs. Violet Screwe, says she is the granddaughter of the late stage and screen star, Lady Laura Margaret Anderson of Guildford, Eng. The sisters say the family secret was kept for years because of Lady Laura's entanglement in a divorce.



Toronto university students staged a Ku Klux Klan parade from Victoria college to the university campus with an effigy of Orval Faubus, governor of Arkansas, who ordered National Guardsmen to prevent entry of Negro students into school at Little Rock. Editorial

WHY NOT VOTE?

Councillor Jos. Hutton has informed fellow Lindsay councillors that he will propose that ratepayers be consulted in the next election on the expenditure of any monies, whether for grants or otherwise, toward expansion of the Ross Memorial Hospital. This is in line with recommendations made by this newspaper since the proposal to debenture part of the needed money was made to Town Council. We can see no reason why there should be any objection to allowing the ratepayers to vote on such a matter . . . in point of fact, it would seem like the only fair thing to do.

It is too much to expect people to take kindly to a point-blank refusal to consult them on expenditures of tax dollars. We say this because of recent trends which indicate that the taxpaying public is being called upon to pay more and more while at the same time they are being consulted less and less about how their money shall be spent. To defeat Mr. Hutton's motion would be tantamount to a refusal to consult the taxpayers on sizeable expenditures.

This is not a mandatory matter and there is no reason that we can think of why this, or any other proposal to expend large sums of taxpayers' money, should not be put to a vote. It would entail no special expense, the same election facilities would take care of the money by-law vote, and everything could be decided in an above-board manner, much to the satisfaction of all concerned.

We invite letters of opinion on this matter and urge ratepayers to make their feelings known to councillors for their guidance.

NO PRIVACY FOR THE MAGISTRATE

When Lindsay's presiding magistrate goes to court he goes there just like an ordinary citizen . . . from the street, directly to the court room. If there is any preparatory work to be done before entering the court room, it must be accomplished in borrowed quarters or before arriving on the scene. And, if he wishes to wear his robes of office, he must either wear them from his home or enrobe in some cubby hole in the Town Hall.

Several months ago Attorney-General Kelso Roberts visited Lindsay on a tour of inspection of court rooms and public legal facilities across Ontario. While in Lindsay he recommended, among other things, that the magistrate be provided with what is known in court circles as a "gowning room". So far, while there appears to be available space in the Town Hall for such accomodation, nothing has been done. As a result, there is talk that magistrate's court may be transferred to the County Court House, a move which could seriously inconvenience many people including the Lindsay Police Dept. which is now within easy reach of the court room, a fact which makes it possible for them to be of maximum service to the court.

However, quite apart from anything else, we wonder if the town is being wise in ignoring the recommendation made by the Attorney-General and would enquire as to the reason, if any, for doing so. Is there anything unreasonable in the request that a suitable chamber be provided so the magistrate may prepare himself for the court over which he is to preside? And, if there isn't, what is to prevent the necessary chore being attended to?

She needs an EXTRA phone in the kitchen!

Plant's Firemen Impress L.F.D.

Fire safety is well emphasized at Visking Ltd., stated Fire Chief Watson in describing "Fire Prevention Week" exercises at that plant, on Wednesday.

Visking has a well-organized fire department under plant Fire Chief Charles Jefferies; they have weekly drills, weekly inspection of the plant for fire hazard; and they would be a very valuable help to the Lindsay Fire Department in event of a plant fire, Chief Watson further disclosed.

On Wednesday the Visking brigade used a plant hose set up and fog nozzles to extinguish fire in Naptha gas; C02 and dry powder was also used to extinguish the same type fires; a smoke bomb was used to fill an outside building and the plant firemen wore their own self-contained breathing masks, numbering four, while demonstrating their value in this instance.

All their exercises impressed the Lindsay Department of the plant's highly efficient fire protection. Chief Watson said.

"We were much impressed with the offer of the four Visking breathing masks if we should need any supplement to the four which the Lindsay Fire Department already have," Chief Watson concluded.

SHORT SHORT STORY

There's a Light Somewhere

By

M. CHRISTOPHER

HAL Miers took his time walking from the house to the stable. There was a light wind ruffling his hair. The air smelled clean, coming up from the river. He could feel the warm sun, feel it burn because during these long months of absence he had grown unaccustomed to it.

He reached the end of the path and felt for the corner fence post. Proudly he grasped it. It was like a door opening to a light. I've come this far, the rest should be easy, he thought.

He sought for the edge of the stable; the wide door pushed open. He figured that the hinges hadn't been oiled since he had oiled them himself months ago.

That was just before he had taken off on that crucial flight and crashed into a mountain. It had taken two lives; and almost his, too. It took his sight but left his memories.

He heard the horse. Michael! The horse remembered him. "Michael!" he whispered tensely.

The horse whinnied. Hal felt the nose touch his outstretched hand.

3-Minute Fiction

"You ol' pal! How you been, huh? How you been?" Hal sniffed appreciatively. He liked the smell of a horse. He should, for he had practically grown up with it.

"I'll never ride you again, Mike, ol' boy," he said softly. "I'd probably break my neck. That's what the doc said. That would be foolish, wouldn't it? I'd be a dead duck and not able to touch, smell or hear you." The horse whinnied again and Hal choked. He hadn't realized how much that had meant!

AT THE hospital, with the gauze on his eyes, he had thought of the wonderful days when he used to ride Michael across the meadow and leap the fence. Hal's father had purchased Michael as a colt for racing. Right from the first Michael had won. But a horse gets older. He must quit. Hal had made Michael quit, but he hadn't quit keeping him and loving him. And riding him, too—until now.

He fumbled out of the stable and with groping steps started walking back to the house.

"Hal, wait a minute." It was his father. "I was wondering when it would hit you like this, son. I know how I'd feel."

"That's all right, Dad," Hal said. "Guess I'm just a kid at heart."

His father chuckled. "It'll pass. Everything does."

Hal fell asleep late and in the morning sat disconsolately in the living room.

"It's nice outside, son," his father said, quietly. "Why don't you get some sun. You need it on that skin."

Outside he could not feel any wind, but he could smell the stable. He could hear the twitter of sparrows, the faint sound of the river. And he found his way back to the stable and old Michael.

He could not feel any wind but he could smell the stable.

"You're coming with me, ol' boy!" Hal said.

He groped for the saddle. Could saddle you blindfolded, he used to say. Now to prove it.

He led the horse outside. The fear began to grip him tighter now. He swung himself upon the horse. "Steady, boy!" he whispered, "Steady!"

"Okay, Mike. Let's go. But easy, at first. Let me get the feel of it. Just around the meadow, boy."

The horse started off. Hal felt the graceful move of his body and coordinated his own movements with it. Gradually, Hal made him go faster, each time clinging tighter to the reins in his hands. The wind whipped against his face, and a couple of times he felt himself sway off to one side as Michael plunged to make a turn, his hooves thumping against the hard ground. But he always righted himself and stayed on. Hal laughed against the wind, laughed loudly, in the sheer joy of riding once again, at the same time prodding Michael to a faster and faster pace.

Presently, a voice shouted through the whistling darkness at him. "Son! For Heaven's sakes, what're you doing? Stop . . . !"

Hal laughed the louder. "I'm riding, Dad!" he shouted back. "Riding! Can't you see?"

Ancient People Ate Garlic

During the Egyptian captivity the Hebrews became so fond of garlic that the Book of Numbers reports they longed for this variety of onion in the wilderness when they had to subsist only on manna.

Uses of Aspen Lumber

Lumber from aspen trees is now more widely used than before the war because of the large demand for lumber. Aspen is a soft wood, easily worked, with a fine uniform texture.

Aurora First Winners Of Brown Soccer Trophy

"This has been a wonderful tournament and it has put Lindsay on the map as regards soccer". So said Mr. Carl Brown as he presented the winning Aurora team with the trophy late Monday afternoon.

Following the kicking-off ceremony by Mr. Lou Walker the spectators were treated to some very fine football by competing teams.

Speaking with officials of the club after the final match, "The Post" learned that the tournament had been very successful indeed, and all present had expressed an earnest desire to be here next year.

Everyone present agreed that the best team won, although it must be taken into acount that the beaten finalist played the second half with only nine men.

Final — Aurora 5, Hollandia 1.

There will be a full schedule of recreational activities including a banquet, bowling, community singing and informal discussion.

Several hundred delegates are expected so people of the United Churches in Lindsay are urgently requested to inform the Young People if they are able to accommodate one or more delegates during the time of the convention. Information has been given from the pulpits regarding the kind of accommodation necessary. Any one able to help is urged to contact the Young People's executive or minister in their church. "Here," said the Church's minister is a fine opportunity to be of service in the task of creating informed and convinced young leadership in our churches and community. Open your home to a delegate. Otherwise some young person may be denied the opportunity of attending the convention."

WEDDING

Beatty-Goodhand

A pretty fall wedding was solemnized in Trinity United Church, Bobcaygeon, on Saturday, September 7, 1957 amid, a beautiful setting of autumn flowers when Betty Louise Goodhand youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ephriam Goodhand became the bride of Harold Andrew Beatty, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Vicars Beatty, R. R. 1, Dunsford.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. R. C. White of Newtonville assisted by Rev. R. C. Hopkins.

The bride, given in marriage by father, looked lovely in a floor-length gown of nylon georgette over taffeta. Her fingertip veil of nylon net, decorated with appliques of lace, was caught to a halo of sequins and rhinestones. She carried a white Bible with a corsage of sweetheart roses and wore a necklace of cultured pearls, gift of the groom. Her attendants were: Miss Marion Devitt, wearing a waltz length aqua chiffon nylon over taffeta and carrying a white Bible with a corsage of pink roses. Her headdress was of matching feather; and Miss Marion Wilson, niece of the bride, who looked winsome in a pink nylon embroidered with lace and carrying a basket of shasta daisies, chrysanthamums and baby's breath.

Master Eric Junkin, nephew of the bride, and Master Barrie Strome acted as ringbearers carrying the rings on white Bibles.

Mr. Lawrence Thurston, cousin of the groom, acted as best man and ushers were Claude Goodhand, brother of the bride and Grant Thurston, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. C. H. Purdy played the wedding music and Mrs. Ronald Mann of Baltimore sang "The Lord's My Shepherd", "The Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love".

The bride's gift to the groom was a Sheaffer pen and pencil set.

To receive the guests the bride's mother chose a gown of rose satin with navy accesories and a corsage of yellow roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who chose navy sheer with pink and navy accessories and corsage of red roses.

Rev. S. Littlewood, of Baysville, proposed the toast to the bride and serving the guests were: Miss Doreen White, Bobcaygeon; Miss Shirley Patterson, Clinton; Miss Lois Tamblin, Miss Muriel Veale, Woodville; Miss Lillian Smith, Mrs. Jean Eaton, Toronto; Mrs. Marjorie Williams, Lindsay and Mrs. Jean McGee, Bobcaygeon.

For the wedding trip to Western Canada, the bride donned a turquoise English wool dress with dust rose accesories and a corsage of pink roses. On their return they took up residence at the groom's farm R. R. 1, Dunsford.

Tallest Man

Hollywood's tallest leading man, the cowboy star of the T.V. show Cheyenne, Clint Walker - - towers two inches over Rock Hudson's six-foot-four. He's now getting $1,000 and 3,500 fan letters a week. He is 230 pounds and he always wears boots instead of shoes. He has trouble with his shirts for his sleeves never button and his collars are too tight.

Take Your Pick

We wonder if we took all the soaps we could find and put them all together how clean our wash would be. There are so many on the market we try one, then another, and every one is supposed to be the best. Well, if you find the one you like, better use it until something better comes along.

The Carpet Bag

Do you remember when your grandmother went shopping with a carpet bag? We noticed a picture one in a magazine and it was made of real carpet, had a strong handle to carry it by and the carpet matter was chic. Our grandmothers made their own and they were perfect for travel.

Fitted Sheets

If you haven't tried fitted sheets we can vouch for them. Especially for the bottom one, because the corners are just right for the mattress and they "stay put" the whole night through. It takes less time when you have the fitted kind for they really stay put which means a smooth sheet.

You Just Think You Eat Like a Bird

Ninety-five percent of fat people are fat for the plain and simple reason that they eat too much. Obviously, then, the specific cure for obesity is to eat less! According to the insurance people your normal weight at the age of 25 is the best weight to maintain through life. The approved and practical way to reduce (and remember you must have your doctor's okay) is to cut down on foods, not to cut out foods. Very easy to do if you count calories.

Plum Nelly

Artist Fannie Mennen uses a combination of Southern drawl and backwoods lingo to name her mountain home in Rising Fawn, Georgia. She calls it "Plum Nelly"—Because it's "plum out of Tennessee and "Nelly" out of Georgia.

Sheer Discipline

A red-haired Swede -- Former model for Christian Dior—has disclosed the secret of her success. Says 23-year-old Gun Frohm—"to be a top high fashion model—you have to be skinny. I am five feet feet seven inches tall and weigh 115 pounds. But— she insists—"I have to discipline myself and exist on vitamines and fruits."

Children's Shoes

When it's time to buy your youngster new shoes, be sure you shop at a shoe store or in a shoe department that carries a wide range of sizes so he can always find a perfect fit. If you possibly can, take the child with you. It is virtually impossible to be sure of correct fit if the youngster doesn't try the shoes on. Allow plenty of time for careful measuring and trying on, and if you're on an all-day shopping trip, try to do your shoe shopping first before your child is tired. There are various devices for checking fit. Measure the length of the foot from the ball of the foot to the heel. If a measuring stick is used, be sure the child stands up on it to apply the proper pressure. To test the roominess of the vamp, lift the leather between thumb and forefinger; there should be enough leather for a small wrinke. And to make sure the heel fits snugly and clears the anklebone, run your finger around the top back heel line. Always have the child try on both left and right shoes.

It's 'Cause You Get Excited

"You're always interrupting, though you know it isn't right;
It's 'cause you get excited,
not because you're impolite.
My father said, "but you must try to stop it right away,
Or you will never, never learn
what others have to say,
And if you don't you'll only know what's in your little head.
Chief Won't-let-others-says-a-word." That's what my father said.
So I no longer interrupt;
I haven't for a week,
And now my father's name for me is Chief-Let-Others-Speak.
He says that I'm a listener now,
and mother says, "Three cheers"
And so I'll try to keep it up about a hundred years.

Stir in biscuit-mix-and-sugar mixture. Beat ½ minute. Fold in chopped appes: turn into pan. Bake 35 to 40 minutes or until done. Serve warm, sliced.

One Girl Monopoly

Jayne Mansfield 'can't seem to see enough of London—and vice versa. The exuberant blonde actress seems to have a one-girl monopoly on the pictorial sections of the London newspapers. One paper after printing a picture of Miss Mansfield from the rear view—insisted that the unorthodox angle was her idea. She was quoted as saying that "male interest is shifting."

May Be Marshal

Royalty may grace still another American football game. A London newspaper says that Princess Margaret may be marshal of the next Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, California. Perhaps influenced by the Queen's enthusiasm over the forthcoming Maryland game—the princess is considering an invitation from the Rose Bowl committee. The Rose Bowl festival is held on January the first.

First Year In School

Also in Royal circles . . . little Prince Charles—off for his first year in school away from home—is reported to be "settling in well." A staff member of the Cheam School reports that the prince "seems to be very popular with the other boys. They call him Charles."

Wool Jersey

This fabric is ideal for warmth in dresses and they are always soft to your skin. You'll find it in many of our woollen dresses and suits, it is ideal for women who like wool but dislike scratchy materials. If you have sensitive skin this material should help you to get it.

The Easier Way

When you're boiling rice, grease the inside of the kettle 3 or 4 inches around the top to prevent water from boiling over on top of the stove. It has to be watched or it wil boil all over the stove.

Household Hint

Try waxing window sills, soil doesn't stick to them. Then all that's necessary to keep them clean is an occasional wiping with a damp cloth.

Bulbs

Now is the time to plant bulbs for spring gardens, so get out and put them in, cover them over with leaves and you'll have a lovely spring treat comes spring. They are so easy to grow and the blooms give you the first flowers of the season. Tulips, daffodils, hyacinths, and many other early spring flowers. One really appreciates the first blooms, so plant them now and enjoy your spring garden.

Still Time

If you haven't all the fruit preserved you may still find some fruit to do if you look hard enough. We're sure there were peaches in one shop and he may also have other fruits for you. You just can't beat home-cooked fruit for the winter meals and every cook likes to have some on hand.

School Signal

Someone took the top off the school sign which is on the road beside Alexandra School. It is meant to caution motorists to watch out for the young fry but somebody didn't see it in the middle of the road and over it went, with the top off. Fortunately it wasn't a child.

How to Roast

Place the roast on a rack in a shallow pan. There is no need to add water, to cover or baste the meat during cooking. The fat covering the meat bastes it as it cooks and since this is a tender, naturally juicy meat, it needs no liquid or water or lid. If you have a meat thermometer, insert it in the centre of the roast. Cook a rump roast in a slow oven of 325 degrees F for half hour per pound for medium or, if it is boned and rolled, allow 35 to 40 minutes per pound. The vegetables can be added to the meat during the last half hour of roasting. The temperature on the meat thermometer would read 140 degrees for rare; 160 for medium, and 170 for well done. Let the roast stand out of the oven for about 15 minutes before carving it.

Household Hint

Oysters that are bought in the shells are fresh only if the shells are tightly closed. The oysters are dead and not fit for use if the shells are partly open.

Sweep Stake

A housewife from San Antonio, Texas, has won $14,000 on a $1 ticket in the Jamaica Sweepstakes. Mrs. Bobbie Schwartz says she and here husband — who is superintendent of a paint company—received a telegram notifying them they were winners of 5,000 British pounds. The Schwartz's have two children—an eight-year-old boy and a 10-months-old girl.

Play on Shortened Course

Golfers in the Ryder Cup matches in Lindrick, England, will play on a shortened course tomorrow —all because of a housewife who doesn't like golf. It appears that Mrs. Janet Sidda—the fly in the ointment—owns the land occupied by the back tee on the fifth hole. Club officials says Mrs. Sidda had permitted the club to use the land for 38 years . . then suddenly demanded $480 annual rent. They refused to pay . . . but were forced to shorten the hole. Mrs. Sidda explains her unsportsman-like attitude this way—"I was walking along the public footpath through the course the other day and some golfers tried to run me off. I just got fed up."

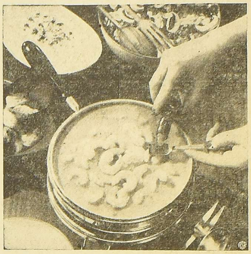
Louisiana Favorites



Louisiana is rich in food products and combined in this dish are three favorites.

The shrimp represents the livelihood of generations of fishermen who have sailed from Louisiana Gulf ports. The shrimp boats and nets are still big business, since this is one of our most popular seafoods. A prominent crop is the rice grown in the Southwestern part of the state. It represents a good portion of all the rice grown in the U. S.

An especially delightful section of Louisiana is Avery Island, near New Iberia, where Tabasco is made. Tabasco peppers have been flourishing on the family owned island since before the Civil War and it has been almost a century since Tabasco was first commercially sold. It is unique because of the flavor of the peppers and that it is not cooked like other sauces. Its processing consists of aging like fine wine.

Louisiana, and Avery Island in particular, has much to offer the palate, as this recipe indicates.

Tabasco Shrimp Iberia

3 tablespoons butter
1 garlic clove, minced
¾ teaspoon Tabasco
1½ cups chili sauce
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons lime juice
2 pounds shrimp, cooked
1 cup heavy cream
3 cups hot cooked rice

Melt butter in chafing dish. Add garlic and cook about 5 minutes. Add Tabasco, chili sauce, salt and lime juice; stir in shrimp. Cook, stirring occasionally, until heated through. Gradually stir in cream; heat to serving temperature. Serve over hot cooked rice. YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

College Staffer Predicts Surplus Teachers In 1967

Ontario County Inspector No. 1 Convention was held at the Public School Auditorium, Port Perry.

The opening exercises were conducted by Rev. D. Armstrong DD, following which, was an address of welcome by Mr. J. J. Gibson, Reeve of Port Perry.

Greetings from the Board of Education were extended by their chairman Mr. Storey Beare.

New teachers to this inspectorate were introduced by the principals and Inspector Knight.

During the next hour demonstrations of teaching various lessons to different grade pupils took place by Mrs. A. Jewell, Cannington, Mrs. Brethour, Sunderland, Mrs. Dobson, Uxbridge and Mrs. Mustard of Sandford. his was followed by a discussion on the methods and value of such a workshop. The guest speaker of the morning was Mr Quick of Toronto Teachers' College.

He disclosed that there are 1200 students in attendance at the college this year, as compared to less than 600 five years ago.

Mr. Quick's theme was a quotation from Tennyson's, "A Poet's Vision".

"For I dipt into the future, far as human eye could see Saw the Vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be."

He predicted that by 1967 there will be a surplus of teachers, that universities will be overcrowded with students who acquire only the highest academic standing.

It will, he said, be an era when high standards will be demanded, when we will be more conrerned about intellectual adjustment and the gifted child will receive more attention.

Technical and Physical Science will hold a higher place on our school curriculum, due to the advance of Science in the modern world.

He predicted that American texts now in use will be replaced by our own Canadian books. Teachers will be given a free hand to discipline children. Mr. Quick drew his address to a close by foretelling that we would have by 1967, well-educated children, contented parents and efficient teachers.

After dinner at the United Church Dr. Roy Fenwick, Director of Music for the province of Ontario, delighted the teachers, in his usual jovial manner, with an address on the Importance of Music in the school program. Dr. Fenwick maintained that music has a great recreational, social, disciplinary and spiritual value. He hoped that each teacher would get each child to read, create and listen to music.

Following his address two beautiful solos were rendered by Mrs. Dulcie Colby.

The president, Mr. Sam Cawker conducted the business meeting. Mr. H. W. Knight made several announcements, followed by the report of the nominating committee. This concluded the convention, which, the teachers considered worthwhile and interesting.

W. A. Rally Held At Ingoldsby

Haliburton (PNS)—The Rally of the W. A. of the United Church of Canada was held in the Ingoldsby United Church and members of the W. A. of Gooderham, Lochin, Ingoldsby, Carnarvan, Maple Lake, Minden and Haliburton were present.

The meeting opened with the theme song and prayer and an address of welcome.

The guest speaker for the day was Rev. Mrs. M. Fisher of Newcastle who spoke on "Wide Horizon" and she told her listeners of the beautiful scenery in Haliburton country they had passed and that truly nature had played a big part in making the trip pleasant.

Mrs. Murray of Woodville delighted the large crowd with a solo, and Mrs. Russell Burke and her daughter Mrs. Keith Hill sang "In The Garden."

Reports from the various Associations were heard and they told how they raised funds during the year.

Carnarvan W. A. rated high for their united efforts, during the year. The group made one thousand dollars, they held suppers, teas, bazaars, they made sixty pairs of pillow cases which were sold, other organizations also made quilts, knitting and held many functions to raise money.

Mrs. Gordon Barr of Gooderham had the honor of being elected president of the rally for 1958 and Mrs. Jack Robertson as secretary.

Mrs. Fisher conducted a buzz programe and this proved to be interesting.

At noon a delightful luncheon was served by the Ingoldsby ladies, in the church basement.

The Ingoldsby Church was built in 1928 and the corner stone was laid by Mr. T. H. Stinson of Lindsay. It has six memorial windows and is situated in a beautiful spot and those who are able to attend this lovely church have words of praise for the friendly atmosphere at Ingoldsby.

Sports Can, Should Be Used To Promote Better Feelings Between Nations, Club Told

Sports could and should be used promote better relations between countries. That is the opinion of a Lindsay-born man who returned last week as special guest for the Lindsay Kinsmen Club's "Employer Night." The man is Wren Blair who was born in Lindsay in 1925.

Blair thrilled upwards of 100 Kinsmen and guests at the dinner meeting as he told of his experiences in hockey, and currently in preparing Canada's entry in the World Hockey Tournament, the Whitby Dunlops, for their supreme test. Wren Blair is the Manager-Coach of the aspiring world champs.

After listening to Mr. Blair last evening one could more readily understand the driving force that won the Allan Cup and the Canadian Championship for the under-dog Whitby Dunlops in their first season in Senior "A" hockey.

Speaking of World Hockey competition, Wren mentioned his own dissappointment that Canada was not represented in the World Competition last year, due, as he stated, to the fact that C.A.H.A. was unable financially to promote a representative team. Mr. Blair said "Wars are fought because we do not know our adversaries well enough. He added that sports could and should be used to promote better relations between countries.

Mr. Blair went on to tell of the popularity of hockey in European countries. Sweden for instance now boasts 1,300 hockey clubs. Russia, he said, promotes hockey because they feel it is the finest spectator sport.

The Manager-Coach said he fully realized that there will be certain elements in offical competition that will be against Canada, and he is trying to prepare Canada's entry for such occurrences. The extreme cold of the open air arenas will also be a formidable obstacle with 10 degrees below zero being the usual rather than the exception. He s[illegible] that as early as last Christmas he started telling his team they would win the Allan Cup, or at least be runners-up. This feeling of confidence appeared to be the key to his success as a hockey coach and manager.

With the winning of the Allan Cup, Dunnies' manager coach went about selling the C.A.H.A. on the Dunlops representing Canada in 1958. He succeeded in securing the financial backing of their sponsor, the Dunlop Rubber Co. to upwards of $40,000.00 to take care of player loss of income and personal expenses and the Canadian Amature Hockey Association will finance travelling expenses, which will likely be recovered by exhibition game receipts while on tour before and after the Championship games.

The Allan Cup winners, plus four additional players to replace those who can not make the trip will sail from New York on the Queen Elizabeth on Jan. 29th. On arrival they will complete in fifteen exhibition games in England and Europe before the Championship games start on Feb. 28th. The Tournament will end on March 9th during which time the Dunlops expect to have one day off. Nine more exhibition ga[illegible] will follow before they return on the Empress of Britain, March 21st. The Dunlops will also play two exhibition games with the U. S. National team at St. Paul, Minn., before departing for Europe. The American officials have arranged to have Vice-President Nixon take part in opening ceremonies and plan to have a Canadian top government representative attend as well.

In closing Mr. Blair stated th the Dunlops were out to be World Champs, but if they lost they would do so gracefully appreciating the fact that Canada's National sport has been so well recognized and honoured in other countries.

John Anderson capably introduced the speaker last night paying tribute to his success in hockey over the last several years. He noted that after winning the Senior "B" Championship two years ago, Blair not only sold the Dunlops on moving up to Senior "A", but sold the League on the idea also.

A quortette from the Lindsay Kinsmen Boys Band entertained the guests with two well executed numbers following the sumptuous dinner served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion.

Community Hall Is Remodelled

At the gathering in the Community Hall recently there have been many complimentary remarks heard about the improved appearance of the premises.

The hall had a good coat of paint, inside and out, unsightly fences have been removed, and all outside doors have had new coat of dark green paint. Inside flush toilets have been installed, also a double sink with water on tap and cupboards for dishes, etc, have been built and covered with arborite. Offices have been built for the Agricultural secretary, clerk and also for the Township clerk. A vestibule has been built on the south side with a door opening to the east and a cement sidewalk built to the street. The Institute added 50 stacking chairs and the Farmers Union 12 good card tables.

All this with the care provided by the capable caretakers, Mr. and Mrs. H. Shortridge, make a pleasant comfortable place for social events.

Staying Clear Of Near Beer

Uxbridge Council has decided that it would be a good idea not to encouage the sale of near beer in local grocery stores. The decision was reached when Police Chief Chatterley reported to members that he had been approached prior to the election last week about bringing near beer into town. His inquirer had stated he had taken a survey of the grocers in town and most of them had seemed in favor. Chief Chatterley said he had doubted this.

"But isn't the Ontario Government against the sale?" asked Dr. Lennox.

"Yes, but there has been othing done about it yet."

"Well, I thing we would be wise to stay clear of it," councillor Lennox said.

"That would be bootlegging out in the open," came a chuckling remark.

"We're dry," said the Chief, "supposed to be anyway. Well— I think we're pretty dry."

The matter was let drop.

QUIRK

Sometimes you wonder whether you can trust your associates, no matter where you are.

Harry Beamon is such a man. Beamon is a convict at San Quentin Prison, California. He was leaving his cell for lunch yesterday and asked a prison guard to lock it . . . the guard refused, so Beamon punched him in the nose.

Beamon said he was afraid someone might steal his belongings unless the cell door was locked. — BUP.

Lloyd A. Flack, Optometrist, was in Toronto Wednesday afternoon and evening attending lectures and demonstrations on "New Diagnostic Techniques and Visual Aids for the Partially Sighted".

Designed for use by those who cannot be helped sufficiently by conventional spectacles, the devices consisted of many types of magnifiers, telescopic spectacles, and the now famous Keeler and Lederer lenses which permit many people suffering from cataracts and other ocular diseases, to read again, reports Mr. Flack.

Techniques for determining the magnification necessary, have been developed, and patients with as low as 2% vision can sometimes read newspaper print by use of these fantastic new devices, Mr. Flack said.

Former Pastors Speak At Services

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — A week of special services to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of Fenelon Falls Baptist Church concluded last Sunday with well attended services conducted by Professor R. Bell and Dean Gordon Brown of Central Baptist Seminary, Toronto. Seminary students took part in the services, giving personal testimonies, and bringing messages in song: solos, duets and trios.

Mr. Bell preached at the morning service, and his experiences as a Missionary in China were enthralling. He spoke regarding the subtle methods employed by Communists which may be threatening and undermining our rather complacent sense of security.

Dean G. Brown preached at the evening service and prior to the sermon he reminisced of boyhood vacations spent at Fenelon Falls.

Anniversary celebrations started on Sunday, September 22nd when Rev. W. W. Fleischer of Whitevale, who was the Pastor in Fenelon Falls from 1935 - 1941, conducted both services. Mr. Sam Carser, baritone soloist from Toronto, thrilled the congregation with several lovely numbers.

Services continued each evening during the following week with Mr. Fleischer giving the message on Monday evening, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Rev. Roy Hisey of Bethel Baptist Church, Fergus, who was in Fenelon Falls from 1941-1947, brought the messages Thursday and Friday evenings the Rev. R. E. J. Brackstone of Emmanuel Baptist Church, Chatham pastor in Fenelon Falls from 1948-1953, conducted the services.

During the week messages in song were contributed by friends from Lindsay, Peterborough, Maple Hill and Second Markham. Miss Patricia Kennedy presided at the organ and Miss Faye Webster at the piano for all services.

Many friendships were happily renewed during the week, which was truly one of blessing and Christian fellowship.

Exercise Tests The Skill Of Lindsay Fire-fighters

200 gallons of oil, poured at intervals on a 20 foot square pit of water and ignited caused many conflagrations on Mary Street, Tuesday evening.

Those who paused to investigate found that a demonstration exercise of Fire Prevention Week was in progress. The Lindsay Fire Department was on hand with a pumper and hose extinguishers.

Two 1½-inch fog lines were used from the pumper and firemen from different industrial plants were allowed to use them.

The fires were re-ignited 10 times, Chief Watson said and were put out quickly in 15 minutes. Hand extinguishers were also used on tubs of fire.

"It was a busy day," the chief remarked, "the firemen having to do much digging at the pit in preparation. I feel the demonstration was especially helpful to those who serve as firemen in industry, he added.

"Fifty people were on hand to see the demonstration," he further revealed.

Bancroft School Closed By Flu; Haliburton Open

Bancroft High School has been hit hard with the flu epidemic and is closed; 30 per cent of the pupils are absent and also four of the teaching staff. The school was closed Monday and will not re-open until October 15th. These facts were learned when "The Post" made enquiry this morning. Continuing, the Principal's Secretary disclosed that the Haliburton High School is still open and the number of cases of the two-week flu epidemic there appears to be on the wane. "On Monday," she said there was serious consideration of closing the school with 75 of the 325 pupils absent. However, Tuesday the absentees were 67; Wednesday 51 and Thursday 42.

The average days absence per pupil is two she further advised except in a few cases where complications resulted.

The epidemic seems to be affecting the teenagers of the High school more than the younger children attending public school, the Haliburton Public school having only been affected lightly.

M. O. H. Dr. Carroll, stated that both the High and public schools of Haliburton are still wide open and he didn't consider that the epidemic of flu was very serious there.

"Big Bill" Moose Resented "Bruce"

The woman who took the pictures of the Downeyville moose before it came to the end of its farm pasture gambol didn't get any credit for her work, a fact which is regretted. That woman is Mrs. Mildred Price, a Lindsay resident who teaches school in the Downeyville district. Mrs. Price got to know the moose very well and declares he was often called by his wrong name by strangers, a fact which may have annoyed him at times. He was christened "Big Bill," she reveals and took offense at being dubbed "Bruce the Moose".

Take Rainchecks

Offered Dinner But Appetites Not Whetted

A pleasant surprise was given members of the Hydro Commission and members of the press present after the adjournment of the Commission's Tuesday evening meeting.

Commissioner Gerge Baldwin very graciously expressed his appreciation of the privilege which he has enjoyed in holding the office of President of the E. O. M. E. A. for the past two years. "I feel in holding the office that I owe much to two of my associates," he said. "These are, Chairman Charles Lamb who first suggested I should be on the executive and who fired me with confidence and Secretary John Lightbody whose help on all occasions has been of inestimable value to me."

"As a mark of appreciation for the wonderful experience that has been thus accorded to me and for the resultant privilege of meeting some very fine people, I wish all here tonight to be my guests downtown at a steak dinner," he added.

This pleasing gesture was much appreciated by all present, but it was felt appetites would not do justice to the occasion at the early hour.

Accordingly, the genial host agreed to rain checks being held on the offer, and the holding of the dinner at a later date when appetites would be sufficiently whetted in advance.

Mrs. Thompson read a letter that had been received in reply to a letter sent to a sister Institute in England and also short sketches of Institute news from the English Institute magazine.

Business consisted of discussion on a Card Party to be held and Aerial Convention in Toronto.

Mrs. Rahm read the Scripture, Mrs. Murray Byers gave the current events. Mrs. S. Darrell read the motto and Mrs. W. Archer replied.

Mrs. Thompson then called on Mrs. Taylor, President of the Solina Institute to take the chair for the splendid program presented by the Solina group. Mrs. Wesley Hills, Mrs. Ernest Hockly and Mrs. Wesley Werry each gave good readings humorous and otherwise. Mrs. Chas. Langmaid gave a piano solo. "A Gold Mine in the Sky". Mrs. Wesley Yellowlees and Mrs. Harvey Yellowlees favored with a pleasing duet.

Mrs. Ray Langmaid, a former District President gave a splendid paper on "Thanksgiving" reviewing the keeping of Thanksgiving day from 1621 when the Pilgrim Fathers celebrated their first harvest until the present. It was made a public "Holy" day by Abe Lincoln in 1864. Canadians hove observed Thanksgiving day since 1763. In 1879 it became a tradition by an act of the Canadian Parliament.

Mrs. Frank Westlake read of the Memorial to Nellie McClung which was recently unveiled in Gray County.

The Solina ladies tendered a vote of thanks to the local society for their hospitality to which Mrs. Stewart Dorrell, group leader replied. Lunch was served and social hour enjoyed.

QUIRK

Things are getting tougher all the time for sportsmen.

Take the case of duck hunter John Pulcipher of Trâverse City, Michigan. Pulcipher shot a big Mallard drake and watched it fall to earth. When Pulcipher walked over to get the bird it was still alive so he killed it, he thought. He then called to his hunting partner to have a look at the bird.

Both men were admiring the bird when it suddenly took flight and headed out toward the bush.—BUP.

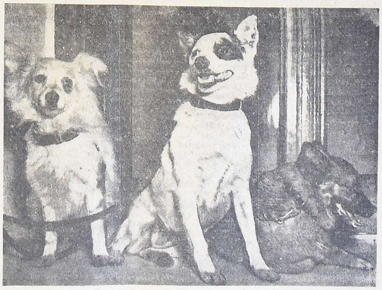
THREE DOGS TRAVELLED 62 MILES—STRAIGHT UP



—Central Press Canadian

These Russian dogs have made a 62-mile flight into space and lived to bark about it. The dogs, Malyshka, Linda and Kozyavka, were in a Soviet rocket and landed back on earth unharmed. Soviet physicists give that as evidence that flights to the moon or even farther are possible for man.

NAME COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE 2 PROPOSITIONS

"We are at the point where something has to be done", stated Manager Newton Wilson in speaking of a proposed new grandstand building for the fair grounds.

In this regard, a special committee was appointed at Wednesday evening's Board meeting, Mr. Wilson informed "The Post."

This committee will investigate the possibilities of a new building on the present site or the purchasing of an entirely new site on the outskirts of Town.

"However," he stated, "we will know definitely within two weeks which plan will be pursued. It is then the committee will bring in their report on this urgent matter, he disclosed.

The Committee comprises: President Hugh Davidson; 1st-Vice President, Augus Jewell; 2nd-Vice Ray Wesbter; Dr. Codlin, John F. D. Graham and Manager Newton Wilson, it was learned.

Commenting further, Mr. Wilson expressed the opinion that the proposed changes in building or site would necessitate a considerable expenditure outlay.

"But," he concluded, "it appears at present that we are inclined to show a profit from this year's fair. "We hope to give something definite of the financial success of the 1957 Exhibition within the next two weeks," he added.

MANY CATTLE DIE, BLAME ALGAE

Sturgeon, Pigeon Lakes Worst Yet, Veterinary States

Many cattle are dead; known poisoned from drinking the algae-infested waters of Sturgeon and Pigeon Lakes. This has happened within the last two weeks, "The Post" was informed by Vet. Surgeons Drs. A. F. Codlin and A. F. MacKinnon of Lindsay and Bobcaygeon respectively.

"I never saw the algae worse than at present," stated Dr. MacKinnon, It is very thick on the shoreline of these waters. I know of 10 cattle which have been poisoned from drinking on the shores of both Pigeon and Sturgeon Lakes in the last two weeks. On Saturday morning a dog died within a few minutes of drinking of Pigeon's waters," he further revealed.

"Those cattle which drank freely were found dead right on the shore, in a matter of 10 to 15 minutes after taking a drink," Dr. MacKinnon continued. "I have issued a warning to keep all cattle away from the shores of these lakes." Owners are becoming scared and wateringtheir cattle at farm wells. In case of a small quantity of this poison being imbibed, a needle can save the animal but there is not 100 per cent assurance," he added.

"There was more or less of algae formation all summer but it did not do any harm until it got so thick in the last two weeks.

It seems to lay around the shore when the water is calm, a good wind moves it down the lakes,'" he remarked further.

The algae seems to concentrate in Sturgeon and Pigeon Lakes but it has been seen in Buckhorn and I have heard there is some in Balsam," he summd up.

"I know of 15 cattle dead in the Sturgeon and Pigeon Lake areas from drinking the algae-poisoned waters. There is nothing to do but keep the cattle away from the lake," stated Dr. Codlin emphatically.

"Cattle are surface drinkers and thus get the full measure of the poison which rides on the surface. A horse drinking deep from the same waters, would not suffer fatal results," he explained.

Dr. Codlin has not studied the technical side of algae formation he said, but expressed the opinion its presence has to do with warm weather and that when there is a little wind it settles around the shoreline.

"Two gallons of the poisonous water will cause death within 20 minutes after cattle have drank their fill," he concluded.

Agricultural Representative LeRoy Brown said he had received calls concerning the most recent algae problem and he recommended that farmers be vigilant, keeping their cattle away from bays and inlets harboring the algae. The watch has to be constant, he declared, because one day the growth would be dense on one side of the lake and the next day the wind will have caused it to drift to the opposite shore. A pipe several feet out into the lake and well below the surface would make access to safe drinking water for livestock possible, he believed.

Lucky Key! Happy Boy!

Finds "Carousel Key" Wins Electric Train

A nine-year-old Lindsay boy got the surprise of his life on Thursday afternoon when he called around at the new Shell service station, Lindsay and Russell Sts.

Nine-year-old John Gaynor had found one of the "carousel keys" and although he was "on foot" he asked the proprietor of the new station if he could try his luck. The proprietor agreed, the key was inserted, it fitted, and John walked happily away with an electric train.

John was just one of many sharing the "key" prizes and others including: Arnold Taylor, Blackstock, elecric coffee percolator; Policeman W. Nimmock, Lindsay, electric razor; John Hancock, Lindsay, electric coffee percolator; William Jacket, Lindsay, radio; Lionel Tracey, Lindsay, heater-fan; Keith Lowe and two other Dept. of Highways employees who didn't leave their names, heater fans; William Barnard, Mid-Canada Construction, steam iron; William Fort, Bell Telephone Co., electric fry-pan; and Ian Johnson, Lindsay, pressure-cooker.

"Green House with the Golden Nails"

King of the Butterflies Entombed In Birthplace

Several days ago a small package was received in the mail from Earl McNeil, R. R. 1, Minden. It was addressed to "The Reporter, Lindsay Post", and accompanied by the following note: "Be careful . . . just lift off (the cover of the box) and tell what it is."

Following instruction precisely, the cover was carefully removed & inside was a leaf with something attached. It was green in colour and studded with exquisite dots of gold, almost like the heads of small gold-plated nails which formed a pattern on the oblong glazed surface of the leaf's attachment.

Checking with the Dept. of Lands and Forests, it was learned that this was the "green house with golden nails" of the pupa of the Monarch butterfly. Another interesting thing was revealed in the course of the enquiry: The Monarch butterfly migrates just the same as many species of birds. Members of the Monarch clan flock together at the end of summer and fly south en masse . . . Tragically they return in spring as stragglers, the ravages of the elements having taken their toll. Incidentally, the Monarch butterfly is one of the few which is fearless of birds and that is because of its diet . . . It feeds on milkweed plants and birds shun it because of its acrid traste.

To get back to the fate of the green house with the golden nails . . . It failed to survive the change of setting and the Monarch-to-be was never born.

Six Students From District Visiting U.N.

Six high school students from the district are bound for New York and the United Nations on Friday.

Two are from Lindsay: Jas. Tangney and David Weldon and they will be accompanied by Mr. Herbert Staples; two will represent Fenelon Falls: Robert Johnstone and Lionel Byrne who will be accompanied by Mr. Wm. Bain. Cannington and Brock District High will be represented by John Williamson and Ray Oliver.

The United Nations visit by high school students from this district is the brainchild of Dr. R. S. MacKay, a former Woodville man and now Canada's permanent representative to the United Nations. He contributes financially to the trip as well.

October 24th is United Nations Day at the L. C. I. and Principal T. H. Eberlee says the students who make the UN pilgrimage will speak to their fellow students at that time, telling of their experiences and impressions.

Warden Enthusiastic On Her Return From Western Conferences

Lindsay never far away, meets up with people from town and district

Warden Ada Greaves has returned from a trip to the West coast and she is most enthusiastic about the opportunity she had of attending two very good conferences. As a delegate from the County Council, she added the Canadian Good Roads Association meeting in Saskatoon, and she was very impressed with the expansion and activity in general in that progressive city.

She was interested in meeting a "native son" of the County of Victoria, Mr. Arnold Myers, who conducts a large contracting business there in addition to operating a very up-to-date retail house furnishings store. Mr Myers, who is retiring from the Air Force with the rank of Group Captain, attended as Aide-de-Camp to the Hon. W. J. Patterson, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Saskatchewan when he addressed the opening session of the conference. Mr. and Mrs. Myers entertained Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Weldon of Lindsay, at their home for the duration of the conference which Mr. Weldon attended as Clerk and Treasurer of the County.

The general chairman of the convention was the Hon. J. T. Douglas, Minister of Highways for Saskatchewan, and many times during discussions it was noted that his Province was the first in the Dominion to complete its section of the trans-Canada highway. An interesting panel under the chairmanship of D. A. Larmour, Chief Engineer, Province of Saskatchewan, had as its theme "Planning and Design" and a paper "A survey of Current Practice for Controlling the Encroachment and Character of Development adjacent to Public Highways" presented Hugh Adcock of the Ontario Department of Highways was of keen interest to the delegates.

The Warden of the County of Victoria was the only woman attending as a delegate and she was kept busy as she describes it "trying to attend the sessions as a delegate, and trying to enjoy the entertainment which had been planned by the ladies' Committee." The latter included a luncheon and fashion show, morning coffee parties, a breakfast at which Mr. and Mrs. K. Beamish and Mr. and Mrs. J. Waterhouse were joint hosts, and a dinner at which the ladies were entertained in a number of private homes by the ladies of the Convention City. The hospitality of the people of the city of Saskatoon will be long remembered by their visitors on this occasion.

Mr. Ted Brien, Reeve of the township of Fenelon, and Mr. George Gamble, Reeve of the township of Verulam were interested delegates from the County who had an opportunity to enjoy some of the activities planned for the men attending the conference. These included barbecue at Dominion Forestry Farm as guests of the Government of Saskatchewan and group duck shooting parties organized by members of the entertainment committee. Miss Greaves was pleased by an invitation to a television interview conducted by Mrs. Sally Merchant of CFQ-TV, and said that it was a "wonderful opportunity to talk about the County of Victoria and its County Town of Lindsay."

The closing session featured an address by the Hon. T. C. Douglas, Premier of Saskatchewan, and at that time the Hon. P. A. Gaglardi, Minister of Highways for British Columbia retired as President of the Associsation, to be succeeded by the Hon. Hugh John Flemming, Premier of the Province of New Brunswick.

From Saskatoon Miss Greaves went on to the Community Planning Association National Conference in Vancouver, as a delegate from the Town of Lindsay. As Council representative of the Lindsay and Ops Township Planning Board, she said it was a privilege to attend the sessions of this conference at which so many matters of current interest here were discussed. The keynote address was given by Mr. George S. Mooney who is well known to many people in Lindsay as the Executive Director of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities. The theme of the conference was "Suburban Sprawl" and while Miss Greaves felt that much of the discussion was not applicable to Lindsay and district, many of those contributing to it presented problems very parralel to those facing any small town in regard to sound planning for future development. The convention was preceeded by a four hour drive which took delegates . . . from across the Dominion . . . to main points of interest in the beautiful city of Vancouver. A much appreciated stop was made at which time tea was served in the scenic sursoundings of the Capilano Golf Club, West Vancouver, and delegates had an opportunity to renew former acquaintances and to compare notes with new friends.

During her stay in Vancouver Miss Greaves was pleased to have a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Newman, formerly of Lorneville, and other friends in the city. The trip was made by train, going west by way of Edmonton the northern route and returning through Banff, Calgary, Regina and Winnipeg. She says that in her opinion it was an ideal time for a first visit to Western Canada as in her words "the amber and yellow tones of the Autumn leaves mingled with the dark green of the fir trees added—if anything could—to the magnificence of the mountain scenery."

Mrs. McNevan Speeks On "Thanksgiving"

Fenelon Falls (PNS) —The October meeting of the W. A. of Fenelon Falls United Church, which featured a rally of groups, was held in the Sunday School auditorium.

Mrs. Wm. Brokenshire presided, and with Mrs. M. W. Robson at the piano the meeting was opened by singing the W. A. theme hymn, after which the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

The roll call was answered by standing in groups, when the group leaders gave a resume of the activities to date and reported the number of visits.

Mrs. Brokenshire gave an interesting and informative account of the W. A. Conference held at Cannington when Rev. Jane Bone was the special speaker. Mrs. R. Webber and Mrs. Carl Wray were named as delegates to attend the W. A. Rally at Zion later this month.

Mrs. Wm. Jones presided for the devotional period. The Scripture lesson from the 17th chapter of St. John's gospel was read by Mrs. B. Robinson who also gave a meditation on the scripture passage entitled, "Commitments for Service."

Mrs. Kenneth Coulter, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Robson favoured with a pleasing and appropriate solo "Thanks Be To God."

The topic on "Thanksgiving" was dealt with by Mrs. Murray McNevan in a capable interesting manner. Thanksgiving festivities are traditioanlly associated with the Puritans and the Pilgrim Fathers, but in reality harvest thanksgiving feasts go back to the time of Moses, as recorded in Leviticans Chapter 23, when the feast of unleavened bread lasted for seven days. Mrs. McNevan told of a happy custom practiced by Alpine shepherd lads, who called 'Praise The Lord' to each other across the valleys of the Alps, but the main issue is not just to give but to live thanks. Mrs. McNevan concluded her message with a fitting prayer.

Items of business regarding donations to Camp Quin-Mo-Lac and the John Knox Chapel fund were discussed and the meeting was closed by repeating the Theme prayer.

Group leaders served refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

Registration Fee To Be Charged In Town Leagues

In accordance with policy agreed on by the Recreation Committee and the Minor Hockey League, a registration fee will be charged this year for all players in the town leagues. This fee, Recreation Director John Thorsen explained, will take the place of an admission charge to the Arena for minor league games.

The fee of $1 will be collected on registration for the minor leagues this week, he said. On payment of the fee, players will receive their minor league registration cards for the season. These will be then turned in to minor league officials for classification.

It is expected, the Recreation Director stated, that minor hockey will be gin with workouts for the ward teams in the last week of this month.

Mrs. Bert Walden Hostess To W.I.

For the October meeting of the West Ops W.I., members were entertained at the home of Mrs. Bert Walden, Elgin Street, Lindsay.

The President, Mrs. M. Tompkins being absent, the chair was taken by the 1st Vice-Pres. Mrs. Robert Hope.

The Ode and prayer opened the meeting. The Secretary, Mrs. L. Walker, read the minutes of last meeting and correspondence was dealt with. The Roll Call "Something Grandmother prepared to eat", got a good response. The Resolutions were read and will be voted on at the Convention. Mrs. V. Murphy reported on the Girls' Work. One of the group reported the returns from a sale of pies and coffee at a farm sale.

Another group are sponsoring a euchre in the Moose Hall in late October.

A quilt donated by Mrs. Sharp is to be quilted at Mrs. Tyner's home.

Mrs. J. Wallace read excerpts from Samuel Farmer's book "On the Shores of the Scugog." This was most interesting. Canon Hesketh showed his pictures taken in Alaska two years ago.

The Queen and Table Grace were sung and refreshments were served by the Committee. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ted Graham.

Dalton Dorrell was M.C. for the occasion. After singing the "Queen" he called the happy couple to the platform and extended congratulations to them.

Mrs. Neil Werry, Mrs. Gibb Marlow and Mrs. Percy Van Camp each favored with humorous readings. Nancy Dorell gave a piano solo. Leonard Saunders sang two numbers with Mrs. L. Thompson at the piano. Rev. Romeril spoke for a few minutes. Allen and Clifford Dayes favoured several musical numbers.

Cats Over There Like Cats Anywhere, Louis Does Declare

Trumpet player Louis Armstrong says he is ready to swing out in Russia with his kind of music.

"It'll just be another night", said the jive king, "them cats over there is just like cats anywhere . . . I'll blow and make 'em happy".

Armstrong says his proposed assignment as musical emissary to Russia depends on whether arrangements can be worked out.

Silverwoods Buy Omemee Creamery

The Omemee Creamery business has been sold. The new owner is Silverwoods Ltd. of Lindsay. Manager Alex McKessock informed "The Post" the change of ownership was consumated on October 7th.

This old established business has been in the hands of Mr. Harry Burgess for 31 years, it was learned.

It was first established as a Creamery by Leonard Southworth who operated it for 17 years. Before that the building was operated as a cheese factory dating from pioneer times; Mr. Burgess stated.

We have purchased the goodwill of the business and will operate the one milk route in the village, Mr. McKessock disclosed.

YOUR GARDEN NEXT SPRING. This is the sort of picture you can have in your own garden next spring. All you have to do is buy some Dutch bulbs NOW and plant them preferably near a flowering shrub. Tulip bulbs are prepackaged flowers, and all they ask is that you buy them and plant them at the right depth — 6 inches deep and 6 inches apart — the bulbs will do all the rest by themselves. They will attract even young ladies to complete your picture.

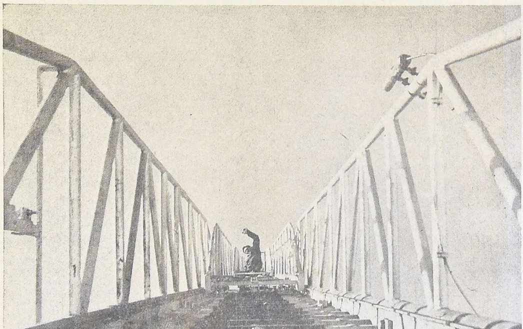
Canadian Fire Fighting Equipment

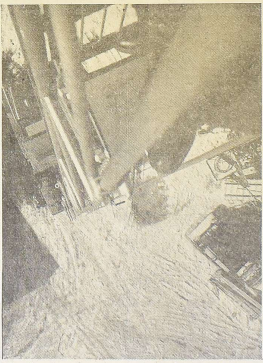
Conquers Ancient Enemy

"Fire" is a dreaded word in every language of the world, for fire is as dangerous as it is useful and while man has succeeded in taming it to his purpose, fire has been a reluctant servant, periodically breaking out on a rampage of its own. When the alarm sounds, the local fire department is the first line of defence.

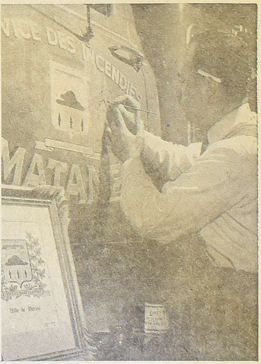


Not for the squeamish is the job of the modern firefighter. He must have the skill of a trapeze artist and the daring of a mountain climber. In order to qualify as a graduate fireman, he must complete an arduous round of training in the science of modern-day fire fighting methods, salvage work and the all-important rescue operations.

National Film Board of Canada Photos by Gar Lunney.



Equally as important as training in fire-fighting techniques is the equipment at the fireman's command. Above, engineer at one of Canada's largest fire engine manufacturers tests aerial ladder before delivery.



Pride of countless Canadian cities and towns is the shiny red fire engine. In many places it is the custom to paint the city's coat-of-arms on the truck. Artist Joe Lajeunesse works on crest for town of Matane.

A wide range of fire-fighting apparatus has been developed since the turn of the century. When London burned in 1666 firemen had only primitive equipment. The first flexible hose was invented in Holland in 1750.

Fire engines have been built in Canada for over half a century. This plant at Pierreville, Quebec, supplies Canadian cities from coast to coast. Last year it built 6 fire trucks for the South American market.

Guns, Ammo Are Stolen, Arrest Two

Running out of gas for their car resulted in the arrest of two Toronto men wanted in connection with a hardware store robbery at Lindsay. It also resulted in the recovery of the goods reported stolen from the store.

When the staff of Crest Hardware opened for business Tuesday morning they discovered a quantity of ammunition was missing. A check revealed that more than ammunition was missing . . . several hundred dollars worth of guns were gone too! Closer investigation pinned the number of missing firearms down to five . . . three high-powered rifles and two shotguns.

Thanks to the alertness of police who checked a car which had run out of gas, the missing guns have been retrieved and two men face charges as a result of the affair.

The pair were picked up by North York police Tuesday and later returned to Lindsay by Constables Bowes and Keating. Chief Hunter says that while charges have been laid. The two drew remands when arranged today.

A visit to the store on Tuesday afternoon following information from Chief Hunter to the effect that the loot had been recovered and arrests made, revealed that entry had been made in a very careful manner. A cellar window at the rear of the store had been removed, the window bolt drawn, entry made, and the intruders departed with the loot after taking time to replace the window.

The care with which the window had been removed and replaced baffled both police and store employees for a time because they were at a loss to know how access had been gained.

Store Manager Phil Ranson went to Toronto to identify the recovered goods on Tuesday afternoon.

Sees Natural Gas Here Like Shot Of Adrenalin

"The entering of natural gas, like a shot of adrenalin, will soon be giving a zip to the community as a whole," predicted Mr. G. E. C. Walters, resident manager of Consumer's Gas Co., in speaking of a bright look for Lindsay's future. "Wherever natural gas has gone the acceptance has been more than expected," he added.

"Lindsay is away ahead now in many instances and one is in the convenience of paying parking tickets at the "yellow boxes," continued Mr. Walters.

"Even Toronto has not the convenience of the "Traf-O-Teria" boxes and much inconvenience and time is lost in taking parking tickets downtown," he added.

The Consumer's Gas Store, 132 Kent Street West, is undergoing renovation prior to its opening in less than two weeks. Displays of gas appliances and the names of dealers carrying same will be a feature of the store.

Reveal New Deal For The Vets

(British United Press)

....Hot on the heels of yesterday's increased old age pensions, comes news of further moves to revise and renovate existing war pension and allowance regulations and rates.

....The man behind the wheel is Veteran ..Affairs ..Minister ..A. J. Brooks, who today gave notice of seeking ..Government ..Legislation with an entry on the House of Commons order paper.

....Main features of the proposed legislation aim at the final elimination of distinctions remaining in the treatment of dependents of soldiers who served in World War One and Two... Pensions and allowances would also extend to some classes of dependents in Newfoundland who hitherto haven't been eligible.

The proposal seeks to increase the rates of existing veterans allowances and extend the classifications to whom they may be paid.

Regarding pensions revisions it is hoped to make provision for the payment of a pension to the daughter of a widowed pensioner in cases where the domestic establishment is maintained after his death.

22 Victoria Ranch Cattle Perish, Land and Water Weeds Contribute

Twenty-two ranch cattle have died in the past few weeks from three different causes.These causes have been diagnosed as algae poisoning; severe indigestion and weed-poisoning.

Since the death of 15 cattle which drank algae poisoned waters from the shores of both Sturgeon and Pigeon Lakes, cattle have not been allowed to water there and so further deaths have been averted, it is reported.

Poisoning caused by eating bracken resulted in the death of two animals on one of the ranches of "Murco Farms," owned by W. J. Murphy. It was further learned that cattle were removed from the the dangerous area following the loss.

The Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph, is reported to have diagnosed the death of five animals on a ranch south of Omemee as due to the supplementary feeding of grain.

Plan to frustrate cheque artists

A plan is being worked out in Lindsay today to effectively thwart the maneuvers of bogus cheque artists.

In recent weeks Lindsay merchants have been literally robbed of several hundred dollars (over $800 at latest count) by forgers. The forgers would, in some cases, present a cheque, presumably for wages and drawn on a construction firm, make a purchase and take the balance in cash. These cheques appear bona fide in every respect and could easily fool the unsuspecting.

The Lindsay Chamber of Commerce, working in co-operation with Police Chief John Hunter are reported to have prepared a plan of action for putting a damper on the activities of these individuals who live by nefarious means.

Details of the plan were submitted to a group of businessmen today at a meeting attended by the Chief of Police and the manager of the Chamber of Commerce—Ed. May.

AN ANNIVERSARY of great hope...and great despair

Budapest—(BUP)—Today marks the first anniversary of an event of great hope . . . and great despair.

A year ago today, The Hungarian revolution began. For a few brief days in October 1956, the people of Hungary had high hopes of gaining some measure of freedom.

That hope died quickly. Soviet tanks and Soviet guns soon crushed the revolt . . . smashing the "freedom fighters" armed with sticks and stones and hand-made bombs.

But in many spots around the world, today will be remembered. Some 195,000 Hungarians managed to escape the Iron Curtain in the days following the start of the revolt. And October 23rd will live in their hearts.

Sparks Of Wisdom

Giving

The manner of giving shows the character of the giver more than the gift itself. —Lavater.

Editorial OF THE DAY

HOW IT ALL BEGAN

On Saturday we carried an editorial in which reference was made to the expression "hold the line" as applied to telephone conversations. It was suggested that the expression was probably derived from a mental picture people had formed of the conversation being carried over a telephone line and subsequently anyone wishing to suspend conversation momentarily would ask the party at the other end to "hold the line". But truth is still stranger than fiction and the facts regarding this expression have emerged.

We have received a call from a reader who, speaking with apparent knowledge on the subject, points out that the expression "hold the line" was coined to encourage the party at the other end to do just that. It originated, we are informed, as a result of party line systems in which upwards of 20 telephone subscribers would use the same line. If, then, one had reached his party and had to leave the phone for a moment, the request "hold the line" meant just exactly what it said . . . hold the line so that none of the other parties on the line would take over.

And so, we see that things are not always what they seem to be and we learn that knowledge is sometimes acquired in the most unexpected ways.

MENTAL JUGGLING

It is said of Napoleon that he could simultaneously read a letter, listen to another one and dictate answers to both missives to his secretaries.

It appears some students today want to show that they have similar talents. They read the funnies, watch TV and try to do their homework at the same time. The poor progress they usually make at school should take them off their high horse.

THE LANGUAGE BARRIER

An RCAF youth drowned last month while swimming in an Ontario harbor. His cries for help were heard by the hundreds of people around him, but he died just the same. For he was from Quebec and his cries were in French, and they were not understood.

So poignant a tragedy serves to emphasize not only how far we are from breaking through the language barrier, but also how normal is our claim to be considered as a truly bilingual country.

—The Trentonian.

RECKLESS YOUTH

U.S. teen-age motorists are dying in crashed cars and hospital beds at the rate of one every 52 minutes.

Sixty per cent of these accidents occur, an insurance statistician has written, because of the "asinine car handling" of the young people behind the wheels. Drivers under 25, who total about 14 per cent of the driving population, were involved in nearly 26 per cent of the fatal smash-ups last year. Thus their share of the slaughter was double this average.

Removing Old Wall Paper

Old wall paper can be removed as follows: Mix up a quart of flour paste and add it to a pail of piping hot water. Swash this all over the wall and allow it to soak well in Its thickness will prevent its drying too quickly, and you'll have plenty of time to scrape or peel the old paper off.

Better Complexion

A glassful of water into which half a lemon has been squeezed, drunk every morning upon rising, is very helpful. Also form the habit of drinking ten or twelve glasses of water throughout the day. This will carry off poisons that otherwise mar the complexion. Water that is cool, but not ice water, is the best.

Young Fry

Don't forget candied apples for your special birthday party for junior. They are good for them and the candy coating gives just the right sweetness. Put some red coloring to give it that rosy, candy coating. Along with sandwiches your party will be complete with ginger ale or other pop. Put lots of candy coating on and they will last for some time. They are tops with children.

Plastic Belts

You can safely clean clear plastic belts with lukewarm water and mild soap, either by brush or by soaking. This will remove only surface stains, though discolorations that go all the way through the plastic are usually helpless.

Renewed Rubber

If the rubber-covered dish drainer or sink tray gets old and sticky, try applying some shellac, varnish, or ordinary paint. Let this dry thoroughly before doing the job, and after, and it will eliminate the stickiness and prolong the life of the tray.

Window Shades

Some persons prefer oilcloth or plastic window shades to cretonne, as it keeps out the sun better. All that is necessary is to cut the oilcloth the required width and tack it to the rollers. Stitch a hem at the bottom to hold the stick, or make some scallops if preferred, though the stick holds the shade better.

Spot of Tea

The Empire State Building gave the Queen a little touch of home when she visited New York on October 21st. The royal party was served a spot of tea—plus scones . . Crumpets . . . muffins and the like —when it reached the building.

Dangerous Mood

Golda Meir—Israel's Foreign Minister—has termed "ridiculous" Saudi Arabia's proposal that the United Nations outlaw Zionism as a means of easing Mideast pressures. The proposal was included in an anti-western blast by Saudi ambassador Ahmad Shukairy. Mrs. Meir says it is important only because it portrays the "dangerous mood" of the Mideast . . and because it was made from the "rostrum of the United Nations." Mrs. Meir also feels that Saudi Arabia . . . a country which she says has a "professed policy to attack and destroy another country"—meaning Israel—should not be armed.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

As for man, his days are as grass, as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth, for the wind passeth over it and the place thereof shall know it no more. Psalm 100:14, 15.

Man is physically related to the lower animals, sharing their physical limitations, but he also is a son of God with eternity before him. We are God's children and we inherit his eternal character.

Mrs. Cecil Black Hostess To W.I.

Grasshill —(PNS)—The October meeting of the Grasshill W.I. was held at the home of the Secretary, Mrs. Cecil Black, with an attendance of 20 members and four visitors.

The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. P. MacArthur, with the singing of the Institute Ode, repeating Lord's Prayer, and the Institute Creed in unison.

Correspondence consisted of a letter from Miss Frances Lampman, Home Economist, giving dates in October of the Training School in Lindsay. There was an announcement of the Convention the first of November and to be held in the Royal York Hotel. It was decided to have our draw in November at our regular meeting.

Our roll call for November to be a decorated hat.

The highlight of our October meeting was an illustrated talk by Mrs. Wm. Brown on their trip to California, which was enjoyed by all.

A dainty lunch was served by the committee in charge and a social half hour brought the meeting to a close.

Tijuana Battler Scores Surprise Split Decision Over Kid Gavilan

Los Angeles, Oct. 23—(BUP)—Gaspar Ortega staged a surprising fast finish last night to score a split decision over bolo-punching Kid Gavilan in a 12-round welterweight world title elimination bout in Los Angeles.

The split decision stunned many of the estimated 6,000 fans who turned out in the chilly night air at Wrigley Field for the bout.

The two fighters staged a bruising battle if not a spectacular one. There wer no knockdowns, but both the former welterweight champion Gavilan and Ortega landed heavy flurries of punches.

The 22-year old Tijuana battler evened the score with Gavilan with tonight's win. Gavilan, from Havana, Cuba, had decisoned Ortega last July n a bout at Miami, Florida.

CLEANER AIR WEEK — OCTOBER 20-26, 1957

WHEREAS, the purpose of CLEANER AIR WEEK is to promote a united education program for cleaner air and to help build a better and stronger Canada, and

WHEREAS, air pollution of all forms including smoke, is a menace to the health, comfort and economy of thousands of our fellow citizens—men, women and children—since air pollution must be considered in much the same light as the pollution of our streams and lakes; and,

WHEREAS, the week beginning October 20th, 1957, has been designated as CLEANER AIR WEEK throughout the nation in order that cizitens may be reminded of the costly damage of destructible smoke, soot, fly-ash, noxious fumes and other air pollutants, and the ways and means of abating this nuisance.

NOW, HEREFORE, I, Albert E. Hick, Mayor of the Town of Lindsay, do proclaim the week of October 20th to October 26th, inclusive, as CLEANER AIR WEEK in Lindsay and do urge all citizens to heed the efforts of the Institute of Power Engineers Association CLEANER AIR WEEK COMMITTEE, and to cooperate fully with these agencies in this educational program for air purification and fuel conservation.

Albert E. Hick,
Mayor of Lindsay.

Wedding

Finnie-Rajski

FINNIE — RAJSKI

Bethany —(PNS)—The wedding of Ingrid Meta Rajski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rajski of Bethany, and Myles Victor Finnie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Finnie of Peterborough, took place Saturday in St. Paul's Anglican Church at Bethany with the Rev. G. E. Meades officiating for the double ring ceremony.

Mr. Robert Sisson was organist and accompanied soloist, Miss Marilyn Scott, of Oakwood, who sang, "The Lord's Prayer" and "Oh Promise Me."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her floor-length Victorian-style gown of white satin and net with lace overlay. A fitted lace jacket with long pointed sleeves and wing collar topped the strapless bodice. Her finger-tip veil of nylon net was caught to a crown of sequins and pearls. She was carrying a cascade of red roses.

Miss Lylia Finnie, the groom's sister was maid of honour, gowned in pink shrimp chiffon, styled with full ballerina skirt and inset of lace in the fitted bodice with draped neckline.

Bridesmaids were Miss Donna Bonsteel and Mrs. Kenneth Butcher of Peterborough, wearing identical gowns of romance blue chiffon, full ballerina skirts with shirred bodice and draped neckline.

The charming little flower girl was Karen Finnie, neice of the groom, who wore pink shrimp chiffon with shirred bodice and short full skirt.

All the attendants wore feathered bandeaux to match their dresses and each carried bouquets of white 'mums.

Mr. Wallace Finnie of Peterboro was groomsman for his brother. Ushers were Darrell Ackford of Kitchener and Kenneth Butcher of Peterborough.

A reception for over 100 guests who came from Toronto, Markham, Kitchener, Blackstock and Peterborough was held at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, where the bride's mother received in a gown of dusty rose lace over taffeta, with matching jacket. Her hat and gloves were also in the same dusty rose shade with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses. The groom's mother wore a sheath of royal blue silk with winter white hat, gloves and corsage of white roses.

Honored guests were Mrs. Fred Schilling, grandmother of the bride and Mrs. Fred Wallace, grandmother of the groom.

When leaving on a motor trip to the New England States the bride was wearing a beige and gold tweed suit, golden velvet hat and gloves with chocolate brown accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Finnie will live at 541 Aylmer Street in Peterborough.

Four lovely bridal showers were held for Miss Ingrid Rajsky of Bethany prior to her marriage to Mr. Myles Finnie of Peterborough on Saturday. Fellow employees of Tilco Ltd., arranged a miscellaneous shower. Hostesses for a kitchen and pantry shower were the groom's mother, Mrs. Stewart Finnie and her daughter, Miss Lylia Finnie. Miss Donna Bonsteel of Peterborough entertained with a crystal shower and a miscellaneous shower was also given by the Bethany community.

On the Saturday previous to the wedding, the bride's mother, Mrs. Joseph Rajski, entertained with a trousseau tea.

MR. DAIRYMAN
At this time of year most dairymen are faced with the problem of pastures drying up and their cows going down on milk production. With the milk quota season approaching the dairymen know that once the cows are down it is almost impossible to pull them back in this lactation. So what is he to do?
MAY WE SUGGEST
If you have your own grain, let us pick it up at your farm, roll, mix concentrate and molasses and rteurn you a PURINA BALANCED RATION. Or for the dairyman who, has no grain yet, we mix a low or high protein DAIRY MIX using all WESTERN GRAINS. Come in and discuss your DAIRY FEEDING problem with us . . . tell us what protein you want and let us see what we can do.
BEEF
Have you tried PURINA RANGE CHECKERS for fattening cattle? One, two or three pounds per day per head depending on the grass . . . this is a half inch checker and can be fed on the ground without waste.
WE CARRY A COMPLETE SUPPLY OF SANITATION PRODUCTS

Daring Confidence Trick

ROLLED WASHERS IN WRAPPERS

Toronto, Oct. 22 —(BUP)—A daring confidence trick on a series of Toronto banks yesterday failed when police arrested two men and charged them with fraud of $525.

Police have charged 35-year-old Harold Currie and 44-year-old Wallace Currie, both of Colling. wood, with passing worthless lead slugs in exchange for hard cash.

Police said the two men, dressed in service operators uniforms worked systematically westward through Toronto's banks, handing clerks packets of metal washers, covered with coin wrappers. Five banks handed out an average of one hundred dollars each.

Police said that the regularity of their system proved the confidence tricksters undoing. Police guessed which bank they would visit next and arrested them on their arrival.

Stick With Site, Consultant Tells Industrial Group

Claims Lindsay Within Range Of Out-of-City Movement

"Stick with the industrial site and if you can extend the services do the job. Just as a housewife cleans up her home when going to sell it—make the site a more marketable product," advised Maurice Fulton of Fantus Factory Locating Service (Plant Locating Consultants of Chicago. Mr. Fulton was addressing a meeting of the Lindsay Industrial Committee, members of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce and representatives of Consumer's Gas Co., held in the Town Hall, on Tuesday.

Mr. Fulton is retained by the Consumer's Gas Co. to assist the industrial development and to aid communities to obtain industry, in their areas which are serviced with natural gas.

"Most of the problems of failure in industrial development come to a town which sits back and does nothing and then their prospect is gone," he continued.

"When industry comes have things in good shape," he further advised. "Industry doesn't want to worry about minor details of who owns posts, etc. If industry sees something up such as a building, something concrete they can see, it will catch their interest. The important thing is to set up a program a little better and of more distinction than the other towns of the same size.'

"Indusry is turning its back on such centres as Toronto where industrial sites are selling as high as 10 to 20 thousand dollars an acre. An area outside these cities means in the radius of 75 miles to industry. Lindsay should be helped by the current roads program now making connection with the larger centres."

"The price of $1,500 an acre, I would say is just right," he answered Deputy-reeve Holtom and Councillor Found who questioned in this regard.

Mr. Fulton expressed the opinion that he would like to see the industrial development with a little more "meat.' If something comes along you will need to have something concrete to offer them," he advised.

Mr. Ed. May, Manager of the Chamber of Commerce, had explained the industrial set up to date and the various minor details, legal technicalities, expropriation, etc., which was holding up the Camden development deal.

Mr. May spoke of Lindsay Investments Ltd., which would loan money to finance an industry if the company outlook looked good.

Mr. Fulton stated that a concrete budget was a must in a successful industrial development. Firms are suffering increasing costs, he said and need increasing working capital.

Mayor Hick remarked that there was no definite yardstick as to what backing the industrial development could obtain but "public subscription was excellent.'

Large firms are asking advice of us of where reserve working capital is, stated Mr. Fulton. He spoke of an American Town of 12,000 population which raised $700,000 to aid industry.

After Mr. Fulton's comments Mayor Hick expressed the opinion that he felt the industrial commission had made quite a step forward, saying "we have had a lot to overcome, we have had to feel our own way on new ground, but I am satisfied now that to proceed with the installation of the services and getting the site in shape is the thing to do.

OBITUARY

Hannah M. Baldwin

Mannah Margaret Baldwin, of 39 Russell St. E., Lindsay, entered into rest on October 12th, at the Lindsay Private Hospital, in her 93rd year, following an illness of two days duration.

The deceased was born in London, England, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Crofton and was a member of St. Paul's Anglican Church. She had lived in this locality for 86 years.

Funeral services were held from Mackey's Funeral Home on October 15th at 2:00 p.m., with Rev. Hesketh officiating.

Pallbearers were nephews of the deceased and interment was made in Riverside Cemetery.

Tendency To Discredit Young Wrong, Church Official Feels Pointing To Conference Work

"We tend to discredit our young people. The outstanding success of these services proves that responsibility can be given at an early age," stated a church official in speaking of the three-day Bay of Quinte Conference, Y.P.U. Convention Services, held in Queen Street United Church and planned by the Young People.

"I was particularly impressed by the Vesper Candlelight Service, as a most thrilling and colourful conclusion for the convention. It had originality and beauty of which I could not conceive," the spokesman added.

The young people were greeted upon arrival on Friday evening at a welcome supper, courtesy of the ladies of Queen Street. A sing-song was featured; words of welcome were extended by Rev. W. J. March and members of the Y.P.U. of the church. A movie "Shield of Faith" was enjoyed and billets were assigned throughout the town and district.

Highlights of the Saturday morning and afternoon programmes included two addresses by Dr Robert Elliott of the United Church Home Missions; nominations for the new executive took place.

A Fellowship Banquet held in the form of a turkey dinner was termed a gala feast on Saturday evening. Mayor Hick extended welcome on behalf of the Town and Dr. Dymond, Minister of Reform Institutions spoke on "Stewardship." The Bible Quiz program was won by the Lindsay Presbytery.

Sunday's programme included early morning meditation; a hymn sung before church and two addresses by Dr. Elliott who used the theme "To Gladly Serve The Lord of Life With All Our Hearts, Souls, Minds and Strength," throughout his conference messages.

Installation of the new executive was a highlight of Sunday afternoon and a Communion Service at 3.30 p.m. was most impressive with all delegates in attendance. Rev. W. J. March and Rev R. B. Harrison officiated.

The impressive Candlelight Service brought the conference to a close. The church was filled to capacity at both services in which the Young People ably assisted.

"Kiwanis Kapers"

Premiere

Little Of Everything For Everybody In Kiwanis Latest Fall Production

"Enchanting" might aptly describe the opening performance of Kiwanis Kapers when the cast of some 75 literally danced and sang their way into the hearts of the large house, Monday.

Those who love beautiful girls, gorgeous costumes, witty comedians snappy music, in fact all that goes to make a musical comedy a brilliant success got just that . . and more.

It was true there was a daring touch just here and there, just enough of spice to give the overall picture the zip it needed.

For two-and-a-half hours the crowd was captured and carried away on the waves of song and dance, returning with regret to the reality of the final curtain.

A double thread of romance run through the presentation, weaving the whole into a hilarious love story, which kept the audience in gales of laughter.

The lead was superbly presented by Joy Nesbitt as Rose Muldoon, a gorgeous blonde in love with Harry Shannon humorously portrayed by Paul Skipworth.

Al Kirk, as Dean Muldoon, gave the presentation of a finished comedian as he with Irish wit planned a loveless match with Lord Percival Simpson (Lawson Blakely) for his daughter.

Gordon Pepper as Patrick Hennessey aided and abetted the Mayor Dean Muldoon but as clerk pulled a fast one in the issuing of a marriage license for the true lovers.

Other brilliant parts were taken by Kay Hawkins as Mrs. Muldoon; Everett Smith as Oswald, her son; by Catherine Endicott as Miss Mildred Masie who finally filled Lord Percival's heart to completion; Harry Johnson, Herb Hardy and John Anderson as negroes of the plantation. Gordon Cook ably handled the part of Interlocutor.

To see the entanglement resulting from the intrigue of trying to make a marriage with titles and money resulted in comedy of which only Irish wit was capable.

However, as is the case with all satisfying stories there was a happy ending, in fact a double happy ending . . . two marriages with principals deeply in love.

And supporting all and supplying a musical background, the "Lovely Girls of the Line", the "Minstrel Men", in chorus and in solo, with costumes, scintillating in colour and style really swept the show to a brilliant first night opening.

"Lovely Girls of the Line" include: Shirley Brown, Shirley Jackett, Judy Broadworth, Carolyn Shier, Susan Roos, Marlene Raby, Bonnie Banks, Carol Johnston, Ann Wainwright, Sue Wilkins, Sue Dickerson, Marilyn Manley, Shirley McDonald, Barbara McDonald, Catherine Endicott, Kay Hawkins, Carol Davidson, Dorothy Dawson, Sharron Reid.

Minstrel men are: Bill Whyte, Joe Staples, Joe Holtom, Ed Swedersky, Alex Kingsborough, Don Scott, Jerry Phelps, John Anderson, Percy Skitch, Don White.

Mr. Dalton Lindsay Guest Speaker At Junior Farmers

In mid-September the Fenelon Falls Junior Farmers held their regular meeting in the Fenelon Falls High School.

After a short business period Joan Webber gave a most interesting report on her week at the Junior Farmer Provincial Leadership Training Camp at Geneva Park.

Mr. Ivan Beli, Associate Agricultural Representative for Victoria County, introduced the speaker for the evening, Mr. Dalton Lindsay, who is District Forester for this area. Mr. Lindsay explained why pasturing and other improper use of the farm woodlot can lead to loss of soil through erosion, loss of moisture through excessive run-off, loss if income and added expense because of stream pollution, etc. To illustrate his talk Mr. Lindsay showed two films on forest management and forest fire fighting.

Lunch ended an interesting and educational evening.

Police said she opened cash accounts with fictitious names, deposited worthless cheques and then made cash withdrawals before the cheques bounced.

Canada Needs More Writers, Author States

Canadian author Bruce Hutchison says that it is very difficult for foreigners and especially Yankees to understand Canadians.

He implies that one thing this country needs is more good writers who can put into words the thoughts and feelings so many of their countrymen cannot express.

Hutchison, in his new book: "Canada . . . Tomorrow's Giant" Canada has no desire to become a mere satellite and milch cow of the American economy

NOT BRAINIER BETTER TRAINED, LIONS ARE TOLD

The Russian educational system has been proven superior to that of Western countries and should constitute a challenge to them. Members of Lindsay's Lion Club were told this by P. J. Rowe of Janetville during an address delivered at their October meeting.

Reviewing the civilization of ancient Babylon, Egypt, Greece and Rome, Mr. Rowe said they had crumbled into dust because they were built on tyranny and injustice and to gratify the vanity and ambition of selfish individuals.

Discussing the launching of the Russian satellite "man made moon" he quoted Dorothy Thompson the columnist as saying that the Russian educational system emphasing hard work and promoting students of superior ability, had made Russian scientific world leadership inevitable. He said the Rusians were definitely not superior or brainier than other people, but their rapid advancement in science proved superiority of their educational system over ours, and constituted a challenge to us.

Dealing with contemporary civilization, he quoted the words of many outstanding leaders of this century, Spengler in the "Decline of the West", the late Right Rev. Richard Roberts, ex-Moderator of the United Church of Canada, Tagore, Hindu poet, and others, who predicted the downfall of our civilization. He then asserted that if we could during the next few years, avoid mutual extermination via Hydrogen Bombs and learn to co-operate with other people, there is no reason why mankind should not survive, but also prevail.

He gave illustrations of the limitless capacity of human beings of all races for sacrifice, pity, compassion and co-operation, and we could do our part here, and now, by adopting certain demonstrably proven principles, two of which were as follows: There is a principle, that is a bar to all progress, proof against all ragument and cannot fail to keep the world in everlasting darkness, and that is the principle of condemnation without investigation, denunciation without examination. The other one was uttered by Sir Francis Bacon three centuries ago when he said to his students at Cambridge University, not to refute and deny, not to accept and believe, but to weigh and consider.

"An indispensable asset is the open mind which strives to rid itself of prepossessions and prejudices learns to evaluate all the elements of truth and logic in everyone of the conflicting philosophies now bidding for the leadership of men's minds, before commencing destructive criticism. It has opinions but is not opinionated. It must learn to unlearn false teachings, and be ever hospitable to new truths as the only way of progress", declared Mr. Rowe.

He quoted three poems of his own composition, TODAY, DREAM THE GREAT DREAM, and NEW WORLD. These will be included in a volume to be published shortly.

Forget the Moon, head for Mars, woman advises

The U-S Defense Department's mail box has been filling with letters from private citizens . . . most of them asking for the moon.

The biggest percentage of them want Defense Secretary Neill McElroy to spare no expense to push satellite and missile programs.

Some letters even contain cash to help pay for the projects.

And . . amateur inventors have sent in crude sketches of ideas for Sputniks and space travel.

One women sent in evidence of heavy thinking. She advised the department to forget about the moon, because of the lack of landing space.

"Concentrate on Mars", she said.

Claims Canadian Officials Use Brain Washing

Toronto, October 22--(BUP)--Canadian officials use brain washing techniques although they may not realize it, acording to a Toronto Psychiatrist.

Dr. John Rich of the Ontario Hospital in Toronto said in Toronto yesterday that prolonged periods of questioning an exhausted suspect sometimes produces confessions which are not true and are later retracted.

He told the Ontario Probation Officers' Association that all men k under stress eventually but some more readily than others.

Queen Wears 27 Costumes During Visit But Philip Wore Same Necktie Twice

New York, Oct. 22—(BUP)—Queen Elizabeth averaged close to three changes of costumes a day in her visit to the United States and Canada. By comparison, husband Philip brought a sparse wardrobe. He even showed up twice in the same necktie.

There were no "repeats" for the queen, who wore 27 costumes in her 10-day visit—most of them designs by her favorite dressmakers, Norman Hartnell and Hardy Amies.

The total included eight full-length gowns, plus the fabulously jewelled coronation gown in white satin which she wore for the opening of parliament October 14.

Commander Richard Colville, the queen's press officer, said getting the royal couple's clothes to the right place at the right time was a breeze. All of it went along by plane from Ottawa, then to Washington. None of it had been shipped ahead, with the exception of what she wore in Williamsburg, Va.

Most of the queen's clothes were packed in ordinary luggage, with the exception of the formal gowns. Each of these was packed in separate trunks, all nearly six feet long—enough length to enfold the "occasion" gowns without any crushing.

Philip, a natty dresser who looks more like Madison Avenue than Bond Street, usually wore dark grey or navy business suits—double-breasted. His one "civilian" hat was a snap brim brown felt. On a few occasions, out came the military uniforms—the black and red uniform of the colonel in chief of the Royal Canadian Regiment, or the one of the admiral of the fleet. Done up with all his decorations and medals, he was a handsome sight to see.

Queen Elizabeth rarely wore furs, probably because the weather for most of the tour was more Indian Summer than brisk October. She did crawl into her new mink coat, a smoked grey mutation, for a football game last Saturday and yesterday in New York brought out a mink stole.

$55 Monthly Old Age Pension Plan Formally Revealed; Other Changes

Ottawa, Oct. 22 — (BUP)—The Diefenbaker Government formally revealed its intention today of raising old age pensions from $46 to $55 per month.

Health Minister J. Waldo Monteith placed upon the House of Commons order paper the formal notice preliminary to the government legislation.

In addition to the across-the-board increase in the basic pension figure, the resolution also revealed two other major changes in the pension plan.

Basic residential period to qualify for the pension would be reduced from 20 to 10 years, and the total amount of allowable outside income would be increased to $120 per year in the case of unmarried persons and $240 per year in the case of a married person.

Monteith also announced the government's intention of increasing pensions to blind and disabled persons to $55 per month, with similar revisions in the amount of allowable outside income—$120 per year for single persons and $240 per year for a married person.

CROSSED FINGERS

Los Angeles Health Department employees are hoping last year's vaccination fiasco will not be repeated. The City starts a rabies innoculation drive today, and one of the workers pet peeves is a cat showing up at the dog-line with an owner in tow. The canine line-up needs only one sniff of a cat to turn it upside down. Just such an incident occurred last year and so, this year the Heatlh Department has issued an order: "Dogs, only. Please, please, no cats." —BUP

Sparks Of Wisdom

Knowledge

Some men think that the gratification of curiosity is the end of knowledge; some the love of fame; some the pleasure of dispute; some the necessity of supporting themselves by their knowledge, but the real use of all knowledge is this, that we should dedicate that reason which was given us by God to the use and advantages of man. —Bacon.

GRANTS DESTROY INITIATIVE

The head of the Ontario Dept. of Municipal Affairs spoke in a manner which does credit to the Ontario Government when he addressed the warden's banquet this week and dealt with the matter of municipal grants.

When the Hon. K. Grant Crawford told the assembly that larger and larger grants to municipalities were not advisable, he was stating something which no municipality can afford to ignore. He gave the reasons for this a moment later when he asserted that if the program of larger and larger grants to municipalities continued, the municipalities will become merely pensioners of the larger governing bodies and "they may continue in form but will be of very little significance."

There is considerable evidence to be found in municipal affairs in Ontario today to indicate that the reins held on municipalities by higher governing bodies paying them substantial grants are being tightened and the municipalities are becoming less and less free to manage their own affairs. This is a natural sequence of events . . . you invest money in something and you try to gain some control over it. But it is readily apparent that strengthening of the control, especially were municipalities are concerned, weakens the power of local government to the point where it is quite conceivable that grants could entirely destroy municipal initiative.

Grants to municipalities are alleged to be vote-catching arrangements and it is unusual for government agents to speak out boldly against such potentially useful devices. It looks like a healthy sign when we see a high government official warning of the pitfalls entailed by independence-robbing grants and if municipalities cannot produce a watertight reason for increasing their demands on governments, it would be well to heed the message.

"TIME AND TIDE WAIT FOR NO MAN"

It is over 100 years since Purdy's Mill was established to lay the cornerstone for what was to become the Town of Lindsay. For many of those years the mill has been non-existent but there was a period, after its usefulness had passed, when a historically-minded populace could have done something to preserve parts of it for posterity. Apparently it wasn't done and so today we must content ourselves with a very attractive, but very modern plaque commemmorating this pioneer venture which marked the beginning of Lindsay . . . There is apparently not so much as a millstone left to show for this once thriving industry.

Whether or not we realize it, there are things in this modern Lindsay (and district) which are at this very moment becoming of historical value and yet, until the formation of the nucleus of an active historical society a few days ago, there was little likelihood of anything being done to preserve such records. We were being just as short-sighted as the people of several decades ago who let these old and irreplacable reminders of our pioneer days fade into oblivion. It is therefore with a sense of gratitude towards those who have spearheaded this historical society movement that we encourage them to press on with the assurance that their efforts will be appreciated by generations to come as they regard the heritage of historical records.

When it comes to recording local history now is the time to act . . . Today is history Tomorrow.

"HOLD THE LINE"

We recall reading an article in "The Saturday Evening Post" earlier in the summer which had to do with the use (or misuse) of the English language. It was an excellent commentary and pointed out many things which could be done to spare the reader unnecessary play on words to arrive at the some destination.

The misapplication or words and related English difficulties is not, however, confined to those who speak or write for a living. It develops quite frequently in every day conversation and is probably due to mental pictures we have formed of things in common usage. Take the telephone, for example. How often have you called someone on the phone only to have them ask you to "hold the line". Of course, it is really impossible for one to "hold the line" in the true sense of the phrase but we know what is meant and we hold onto the telephone receiver until our party comes "on the line". The habit of asking someone to "hold the line" arose as a result of the mental picture people in this communicative age have formed. They have a mental picture of a telephone line carrying their conversation from point to point and so they suggest automatically that the caller "hold the line".

This is just one instance of how we tend to misapply words in the course of our daily routine and it might surprise us all to reflect on some of our daily expressions . . . It could be that we don't mean what we say at all. — "Hang on a minute, will you please?"

PROTECTING PEDESTRIANS

Nimbleness of foot has been the first law of self-preservation for the harried pedestrian. With the rapid increase in the number of motor vehicles in recent years, he has had to muster all his physical resources and ingenuity to survive against the behemoths of the road.

Toronto is now about to experiment with zebra crossings—white-striped pedestrian crosswalks—in an effort to give him a fighting chance to cross the street in safety. However, it is questionable whether any isolated marking of a few crosswalks will in itself add to the pedestrian's safety. In fact, by lulling him into a false sense of security, the reverse may be true.

At present, a civic bylaw requires motorists to yield the right of way to pedestrians on a crosswalk. But the city's legal department concedes that the bylaw, as written, is almost impossible to enforce unless a motorist all but runs down an unwary pedestrian. Similarly, there is some question about the enforceability of a local bylaw which requires pedestrians to yield the right of way to vehicles, except on a crosswalk.

The Ontario Traffic Conference has urged the Government to enact uniform legislation that will clearly define the rights and responsibilities of pedestrians and motorists. Such legislation should require motorists to come to a stop when a pedestrian enters the crosswalk in the path of the car. Certainly, any widespread introduction of marked crosswalks without adequate legislation, enforcement and education, is an invitation to disaster.

IS U.S. BUREAU OF PRINTING PREPARING FOR THE WORST?

Anyone troubling to glance at American newspapers knows that there's been a very real hubbub in the United States in recent months about inflation. The gist of the reports in the U.S. press is that Americans want inflation stopped. They're tired of the steadily shrinking purchasing power of their dollar.

Public worry about inflation in the United States won't be eased by recent action of the U.S. Bureau of Printing and Engraving. The Bureau, which prints Uncle Sam's currency, has just run off a batch of 1957 dollar bills which, for the first time in the history of U.S. paper money, bear the motto which once appeared on U.S. coinage, "In God We Trust". The Bureau has matched the gesture, which reflects scant credit on those who manage the U.S. currency, with an announcement of a speeded up printing process which makes it possible to turn out dollar bills five times as before.

Sounds as if the U.S. Bureau of Printing and Engraving was preparing for the worst on the inflation front.

WOMAN IN THE BANK

There is a little article in the current issue of Canadian Banker about women in Canadian banking. We were browsing through this with some pleasure, nursing the feeling that nothing but improvement could come from any trend to put women into banks or into anything for that matter, when our eye was caught by the most unusual statement.

One of the women in Canadian banking singled out was Miss Mary Pollock, a most pleasant looking young lady who has the title of assistant to the manager of the Sherbrooke and Drummond streets branch of the Bank of Montreal. Miss Pollock started as a temporary stenographer and worked her way up. She had no thought of making banking a career, she says, "I merely found that my job was most interesting if I did more than the minimum required."

We blinked our eyes at this statement. The lady may be a great banker out she's clearly right out of the ark. We're not even sure it isn't un-Canadian to thus speak about doing more than the minimum required. The United Nations or UNESCO probably has a committee working against that very thing and if Miss Mary Pollock isn't careful she'll find herself pilloried by the women's right league. As little as possible and only four days a week is the groove today, Miss Pollock; better get hep.

A TRIUMPHAL VISIT

The North American visit of Her Majesty the Queen and her husband, the Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, has come to a triumphant end. They spent five and a half gruelling days in the United States, preceded by a slightly shorter time in Canada. Everywhere they went, in both countries, they captivated the public. In both Washington and New York millions paid their enthusiastic tribute.

Hints that the President of the United States was thinking of inviting the Queen to make a formal visit to that country were first made known last winter. It was reported that the matter was discussed between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan at the Bermuda Conference, in the spring. An excellent occasion was found in the celebration of the 350th anniversary of English settlement on the American continent at Jamestown, Virginia. The visit was confirmed in the summer.

When it became apparent that serious consideration was being given to the visit, the Canadian Prime Minister, then Mr. Louis St. Laurent, suggested that the Queen come to Canada also. The idea of having Her Majesty open the first session of the new Parliament gave a major significance to her presence here. Despite the unexpected change in the composition of the Government in Canada, as a result of the election, this proposal was carried out. It was as Queen of Canada that Her Majesty visited the United States.

Having seen the Queen's parents in 1939, and the Queen herself, as the Princess Elizabeth in 1951, and having, by the hundreds of thousands, seen motion pictures of the Coronation and other Royal tours, Canadians are no longer filled with an ardent curiosity about Royalty which once mastered their emotions. in our response to Her Majesty. She was "ours" to a degree most of us had not thought possible. The familiar round of visits, formal ceremonies, and the age-old ritual of Parliamentary pageantry, were, this time, less opportunities for people to see the Queen than occasions to pay her a tribute of affection and respect.

It is useless to attempt to analyze the psychological effect which this gracious and beautiful woman and her husband have on people. The critics may have their day, and their few minutes of attention, but the bitterest of them would not abolish the Royal institution. As an instrument of stability, as a symbol of the nation's life, the Royal Person, above party, and the passing concerns of controversy, has more value in this chaotic world than presidents and premiers.

At the end of a round of activities which our Queen and her husband carried out with faultless skill, we look back on the visit with warmth and pleasure. It was a privilege to welcome Her Majesty to Canadian soil once more, and it was with pride we watched her conquer our neighbours. We look forward to her more extended visit again in 1959.

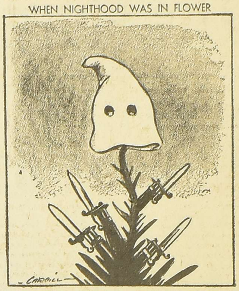
WHEN NIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER



FACTS for FARMERS

Some news of special interest to our farm subscribers

GOOD HARVEST

The Agriculture Department reports that Western Europe will probably have a good harvest this year.

A special U.S.D.A. study says Western European farm productivity has been growing at a record pace in recent years . . and total farm output is now about 25 per cent above pre-war.

Agriculture Department experts say this increase in production efficiency was combined this year with another factor . . good weather. This combination will produce another series of bumper crops . . . and though the report goes no further, the big crops may make it tougher to sell some of our own farm surpluses in Europe next year.

NERVOUS COWS

A New Jersey drug company (the Schering Corporation) claims to have come up with an effective new method of calming nervous cows . . . the balky heifers who show fright and nervousness when they're milked for the first time.

The drug company has a new tranquillizer drug (Trilafon) which it says is effective in calming heifers . . . reducing the time needed to condition them to milking.

SMALLEST ACREAGE

U.S.D.A.'s crop reporting board says alfalfa seed will be harvested this year from the smallest acreage since 1948 . . . down nine percent from last year, but still about one-fifth above normal.

Most of the cut comes in Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, , Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona. Utah and Wyoming. The decline from last year is caused by a combination of grasshopper and aphid damage, and frost last month in the mountain states.

OPPOSED

The Farm Bureau Federation, the nation's biggest private farm organization, announces it's against any federal law which would place controls on poultry production.

A house agriculture subcommittee is scheduled to tour poultry areas this winter to sound out farmer sentiment on this question. The Farm Bureau's board of directors has denounced the control proposals as a move toward government price-fixing.

HIGH HOG PRICES

Hog market prices have been high recently, reaching around 38 dollars in Toronto.

The Canadian Department of Agriculture says that previous highs were 38 dollars and 74 cents in 1954 and 40 dollars in 1951.

Information on the June pig survey indicates not much increase is expected until the spring of 1958, when there will be a sustantial rise in marketing.

Grading of hogs to the end of June 1957, decreased 14 per cent below the similar period of a year ago. The decrease in Western Canada was 16 per cent and in Eastern Canada 12 per cent.

The marketing service estimates of hog marketing during July, August and September were for a decrease of eight per cent below the same three months of last year. There was a Western Canada decrease of 12 per cent and an Eastern Canada drop of six per cent.

Estimates of hog marketing for October, 1957 to March, 1958 are for a two per cent increase in Canada, made up of a four per cent Western increase and practically the same maretings in Eestern Canada as in 1956.

SAY DEMAND TO GRADE BEEF UP

An interesting development is taking place in connection with beef grading.

Says the Federal Agriculture partment, the Winnipeg office reports that the larger plants receive quite a number of big orders from lumber camps, mines, and larger chain stores.

For some time now the orders stipulate that it be steer beef or "C" quality and that the carcasses be stamped Cs by the official grader.

The demand for graded and stamped beef has been growing steadily.

Hospital Shows Surplus On September Operations

A surplus of $500 for the month of September, showed improvement of the R.M.H. administration and was revealed at the Board of Governors' October meeting. This surplus was shown before depreciation in the reading of the financial statement.

Hospital Administrator, N. F. Mutter and his staff were complimented on the adminsitration of the Hospital under trying circumstances.

An extract from the will of the late Jean Prentice was read advising the Board that $2,000 had been left to the endorsement fund of the R.M.S.

Also $100 was left to the building fund from the estate of the late Robert Ingram, it was learned.

Authorization was given for the purchase of a Surgeon's Othopedic table for the operating room. This table will be satisfactory for use in the new hospital, the board was told.

Evening Auxiliary Holds Meeting

Fenelon Falls—(PNS)—The fall Thankoffering meeting of the Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S. of Fenelon Falls United Church was held in the Sunday School room with only a small attendance owing to the prevailing epidemic of flu. Mrs. O. McKendry preached for the worship service, with the Thanksgiving theme. The scripture lesson from the 17th chapter of Luke's Gospel was read by Mrs. Roy Jones and all the hymns were relative to the theme.

The topic was taken by Mrs. M. McNevan who said Thanksgiving is usually associated with the Puritans and the Pilgrim Fathers, but actually it was insituted by Moses (Leviticus 23) and was a sacrificial feasts lasting for seven days. This custom was discarded with other sacrificial laws, but Thanksgiving should be the central theme of life, with spontaneous expressions of thanks for little things a part of daily living. God's gifts flow in all day, from sunrise to sunset and the beauties of nature are ever present changing with the seasons. Many of the psalms stress the theme of Thanksgiving." Mrs. McNevan closed her message with an appropriate poem and prayer.

Mrs. McNevan presided for the business period. Mrs. Wm. Allen gave the treasuer's report for Mrs. A. Bell, this included a detailed account of catering for the Bell-Cawker wedding in September. Mrs Coburn, Mrs. G. Hetherington and Mrs. Wm. Allen were appointed as the nominating committee for 1957-58. Articles for the bale to be packed in October may be left at Mrs. McNevan's before October 25th.

Mrs. F. Brandon reviewed the book "The Full Circle," being a story of Japan this book fits in with the current study, and it is recommended to be read.

The thankoffering was taken by Mrs. Allen and dedicated with prayer by Mrs. McNevan.

Accompanied at the piano by Mrs. M. W Robson Mrs. E. Sims and Mrs. Cliff Vesey favoured with a message in song "Give Thanks To God" which was much appreciated.

A hymn was sung, after which the meeting was closed with the Mizpah Benediction. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge. Mrs. Vesey offered her home for the November meeting.

Omemee

Mrs. Robert Hall (Hertha Skuce) and baby daughter from Fillmore, Sask. are visiting relatives here and attended her sister's wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Mitchell and son; and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Cornwall and Judy visited relatives at Mountain Grove during the holiday.

Bertram Middleton and Roger Northey spent the holiday in the U.S.A.

Misses Jean Deyell, Marion Smockum and Mr. Bill McKenzie motored to Dayton, Ohio, to visit Misses Beverley Deyell and Joan Zufelt who are stationed at Dayton Hospital.

Mrs. Fred Hart W.M.S. Hostess

Mount Horeb—(PNS)—Mrs. Fred Hart opened her home to the Ladies of the Mount Horeb W.M.S. for their regular monthly meeting

The President, Mrs. McAlpine opened the meeting with the call to worship "UNITY FOR THE HONOUR OF THE GOSPEL". The prayer led by Mrs. McAlpine was followed by the scripture read by Mrs. Magahay.

Mrs McAlpine gave a reading from the Monthly and followed by prayer. In the absence of Mrs. Downey, the Secretary, Mrs. Ingram was asked to take the notes of the meeting. The roll call was answered by 11 members. Mrs. McAlpine welcomed the 3 visitors, Mrs. Fritz of Janetville, Mrs. Lionel Hart and son, and Mrs. Bryans and daughter, all of Oshawa.

The business was attended to following the dedication of the offering. A vote of thanks was given the ladies who put much thought and work into the selection of the layette presented to Mrs. Bonsteel at the September meeting.

Still Time

If you don't wait too long you'll be able to view the wonderful scenery up north. The trees were simply lovely the other day and just loaded with the many beautifully colored leaves of Fall. One place we went by was just crowded with people eating at tables and whereever they could find a spot. There must have been about 75 people, which is more than we have ever seen in this park. We're hoping this season will stretch out and give us at least a week or two to absorb the beauty of autumn.

Apples Are Ripe

Cooks are trying out the new apple crop that seems to be better than we thought it might be. There are more to come and apple pies still rate first place with many people. The crop needs much attention and people growing them strive for a good crop every year. The early apples are almost gone but there are others to store away for the winter meals.

Quickie

One of the quickest snacks when you are in a hurry is to make a bacon and egg sandwich that has lots of vitamins and it tastes so good. Crisp the bacon first and then whip up the eggs and fry just the right amount. Scoop it onto two pieces of toast and you have a delicious sandwich you'll agree is worth the effort you put into it and more. It's wonderful and satisfying when you are busy doing your Fall house cleaning.

Baked Apples

If there is a man in your house then he'll be really happy if you give him lots of apple sauce or baked apples. They are a favorite of every husband and they are also good for anyone. All you have to do is peel them, cut out the core, peel the apple almost to the bottim . . . leaving a little bit of peel at bottom. Place them in a pan with sugar and water and bake until done. If the apples are real red you might use some to make a thin red sauce. Apples are good for everyone and we don't know how we'd get along without them.

Waffle Iron

To test the electric waffle iron for the right heat, place a sheet of white paper between the grids. When the paper turns brown, the iron is ready for the first batch of waffles.

Care of Meat

North America's super markets and meat packing industries have joined hands to solve one of Mrs. Homemaker's biggest problems . . How to freeze and handle meats correctly. The result of extensive study by experts in the meat field is a six-page booklet entitled "Freezing and Handling of Meats in the Home." The booklet is divided into six basic areas—how to prepare meat for freezing . . how to wrap meat . . . how to freeze . . . how to store . . how to prepare frozen meat for cooking . . . how to cook frozen meat. An important part of the book is a chart which shows what kinds of meat may or may not be frozen . . and maximum storage times for different meats. For instance — beef should be stored no longer than six to eight months . . . pork or veal three or four months . . smoked hams and bacons 60 days . . chicken or turkey six to 12 months. Bologna, hot dogs and sausage are not recommended for freezing. The booklet will be available today for the first time.

Food for Thought

Chefs were sweating over what to feed Queen Elizabeth the second on her North American visit — they really would be at a loss to feed Queen Elizabeth the First. The British Embassy in Washington already has informed those who will wine and dine the Queen that she likes "simple food and is not fussy." Not so for her illustrious ancestor, Liz the First and her retinue would demand several soups . . . fish, half a dozen game birds and two or three roasts. Then comes the sweets, James McManaway . . . consultant at the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington . . . says the Elizabethans went in for eating anything but simple foods. "They liked dishes"—says McManaway—"like a bird roasted in a bird roasted in a bird roasted in a bird roasted in a bird."

Boating

We noticed there were two nice boats still in the water near the bridge and they may be used for another month if the good weather stays with us. Another Lindsay boat has been pulled to shore south of the town. Boating is becoming more popular and to own a boat is to have a conveyance which will take you any place where water is available and we have it right here in Lindsay.

Cheese Omelet

Here is a treat at any time and it is nourishing and very tasty. Take three egg yokes, season them with salt and pepper, and fold them into three stiffly beaten egg whites. Make three individual omelets by pouring the mixture in three portions onto a hot, well-greased griddle. Cook slowly until firm. Place in a 300-degree oven a few moments to dry the tops. Lay slices of cheese on half of each omelet and return them to the oven just long enough to melt the cheese. Fold, garnish with watercress and serve immediately with jelly. For good eating slip 2-ounce slices of cheese into your omelet, you'll be giving each person more of milk's vital food values than if you served an 8-ounce glass of milk.

Prevent Discoloring

When fruits or salads for dessert are prepared in advance of serving, they can be prevented from discoloring if sprinkled generously with lemon juice. The lemon juice accents the flavor, too.

Wicker Furniture

Painted wicker furniture can be preserved and given a gloss with ordinary furniture polish, wax or oil type. A more permanent gloss can be imparted if you paint it with orange shellac, thinned out with denatured alcohol. Remember this for next year when you want to spruce up the cottage.

Women Like Judo

A would-be purse-snatcher came up to a woman on a dark street in St. Louis, Missouri. Suddenly she knocked him breathless with her elbow . . neatly flipped him flat on his back . . . and went on to another Y.W.C.A. judo class. Says her instructor Robert Kurth— "I'd hate to be the purse snatcher running into one of these women. They get fighting mad—even in class." One of his students was held up before she enrolled in the class. Little wonder she got carried away when an instructor showed her how to defend herself. She pitched him over her back . . . across the room and into a radiator. Kurth claims women like Judo because it requires little strength. They use their fingers . . elbows and heels of their hands as weapons that will floor any attacker .

Irrepressible

Mrs. Belle Culver of Houston, Texas is 84 years old. She has 14 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. But she isn't about to climb into a rocking chair. The yard work has to be done . . the planking on the back porch fixed . . . meals cooked . . . house chores done. "There's just too much to do"—she says breezily Mrs. Culver also plans to add more landscape paintings to the 105 she has done since she was 63. Her son offered to help with the porch planking—but he received a haughty "I can do it quite well myself, thank you." The irrepressible Mrs. Culver says—"Shucks, what would I do with a rocking chair? I haven't time to sit down."

Wild Life

Going along the highway one day we nearly ran over a young fox that scampered across the highway and up the hill to where a house stood. Another time we saw a beaver in a creek. There may have been two but the second one didn't give us much of a chance but we could see the water moving and we presumed he was too shy to show off. All this was just a few miles away from Lindsay and the young fox didn't seem to mind us watching it.

Parents Responsible

Two women psychiatrists claim that parents are responsible for both individual and gang delinquency. They say that in individual cases—one parent or both fostered and condoned delinquency without knowing it. In the gang case—the parents knew what was happening. A doctor and a psychiatrist of the University of Minnesota and Mayo Clinic—claim this is proven fact. Where delinquency exists—they say—both children and parents need psychiatric help The parents of delinquent children unconciously gain satisfaction from the specific anti-social behaviour of children—say the doctors. Always we find impulses toward behaviour similar to that in the child are present in these parents. They cited these two examples (1) The parent who tells the child it is wrong to steal . . . but covers up for the child when he is caught — and (2) the parent who says "you may not play with fire . . . but if you must get it out of your system . . . we can set fire to papers in the sink."

Clothing Reformation

Men are due for a great clothing reformation—at the instigation of their women. This ominous prediction comes from the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear . . . which claims most are sufficiently alarmed about the way their husbands dress to want to do something about it. Apparently wives are to blame if hubby is dowdy instead of dapper, too. The Institute found that 80 to 90 percent of American wives "play a leading role in selecting the clothing of their husbands and sons." Complaints of men's clothing habits range from "congenital color-blindness" . . . to frayed collars and ties askew.

Green-eyed Blonde

A petite, green-eyed blonde co-ed at New York University has more than the usual problems of being a novice at confusing college life.

For intsance—kids stop her in the halls . . . boys she has nver seen before ask her for dates . . . and professors remember her but forget other students.

All this understandable—though —because the coed's name is Carol Heiss. she's world figure skating champion.

Carol admits she likes fame. But on ice—not on the campus.

"It's embarassing being a celebrity in school"—she says —even though I'm a ham on ice."

Carol's schedule is a tough one. She takes four courses . . . gets up at five-thirty to commute to Manhattan from her home in suburban Ozone Park . . spends four hours a day skating before class . . . and helps keep house for her father, sister and brother.

She also finds time for ballet lessons . . . fencing . . . swimming . . . tennis and water skiing in summer—and dating.

Carol plans to defend her title in Paris next year and enter the Olympics in 1960. She also hopes to "study real hard" so N.Y.U. will let her skate in an exhibition in Japan next spring.

The pretty skater—who is the second youngest woman to win the world crown—doesn't know whether she will turn professional.

"But"—she says—I'll never give up skating completely. It's impossible to work this hard for ten years and not keep it up."

White Hair

Exposure to strong heat is said to cause yellowing. Protect your hair from strong sunshine; turn down the heat in the dryer. Changes in health and diet may also cause yellowing. To keep your hair as white as possible, shampoo it weekly and use a rinse especially designed to accent the whiteness.

Are Color Rinses Safe

Yes, if there is no warning on the label that a skin test must be made before each application. Rinses give only slight color, which is washed off in the next shampoo. The tint is enough to blend in a scattering of gray and brighten the general effect.

Does Dyeing Affect Texture of Hair?

Yes. After a time, the hair generally becomes harsher and drier, and permanent waving is more difficult. If you use a home permanent on hair tinted by any method, be sure to make a complete test curl before you proceed with a complete wave. Otherwise your hair may break badly.

Spic and Span

Some high-school girls always stand out because they invariably look clean as a new dime. Do you secretly envy them, wish you were born that way? Stop wishing. Far from being natural and effortless, this fresh-from-the-bath look really takes a lot of thought and hard work, but anyone can achieve it. Start by making a list of grooming chores. Check it every day to be sure you have left nothing undone, and after a month the habit of freshness and beautiful cleanliness will be a regular part of your life. To help you get started, here are three short lists — first, the daily beauty chores, then the once-a-week jobs, and finally the Saturday morning checkup of next week's clothes. You may want to add others, but whatever your list, promise yourself to stick to the chosen tasks willy-nilly for at least thirty days.

Washing Rugs

Ordinary mild soap can be used for washing the rugs. Mix up a pail of lukewarm water with rich mild suds. Soak a cloth in the suds, wring out partially, and scrub a small area of the rug. Dip another rough cloth in a pail of lukewarm clear water, to which a little powdered alum has been added.

Our fight against sickness is a continuous one. Research workers are always seeking better drugs & new treatments. About one-third of the ingredients in last year's prescriptions were unknown the year before.

We must keep well informed. A newly discovered drug can almost overnight change a physician's prescribing habits, so that there is no further need for the replaced drug. Every prescription pharmacy regularly discards these drugs that are no longer used.

Despite all this, the cost-per-illness of medicines grows less each year. You get better so much more quickly.

Mrs. Follwell Speaks On Missionary Work

The October meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. opened with a good attendance and Mrs. Follwell, 1st Vice-President, presiding. Quiet music was enjoyed for a few minutes.

Miss Currins, Secretary, called the Roll and read the correspondence. Other committee reports were gvien by the Secretaries.

The Devotional part of the program, as contained in the leaflet "A Service of Thanksgiving", was followed, and included hymns, Prayer, responsive Scripture reading, and a presentation of some phase of the Church's work, which Thankofferings help to make possible.

Mrs. Follwell gave a splendid presentation of the Church's missionary work. There is a vast difference between missionary work 25 years ago and today. It is a great privilege to have the Study Book compiled for this work. Economic insecurity and other conditions in the foreign field call for great planning and faith, perserverance and tact in msisionary work. All can be thankful that this church is privileged to co-operate with other churches. Miss Leith is counted one of the best teachers in India.

There are 40,000 Formosan Christians in the past 40 years Everyone has great cause for Thankfulness, and for Thankfulness also for the Home Mission work which has moved forward in step with the march of time.

Count your blessings, name them one by one and give grateful thanks to God for all that the Women's Missionary Society has accomplished.

The offering was taken and dedicated by Mrs. McInnes.

Mrs. McQueen will have charge of the program for the November meeting.

The singing of a hymn closed the meeting.

But Madam, you are "Mr. Warden"

There is no such thing as a "Madam Warden" according to Mr. K. Grant Crawford, B.A., Deputy-Minister of Municipal Affairs, Province of Ontario.

Mr. Crawford didn't take issue with members of the fair sex becoming wardens of counties but he declined to address Miss Ada Greaves as "Madam Warden" and used the title "Mr. Warden." He didn't explain his reasons for doing so in his preamble to an address on municipal affairs at a banquet tendered in honour of the Warden Wednesday evening.

Mrs. N. Ryckman Delivers Talk On "Reading Readiness'

The October meeting of the Alexander Home and School Association was held with the President, Mrs. J. E. Magahay, occupying the chair.

The President opened the meeting by reading "A Parent's Code of Ethics" by A. E. Marty.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. W. Dermedy, and the Treasurer's report was given by the Treasurer, Mrs. G. Phelps.

The roll call was taken by the Principal, Mr. E. C. Dettman, and Miss Graham's room was the winner of the cup.

It was moved that a letter of thanks be sent to the ex-members who had so kindly worked in our fair booth.

Mrs. B. Torrance and Mrs. L. Brown gave a report on their trip to the Home and School Association Leadership Camp which was held in the summer at Lake Couchiching. This report was given in skit form, and was most amusing as well as informative.

Mrs. N. Ryckman, the guest speaker, was introduced by Miss Woodcock. Mrs. Ryckman spoke on "Reading Readiness" and stressed the point that "Reading Readiness" begins in the home before the child enters kindergarten. Children differ in their development, both physically and mentaly, and it follows that they will not all be ready to begin reading at the same time.

Under the "Reading Readiness" program, a child is never hurried nor held back. The teacher, by careful study, can tell when is the right time for a book to be placed in the child's hands.

Mrs. E. Ferguson thanked Mrs. Ryckman for her very interesting talk.

The meeting adjourned, and lunch was served by the mothers of Miss Woodcock's and Mrs. Skitch's rooms with Mrs. Jack Quibell and Mrs. Ken Shier in charge.

Mother Learns Son Is Dead In The West

A Lindsay mother has received word of the death of her son in Calgary, Alberta. Mrs. Leslie S. Webster, 257 Kent St. W., was advised on Wednesday of the unexpected passing of her son, Wilbur Laverne. He died at his home following a heart attack.

The late Mr. Webster, who was born at Little Britain and attended Providence school, west of Glandine and the L.C.I., was at the time of his passing, Sales Manager for the General Motors. He had previously served in Lindsay, Oshawa and Regina, in this capacity.

His wife, the former Vivienne Parks was a native of Lindsay and daughter of one time Police Chief Parks.

Will Need Imagination, New Methods In Municipal Govt., Frost Declares

"There will be problems of development and expansion in the next few years and work for the working parliament and three levels of government," stated Premier L. M. Frost in remarks at the Warden's Banquet on Wednesday evening.

Speaking of the municipal life and municipal government the coming days will not be easy, he said. They will contain problems which will need to be met with imagination and new methods. It will be a great challenge, he added.

Millstones Were Stepping Stones In Development Of Community, Historian Tells Lind say Assembly

--Purdy's Mills Commemorated--

Likely one of the first roads to be built in this district was one to bring millstones to Purdy's Mills . . . millstones were really the stepping stones in the development of a community.

Dr. Wilfred Jury ventured this opinion in Lindsay on Wednesday afternoon as he explained the purpose and objective of The Archaelogical and Historic Sites Board of Ontario.

Dr. Jury was addressing a group of historically-minded residents of Lindsay and district who had gathered on the west bank of the Scugog River on this beautiful mid-October afternoon to unveil a historical plaque.

With the last rays of the setting sun breaking through the somewhat overcast skies to warm the valley of McDonnel Park. Mayor A. E. Hick set in motion proceedings which led to the unveiling of a historical plaque commemorating the founding of "Purdy's Mills", predecessor to "Lindsay." He welcomed the guests and endorsed the idea of permanently marking historical sites, after which he introduced Dr. Jury.

Outlining further the aims of the board, Dr Jury said the group was trying to give a history picture so that guests may be guided through Ontario. It was important he declared, that the younger generation see these plaques so they would not lose sight of the brave people who pioneered the country.

Dr. Jury paid tribute to the vast historical knowledge of Premier Leslie M. Frost. He said he never ceased to be amazed at the premier's knowledge of things historical, not only in his own community but throughout Ontario.

Speaking on behalf of Victoria County Council, Warden Ada Greaves paid tribute to the efforts of the Lindsay Board of Parks Management for its efforts to beautify the site which was chosen as the location of the historic plaque.

"As we note the progress in our time towards civic betterment, it is fitting and important that we recall the vision and industry of our early pioneers whose efforts made possible so many of the advantages which we enjoy today," the warden stated.

Continuing Warden Greaves said: "I compliment the Archaeological and Historic Sites Board on the preparation of this plaque to mark the site of Purdy's Mill. I realize that in so doing it has carried out the wishes of the Prime Minister who, despite the pressures of his high office, pauses so frequently to reflect on the past and to pay tribute to our forebears. It is an example I commend to you all."

Others participating in the program included Mr. D. Mcquarrie, Hon. Leslie M. Frost, and Rev. M. W. Holmes. The remarks of Mr. Frost and Mr. McQuarrie are covered in a separate report in this issue of "The Post." Mr. Holmes dedicated the plaque following its official unveiling by Premier Frost.

The historic sites plaque, 50th to be unveild in Ontario this year, carries the following inscription:

PURDY'S MILLS

The saw and grist mills built in 1828-30 by William Purdy and his two sons on the nearby Scugog River, formed the nucleus of the Town of Lindsay which was incorporated in 1857. Purdy was imprisoned in 1837 on a charge of sympathizing with Mackenzie's Rebellion, and in 1841 armed mobs attacked the mills, believing that flooding caused by the excessive height of his dam was responsible for fever epidemics. After his releas Purdy left the district and his mills were sold to Hiram Bigelow in 1844.

Erected by the Ontario Archaeological and Historic Sites Board.

Brownies Qualify In Pretty Ceremony

Fenelon Falls (PNS)—In a pretty symbolic ceremony held in the auditorium of Fenelon Falls Public School, tastefully decorated with autumn leaves, four Brownies, who qualified for their Golden Hand badge before their 11th birthdays "flew up" to join the Brownie Pack. They are: Glenda Murchison, Isabel Ann Webster, Penny Burke and Sharilyn Shosenberg.

Brown Owl, Mrs. H. Hepburn, welcomed the guests who included Division Commissioner Mrs. K. McArthur; Guide Captain, Mrs. B. Dancey, the mothers of Brownies and Guides. Unfortunately, due to the current epidemic of flu, only one part leader was able to be present and none of the Lieutenants.

The Brownies formed the Fairy Ring and the Guides their Horseshoe. Rene Bell and Janice Allen invited Madame Commissioner McArthur to the Fairy Ring and she presented their wings to the four girls. These badges are worn above the left hand pocket of the Guide uniform. Tawny Owl, Mrs. A. Bell, then brought in a miniature aeroplane mounted on a small wagon, which the girls entered to be taken to the Horseshoe and introduced to Guide Captain Dancey, who dispatched them to their assigned patrols.

Six Brownies — Lorraine Millar, Barbara Johnston, Ruth Ann Dalley, Johanna Gubbins, Rowena Robinson and Janie Jones, who have not yet qualified for their Golden Hands and Linda McNevan, who has qualified but not before her eleventh birthday, walked up to the Brownie Pack. They were escorted by Tawny Owl, Mrs. A. Bell and for the ceremony donned magic shoes of blue tissue paper with red bows (the guide colors). The Guide Company sang a song of welcome to the incoming Guides and they were dispatched to their Patrols by Guide Captain Dancey.

Madame Commissioner, Mrs. McArthur, addressed a few appropriate remarks to the Guides, Brownies and mothers, after which the Guide Company and Brownie Packs were dismissed and the colors marched off.

Each of the Brownie "Sixes" presented a sort original skit which depicted some phase of the Brownie tests. Included among the entertaining skits was one on washing dishes, a really efficient production line and one on lending a helping hand.

Mrs. McArthur then showed interesting colored films taken at the World Camp of Guides held at Doe Lake last summer, which pictured guides in their picturesque National costumes, with some 48 different flags.

The local Association with a committee convened by Mrs. D. Clark served suitable refreshments and a social half hour concluded the happy evening.

Larger and Larger Grants Not Good For The Municipality, Official Sees Trend Dangerous

"Continuing larger and larger grants are neither safe nor desirable for provinces or municipalities. At some point the well will go dry" stated Deputy-Minister, Municipal Affairs, K. Grant Crawford in an informative address at the Warden's banquet Wednesday evening.

Continuing the guest speaker expressed the opinion that just as when you keep pumping water out of a well it will go dry so by indefinitely giving grants the municipalities will become merely pensioners; they will continue in form but will be of very little significance.

"Any institution which does not adjust itself to change in the environment in which it operates may continue in form but there will be little content to that form, he added.

Mr. Crawford thus summed up his explanation of the great change in the setting of life in the last 25 to 50 years "The revolution is in economy, family life, social thinking and political philosophy," he said.

"This change appears greater in rural than urban life. While all are naturally reluctant to change, we should be giving some thought to that change. Don't be so preoccupied with day to day details that we do not take time to sit off and see where we are heading" he warned. "In the years ahead we will have changes in the structure of the local government. You in that government, aware of the change, should have positive proposals for the people close to the problem. It was at this point he spoke of the inadvisability of continuing grants.

Congratulating Warden Greaves, Mr. Crawford spoke of her as the third lady warden of the Province. "There have been two previous lady wardens," he said, "but Miss Greaves is the only lady warden who got where she is without the mellowing inspiration of a husband and the inspiration which a husband can give. She is the most singular lady warden which Ontario has ever had," he added with a smile.

"It must be an honour to be Warden of Victoria County, which has been in municipal existence for 94 years. You are one of 94 to head the affairs of the County," he continued, in his words of congratulation.

He further spoke of the satisfaction which results from time and work spent in public service.

"However", continued Mr. Crawford the best indication of the Warden's qualifications comes from the electors. She was sent to County Council, which in turn saw fit to elect her Warden."

Mr. Crawford was introduced by Chairman Mayor Hick as a top authority on Municipal Affairs, recognized as such by his appointment to his high Municipal office "We are privileged in having Deputy-Minister, K. Grant Crawford with us tonight," he stated.

DELIGHTFUL FUNCTION

Warden Expresses Appreciation Of Cooperation Received From Officials During Her Term

"Delightful" was the word which aptly summed up the Wednesday evening function at Gilmar Lodge when Warden Ada Greaves played host to 150 guests at a gathering of the "Municipal Family" of Victoria County.

This occasion, The Warden's Banquet, savoured too, of all the dignity it deserved, for present among the guests were: Hon. L. M. Frost, Premier of Ontario; Mr. K. Grant Crawford B.A., Deputy-Minister Municipal Affairs, Province of Ontario; officials of municipal governing bodies--Victoria County Council, Township Councils, Council of the Town of Lindsay; Court-house officials; Wardens of neighbouring Counties; business associates and friends.

Miss Greaves in an address of welcome, expressed her deep appreciation of the consideration and co-operation with which she had been accorded on everyhand during the past year, as she, third lady Warden of the Province, held office.

"I have been deeply touched by your kindness, and I know that anyone in public life will agree that there are two very worthwhile rewards. This first is the opportunity which it gives to establish friendships which endure and the second is the feeling that perhaps some contribution . . . however small . . . has been made to the community to which we all owe so much," the Warden stated in her pleasing manner.

"I am grateful for the loyalties and friendships which have been offered to me so generously over the years, and if I have warranted even a few of the nice things which have been said about me tonight, I shall be proud indeed," she added.

"As I have said on other occasions, the honour which the people of Lindsay gave me by allowing me to represent them in Council, and my election by fellow County Councillors this year, I interpret as a high tribute to all women of the County of Victoria, she continued.

Miss Greaves further in introducing "a few of the people with whom she had been most closely associated during this year," asked the following to stand: Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Cross, Matron and Manager of the County of Victoria Home for the Afed: Mr. Harold Wilford, County Engineer; Mr. Jasper Forman, the Sherriff; Miss June Wilson, County Librarian Mrs. Catherine Hawkins and Mrs. Norma Bate, Office of the Clerk and Treasurer; Mr. Harold Baty, Secretary Lindsay and Ops Planning Board and Assessor of the Town of Lindsay and David Beck, Page Boy.

The Warden also expressed a thank you to the press and radio and her appreciation for the reception tendered earlier in the evening by the Town of Lindsay; the attendance of the Prime Minister and Mrs. Frost. His Honour Judge McGibbon and Mrs. McGibbon, Mr. Crawford, guest speaker and Mrs. Crawford, and all who had joined with her to make this a very happy evening.

A floral piece in Autumn shades of bronze and gold, a tribute from Mayor A. E. Hick graced the head table. Miss Greaves expressed her appreciation of the Mayor's fine gesture.

"I am pleased that you could share this occasion with my family and me, and the members of the staff at the store . they have all done so much for me to make this year possible . , and they maintain that they have enjoyed the reflected glory," she summed up.

Mrs. Carl Wright W.M.S. Hostess

The Purdys Were Americans Premier Convinced Despite Travel Department Brochure

Premier Leslie M. Frost has taken a stand in opposition to one of his government's departments.

The Premier lined up with Watson Kirkconnell's historical research on Wednesday when the birthplace of William Purdy was thrown open to question by conflicting evidence.

Mr. Dan McQuarrie set the stage for the Premier's stand when he called attention to a folder from the Dept. of Travel and Publicity which claimed William Purdy, head of the family which founded Purdy's Mills (now Lindsay), was born in Brockville. This, he noted, was in direct contrast to what he had always been taught to believe: that the Purdys, William and his two sons, hailed from south of the border.

Previous to unveiling the plaque dedicating the founding of Purdy's Mills in McDonnell Park, Premier Frost said he rather doubted that Purdy senior was born in this country because he had two grown sons when he arrived here in 1828 and related factors didn't seem to allow for this. He took the stand that Purdy had been born in U.S.A. and migrated to Canada with his two sons.

Premier Frost designated the site of the former mill as being close by the former Botting boathouse and ventured that on a clear, calm day, one could probably see some of the old foundations at the bottom of the river.

Referring to the Purdys as "very reputable people," Mr. Frost noted that William Purdy had been very wrongfully accused of being part of the Mackenzie Rebellion was held for some months in Cobourg jail without a trial and was finally found innocent and released. Purdy chose not to return to Lindsay, probably for health reasons, Mr. Frost declared, noting that the mill founder suffered from "ague", a feverish ailment which was not uncommon in Lindsay and Purdy sold his mill for $10,000, a sum which was described as being quite substantial for the times.

It was the premier's wish that municipalities would care for and preserve the historic plaques such as the one which was erected at Lindsay.

District No "Sterile Field" Historically, McQuarrie Says

Lindsay's Dan McQuarrie doesn't hold with Watson Kirkconnell's observation that this district presented a "sterile field" when it comes to things historical. Commenting on this observation contained in Kirkconnell's "History of Victoria County", Mr. McQuarrie remarked that "he couldn't have looked very far." He was speaking as chairman of the newly-formed Victoria County Historical Society at the unveiling ceremony in connection with the Purdy's Mills plaque on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. McQuarrie said there were numerous points of historical interest in the county which should be suitably marked for future generations. He cited three which included the former home of one of America's greatest naturalists--Ernest Seaton Thompson (he is later reported to have changed his name to Ernest Thompson Seaton). The old Thompson homestead is located on Lot 15, Concession 10, Ops Township (east of Highway 7, a short distance below Lindsay) and the naturalist's father--Joseph Seaton Thompson--lived there with his family for many years.

The other three sites to which Mr. McQuarrie called attention were the former home of Lucy "Biddy" Young of Young's Corners association; the former Congregationalist church a short distance above Argyle and the Quaker Church, near Cambray, which was the settlement of the widely known Birchard family.

"These places are just disappearing one by one because no one is taking any interest . . . these old landmarks should be preserved."

Mr. McQuarrie stoutly defended the theory that the Purdy family came from United States and foresaw immense benefits to the Town of Lindsay if the fact was made known in U.S. circles.

Have a Snack?

People who raid the icebox had the right idea all along.

At least that's the opinion of Steven Horvath, Professor of Physiology at the University of Iowa.

He told a medical society in Des Moines that eating three square meals a day is just an inefficient social custom . . . and people would be better off eating eight or nine times. However, he said you should just spread out the usual amount of food . . unless you want your waistline to follow suit. --BUP.

90-year-old Bethany Woman Still Helps With Housework

Bethany (PNS)—On Thanksgiving Sunday, Mrs. Edward Mitchell of R. R. No. 2, Bethany, quietly celebrated her 90th birthday and with the exception of nine years at Newtonville her entire lifetime has been spent in Manvers township within a few miles of her birthplace.

Mrs. Mitchell was born Esther Emma Wilson, eldest daughter in a family of ten children born to pioneer settlers George and Elizabeth (Staples) Wilson on October 13, 1867, the year of Confederation. Three of her sisters are living: Mrs. Richard Matchett (Lily), Mrs. Alan Irvine (Edna) and Mrs. W. D. Armstrong (Blanche). The other members of the family, Mrs. Edward Weatherilt (Gertrude); Mrs. Duncan Heaslip (Mary); Susan Wilson Mrs. J.F. Franks (Annie); Archibald W. Wilson and Thomas Wilson are all deceased.?

As a child Mrs. Mitchell attended the Lifford School and was a member of the Christian Temperance Church, which has long since been torn down. After St. Mary's Anglican Church was built, she was their organist for a number of years.

On December 11, 1894 she married Edward Mitchell, son of William and Margaret (McNeil) Mitchell and last year this remarkable couple celebrated their sixty-second wedding anniversary. Treasured momentos of that occasion are the telegrams of congratulations received from her Royal Highness, Queen Elizabeth; from the Hon. Louis St. Laurent, then Prime Minister of Canada and from the Premier of the Province of Ontario, the Hon. Leslie Frost, as well as many others.

Her husband was a school teacher who taught in his home school at Fleetwood for four years, at Lifford School for a record-breaking period of twenty-six years and at Newtonville for nine years, when they resumed farm life, which he had never entirely forsaken. Mrs. Mitchell took pride in her housewifely duties, in producing quality butter, baking bread, tending a garden and raising fowl at an age when most women are no longer independent of help for lighter duties.

Until five years ago when Mrs. Mitchell suffered a fractured hip in a fall at her home, they were living on their own farm on the 10th concession of Manvers. Highway 35 now cuts through their property which is owned by Earl Shea. In spite of advanced years Mrs. Mitchell made a quick recovery from her injury and was soon out of hospital. The family decided it was now time to make a change, so she reluctantly agreed to leave their own home and with her husband is now residing with their son Edison and his family.

Mrs. Mitchell still assists her daughter-in-law with some of the lighter household duties and takes a keen delight in the activities of the two grandchildren, Earl and Gordon.

On her birthday, Mrs. Mitchell was visited by her nephew, Lawrence Wilson of Rochester, N.Y., his wife and three daughters, Miss Sandra Wilson, Miss Barbara Wilson and Miss G. Wilson. On Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, their son Edison and his wife and the grandchildren all attended another happy event, the fifty-third wedding anniversary of Mrs. Mitchell's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Matchett of Cavan.

What's-that is an Isetta

A crowd of people grouped in front of the Midtown Furniture Store on Friday drew the attention of passersby. But to see what was the centre of interest, required close scrutiny.

Finally, a representative of "The Post", working to the forefront of the crowd discussed a diminitive vehicle . . . was it a toy or was it something from outer space?

It turned out to be an "Isetta," a very small English car. It had a length of six feet, was four feet in height and its one seat was about three and one half feet in width. It weighs only 700 lbs.

"It is a dandy," said owner Ray Laurenson, the Full Brush man. "It goes 75 miles on one gallon of gasoline at 50 m.p.h. or 93 miles at 30 m.p.h." he stated.

There are two of these in the Lindsay area it was learned and are owned by Messrs. Ed. Quibell and Ray Laurenson.

In the last two weeks, there have been five sold in this area.

A product of a British firm the cute little number has a sun top, will seat three men of 200 lbs. and sells for less than $1,200.

"It is the smallest and cheapest car available," said the proud owner. It was first introduced in Canada at this year's C.N.E., he revealed.

"Mayor's Night" Will Launch Cinerama

"This is Cinerama" fimed in the sensational new and revolutionary dimension, will be introduced for the first time in this province, on the screen of the University Theatre in Toronto, with the Premiere set for Thursday evening, October 24th. It will be designated as "Mayor's Night" having been approved and arranged by his Worship, Nathan Phillips of Toronto, with the entire proceeds for the benefit of the United Appeal. A dress audience will contribute an excess of $125,000.00 on that night to witness the first performance in Ontario. Civic and Province leaders and social personalities will make it a memorable event. It will be open to the public the following day. All seats will be reserved and mail orders will be accepted.

Cinerama offers the novel experience of putting the audience right into the picture. The viewer forgets that he is watching a film and feels himself engulfed in the action. It captures what the eye sees in real life, not only objects straight ahead, but all the movement, light and color glimpsed out of the corners of the eye.

Think You've Got Troubles

Think you've got troubles . . . They probably don't amount to a hoot compared to the troubles of 16-year-old Scott Rea of South Bnd, Indiana.

He has found out that a bird in the house definitely isn't worth two in the bush.

Scott is an amateur taxidermist. Following his hobby, he picked up a big owl which had been hit by a car and took it home to stuff.

The youth left the owl with his collection of stuffed birds and went to bed. As soon as the lights were out, something began swirling around the room.

Scott snapped on the lights and there was the owl . . flying about. The youth decided this bird was not for stuffing . . . He had to go. The owl had different ideas. He kept circling the room. Snapping the heads and tails of birds that already had been stuffed.

Scott finally got the owl to perch on a broomstock. But the bird wouldn't get off. Finally, in desperation, Scott tossed the owl and the broom out the window and went back to sleep.—BUP.

Jefferies that the Secretary write Ray Knight, Secretary-Treasurer of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association of Ontario objecting to the Provincial Tournament being held on the same day as our Hiram Walker Tournament and asking that in 1958 a date be selected that would not conflict with this tournament.

NEW MEMBERS:

J. Kelz suggested that consideration be given to writing the various firms in the town prior to the 1958 bowling season notifying them of the opening of the Club and setting aside one night to be designated "Visking Night", etc., and inviting all interested persons to come to the Club and enjoy a game and all showing a continued interest be encouraged to become members.

Very favorable comment was made by all members on the excellent job done by Orville Culbert in maintaining the green in an excellent condition all season, effecting many needed repairs at the minimum of expense, and his knowledge and experience giving up a green that ranks with the best in Ontario.

Sure Hutton Has The Backing Of Taxpayers On Hospital Vote

The Lindsay Post,
Dear Sir,

There is no unlimited monarchy in Lindsay. Alderman Joe Hutton will surely have the backing of the taxpayers when he brings his motion before the Town Council, to submit every money by-law to a vote of the ratepayers. As their property is mortgaged to raise the money, it is only fair to get their consent. This is the difference between Democracy, the consent and rule of the people, and Dictatorship, which rules without the people's consent.

And Alderman Joe Hutton is both fair and Democratic and keeps his promise to the electors to serve them and their wishes. He inherits these qualities from his father, the late Thomas Hutton, who served in Ops Township Council. Alderman Hutton is the friend of the taxpayer and they will return the same friendship at the ballot box. Alderman Hutton represents THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE now, about the opposition to a vote of the people on money by-laws, alias the Dictators. Other towns, who submit all money by-laws to a vote, will wonder what's going on in Lindsay, as the news will surely spread through the newspapers. Intelligent people in Lindsay are also wondering who is at the bottom, wanting to pull for their friends out of Public taxation. Due to a long period of teaching, learning and observation. Democracy is rooted in the hearts of the people who want to live as brothers, in a land that is free from Dictators. They remember the struggles their ancestors had to overcome that rule of the aristocrats, called unlimited rule of monarchs. They meant business, and when they undertook to overcome in their own land that historic enemy of the taxable public — they chopped the head off King Charles who defied the people's wishes, and that cooled the temperature of dictating rulers.

So we have today a limited monachy and the people rule. In Russia the people have no choice, but we do not call that Democratic. However, some people would like to read that meaning into Democracy — that rulers know what is best for the people! Well anybody who wants to do business with us in Canada had better do it our way. Otherwise they are in the same category as the little boy said, when he was told that a baby sister had just arrived, "Well", he said, "there are other things we need more."

Now, please think this over — the only chance the Hospital by-law has, is the "fair" way, by Democratic consent of the ratepayers. People who went to school in Lindsay know the meaning of "fair" at ten years old. Those who read "The Post" will know what Democracy is. There is no room in Lindsay for Dictators by-laws "who know what is best for the people" and under that camouflage hand over to their friends, the money they took without consulting the owners.

The 61st Convention of the Ontario Council of Christian Education for the Scnday Schools of West Victoria, North and South Districts, was held in Sunderland, with 16 Sunday Schools represented.

The Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Tipling, had cards prepared with different coloured ribbon for each school and as each one registered, she was able to have the right number of points. Thus Salem received the banner again for 26 points and Oakwood a close second.

Rev. J. N. Reed, Pastor of Sunderland Church, welcomed the convention. Mr. Kenneth Squires, President Pinedale Sunday School conducted the Worship Service and took for a text "The Lord is my light and my salvation of whom shall I fear?"

The President introduced Rev. Arnold Foster our Representative from Toronto, who brought greetings from our General Secretary, Rev. H. C. Burkeholder, who is recovering from a severe heart condition, it was learned. Rev. Foster addressed the Convention on the "Theme Throcgh the Looking Glass," asking if teachers and officers take a good look at themselves and at the examples they are setting.

"We must take a study of the whole thing; one way to overcome our failure is to fit ourselves through our Leadership Training School," he said.

It was learned the Training School this fall will be held at Woodville, November 4th, 6th, 8th, 11th, 13 and 15th.

For intermission a fine sing song of Gospel songs was held; Mrs. Doble gave a demonstration of teaching a Sunday School class of boys ages 9 to 11 years.

After the class a panel discussion was held and questions pertaining to this teaching and problems regarding Sunday School work was answered by Rev. A. Foster, Rev. Reed, Mrs. Doble and Kenneth Squires.

At 6.00 p.m. supper was served by the teachers of Sunderland. Minutes of last convention and Treasurer's report was given by Secty.-Treas., Mrs. A. J. Tipling.

The evening session started with an organ prelude by Miss Besse Oliver organist for Sunderland Church. Gospel singing followed.

Miss E. Harcuss, Temperance Supt. was called upon to give a few details on the sound film to be presented entitled, "Preface to a Life."

Members for Older Boys Parliament, Roy Switzer, gave a summary of the Christian Education received there and also of the recreation. He spoke very highly of Rev. A. Foster, who has been in this work for boys for 17 years.

Roy expressed the wish for every boy to go if given the opportunity.

The slate of officers installed by Rev. Foster for 1957-58 are:

Mrs. Clifford Douglas chose a portion of St. Luke's Gospel also part of a Chapter of Deutermony for Bible reading and Explanation and also led in Prayer.

Mrs. Wesley Black called the Roll answered with a verse of Scripture taken from the daily message of God's word on the 1957 calendars placed in each home in the community by mostly all the members.

The minutes of the September meeting were also read and approved by Mrs. Mac Murchison. The Secretary read two invitations from neighbouring societies which were appreciated very much and also letters of thanks from the Kaye family (on behalf of Mrs. Kaye's father Mr. John Brown) also verbal thanks from Mrs. Black on (behalf of her son Stanley though able to return home from hospital will still be a bed patient) for remembrances and cards, also the purchase of a new Study Book after which Mrs. James R. Nesbitt submitted the Treasurer's Report.

The ladies in charge of the meeting were Mrs. J. D. McMillan, convener, Mrs. Orland Brown and Mrs. T. Brown for which Mrs. McMillon introduced the new Study Book in a very interesting manner. In her inrtduction with the use of maps she compared Japan with Canada and the islands lost during the war with a population of 90 million people—"When we think of the population in a country approximately the size of Newfoundland little wonder there is so much unrest as only 16 per cent of the land is workable the rest mountains", she declared. A series of questions were asked about Japan with ladies giving the answers also Mrs. McMillan had a table of articles on display, things that Canada sells Japan and the other section things we buy from Japan, mostly grain, tallow, coal and leather are some of the items purchased by Japan from Canada.

Mrs. Wm. Hoyle gave a very interesting article on the life of a Japanese girl from the time the bombs fell on Heroshima, how she escaped death and finally arrived in Canada where she became Mrs. J. Thurlow and hopes to return at an early date to Japan to further God's work as a missionary in her home land.

Following the reading a "Skit" was carried out with Mrs. Donald Nicholson portraying the part of a Japanese lady being interviewed by a couple of ladies from Canada and her views and how they could possibly be remedied to help the many people in her country.

As this was the Thankoffering meeting and decided (at an earlier meeting for each enclose a short note in an envelope for what each are thankful for) Mrs. Gordon Jamieson read the notes from each person making one feel there is so much we enjoy and have in free lands that so many are derived off, and the blessings all have received make one feel very humble and thankful.

Rev. Jackson and Mrs. Jackson were present and closed the meeting with prayer for all in our homeland and missionaries abroad.

Prior to a lovely lunch served by the Nesbitt family a number of articles (each one bringing some article to sell to supplement the expense fund) were auctioned off in the dining room by Mrs. Wesley Black where the bidding was really brisk and snappy with a nice sum realized.

Thanks was extended to the family for their hospitality and a social time enjoyed among the ladies.

The ladies in charge of the November meeting are Mrs. Fred Webster, Mrs. Wesley Black and Mrs. Jack Clark.

50 Years Doing Business At Same Kent St. Stand, Has Many Vivid Memories

Fifty years as a barber and in the one location is the status which Marshall Stevens, celebrated at his shop, 43 Kent Street West, Monday and Tuesday.

Marking the occasion, the genial proprietor is passing out cigars and pens to the host of patrons and friends who are calling to offer their congratulations.

Perhaps one of the most unique tributes to Mr. Stephens and his profession was the coming of a customer all the way from California to have Mr. Stephens cut his hair on this ocacsion.

"I saved my haircut for you Marshall", stated Bert Naylor with whom Mr. Stephens apprenticed in 1907. "I think the chance is fair, that you can cut my hair", he quipped.

Mr. Naylor who has been visiting and renewing acquaintances in the district sold his business to Mr. Stephens.

Mr. Stephens recalled some of the district barbers who apprenticed with him as: Walter Richards; Harold Jenkins and George Hibert.

Of the clientele of 50 years ago, Mr. Fred Taylor, Ridout Street and Mr. John Crimmons, St. Patrick Street, are all that is left, it was learned.

"Today I am making a trim and taking a picture of the sixth generation of the Reeves family. This little girl is the daughter of Kenneth Reeves, Fenelon Road, the veteran barber, revealed.

This Reeves family's pioneer homestead was on Albert Street South; the first generations were noted as plasterers and the later boasted three policemen (Charles, Fred and Dids).

"Yes I have been barber and tonserial artist to many personalities", said Mr. Stephens and as he turned back the pages of time he mentioned, Messrs. John Carew, J. D. and William Flavelle; Mr. McLaughlin of the law firm, McLaughlin, Fulton, Stinson and Anderson and Mr. Bigelow, real estate dealer.

"I was born in Lindsay", Mr. Stephens related", my father was a miller at the George Martin's, Victoria Grist Mill at the corner of Peel and Victoria Avenue. This mill was later the Maunder Flour Mill and a now a division of "The Post", he continued.

The Francis Street School, now demolished was the first one attended by Mr. Stephens. He remembers principals Broderick and Knight and teachers Misses Workman, Lunsden and Ray.

It was not the barbering which Mr. Stephens tried first as a career it was learned. Prior to 1902 and the advent of the C.P.R. into Lindsay he worked at construction and on the removal of 32 houses in the location of the station. Later a time was spent at the Ingle Mill in cabinet making. In 1906 he tried his hand as a machinist with Madison Williams, in the building where the Canada Crayon is now located.

But it was in the next year 1907, that he found the profession of his choice.

In this profession he has developed a most satisfying study of human nature.

Mr. Stevens, on his golden anniversary, expressed the appreciation of all those who have been his friends and customers during the past 50 years.

Mystery Shrouds Omemee Cattle Deaths

OAC Asked To Search Out Cause

Cattle have died from an undetermined cause on a ranch South of Omemee. Of the animals already lost are five Aberdeen Angus heifers, owned by John Lyons, Glandine district farmer.

Dr. C. W. Lyons in speaking of the incident with "The Post", said that two of these heifers were discovered almost dead and three more were in a helpless condition and later were destroyed.

"The cause of death seemed to be some gastronomic condition which resulted in paralysis and would indicate some form of poisoning," the dentist observed.

Death did not results as quickly as was reported in the case of algae poisoning," he added.

Mr. John Lyons has sent one carcass to the O.A.C. Quelph for diagnosis of the trouble, the owner further advised, but as yet has not received the report back.

During the past two weeks, other cattle have died on this ranch, it was learned.

Although details were not immediately available reportedly these belonged to Ray Webster, Little Britain and the Reeds farm of Reaboro.

From a member of the Laurenson family who resides adjacent to the ranch, it was learned all cattle which were on the ranch have now been loaded up and taken to the homes of their respective owners. "I heard two were missing, six were dead and all were sick," Mr. Laurenson further revealed.

"The watering place on the ranch is a creek, a tributary of the Pigeon River and its waters look good and clear," he further stated.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 86 guests was held in the Sunday School Auditorium of the United Church, the catering being done by the Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S.

WHO SPENDS?

WHEN new federal buildings, or new highways with elaborate cloverleafs, or new city halls are constructed, they must be built with the taxpayers' money.

Very often such expenditures are enthusiastically approved, because each of us seems to think it is some other person's tax money which is being spent so lavishly.

Canadians can help themselves, and the men and women they have elected to office, only if they remember that governments have no funds except the taxes they take from each of us.

Mrs. George Starr Hostess To W.M.S.

Little Britain (PNS)—The October meeting of the Little Britain Baptist Church W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. George Starr with seven members in attendance.

The meeting was opened by singing "All The Way My Saviour Leads Me," followed by prayer by Mrs. Frank Wakeford. Psalm 136 was read alternately. Mrs. Walter Chidley then gave a reading entitled "Murphy the Christian" and also a story of "Jim and My Jesus". This was followed by an accordion selection by Mrs. George Starr and then prayer by Mrs. C. L. Hall.

At this time the president, Mrs. Melvin Archer, took charge of the business period. The minutes of previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Wakeford, and adopted; the treasurer's and sick committee's reports were also read and approved. A letter was read from Miss Mary Sauer in Africa and the W.M.S. made plans to send toys to the children there. Plans were also made to send quilts to the missionaries. Several other items of business were then discussed and transacted.

The meeting was concluded by singing the hymn "Blest Be The Tie That Binds." Followed by prayer by Mrs. Archer, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Starr and her group and a social half hour enjoyed.

Salem United Church Scene Of W.A. Rally

The W.A. Rally of Group Three of the Lindsay Presbytery was held in Salem United Church with an attendance of 70 members.

The President, Mrs. Philp, opened the meeting with a poem by Tennyson, "More Things Are Wrought By Prayer Than This World Dreams Of." This was followed by "The Lord's Prayer" in unison and Hymn 388 after which Mrs. Mollen of Glandine led in prayer.

The Devotional period was conducted by Cambridge Street United Church ladies. Hymn 259 was sung followed by the Scripture readings—John, chapter 1, verses 1-9; John 12, verse 46; and Matthew, chapter 5, verses 14-16.

The topic theme—"The Light of the World" was most ably presented. The worship service was closed by prayer.

Mrs. F. Tremeer on behalf of Salem extended a very cordial invitation to all present.

The minutes of the 1956 Rally were read and adopted. The Roll Call and reports were read from Salem, Manilla, Oakwood, Queen Street United Church, Cambridge Street United Church, Cambridge Street United Church Jr. W.A. and Glandine, who we are sorry to report have not sufficient members to merit a society of their own and will henceforth join with Oakwood. There was a good representation from all societies and very gratifying reports were given.

Mrs. Clark, from Queen Street Church, favoured with a lovely solo - "Let Him In."

The offering of $12.16 was taken up by Manilla ladies and was dedicated by Mrs. Clark.

Guest speaker of the afternoon was Rev. Hugh Hunter of Oakwood, who gave us a most interesting talk about the work of the ladies in the Presbyterian Church of Ireland from where he and his family have so recently come.

Mrs. Murry, Presbytery President, greeted everyone and thanked all groups for their work and support of the past year, reminding all that in the fall there is so much to be thankful for and so may realize more acutely the needs of others and the work that must be done.

In the absence of Mrs. Nicholls, Mrs. Murry also conducted the question box by dividing the ladies in five groups and giving each group two questions to discuss and report on. This session was most successful.

Mrs. Jackson from Cambridge Street Jr. W.A., thanked all who had contributed to make the meeting a success and especially thanking Rev. Hunter.

Mrs. E. Rich of Oakwood extended an invitation for the 1958 Rally to meet at Oakwood.

The meeting was closed by the singing of the Theme Song followed by the Queen, after which Rev. Hunter pronounced the benediction.

A delicious lunch was served by Salem and Glandine ladies and a social half hour closed a most enjoyable afternoon.

FAMILY CRISIS

There is a family crisis in France today.

Restaurant owner Louis Koeckner of Salins, discovered he is a bachelor despite his four children . . . that his father is the legal husband of a girl young enough to be his daughter . . . and the children's mother is legally their Grandmama.

It seems M. Kloeckner married 10 years ago but a clerk in the marriage bureau put the name of Louis' father into the records by mistake.

The French court said it is working on the case to set the record straight. Louis wants liberty, equality . . . and paternity.

Bible Thoughts

Watch ye, stand fast in the faith quit you like men, be strong. I Cor. 16:13.

Paul's letters were like trumpet calls. He built and trained his converts like Christian soldiers who conquored Europe and put to flight the beastly immorality of a heathen world.

They shall bring forth fruit in old age. Psalm 92:14.

Retirement on account of old age deprives civilization of the services of countless men rich in experience and knowledge. Roscoe Pound, for twenty five years dean of the Harvard Law School and regarded as one of the truly great teachers of America, is still fruitfully busy teaching in a California University in his late eighties.

(Press Radio Bible Service Inc.)

A semi-annual meeting of Zone 5 of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture was held in the Memorial Centre in Napanee. Zone 5 includes Lennox-Addington, Hastings, Prince Edward, Northumberland, Durham, Peterzorough and Victoria.

Chairman, Mrs. Clare Telford from Norwood, Peterborough, County, presided. After the business session, she introduced Mr. D. Cunningham, Field man for Zone 6 and part of Zone 5, and asked him to describe his work there. He said a series of three meetings was held and at these the constitition was discussed and the objectives of the Counties and the best way of achieving them. Other work is done on a request basis.

Mrs. Fred Perry, Chairman of the Woman's section of Zone 5, gave a very interesting report of a meeting in Toronto on Sept. 4th. She gave a preview of the half-day women's meeting to be held at the annual meeting of the O.F.A. in Toronto in November. She said they visited the Co-operative Insurance Building and told of the main advantage to farmers of this organization, the automobile policy available to farmers. High lights of a visit to the Hog Producer's Building was an inspection of the teletype system; the story of mailing 514,000 cheques in one year to farmers selling hogs; the final gaining by farmers, through the efforts of the Federat'n of the right to cash their cheques at par at their own banks; and the fact that farmers pay only 29c per hog as the cost of marketing them through these channels. They were told also that the poultry industry may have to be protected by tariffs another year, and that there is talk of a pension plan for farmers.

Mr. Dick Stewart of Peterborough, speaking of the Wheat Marketing Scheme, pointed out that since the price of wheat in Ontario is the lowest in the world, it is high time something is done about it. He urged that when a vote is to be taken, all wheat growers contact their local Ag. Rep. to find out if their names are on the voters' list.

After luncheon served by the Grandview Women's Institute, Mrs. Black, of Napanee, favored with piano selections.

Mrs. Hudson, of Leeds County, Vice-Chairman of the Women's Committee of the O.F.A. gave a talk on Public Relations. She stressed the necessity of learning how to get along with people. She listed 13 qualities to be avoided and asked those present to look carefully at themselves to see which they might have. These qualities included getting our own way or else; taking credit for too much; criticizing others but not liking it ourselves; envying others, having a chip on the shoulder; and being too fearful that our best will not be good enough. A leader should recognize four virtues, consistency, sincerity, courtesy, friendliness. A leader must have good workers. All farmers should stand solidly behind the organization.

The Women's group, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fred Perry, then met briefly in separate session. They continued discussion of women's part in the farm organization and how to co-operate with the men. They gave support to a suggestion from Leeds County that a column for women be included in the Rural Co-operator. Election of officers for next year took place as follows, chairman, Mrs. Fred Perry, Lennox and Addington; Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Dalton Dorrell, Durham County; Secretary, Mrs. Dick Bowles, Durham County.

At the men's meeting where the women later joined them, lively discussion of these questions took place:

What about the up-keep of farmer's fences along Highways? Should there be more assembly and sales barns between Lindsay and Newburgh? Would compulsory insurance to all car drivers be better than unsatisfied judgments to those not insured? What about more tariffs on farm produce from other countries? Can we solve the wheat producer's problem soon? ?

The Prince and Princess of Agriculture's project was discussed. Mr. Ellin of Durham expressed appreciation of the very capable manner in which Mrs. Clare Telford of Norwood had conducted the Zone meeting in this her first term of office.

Mr. Wesley Down invited the memzers of Zone 5 to hold their spring meeting at Brighton in Northumberland.

Rev. Pace Addresses Queen Street W.M.S.

The Thankoffering meeting of Queen St. W.M.S. was held in the church with a fair attendance. The meeting opened with quiet music, with Mrs. Parkin at the piano. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Dack, Mrs. Craighead took charge. Hymn 261 was sung.

Silent prayer and the Lord's Prayer in unison opened the devotional period. Mrs. Fairman gave as the theme, "Unity for the Honour of the Gospel."

A lovely solo was sung by Mrs. W. Clark, "Let The Lower Lights Be Burning," accompanied by Mrs. Parkin. The Scriptures taken from Philippians 1:27-30, 2:1-4 read by Mrs. Forman. Mrs. Fairman, speaking on unity, said, "If instead of a world distracted and divided by rivalry and jealousy, men everywhere in spite of divisions would turn to Christ, it would find peace and unity.

Mrs. Fairman closed with prayer, Hymn 56 was sung.

The minutes of the last meeting were accepted, the roll called, and the several secretaries gave satisfactory reports.

Mrs. Culbert gave a paper from the study book on Japan, how through the war Japan was brought down to defeat, and lost many of her possessions, the population is so great that food is a great concern. Old customs are giving way to new, more women have equal rights, the value of medicines is learned and valued. All Asia is watching the Christian brotherhood.

The collection was taken and dedicated by Mrs. Craighead.

Mrs. March introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Mr. Pace, of Beaverton. Mrs. Pace also attended.

Mr. Pace spoke on "The Gospel According to You. What kind of a gospel are you proclaiming to the world?"

Mrs. Craighead thanked Mr. Pace for his heart-searching address.

The meeting closed with a benediction by Mr. Pace. Mrs. Culbert and her group served a dainty lunch.

FROSTBITE

New Treatment Uses Lukewarm Water Emersion

A group of Montreal doctors and surgeons say the ideal way to combat frostbite is not to rub frozen tissues with snow but to use lukewarm water.

Three doctors of the Department of Experimental Surgery at Montreal's McGill University told a meeting of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons in Montreal, that water a few degrees below the body temperature is the best remedy.

Dr. D. R. Webster Dr. R. E. Wilson and Dr. Martin Entin said they reached their conclusion after laboratory investigations sponsored by the Defence Research Board of Canada. They said the immersion of the frozen part of the body in warm water results in less damage to frozen tissues.

Unemployment figures to play the key role in whether the Conservatives will call an early election in 1957.

Runaway!..."Whoa" unheeded

More than horses will run away if given an opportunity. This was proven on Lindsay Street hill this morning.

A vehicle parked on the right side of the street, adjacent to the Kent St. East corner, took off on its own just after the fair driver stepped out on the sidewalk.

Amazed, the lady saw the vehicle take off and with startled cries attempted to hold it back.

At that instant a driver of a Smith Transport vehicle across the street saw her predicament, hurried over, boarded the moving vehicle and brought it under control.

The episode, transpiring in a matter of seconds, gave witnesses and principals alike a tense few moments.

The driver of the runaway vehicle, apparently shaken by the incident, explained. "I couldn't believe my eyes when I turned and saw the truck moving down hill on the wet pavement. And there were lots of pitfalls ahead, such as telephone poles, to say nothing of the river," she added.

125 men benefit by undertaking, officer states

"The unemployment picture has taken on a particularly good look in the last two or three weeks," stated Mr. H. C. rBown of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, William St. North. "125 men have been referred to jobs with the five sub-contractors working on the installation of natural gas in Lindsay," he revealed. Mr. Brown was discussing the unemployment situation with "The Post" representative, this morning. Continuing he explained. "A contributing factor to unemployment has been the lack of construction projects which have marked the past years. Also the two-month lay off at General Motors affecting some 250 men of Lindsay and Victoria County. However, these have all been recalled.

There is not too much industrial employment for women, this being readily supplied by local pool labour.

As usual plenty of domestic employment is offered but is not drawing any particular interest," Mr. Brown concluded.

Says U.S. Films In Canada Fail To Aid Charities

London, Oct. 30—(BUP)— The president of the University of Western Ontario, Dr. G. E. Hall, criticized U.S. companies operating in Canada for failing to support charity drives in this country.

Hall said in London yesterday that many of the U.S. firms make "huge profits" through their Canadian subsidiaries, but refuse to contribute to such charities as United Appeal Fund drives, and university expansion campaigns in Canada.

He added: "How long Canadians will put up with this failure to enter the Canadian community, I don't know."

See February Election, Say Unemployment Factor

(British United Press)

Parliament Hill observers are speculating that a February General Election looms as a distinct possibility if either the government or the opposition find the economic climate suitable for one.

They point out that while February is a possibility, a general election no later than the spring of 1958 is almost a certainty.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker made election dates a topic for conversation in the capital yesterday by saying in the House of Commons that the call to the polls would not be long delayed.

It was the first clear reference to a General Election made by the Prime Minister in the House since the Fall session opened October 4th. Observers feel that Mr. Diefenbaker, irked by the opposition attack against him, made the election statement as a challenge to his principle provokers — former Health Minister Paul Martin and Social Party Whip Stanley Knowles.

The political sources agree that the time Mr. Diefenbaker chooses to call an election will depend on the unemployment situation in the country.

The experts say that if unemployment fails to reach critical proportions this winter, but appears to be steadily climbing toward such a point, the Prime Minister will decide to go to the people to seek a clear majority before such conditions arise.

If unemployment figures rise anywhere near the 700-thousand figure now being predicted by some experts, the concensus is that the Liberal and C-C-F parties will force a winter election.

Frost Confident Ottawa Will Not Hold Up Hospital Plan Parade

Toronto, Oct. 30—BUP—Ontario Premier Leslie Frost said today he was confident that the Federal government would bear its share of the Province's hospital insurance program without waiting for at least six provinces to embark on similar plans.

The premier termed Federal hospital insurance legislation which blocks the Federal participation unless six provinces are taking part as "ridiculous and fantastic."

Frost has said the Ontario plan will go into effect January 1st, 1959. So far only three other provinces—Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia—have said they also would launch hospital insurance plans.

The premier said: "It would be ridiculous if six provinces were not in the scheme by January 1st, 1959, and Ontario couldn't start. It would simply not be right for us and the other three provinces who are willing to enter the scheme to be held up because one province was still dickering with Ottawa."

Uxbridge's Stalled Hospital Gets Nod To Forge Ahead

The building of the Uxbridge Cottage Hospital will be resumed on Monday, November 4th, after a standstill lasting since April 1st, 1957. A compromise settlement was made Tuesday evening when the "Steering Committee" of the hospital board met with representatives of the L. C. Scott Construction Co and of Architect Rounthwaite. Board member Fred Taylor advised "The Post" of this good news today.

Of the $11,000 left of the contractor's original claim, agreement was reached Tuesday evening at all points except the legal fees of $3,000. These may be arbitrated before County Court on November 7th, it was decided.

Continuing Mr. Taylor revealed that the approximate amount of $100,000, the lein held by the Scott Construction against the hospital had been greatly reduced just since Saturday, October 26th, and in this way: The Town of Uxbridge gave the third reading of a hospital debenture by-law amounting to $40,000, at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 26th; the Township of Uxbridge gave the third reading of a $20,000 hospital debenture by-law at 8 p.m. Monday, October 28th; The Township of Scott gave the third reading of a $16,000 hospital debenture by-law at 9:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 28th the Township of Reach will pay $4,000 by cheque to the hospital project on Jan. 1st, 1958. An amount in trust fund made up the balance, Mr. Taylor advised.

"Everyone in Uxbridge is feeling mighty good that our hospital will become a reality at last" Mr. Taylor remarked. "We feel the new hospitalization plan will be of great benefit," he added.

The "Steering Committee' which so successfully brought the hospital issue to a settlement included Messrs P. F. Bernhardt, W. J. Wood, R. J. Harris, G. E. Coulter and F. W. Taylor.

THE EVILS OF RESTAURANT PIE

Let a man's eye rove over the desserts listed on a restaurant menu, and he most always chooses apple pie.

This natural choice is unfortunate for man, whose frustrations continue many in a world of both pies and progress. Although an orchard may have done its part, the makers of a city apple pie are not so uniformly adroit in satisfying one of man's chief hankerings. A bough has bent in an upstate orchard and eventually Manhattan's man bends over a slice of apple pie- But the difference between the sort of apple pie that comes from the oven of a farm kitchen and the pie which emerges as a delusive item in a restauarant is sufficient to make men and angels indulge in tears, if not in cheesecake or lemon sherbet.

WINTER IN BUSINESS

The figures on unemployment at the end of September, showing that 3.2 per cent of the labour force are out of work compared with 1.7 per cent at the same date in 1956, are not unexpected. It is the logical outcome of the steady slide in business and industrial activity reported in Canada and the United States during the past few months; sudden flurries on the Stock Exchange notwithstanding. There are clear signs that this trend is not going to cease overnight and several months at least are almost certain to pass before the tempo of economic life begins to pick up again. This downtrend, coupled with the normal slackening of employment during the winter, means Canada faces a bigger problem with jobs this season than she has met for years.

Peterborough, on present indications, is no exception to the rule applying to the rest of hte country. Unemployment Insurance Commission figures for September 30 show 1,295 unplaced male applicants for jobs, compared with 679 last year. Corresponding figures for women are 826 and 540. Unfilled vacancies show a dramatic drop for males from 222 last year to 38 last month. For women this figure classification was not so remarkable a drop from 46 to 30. The number claiming benefits more than doubled, 508 on September 30, 1956, and 1,130 at the end of last month.

A variety of opinions exists on nationwide measures which should be taken to avoid the economic doldrums into which we appear to be drifting. Without discussing those, there is an approach we can adopt in Peterboro—that every employer, at home or in factory and office, should study what jobs he or she wants completed and have them done this winter. If the work is there, and the men to do it are idle, the whole community is the poorer if the two cannot be put together. An appeal to this effect will shortly be issued by the Local Emloyers' Advisory Committee and it is hoped that this city will provide an effective response to it.

The Human Mind and Body

By Peter J. Steincrohon, M.D., F.A.C.P.

Dr. Steincrohn is author of "How To Add Years To Your Life."

TRACHEOTOMY IS OFTEN NECESSARY FOR CHILD SUFFERING FROM CROUP

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: "My child is alive, and I suppose I shouldn't be complaining — which I'm not. She had the croup a few weeks ago. I used to think it was a simple condition. But before she was through with it she had to have a tracheotomy and barely pulled through pneumonia.

Is it often necessary for doctors to cut down on the windpipe to save their croup patients? I thought perhaps our doctor might have been too hasty. Mrs. M.

ANSWER: If your child had croup due to Hemophilus Influenza Type B, you can thank your stars that your doctor was not indecisive and performed tracheotomy. Many such children have suffocated because tracheotomy came too late—or not at all. In fact, this type of infectious croup has such a rapid course that about one half of the patients need an immediate tracheotomy.

There are two main causes of croup. One caused by diptheria is, of course, now very rare. The other is due to non-bacterial agents and is the most common. It usually follows a cold and comes on slowly.

Whatever the nature or cause of the croup, it is wise to give antibiotics to prevent pneumonia and other secondary infections. Severely ill patients may need intravenous fluids and blood transfusion. All types of patients are grateful for steam and high humidity.

PEDIATRICIAN OR ADULT PRACTITIONER?

Parents often ask: "What is the right time to change doctors for children? My boy of 16 feels out of place at his pediatrician's office with all of the squalling infants and young children."

ANSWER: There is no blanket answer for that. I have known pediatricians to keep on treating the children they cared for infancy until they were in their late teens. Others have set a dividing line of ag 15. There is really no reason why even an 18-year-old is out of the pediatrician's reach; or why a 13-year-old is too young for a general practitioner to treat. Have your boy make special appointments. In that way he can bypass the infants in the waiting room.

CONSTIPATION IN ADOLESCENTS

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Is constipation common in teen-agers? I have a youngster who can't seem to get straightened out. As a result she often complains of cramps and rectal pains. Any suggestions? Mrs. E. L.

ANSWER:The reason that constipation is not unknown in most families that have teen-agers is, I believe, twofold: 1. Improper diet. 2. TIME.

The first is easy to explain. Youngsters are on the go and lose much of their body fluid by perspiration. If they do not make up this loss by drinking sufficient fluids during the day, the result is hard, constipated stools. They also need fresh vegetables and fruits for "bulk" in their diet. Most parents know how difficult it is to convince youngsters to substitute the leafy green and yellow stuff for cokes and other beverages.

The second reason is: TIME. Youngsters are too busy with social and other engagements to "bother with bowels." They may be on their way, but if a phone rings they postpone bathroom ritual until tomorrow—or the day after.

Teach your youngster that nature rears up at anyone who meddles with her. Advise steady toilet habits. Refuse to give relief day after day with suppositories or enemas. They are impermanent remedies that only prolong constipation.

SHORT SHORT STORY

The Rainbow Special

By

T. M. RIDER

WHEN the woman who had been gazing wistfully at Madame Bluce's window display, finally entered and asked—of all things—to try on the Rainbow Special, Mady Clarks' pleasant smile wavered. That gaudy, multi-colored dress with its golden sash had been displayed because party time was near and Madame Bluce felt some girl might like it for a gay affair. Of course, the woman was small and thin enough to slip into it. But she had a sweet face, the kind that made you think of a mother in lavender and lace.

Mutely, Mady showed her to the dressing room, then walked over to the sweater counter.

A minute later the customer shyly opened the dressing room door.

"It's beautiful!" she cried. "I know Tom will remember me as I used to look. You know how husbands are. They just don't realize a woman doesn't grow any younger with time."

So that was the wrinkle. She was trying to become a spring chicken for her husband's sake. Somehow it didn't seem right for a nice old lady. Mady couldn't help thinking that some day she might get married, and she'd grow old, too. Then, would she have to suffer the experience this woman was suffering?

3-Minute Fiction

Mady walked over to the woman and said, "I've just thought of a special dress for madam. A pale blue creation that would be chic with costume pearls and matching earrings."

"Pale blue? Oh, no! My husband loves colors that are bright and alive. You see, he's an artist, and a brilliant one, too."

SHE spoke in a proud voice and smoothed the Rainbow Special with work-worn hands. Mady asked hesitantly, "I don't mean to pry, but is your husband ill? Perhaps a floral dress—"

"Tom ill? You wouldn't ask that if you saw him. He's big and husky, and he always says my cooking's making him fat." She beamed until she noticed Mady staring wonderingly at her hands. Then she said quietly, "I've worked at washing dishes in a restaurant for the past 10 years and I'm proud of it because—well, because I'm doing it for my husband. But I guess you're too young to understand that love means more than roses and kisses.

"My Tom's worth anything, any sacrifice," the lady continued softly and brushed her cheeks with sudden remembrance. "And I must hurry. He's waiting outside in the car and I know he's growing impatient."

That was the last straw! Mady shook her head despairingly.

"Erma, is that you?" a deep voice suddenly boomed from the doorway. "I got tired of waiting and crossed the street."

The woman gasped and hurried over to a tall dark-haired man. "Oh. you shouldn't have, Tom. I was coming right out."

That was the last straw! Mady shook her head despairingly.

WHY, the lady was actually quivering as though she had committed some heinous crime by making him wait a few minutes! Mady glared at him. So this was the brilliant artist! He was husky enough to swing a pick and shovel. Well, why didn't he, instead of making his pitifully small wife slave for him? If this was love she'd steer clear of it!

"That new dress does things to you, Erma!" He placed his huge hands on her shoulders and held her off at arm's length. "Ah, those colors, my dear! They're soft, yet warm and alive. I can't wait to get hold of some paints and brushes."

"Now, Tom, you shouldn't work so soon after the operation. You know what the doctor said."

He nodded thoughtfully and sighed. "Guess I can wait a little longer at that. But say, my vision's improving every minute. I just crossed the street myself. And only this morning you looked so—so colorless. But now, I swear you look just—just like you did before I went 'blind ten years ago, Erma."

Erma's answering smile was as bright as the sun. Mady felt her heart begin to pound furiously. The artist was recovering from an eye operation and probably would never see colors normally again!

Miss The Flowers

The flowers are over for another year and we'll mis them when we'd like to pick a few to dress up our table. However, there are bulbs one can get and if you have a green thumb you may think you are still in summer. Bulbs can be had for planting for table use and it gives one a special treat to have blooms for the table. Find a bush of bittersweet and you'll have some color for a while at least. If you get very hungry for flowers you can buy them any time of the year. They seem to perk up anyone and even one rose will do wonders.

Late Blooms

Speaking of roses and late blooms it is even nice to see three buds on one of our bushes and we don't know whether to bring them in to open fully or just hope the frost won't freeze them before they bloom fully. The last of the flowers are always the most precious of the year and we want to keep them as long as possible.

In Domestic Affairs

In domestic affairs . . . "operation classroom helpers" is underway across the country. Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the veterans of the foreign wars are going back to school—to help relieve the teacher shortage. The auxiliary members volunteer a minimum of three hours a week during the school year. They do not teach . . . but relieve school marms of routine, none-teaching duties in classrooms, cafeterias, school offices and on playgrounds. The program—first of its kind on a nation-wide scale—is aimed at the first six grades in public schools, but is available for kindergarten or nursery schools.

Four English Queens

Looking back over 350 years—it's easy to see marks that four English Queens have left on the North American mode of dress.

First came the "Trade mark" o fQueen Elizabeth I, back in 1607. This was the high, stand-up collar —and the elegance of her cavaliers women wore ruffed necklines . . . tight, pointed bodices and full skirts typical of her clothes. Men wore capes, high boots, gauntlet gloves and big-brimmed hats of Elizabethan gents like Sir Walter Raleigh.

The English court's influence was not completely out of our fashion picture, even after the American Revolution and made its biggest come-back with Queen Elizabeth.

Women put on black, bustles and high-buttoned bodices. Men, led by Victoria's husband, Prince Albert —donned morning frocks, swallow-tailed cutaways and the informal sack coat . . . which became the modern business suit.

Then came the present Elizabeth's grandmother, Queen Mary. She started the stately "dowager look" with large, feather trimmed hats and a profussion of jewellery.

Queen Elizabeth herself was once criticized for her lack of style— but she has touched off a new Elizabethan era in fashion this year.

Royal elegance shows in fall colours, such as "royal purple," "Elizabethan blue," and "Windsor rose." Even the thick wool of British but called "pink"—is used in our hunting coats, which is bright red daytime coats.

In Memoriam

SIMMONS—In loving memory of a beloved husband and father George Simmons, who passed away October 30th, 1955.

We are lonesome here without you,
We miss you more each day,
Life does not seem the same
Since you were called away,
Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our eyes shed many a tear.
God alone knows how we miss you,
As this ends the second year.
Sadly missed by wife Ethel and family. (4679)

SIMMONS—In loving memory of our dear Dad, William George Simmons, who passed away October 31, 1955.

What would we give if we could say
Hello Dad in the same old way.
To hear your voice and see your smile
To sit and chat with you awhile
So you who have a Father
Cherish him with care
For you never know the heartache
Till you see his vacant chair.
Lovingly remembered by daughter - Mary, son-in-law Jacob and family.

In loving memory of my dear son, Donald H. Carley, who was killed on October 30th, 1954.

Oft and oft our thoughts do wander
To the grave not far away
Where we laid our dear son Donnie
Just three years ago today.
Sadly missed by Mom and Dad. (4703)

Underdog Akins Smashes Demarco's Title Dreams

Underdog Virgil Akins of St. Louis smashed the title dreams of Tony Demarco for the Massachu? setts verson of the world's welterweight title last night (Tuesday) in Boston. Akins floored Demarco three times in the 14th round before the bout was stopped at 1.17. He had also smashed his opponent to the canvas twice in the 10th round and again in the 13th before the bell saved Demarco. Only Massachusetts and two other states recognize the bout as the championship for Carmen Basilio's vacated crown.

Hall Does It Again! . . .

(By British United Press)

Glenn Hall today gave General Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings more cause to rue his decision to ship the 26-year-old goalie and Ted Lindsay to the Chicago Black Hawks.

Hall shut out the Red Wings for the second time in three nights, 1-0, last night as the Black Hawks went into a second-place tie with the New York Rangers in the National Hockey League. The shut out was Hall's third of the season, compared to four all last year, and the victory was the Black Hawk's third straight after they lost four and tied one of their first six games.

Defenseman Jim Thomson broke the scoreless duel between Hall and Terry Sawchuk at 12.56 of the third period when he took a backward pass from Rookie forward Bobby Hall. Hall had 26 saves, including 12 in the final period, and sawchuk had 29.

The Rangers, with a game in hand on the Black Hawks, can regain undisputed possession of second place when they play at home against the Red Wings tonight. Montreal is at Toronto in the other game.

Unable To Go To The Cake Carry The Cake To Him

When Mr. Leslie Calvert was unable to be home for the celebration marking his 50th wedding anniversary, Mrs. Calvert and a group of friends and relatives took the anniversary cake to him in the hospital where the celebrating couple performed the cutting ceremony.

Reaboro (PNS) — On October thirteenth, over 40 people, family and guests gathered for a turkey dinner at Apple Hill Farm, Reaboro, home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Calvert to celebrate the couple's Golden Wedding Anniversary.

This very joyous occasion was saddened by the fact that Mr. Calvert is in the Lindsay Convalescent Hospital and was unable to attend the actual dinner; However, family and friends visited at his bedside and pictures were taken of Mr. and Mrs. Calvert cutting the beautifully decorated three tier anniversary cake. Mr. Calvert enjoyed a special plate of the dinner which was prepared at the farm and brought to him. He was also presented by his family with an electric razor. Mrs. Calvert had received a lovely coat from her family and was also presented with a beautiful television set as a birthday gift as her birthday was two days after the Anniversary. Numerous other gifts were received by the happy couple.

Mrs. Calvert, the former Gertrude Porter, daughter of the late William and Mary Porter of Ballyduff, was united in marriage to Leslie Calvert, son of the late John and Emma Calvert of Reaboro at the bride's home, Ballyduff on October 15th, 1907. The ceremony was performed by the Baptist Minister, Rev. Welsh. The bride of fifty years ago was attended by her sister, (Velma) Mrs. Walter Reeds, Omemee and the Groomsman was Mr. William Crocker of Millbrook. Both attendants were able to be present for the Golden Anniversary. Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Calvert moved to their present home in Reaboro

This union was blessed with ten children namely (Myra) Mrs. Edward Stevens, Lindsay, Robert of London, (Helen) Mrs. Cecil Clement, Brantford, James of Reaboro, Quinten, Bertram and David all of Oshawa, (Viola) Mrs. Orval Moore, Cameron, (Evangeline) Mrs. Allan Lockington, Peterboro and (Barbara) Mrs. Donald Butler of Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvert were very proud to have four sons and one daughter serve their country in the Armed Forces during World War II and were stationed in various parts of the world and fortunately all were able to return home again after the war but this was the first entire family reunion the Calverts had had since the family were small. Included in the family gathering are several grandchildren and two great grandchildren which were all present to help Mr. and Mrs. Calvert celebrate this very special occasion for them.

Other guests included Mrs. Charles Porter and Mr. Donald Porter of Millbrook and Mr. Walter Reeds of Omemee, close friends of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvert have resided in Reaboro since their marriage a few years ago. They are well known throughout the district and were active in community affairs and held in high esteem by their neighbours and friends. It is to this bride and groom of fifty years that a host of friends extend best wishes for many more years happiness and family reunions.

Students Report On Trip To Headquarters Of U.N.

Fenelon Falls—PNS—An experience which will live forever in the minds of their guests was provided last week by Dr. and Mrs. R. A. MacKay of New York City. Dr MacKay (a former Woodville boy), is Canadian permanent secretary to the United Nations, his wife the former Kit Junkin of Fenelon Falls. For the past two or three years Dr. MacKay has made it possible for two students of the Lindsay Collegiate (of which Dr. MacKay is a graduate) and two from Brock District High School to visit the United Nations headquarters. This year the invitation included Fenelon Falls High School and the invitation was accepted.

Bob Johnstone and Lionel Byrne were chosen for the trip. Their choice was based on scholarship and ability of leadership as future citizens in their own community. They were accompanied by Mr. W. A. Bain senior history teacher of the Fenelon Falls High School. The trip was made by train and extended from Friday to Wednesday. During that time so much was seen and experienced by Dr. MacKay's guests that it would be hard to recapitulate. However, outstanding highlights included a three hour trip around Manhattan Island and a visit to the Empire State Building; a conversation with American representative Cabot Lodge, who talked to each member of the visiting group; observing Russian delegates Gromyko and Knougsezetsky; seeing Mrs. Quast, recently appointed by the Diefenbaker government as Canadian delegate and witnessing the wonderful spectacle of the raising of the Malayan flag—Malaya being the 83rd nation to be admitted to the U. N.

The delegates had two outstanding dinner engagements—one at the penhouse apartmnt of Dr. and Mrs Mackay on Thanksgiving Day and the other on Tuesday noon when they dined in the delegates dining room.

The Fenelon guests were not surprised to learn that Dr. MacKay's staff was the largest and ablest of all the countries represented at United Nations. This wonderful gesture on his part on behalf of deserving Canadian youth can hardly be over estimated.

Lionel and Bob gave an interesting account of their trip at Assembly.

New hope for prevention of Heart Disease

In spite of accurate diagnosis, advanced medical science and surgery, heart disease is still the greatest killer today. What causes it? Can it be prevented? The National Heart Foundation of Canada, recently formed, will intensify the search for the answers to these questions. It will also correlate the excellent work already being done across Canada.

The Life Insurance Companies in Canada are supporting this Foundation because it is so important to the future health of Canadians. They have made substantial grants to help launch the organization.

The first concern of the National Heart Foundation is to step up the tempo of research into the causes of heart disease. The Foundation will encourage the practical application of research by every possible means. It will seek to stimulate professional and lay education and help family doctors to keep abreast of the newest developments in diagnosis and treatment.

Support of the National Heart Foundation is just one of many ways in which the life insurance companies in Canada are helping to create a healthier, happier life for Canadians.

The meeting was called to order with the singing of hymn number 669, "All people that on earth do dwell," followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. J. R. Bick, president, then welcomed the visitors present and expressed regret for those who were unable to come. It was moved by Mrs. J. Campbell and seconded by Miss D. Royce that the minutes of the last meeting be accepted as written.

Mrs. V. Bruce read the Scripture lesson, followed by a reading on "Church Unity" by Mrs. T. Smith. The prayer suggested in the Monthly was read in unison Hymn 388 "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee" was sung. The offering was received and dedicated.

The President then called on Mrs. Thorpe from Dunsford who introduced the film they were going to show on the life in a Japanese family entitled. "Meet the Ushijamas". The film was interesting and educational and will help to promote better public relations with the Japanese people, and products from that country.

A sing-song was then very much enjoyed with Mrs. A Robertson leading and Mrs. W. Brien at the piano. Mrs. Thorpe then introduced the Study Book, "Cross and Crisis in Japan."

With the singing of the Doxology and the repeating of the Mizpah benediction, an enjoyable meeting was brought to a close.

A social half hour was spent accompanied by refreshments.

Mrs. Hopkins Speaks At Union Meeting

Argyle (PNS) — The annual meeting of the Argyle Local of Ontario Farmers Union was called to order by the Vice-President, Mr. Charlie Hopkins in the absence of the President Mr. John Dixon.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Peter MacEachern, and adopted as correct.

Mrs. Harold Hopkins, Lady Farmer Union Director of Victoria County and also Lady 1st Vice-President of Ontario Farmers' Union, was called on to give an account of her trip to the Inter-Provincial Farm Union meeting held in Winnipeg in July. Mrs. Hopkins gave points of interest on train trip and arrival in Winnipeg. She gave highlights of the speakers at the conference, but saidthat the greatest good had been accomplished by giving western and eastern farmers a better understanding of each others problems in agriculture today. Western farmers have become accustomed to going fifty to a hendred miles for a Union meeting. Small groups of 6 or 8 delegates some from each province in each group, gave them a first hand opportunity to know and try to understand varying points of view.

This being the annual meeting the financial report and account of the year was given by the secretary who was stepping out of the position. after filling the office for four years.

Mrs. Ernest Steele was elected as chairman for election of officers.

All officers were re-elected with the exception of the secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Ernest Steele was elected to fill this position.

A short discussion followed on several resolutions sent from head office.

Meeting closed with the National Anthem and the ladies served lunch which was much enjoyed by all and a very social chat.

Mrs. Ray Weldon Speaks To W.M.S.

Mrs. Griffin read a poem on the "Giving of thanks unto the Lord," followed by prayer. Hymn 280—"The King of Love My Shepherd Is" was then sung. Mrs. Woodrow Jones read the Scripture lesson from Collossians. Mrs. Griffin gave a reading on Thank-offering, telling of the work our Missionaries are doing in Trinidad, Japan, Korea, Africa and India.

Mrs. Griffin then led in prayer and members responded with "Glory to the Lord." The offering was received and dedicated by singing, "We Give Thee But Thine Own." The minutes of September meeting were read, followed by the roll call, answered by a verse of scripture beginning with the letter O. for October.

Mrs. Henry Walker read a poem entitled "Thanks" Mrs. Griffin gave a reading "Paul's Thankfulness." Prayer was then offered by Mrs. Thos. Moffatt. Mrs. Wilfred Fairfield read a poem "Thanksgiving Dinner." Mrs. Griffin then introduced our guest speaker, Mrs. Ray Weldon, President of Lindsay Presbyterial. Mrs. Lofies. sufgested that we cut out all the clippings from magazines and papers to help with our Study Book on Japan.. She also told of the Fred Victor Home in Toronto, which is financed through the M. and M. Fund.

Rev. Mrs. Harbock explained that Philippians is the Bible Study for our studybook and each one to read it as though Paul was talking to us.

Mrs. M. Killop talked on individuals, what are we doing with our lives? She said that we should go to Calvary and think what Jesus did for us.

Interesting travel experiences were given by Rev. A. E. Forest of his tour of Korea and Russia, of his unforgettable experience of church attendance. One place in Russia 4,000 people attended church on Sunday. He emphasized the need of real worship in our Canadian churches to-day. Mrs. Weldon closed her address with the words of Paul: Rise up and be strong. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. A hymn "O Lord Thou Art My God and King," was sung.

The ranch is located just north of Burnt River and the two animals which had been slaughtered were four-year-old cows.

Townsend Denies Reports Of "amorous attraction"

Arequipa, Peru, Oct. 28—BUP—Former R.A.F. Group Captain Peter Townsend emphatically denied yesterday all reports of "any amorous attraction" between himself and Miss Universe of 1957, 18-year-old Gladys Zender of Peru.

But Townsend, who was forced ot give up a romance with Princess Margaret of rBitain two years ago, delayed his scheduled departure from Aerquipa, Peru, to attend a cockstail-dance in honor of Miss Zender last night.

Townsend, who is on a round-the-world trip apparently to help him forget his unhappy romance with margaret, had planned to leave for Chile yesterday.

Rumors of a possible romance between the 46-year-old Briton and the raven-haired Peruvian beauty began after Townsend attended a birthday party for Miss Zender at her home in Lima 10 days ago.

2 Severely Hurt In 2-Vehicle Kinmount Crash

Kinmount (PNS) — Two people were severely injured in an accident here Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Crego have been taken to Minden Red Cross Hospital as a result of a collision between their car and a truck operated by Frank Bowron. Mr. Crego is reported to have suffered the loss of several teeth and Mrs. Crego sustained at least one broken limb—an arm. The Cregos have three children but they were alone at the time of the accident.

First on the scene included Mrs. Gerald Austin who rendered first aid to the injured until Dr. Griffiths of Minden arrived. Mrs. Austin is a nurse.

The Bowron truck was carrying four head of cattle, one of which sustained a fractured neck in the collision. The car is reported to be almost a complete wreck, apparently having been wedged under the platform of the truck. It has been towed to Simpson's Garage and when this report was received by "The Post", the tow truck was returning to pick up the damaged cattle truck.

Scene of the accident was at what is known as the rock cut just south of the village. The Crego car was entering Kinmount and the truck was going south.

Constable Williams, Fenelon Falls OPP, investigated.

Dulles Says Power Struggle Requires U.S. To Be Alert For Possible "Adventure"

(British United Press)

U-S Secretary of State Dulles said today he wouldn't suggest that war is just around the corner.

But he said the current power struggle in the Kremlin requires the United States to be alert for a possible Russian 'adventure.'

He didn't say when he met with newsmen that scch an "adventure" might take the form of a military or diplomatic action. But he did say the Eisenhower Administration doesn't believe now that war is in prospect.

Dulles did go on to say, however, that it must be remembered whenever a great nations seems to be having internal problems they sometimes lead to external action to divert attention.

The United States, he said, must be alert in appraising the ouster of Soviet Defense Minister Zhukov. The prolonged sessions of the Communist Party's Central Committee in Moscow, he said, indicates there are very important issues being solved by the leaders in the Kremlin.

The secretary suggested that the problems are more domestic than international. When asked pointblank whether he considers Zhukov's situation "good news or bad news," Dulles said he didn't know. He said it would be impossible to tell until after the final outcome of the ouster of the Red Army Marshall who was a Russian hero and friend of President Eisenhower during World War Two.

Speculation on the future of Zhokov continues around the world. It ranges from guesses that he will become more powerful in the Soviet Union to speculation that he is being kicked out by party boss Khruschev.

An Elephant never forgets... and neither will some people

An elephant never forgets . . . but residents of New York's Catskill Mountains will remember Siam for a long while.

Siam—a 14-year old lady elephant—was captured yesterday but not before she eluded trackers for 12 days and smashed up a police car in the bargain.

The freedom-loving two-ton teenager went A-W-O-L from circus winter quarters near Windham, New York, on October 16th . . . and volunteers combed the woods trying to catch her.

State Police, Forest Rangers and farmers finally managed to slip a leg rope on her yesterday . . . but she pulled loose and backed into a police car. But all good things must come to an end. Later the search party caught Siam again and this time the jig was up.

Forge Ahead With Natural Gas System

"How is the installation of natural gas in Lindsay progressing? It is progressing rapidly and with a minimum of inconvenience to all citizens, pedestrians and motorists alike," stated a Town official well-versed in this matter.

One block will be completed on one side of Kent Street each day; this means that the trench, 14" wide and two feet deep, will have the distribution piping installed and compaction will be restored 100 per cent. This is made possible by mechanical tampers which tamp the fill back. This fill will be held in place by a cold patch until all settling is completed, at which time concrete will replace the patch.

Today it is expected the Kent St. block from Lindsay to York Streets on the north side will be completed. Regarding other streets where the project is underway, an assurance is given the citizens that boulevards, lawns, etc. will be returned as close as possible to their original condition. The main will be laid on both sides of Kent St

In cases where the gas line only goes down one side of a street the other side of the street is reached by opening part or all of the distance and drilling the rest.

The three construction companies, White, Somerville and Shaw, on installation work, east of Lindsay Street, west of Lindsay Street and the North Ward north of Kent tSreets are doing a fast and remarkably fine job, observers say. Each company anticipates doing 2,000 feet per day. Their cleaning crews are also reported to be pleasing the citizens with tidy restoration of fill and sodding.

Editorial

WELL, HOW DID YOU LIKE IT?

The beautiful summer and early fall has passed all too swiftly and when we awake on Sunday morning something else will have departed from the scene. Daylight Saving Time, extended an extra month in Ontario for the first time since the war, ends early tomorrow morning. Up until now there has been a reasonable period of daylight following the end of the working day but with the departure of DST, night will fall before the evening meal has commenced.

How did you like the extension of DST? We have heard conflicting reports on public reaction but that is usually the case when it comes to dealing with pattern changes as they affect human beings . . . everybody won't be pleased no matter what happens. However, in the case of DST it seems that a middle-of-the-road policy is good logic: for those who like DST, a fair portion of the year should be operated on that time measure and, for those who like Standard Time, a balancing portion of the year allocated in their favor.

We would like to hear some comments from readers on this subject and it could be submitted in the form of letters to "The People Write" column of this paper. These letters must be signed but a penname may be submitted when they appear in the paper if the writer so desires.

Rumblings of dissatisfaction with much of the programming being telecast by Canada's nationally-owned broadcasting corporation have been heard from time to time for several months now. There is much to be said for some of the programs presented but there seems to be a growing feeling that this is a shrinking minority section of the overall programming routine.

The latest voice in the matter of "government-controlled" television is raised by the "Canadian Broadcaster and Telescreen". Since television is now affecting the lives of nearly every Canadian, none can afford to be squeamish about searching out the facts and it is with this in mind that we reproduce excerpts from the above-mentioned publication's latest editorial comments under the caption:

"LET'S CLOSE UP THIS GOVERNMENT CIRCUS"

we read, quote:

"The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has just made public its annual financial statement for the year ending March, 1957, and as usual it is a story of deficit and debt.

"The fact that a government agency fails to show a profit should not evoke surprise. We have been passing through an era when the people of Canada could expect to be financially milked by the government with the sole purpose of piling up many millions of their dollars in a surplus representing the difference between what was collected from them in taxes and the amount of money it took to run the country. So if the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation costs us a few million dollars, what of it? Aren't they giving Canada a national voice in the air; affording Canadian musicians and writers and actors a chance to be heard; preventing the dreadful private broadcasting stations from importing lewd American whodunnits and salacious leg shows by broadcasting them themselves, interspersed with sententious discourses on dry subjects, delivered by people chosen as likely or not for their ability to influence publicity of a favorable nature to the CBC?

"Other government departments and agencies cost the public large sums of money. It costs money to run the armed forces, police and customs and postal departments. The public also bears the expense of dog catching, garbage collection and sewage disposal. The only difference is that these undertakings come under the heading of public utility, whereas broadcasting, like newspaper publishing, is quite able to subsist, and subsist usefully, under a system of private enterprise, with no drain on the public purse.

"Possibly there is a useful function to be performed by a publicly-owned broadcasting system in implementing the work of another not overly-successful state enterprise--education. Telling the story of Canada to the United States and the world at large is another function it might perform. Undoubtedly there is serious music and drama with an appeal too limited to justify broadcasting commercially, which the government might use to enhance its other educational activities. But none of these functions require the operation of a broadcasting machine running five radio and television networks, with thirty of its own stations and employing around six thousand people at a cost to the country of nearly forty million dollars.

"Canada's 162 radio and 33 television stations, operating under private enterprise, are broadcasting gainfully, in ratio to their usefulness, vis a vis the CBC, which notwithstanding its great and still growing activity in the advertising field, shows prodigious financial losses and minimal acceptance in terms of audience.

"As has been frequently propounded in these columns in the past, a plan could be easily envolved under which the CBC could step out of the business of physical broadcasting, turn over its facilities to private interests at their depreciated value or more, and, in return, be given, or sold at a reasonable price, air time for the broadcasting on private radio and television stations of those of its programs which cannot be supplied by the private broadcasters and which are of truly national value.

"This phase of broadcasting comes under the heading of public utility, and we believe it might well continue as a public enterprise. But the light entertainment, the news and the music of a popular nature are well dispensed by the private stations, and the entry of the government into this field is in no sense a public utility. In fact, it is nothing short of a highly costly public futility."

DEER HUNT FOR ALGONQUIN?

It is somewhat disturbing to read that a Department of Lands and Forests official has advocated an open season on deer in Algonquin Park. It is disturbing because the deer wouldn't have a chance.

For years now, deer in the park must have sensed the security which the government-sponsored project affords them. This is apparent to anyone visiting the park by the way the deer come out to the roadside and eat from the hands of humans. Those who have ever fed these very attractive woodland creatures would no doubt have some qualms of conscience if they were confronted with the prospect of having to shoot one for any reason other than to sustain life within themselves.

What could be crueler to contemplate than having these animals which have so long enjoyed the protective covering of the Algonquin authority, suddenly subjected to an invasion of hunters equipped with modern firearms? Is there any way to tell a deer that the park's protection has suddenly disappeared and they are now "fair" game for the hunter, short of letting them learn the hard way . . . by seeing their kind mortally wounded at the hands of that unpredictable company, the human race which once taught them trust and now would betray it?

And what of the park? Is it likely that once it was subjected to an invasion of hunters that it would ever have its same appeal? Would it be likely that deer, having heard the sound of battle and seen their comrades shot down by two-legged creatures with formidable weapons, would ever be seen by the roadside again, except by accident?

There may be plausible reasons for wanting an open deer season in Algonquin Park but we believe the proposal should be given more than cursory examination . . . Too much is at stake.

POPPIES FOR REMEMBRANCE

The Remembrance Day season is approaching, and it is appropriate for The Legionary again to focus attention on one of the important activities of the Canadian Legion—the National Poppy Campaign.

This November it will be 36 years since the custom of wearing a poppy replica for remembrance was inaugurated in Canada. From the modest beginning in 1921, the custom has become general throughout the country, and this year — with careful preparation and planning by Legion branches everywhere — several million Canadians will be wearing the familiar symbol. Remembrance and the Poppy are irrevocably bound up with each other because of the fitness of the thought that the memory of Canada's Fallen can best be honoured by ensuring that none of their comrades still living are allowed to suffer want and distress. So Poppy Day has become the one annual appeal which the Canadian Legion makes to the public in order to provide funds for the relief of necessitous war veterans and their families.

THREE PHASES

There are three distinct phases to the observance of remembrance through the poppy.

First, there is the Act of Remembrance itself, symbolized by the wearing of a poppy—the emblem derived from the blood-red poppies which grew in such profusion on the graves of Canada's heroes who lie in Flanders Fields and made immortal by Colonel John McCrae in his deathless poem of that name. The Wearing of the poppy is a tribute to those who paid the supreme sacrifice in all the wars in which this country has been engaged, and thus it has become the custom for citizens of all classes to wear a poppy on Remembrance Day and to order poppy wreaths to be placed on war memorials or in store windows in memory of those who did not come back.

Second, there is the use to which the money raised by the Poppy Campaign is put. Across the length and breadth of Canada thousands of families not entitled to Government assistance have been given a helping hand through the Poppy Fund of Legion branches. It is a firm rule that all of the net proceeds derived from the Poppy Campaign must only be spent on the relief of distress among ex-service men and their dependents in the communities in which the poppies are sold. Not one cent goes for any of the other phases of Legion activity.

Third, there is the assistance given to disabled veterans by the sale of poppies which they have made in D.V.A.'s "Vetcraft" shops in which light, sheltered employment is provided for them through the sale of their poppies. Since the inception of the Poppy Camaign on a national scale the Canadian Legion has made a contract with the Department of Veterans' Affairs for the distribution of "Vetcraft" poppies and wreaths, thus ensuring a livelihood for the men employed in these shops. —The Legionary.

BRITISH TV COMES OF AGE

Televsiion in Britain celebrates its twenty-first birthday in November.

It was the 2nd November, 1936, that the BBC made history by starting the first public high-definition television service in the world. From 1936 until Britain entered World War II in 1939, regular television programmes were broadcast daily from the BBC studios at Alexandra Palace in North London.

On 12th May, 1937, the new service handled its first major outside broadcast—the Coronation of King George VI. Hereafter, BBC television cameras roved far and wide. More than 300 television plays were put on before all transmissions ceased on 1st September, 1939, as the black-out descended on London.

FREE FROM CONTROL

The BBC was solely responsible for television transmission services until September 1955, when an alternative service, controlled by the Independent Television Authority (ITA) came into operation ITA programmes are provided by programme contractors who receive revenue from firms which advertise in the programme intervals and pay a rent to ITA for the use of its transmitters. Sponsored programmes — i.e. programmes whose content is provided or controlled by advertisers— are not allowed.

Only on broad questions of policy are the BBC and ITA answerable to Parliament: they are completely free from control in the daily conduct of their business, including both the content of programmes and general administration.

The BBC is non-commercial, with no advertising or sponsoring. Its services are financed mainly from annual grants related to revenue derived from the annual licence fee paid by owners of television and radio sets. It also receives a grant-in-aid for its External Services and has the use of the profits made on its publication. The Corporation spent about $29 million on its television service in the year 1956-57.

SUPPLYING THE WORLD

Although nearly three-quarters of all BBC television output is "live" material, film is of great importance, and the BBC film operation is now the biggest in Europe. BBC programmes are also being made available overseas in increasing numbers: over the past 12 months, more than 350 BBC films and 400 kinescopes have been sent to Canada, the U.S.A., Australia, West Germany, Holland, Sweden and other European countries.

While celebrating its twenty-first anniversary, BBC television today is planning ahead. Its colour transmission experiments are far advanced. A $25-million television headquarters now going up in West London will be the most modern of its kind in Europe. The BBC, in short, is determined to play a full part in the exciting future that lies ahead for television.

THE VISITOR'S DOLLAR

Who benefits from the tourist dollar has always been a question in the minds of the citizens of Ontario. From time to time there have been various publications giving the breakdown on this "found dollar" and these are sometimes not always in agreement.

We are indebted to a recent publication distributed by the Department of Travel and Publicity of the Province of Ontario, which lists results obtained from two annual surveys which they conducted and which gave the following breakdown:

.19.2c	Food, restaurants and dining rooms
.19c	Retail purchases and take home gifts
.16.5c	Accommodation, which includes meals
.14.3c	Accommodation, without meals
.12.7c	Entertainment, etc.
.11.5c	Total automobile expenses, including gas and oil
.06.8c	Miscellaneous, including angling licenses, boat rentals, guides, etc.

A CAREFUL NET

Carefulness is a curse of the age. The incident that prompts one more reflection on the cause of all our ills is the woman who scolds her child for playing in the leaves because "they are so dirty". We heard this the other day and shuddered. Perhaps they are, in a sense, dirty—so must be grass and sand and snow soon after it has fallen. When children cannot tumble on the ground the era of sanitation has gone too far.

And not only the worship of cleanliness trammels us with caution. Bank acounts, insurance policies, burial plots are all strands in the net, all playing on our fears, all demanding our money in case. Perhaps more people live more happily because we obediently fork it out, but they and we live without the excitement, the spontaneity and adventure of the unexpected. And added securities do not end our fears.

There are, of course, reactions. Speed driving and good jazz are two, so are the spontaneous and primitive forms of art that occasionally break through. These are not necesarily "good" because they are the opposites of overcarefulness, but they are a relief. And playing in the leaves may be one of them.

The proceeds amounted to $542.74. The singing of "The Queen" brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

On Tuesday evening a social was held when once again the folks all enjoyed a lovely supper of turkey, hot potato, turnip and dersing, cabbage salad, pie and biscuit. The balance of the evening was then spent by all in arranging things back to order again after the Thanksgiving activities with the proceeds for the social amounting to $34.63.

Mr. and Mrs. Casey Showered With Gifts

Valentia (PNS) A pleasant evening was spent at the North Valentia school on Saturday evening when the community held a presentation in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Casey (nee Winnifred Cherry) of Toronto.

The early part of the evening was spent in playing progressive Euchre with the following prizewinners. The ladies' high score was won by Mrs. Cecil Casey and Mr. Charlie Morris, playing a ladies' card, won the consolation prize. Gent's first prize was awarded to Mr. Roy Grills, and the consolation prize was won by Mr. Ted Casey.

The tables and chairs were placed back to the side of the room and all enjoyed dancing with Messrs. Harvey and Carl Sweetman of Pleasant Point supplying the music; also Mrs. Fred Harper and Mr. Willard Perrault, calling off.

At eleven o'clock Mrs. Gordon Grills asked Mr. and Mrs. Casey to take the chairs placed at the front of the school room. Then Mr. Glenn Grills read a well-worded address to the young couple. The presentation of a table and four chairs, T.V. stool, a scatter rug and clothes hamper was made by Bruce Grills, Harvey Sweetman and Harvey Bowen.

Jim and Winnifred unwrapped the beautiful gifts. Jim in his usual manner thanked all for the very lovely gifts, and invited them to come to visit them in their home at Toronto. "For They Are Jolly Good Fallows" was sung.

The ladies then prepared lunch when a friendly social time was spent.

All left for their various homes wishing Jim and Winnifred many happy years of wedded life.

Miss Florence Bellingham offered her home for the November meeting with Mrs. M. Smith as assistant hostess.

Fall House Cleaning

Check for leaks in fuel tanks and water boilers. Make sure your heating equipment is cleaned and ready for lighting when needed. You won't be sorry when it comes to chilly days which are near at hand. See that your garden is dug up and ready for spring. Be sure your windows are ready to go on just as soon as it is necessary.

Marble Grating

To clean marble and granite statues, use soap and water. If badly stained, you will find that pumice stone is satisfactory.

How To

To set color in wash materials add a little sugar of lead to four quarts of water, dissolve, and soak the goods for about 12 hours. Then rinse and dry in the shade.

Fruit Cream Frosting

One teaspoon of unflavored gelatin; 1 tablespoon milk; 1 cup heavy cream, chilled; 3 tablespoons granulated sugar; ¼ teaspoon grated orange rind; 1-4 teaspoon grated lemon rind and orange sections. Chill bowl and rotary beater. Place over hot water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Whip cream until stiff. Blend in gelatin and remaining ingredients. This makes enough frosting to cover two 8-inch layers. Chill; decorate with orange slices just before serving.

Fruit Soon Gone

If you haven'tmade any jelly yet you may still have time if you hurry. There is still fruit on the market and you'll be sorry if you don't make some jam and jelly for winter meals. It will only take you an hour or so whether you make jelly or jam and your family will love you for it. It tastes mighty good on toast or in tarts.

Are You?

You are not a safe driver if you . . . fail to observe the right of way, follow too closely behind the car ahead, weave in and out of traffic lanes, pass on hills or curves when there is no clear view ahead, do not adjust your speed to weather and traffic conditions, fail to lower your headlights when a car approaches, take chances or trust to luck in hazardous situations, feel over-confident or believe accidents happen only to the other fellow, speed through traffic lights on the yellow signal or mix alcohol and driving.

Household Hint

To remove brown rings on coffee and tea cups, rub with salt moistened with water which will soon take them off.

Influenced Fashions

Lawrence Welk has even influence the fashion world. Inspired by the maestro's "champagne music"—manufacturers have created a line of dresses designed "for the mature woman." Since the styles are especially right for luncheons, teas and dressy evening events . . . they are done in satin, velvet and crepe. The dresses have narrow or gored skirts and open necklines. The size range runs from 12 to 24½.

Beauty Tip

Girls who wear bangs are right in style this year. Twist . . . turn . . . fluff and spit-curl them . . . reminiscent of the Theda Bara era.

Expert on Teenagers

An expert on teenagers says teens step out on steady dates because they feel left at home. According to Mary Beery . . . educator and writer from Lima, Ohio. "Youngsters go steady too young because they're insecure. If parents don't appreciate them . . they'll seek understanding and a sense of belonging from a steady date.' The author says there are three stages of going steady. The first is make-believe. The second stage is dating for security and confidence . . and the third is dating with "real interest" " Going steady is a major problem' says Miss Beery— "Because it develops a false sense of security and retards development of alertness . . . poise and maturity."

For Britsh Trip

If Jayne Mansfield has her way —a few British eyebrows will lift when the actress meets the Queen. Jayne is invited to the royal command film performance in London. And she is planning to wear a dress better than she has ever worn before. "The dress is sensational," she says—"It should outdo anything that girls have worn in past occasions.' Jayne was referring to Marilyn Monroe . . Gina Lollabrigida . . and Sophia Loren —all of whom have raised British blood pressure in previous years.

Most Chic

Simonetta—the Italian duchess-turned-designer—rates Italian women as the most chic in the world . . . "for a small group." American women" . . . says Simonetta—"are the best dressed for a mass.' The designer also claims "there is no fashion capital of the world today." Good fashion can be found anywhere — if there is talent." Simonetta's new line is a circle from shoulder to hemline. She describes it as a "turtle shell with the head sticking out."

Beauty Tip

As the Duchess of Windsor once said—"A woman wearing the most exquisite and expensive dress in the world looks shabby if her hair is not well-groomed."

Alluring Styles

Pajamas are alluringly femine this season. Demure styles have tiny pearl buttons . . hand smocking and Peter Pan collars. The pajama legs are tapered . . toreador-style . . . and have puffed short or long sleeves. Little girl styles . . . because of their comfort. . . are often grownup favorites in sleepwear.

Mink Cozies

Here's a new way to keep the breakfast eggs warm—wrap them in mink cozies. The firm of Maximilian — originator of this most luxurious of luxuries—also features corduroy raincoats lined with chinchilla . . . a chinchilla blazer . . . trench coats of mink and seal . . .

Transfer Trick

Here's how you can re-use a favorite transfer design, or trace a picture from a child's book to decorate a bib or playsuit. Go over the outline on the transfer or tracing paper with a crayon; then put paper face side down on fabric. Press with a warm iron. Presto— Lines are clear, ready to be stitched.

Slick Seams

Slick seams with less work. Here's a new pin-basting technique to use with newer type machines which have a hinged presser foot (a flexible one). Put the pins in perpendicular to the edge of the of the fabric. Then just sew right over the pins. Insert tip of pin at seam-point. Use that spot as seam-width guide. Caution: Don't use with old, rigid-type foot.

Avoid Spills

Keep a supply of spring-type paper clamps on hand in the kitchen. Use them to secure open ends of Cellophane bags. Just roll down empty part of the bag and snap on the clamp. Contents stay put and are much easier to store.

Snag-Stopper

Snag-stopper for unlined draw draperies. When fabric is of rather loose weave, drapery hooks tend to snag fabric at overlapping when the draperies are closed. A clever way to prevent this is to give the "snaggy" hook a guard of plastic tubing. Buy it at hobby shop. The tubing can be cut readily with scissors.

Party Fare

For the young fry who is having a birthday party, take a high chocolate cake and slice it in inches, then make a delicious filling to use between each section and also cover the cake with tasty icing and they will love you for it. To perk the family up, make a cream pie with banana flavoring and marshmallows used for the topping which melts just enough to give the marshmallows a light brown tinge.

Household Hint

It is better to use canned pineapple in gelatine mixtures, because fresh pineapple will not congeal.

General Loosening

A casually elegant look is the fashion motif underlying this fall's suit and coat styles.

Casual because there is a general loosening up of the entire line. Elegant because there is simplicity and fabulous fabrics.

The really smartly dressed woman this fall will adopt modified Parisian ideas of a decidedly different look.

Shorter French skirts are not expected to affect hemlines here until late winter or spring.

This year, fashion leaders report Balenciaga's semi-fitted suit of several years ago is really taking hold. The Chanel's relaxed influence—very feminine but not frilly —is having a terrific impact.

Last Minute Lunch

Here's a solution to the last-minute lunch problem. Scoop out the pulp from tomatoes and drop an egg into each cavity. Season with an oriental touch by adding a dash of soy sauce . . . salt and pepper. Sprinkle the tops with finely chopped Chow Mein noodles. Set the tomatoes upright in a greased baking dish and bake at 350 degrees for about 15 minutes —or until the eggs have set.

Household Tip

To clean your wire clothes lines . . . split a cork part way through and slip it over the line. Push it along as the clothes are hung.

Barberry Bush

Right now this lovely red bush is giving some color to the landscape. While it is not easy to arrange on account of sharp points all over them they do make a pretty picture. One could use it more if they could come up with one of the same, minus the sharp points. However, we can enjoy the beautiful color and let it go its own way. If you want a hedge to keep the dogs away from your shrubbery this bush will do it to perfection.

Princess Margaret

Princess Margaret has been confounding the hairdressers lately with frequent changes in style. Two weeks ago, she appeared at a memorial service for the late King Haakon with a "ragged fringe look." The ragged little fringe that looks so sweet on (six year old) Princess Anne looks strange and straggly on her aunt "And, however it looks when she is not wearing a hat, it certainly doesn't suit the beret she is wearing. I like the short style of hair the Princess has been wearing for some time and think it suits her well. Other experts, however, disagreed and said it looked fascinating whether the style was going out of fashion or not.

Forty Winks On Mink

For those who yearn to take forty winks on mink—pastel mink slumberers are now available. The cost only four-thousand dollars—but if you tend to the more practical—a one-thousand 995-dollar coverlet in white fox is available in twin bed size.

Blackheads

To remove blackheads, try washing the face several times a day with warm water and castile soap. Rinse in cold water.

Here's Today's Beauty Tip:

If you have dry skin and use a freshener after your bath — make sure it is a non-alcoholic one.

White Fox Furs

To clean white fox furs, put one pound ground rice into a large bowl. Pour the soiled fur into the rice and rub thoroughly. After this process, shake the fur thoroughly to shake out the rice This is an excellent cleaning method. You'll find it the best way to treat this soft fur.

Sweaters

Sweaters and sweater suits will keep their shapes much better if folded and laid in a drawer after wearing. They will lose their shapes if hung on the ordinary hangers such as other clothing is hung.

High Fashion

From the World War Two French Underground comes a new addition to high fashion . . in the person of one Emeric Partos, fur designer. Hungarian-born Partos served in the Underground of the French Resistance Movement during World War Two. His collection features coats done in two furs or combinations of fur and fabric Characteristic of his unusual approach is a dark ranch mink coat with skins worked upside down around a wide waistband of brown velvet. Another unique fur has tier upon tier of rare Chinchilla skins.

Oriental Touch

The color is olive green — the undertones are watermelon. The fabrics are silk and linen — the line is slimmer than slim. What else could it be but the Oriental look . . . a look that typifies casual contemporary and comfortable styling. This look now appears as the "Oriental Houseboy" tunic and pants, both slit up the side, naturally.

Cambray And Eden Hold Joint Meeting

Cambray (PNS) Cambray and Eden W. M.S. held their Thanksgiving Service jointly in the basement of St. Paul's Church which was tastefully decorated for the occasion.

Mrs. Bert Spence presided at the piano and played soft music prior to the opening of the service. Cambray president, Mrs. Earl Spence, presided, opening the meeting followed by a hymn and prayer. The offering was taken by Mrs. Sam Lovett and Mrs. Howard Western. Misses Ann and Ruth Stroud contributed a duet which was much appreciated. The study book was on Japan and a skit "Each Brought Their Gifts" was presented by Mrs. F. J. Little, Mrs. Jos. Nesbitt, Mrs. Murray McKinnon and Mrs. Earl Spence. This presentation was to show how each new Canadian brings their own gifts to our country.

A film entitled "The Younger Son" was presented and the president, Mrs. Spence, wrote four questions on the blackboard which were to be thought about and discussed later. The questions were (a) How can we in Canada help Jiro continue on the road to a new faith? (b) What were the things which really brought about his change? (c) Why is rural and industrial Evangelism so important in Japan? and (d) What can we, as Christians, do for the older brother?

The film was much appreciated and dealt with the story of Jiro, one of the countless lost and puzzled second sons in modern Japan, and the struggle he has to make a place for himself to find a faith to replace the older one.

Christianity has been at work in Japan for almost a hundred years, it now has only approximately 450,000 converts from a population of more than 88,000,000 it was learned. The four questions were enthusiastically discussed, followed by a hymn and the Benediction was pronounced by Rev. F. J. Little.

Autumn Wedding

McCabe - Horodyski

A pretty autumn wedding at London, Ontario, saw Mary Sophie Hododyski united in marriage with Donald Thomas McCabe of Lindsay. The happy couple are shown following the ceremony which was performed by Father S. A. Novvian.

Holy Rosary Catholic Church, London, Ontario, was the scene of a pretty wedding on October 12th 1957 at 10:30 a.m. when Mary Sophie Horodyski was united in marriage with Donald Thomas McCabe. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horodyski of 255 Wellington Road, London, Ont., and the groom who lives at 837 Dundas Street, London, Ont., is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Henry McCabe of Lindsay, Ontario. Mrs. F. Johnston Addresses W.M.S.

Bethany —(PNS)—Mrs. Mervin Porteous entertained the members of the United Church W.M.S. with Mrs. Otto Spencer presiding for their meeting.

Mrs. Henry Jakeman had charge of the worship service and discussion.

Mrs. Florence Johnston conducted the study period, giving items of interest concerning missionaries with whom she had had personal contact and telling something of their many problems. "Why do these missionaries go to the distant places?" she asked. "Is it not that they are impelled by Christ's command to 'Go and tell unto all, the gospel story'? We cannot keep Christ and His teaching to ourselves alone. We must share. The missionaries are doing their part. Are we doing ours? The greatest argument for Christianity is to meet a Christ-like person. Let your light shine." she said.

Closing her talk, Mrs. Johnston conducted a questionnairre about missions in general, in which all the members took part.

Following the closing devotions, Mrs. Porteous served lunch.

Lime Plant Wiped Out In Hour

Small Outbreak Gets Upperhand

The village of Coboconk has lost its second industry to fire in the space of a few months. The plant of Cobo Minerals Ltd. went up in flames during the noon hour Friday.

First noticed just before the workmen knocked off for lunch, the fire quickly got out of control and at 1 p.m. the roof had caved in and the loss was total.

Cause of the fire is not known but it is reported to have started in a stack of empty paper lime ags. Tom Rutter, Grant Lake and Bo ns are believed to have irst to have spotted the d went to work on it shers. By the time extinguishers were aze, the men were their efforts to no fire brigade of elies on manpower to fight its fires. But mod proved no match for conflagration which destroyed second major industry in five months. The last big fire wiped out the Quality Plywood and Veneer Co.

When fire breaks out in the village the bell on the Anglican Church, an attractive white structure which stands on a height of land in the village, tolls continuously and able-bodied men are alerted There is no volunteer fire brigade.

The Lion's Club Arena, just a stone's throw from the lime kiln was in jeopardy as the fire raged but it escaped unscathed. One report from the village of Coboconk says the Fenelon Falls brigade was summoned but didn't arrive on the scene. This has not been confirmed.

An estimated 20 men were employed by the lime kiln, relatively new plant which was built about five years ago but which only recently got into real production. The plant contained the latest in rotary-type lime kilns . . . a long cylindrical affair which rotated, heating and curing the lime from the time it entered at one end until it emerged at the other as the finished product.

Mr. J. S. Wheeler of Toronto was reported on his way to the scene of the fire which destroyed the plant he operated. No estimate of damage was available at press time. Reliable sources say the plant had all kinds of orders and ironically, prospective buyers were expected to visit the industry that afternoon.

A resident of the village, distressed by the loss of this second industry, declared: "This place seems to be jinxed".

Second In 24 Hours

The fire was the second in 24 hours . . . Last evening, around 7:15, the fire bell tolled and Walter Olsen's Garage was threatened by an outbreak. Prompt action by volnteers saved it from destruction.

The Human Mind and Body

By Peter J. Steincrohon, M.D., F.A.C.P.

Dr. Steincrohn is author of "How To Add Years To Your Life."

GALL-STONE MANAGEMENT IN PATIENTS OF ADVANCED AGE

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What do you think about operation for gall stones in a man of 62 who has never had any symptons? My doctor ordered a gall bladder X-ray a few weeks ago as a part of a routine checkup. The report came back: gallstones. I asked my doctor where we went from there. He said there was nothing to get excited about. He'd have me X-rayed again in 6 months or a year. If I had no symptoms there was no need for an operation.

What I'm concerned about is the possibility of the stones setting up an irritation that may cause cancer. I happened to be talking about it to another doctor who is a personal friend, and he advised that I have the gall bladder out right now. Thanks. Mr. L. S.

ANSWER: For many years I have been on the side of your own doctor: I have advised symptomless patients to hold off on gallbladder operation until such time as the "gall bladder kicked up." However, each case is peculiarly an individual problem There are no hard and fast rules

For example, we know that age itself is no contraindication. The fact that you are 62 is meaningless as far as it influences the decision to operate. What IS important is your physical age rather than your calendar age. I have known patients in their eighties and nineties who withstood gallbladder surgery; others in their forties and fifties died because of complications in an already weak circulatory system.

Although I have been conservative about recommending gallbladder operation as soon as stones were discovered, I think that you should hear the other side.

For instance, in a recent article in the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Alex Horwitz of Washington D.C., writes in part: "--it is wise to eradicate gall-bladder disease before old age overtakes the patient and before concomitant disease or complications of the gall bladder occur. Of 300 consecutive operations for gall-bladder disease done by me at the George Washington University Hospital there have been no deaths. In 67 instances, the patients operated upon were aged 60 or over."

SUITABLE CLIMATE FOR THE HEART

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What is the ideal climate for elderly heart patients? Mr. J. T.

From what I hear, there is no year-round ideal climate anywhere in the world. Unless, of course, you are willing to go to some far away place that is scarcely inhabited. We know this: extremes in temperature are bad. They put an unnecessary load on the circulation.

That is the reason most doctors advise their heart patients to follow the birds" when the real, nasty, cold weather breaks out in the north. Unquestionably, heart patients feel better for having spent their winters down south.

But there is another side. You can overstrain your heart and circulation by living in a hot and humid environment.. Therefore, if you are fortunate enough to be able to "follow" and "run away from" the sun, go South in the winter and go North in the summer.

I agree with Drs. G E Burch and Albert Hyman who according to Modern Medicine, have written in effect: "Since heat and humidity place considerable stress upon the heart, a fairly cool and dry environment is most suitable for the patient with cardiac disease Such persons should govern their physical exertions by the climate." Winter Storage For Outboards

The same features that make modern outboard motors dependable and easy to operate when propelling your boat makes maintenance a simple matter the year 'round . . . winterization included.

Don Wood, Service Manager of Outboard Marine Corporation of Canada Ltd. has broken down winter storage of outboard motors into ten simple steps. "If properly carried out," Mr. Wood remarked, "these few precautionary measures will not only add years to the life of your motor but keep it alive for immediate use in the spring."

1. Fresh water flushing. Many new model motors have proved that they effectively resist salt water corrosion and deposit. However, the fastidious motor owner can completely remove salt deposits by flushing the cooling system. This is done with most motors simply by inserting a hose nozzle into a hole in the upper pump body which is marked "water flush". Salt deposits on the motor hood can be removed quickly and efficiently with a cloth dampened in fresh water.

2. All water remaining in the cooling system should be forced out to avoid cracking cylinder walls or water jackets. This is done by rotating the flywheel manually.

3. Fuel should be drained from the carburetor to avoid collection of fuel gums and resins. This is accomplished by running the motor in a test tank until all fuel is exhausted. (It can also be accomplished befor bringing a motor ashore from the boat on which it has been used. Simply disconnect the fuel line and let the motor run until it exhausts all fuel in the carburetor.) The carburetor sediment bowl should then be cleaned. The bowl can be removed for cleaning simply by easing the pressure on a screw type lock.

4. Spark plugs should be removed and several drops of lubricating oil should be squirted through the spark plug seats. The flywheel should then be rotated to distribute the oil evenly.

5. Internal parts can also be protected by squirting protective lubricating oil directly into the carburetor through the air silencer while manually rotating the flywheel.

6. The gearcase - lower unit - should be drained and refilled. This is done by removing a machine screw on the motor's skeg and then refilling through another port a few inches above the drain.

7. To protect the exterior finish of the motor, a few drops of oil should be applied with a soft cloth to the motor hood.

8. The motor should then be hung on a motor rack or a solid piece of planking away from the floor or from moveable objects which might come in contact with the lower unit.

9. Care should be taken to mount the motor in a storage area which is free from moisture and dust.

10. The motor should be covered with a piece of canvas, an old blanket or a heavy piece of waterproof paper.

These are the simple, precautionary measures which will assure long life and dependable service for almost any motor on the market today.

First Girl Guide, First Guide Capt. Firsts At Banquet

The first Girl Guide in Lindsay was back in Lindsay for the 30th anniversary dinner of the organization last week. She is Mrs. John F. Fowell of Toronto, and she played a leading part in organizing the movement in this town. Mrs. Fowell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Robt. Groves, Lindsay. St. Andrew's Church Hall was the scene of the banquet and over 200 mothers and daughters were in attendance.

Following the meal and while the tables were being cleared a sing-song led by Captain Kay Wells was enjoyed by all.

After the sing-song a birthday cake was bought in by Peggy Ellis, Captain of the first company, it also being her birthday

The Girl Guides celebrated the 30th anniversary of the Lindsay Girl Guide group. Besides Mrs. Fowell, who was the first girl guide in Lindsay, another special guest was Mrs. W. R. Allely, who was the first Guide Captain in Lindsay.

-Following the birthday-cake, Commissioner, Mrs. Aileen Gregory, acting as Cnairman, introduced Area Camp Advisor, Ruth Nesbitt of Oshawa. She, in turn presented Nancy Quibell with her "all-round cord" which is the second highest award that a Girl Guide can obtain.

A small token of appreciation was presented to Mrs. Gregory by Mrs. McQueen and the local association.

The enrollment of some of the 3rd Guide Company also formed an interesting highlight of the evening.

Concluding an enjoyable evening was a film on the Girl Guide Centennial at Doe Lake. This film was shown by Jennifer Leith.

'Carry On' Co-Op Controller Urges 200 Attending Dinner

"Carry on" was the advice of Controller Ed. Chorney of the United Co-Operative of Ontario, when as guest speaker, he addressed a gathering of 200, assembled for the second annual dinner meeting of the Lindsay District Co-Operative at Cambray United Church on Wednesday evening.

"Let's do things in such a way that we are not ashamed of how we planned to do it," he continued in commenting on the progress of the local firm since its inception.

The luncheon was a delightful affair in the form of a delicious turkey dinner, catered to by the ladies of the Church.

A highlight of the meeting was the re-election of three directors, Laughie Keeler, Wilfred McMullen and Case Davvidson, for the ensuing three years.

Lindsay Manager William Deyell spoke of the newest project of the local Co-Op., that of a distributing system of gasoline and fuel oil which is doing a good business.

Congratulations to the local Co-Op. on its steady growth from small beginnings were expressed by several present and included Area Supervisor Lloyd Archer; members Ernie Eakins and Robert Reeds, Agricultural Representative LeRoy Brown; Mr. M. R. Roberts of the Toronto-Dominion Bank; Feed Specialist Tom Kenny; Manager Rod Blackwell of Peterboro.

The drop in Co-op sales resulting from a good grain harvest could only be considered favourable to farmers was the concensus of opinion.

Mr. LeRoy Brown expressed the opinion that when farmers could get together in such a business as the Lindsay District Co-Operative and at such a function as he would think they could join in some manner to iron out their operational problems of today. "Instead of kicking about things I wonder why they don't "Co-operate" to figure out their problems," he said.

Mr. Bill Weir in his pleasing manner led in a sing-song which added much to the occasion and President James Graham was the capable chairman.

Mrs. W.C. Veals Speaks To BYPU

Reaboro — (PNS)— "The 23rd Psalm" was the interesting topic chosen by Mrs. W. C. Veals to present to the members of the BYPU at their regular weekly meeting which was held in the vestry of the church with a very good attendance.

The President, Mr. Russell Skuce was in charge of the meeting and it was opened with the hymn, "Tis So Sweet To Trust In Jesus" after which Mr. Skuce led in prayer. The roll call was answered from a verse of scripture from the books of Obadian and Jonah. Psalm 23 and 27 were read responsively led by Master Billy Reid and was on the theme "God's Love."

A short business period was held and it was decided to hold a Hallow'een Party on the fifth Tuesday of the month and the committee to look after arrangements for the party are as follows: Bob Reeds, Billy Reid and Russel Skuce. Announcement was made of the Trent Valley Association Rally which was to be held in Norwood Baptist Church in the middle of the month. The allotment for the year was discussed and it was decided to attend to this matter at a later date.

Following the business session a poem was read by Catherine Littlejohn called "Guide Us" after which the hymn "Whosoever Will" was sung. Master Bobby Aldous then read an appropriate article on "Forgive and Forget" which was followed by a season of prayer by Bob Reeds, Mr. Veals, George and Russel Skuce

The President then asked Mrs. Veals to present the topic and the speaker gave the full significance of the words in the 23rd Psalm and enlightening the members on the meaning of the various phrases which proved most helpful and interesting to those present.

Mr. Skuce thanked Mrrs. Veals for her inspiring message and the hymn "Rescue the Perishing" was sung after which Mrs Smith closed the meeting with prayer.

NEARLY 3 INCHES QUENCH THIRST OF LAND, WELLS

And when the rain came the water began to raise in the wells and the people were no longer as fearful for the future . . . they might not have to carry water after all.

The continuing fine weather experienced in this district was taking its toll of rural wells and they were getting low enough to cause concern for the colder months ahead. But the picture is changing and Agricultural Representative Leroy Brown says the heavy rainfall of the past few hours was a blessing.

"Of course, cattle could be watered at creeks and ponds during the open months but if rains do not replenish the wells, upon which winter watering depends, it makes for a serious situation", he declared.

"A fall of snow which would melt would add to the ground moisture but we could stand a good steady rain over a long period to supply the needed moisture", Mr. Brown added.

The rainfall which continued from Tuesday night through to Wednesday night amounted to 2.27 inches, it was learned from the Lindsay Weather recording station. This was supplemented by additional heavy rain on Thursday.

The lack of moisture makes ploughing very difficult and ploughing is not nearly completed in the district it was learned.

Pastures have become very sparse in this district which has not had a good rainfall since July. Foraging on poisonous plants such as bracken can be attributed to this cause, it was further learned.

Agricultural Representative Brown stated that those calves coming off the range and now nearly 11 months old, must be vaccinated for Brucellosis before over age.

But this is entirely the farmers responsibility, he stated. "The government pays for it and the ages of the calves are between four and eleven months. But even so some farmers are very lax in this regard, he revealed.

Omemee-Cavan Entries Win Dual Purpose Show Awards

Numbers were down a bit at the Norwood Dual Purpose Shorthorn Regional, with 70 head showing, but quality was fully up to par. Bull classes in particular were light although the tops were good. Judge Jack Atkinson, Nanticoke, went to the mature class for his Grand Champion bull. This was the straight-lined massive, Red Rose man, shown by Roy Fry and Sons, Bonarlaw. Reserve Senior and Reserve Grand was Marshall 3rd, a bull shown by T. A. McCamus, Cavan. Both of these bulls are no strangers to top honours in the ring.

Junior Champion was the McCamus junior calf, Fashiondale Marshall 5th. From the same class, the second place Marlowemay Standard, shown by Edmund Ruth, Omemee, was made Reserve Junior Champion.

There was an impressive array of good females in the ring as the judge picked his champion. Senior and Grand Champion went to Fred T. Fry, Campbellford, with his winning 4-year old in milk This was Lavinia Pansy 3rd, a cow with plenty of scale and substance, along with a good udder. Reserve Senior and Reserve Grand went to Edmund Ruth with his winning mature cow in milk, Marlowemay Red Mimosa, another crowd pleaser.

Junior Champion came from the youngest female class, the very showy Marlowemay Pandora C for Edmund Ruth. Reserve Junior was Ruth's winning junior yearling Marlowemay Iris.

Other herds making a strong showing were those of Jos. Sullivan, Peterborough; Scott Gilmore, Tamworth, and M. C. Graves, Keene.

The Human Mind and Body

By Peter J. Steincrohon, M.D., F.A.C.P.

Dr. Steincrohn is author of "How To Add Years To Your Life."

WHAT IS NORMAL BLOOD PRESSURE?

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What is considered normal blood pressure for me:? I am 66 years old. I feel fine. But I am disurbed by a recent examination in which the doctor found I had a pressure of 170 systolic and 95 diastolic. Aren't these abnormally high readings? Do you think it necessary to begin taking any of those new drugs for reducing my pressure? Seems a shame, because I feel so good. Mr. J.J.F.

ANSWER: I agree with you, Mr. J.J.F., that it would be a shame for you to begin dosing yourself with these drugs when there is no need for them. You can consider that your pressure is within normal limits, although in the high-normal side. Therefore you need no treatment.

Dr. Arthur M. Master and his associates of New York recently reported a study made of 15,000 apparently health white patients ranging in age between 65 and 106. Their data was received in answer to questionnaires sent to 5,000 physicians.

They found that the average (or mean) readings for the entire group were 145/82 for males and 156/84 among females. The normal pressures in males ranged from 115/175 systolic; and 70-95 diastolic. In woman, 120-192 systolic and 65-102 diastolic.

Doctors have become much more liberal in their interpretation of what IS and what ISN'T abnormally high pressure. Don't let blood pressures figures frighten you unnecessarily. To repeat, Mr. J.J.F., your pressure is within normal limits

LIFE SPAN

Speaking before the Devereau Foundation recently, Dr. Edward L. Bortz of Philadelphia, and a past president of the American Medical Association, said that human beings in a not too distant future may expect to live to between 125 and 150 years of age. But he stressed that our job now is to begin learning how to make old age healthier and more satisfying. To repeat the well-worn jingle: "Add life to your years as well as years to your life."

DO YOU LIKE YOUR WORK

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I know why I feel sick. I hate my job. If I had enough money I'd quit tomorrow. Don't you think, honestly now, that people make too much of a fetish of the word "work"? Mr. L. C.

ANSWER: Probably you are one of the unfortunate square pegs in a round hole. Man without work (even if it is a hobby) tends to curl up and die inside. You will be interested in a study made recently by University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research at Ann Arbor. They found that 4 out every 5 Americans would go on working even if they inherited enough money to get along without working income. Some said they would switch jobs. But more than two-thirds of this country's farmers and three-fifths of men in middle-class jobs would stick to what they were now doing. Skilled labourers said that life without work would seem empty.

Those who had uninteresting jobs and ones with little prestige were most likely to change if they could. As a group, American men like their work. Eighty per cent said they were either "very satisfied" or "satisfied" with their jobs.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. Psalm 23:1.

A shepherd wrote the greatest of all the Psalms. As the lad David fed and protected his flock so Jehova loves and protects us. David knew his sheep by name. He led them to rich pastures and calm waters.

The bride didn't leave the groom at the church . . . but in this case the groom wishes she had.

It happened this way. Police in Cairo, Egypt said a youth fell in love with a beautiful girl . . .and proposed. She accepted . . . and the wedding was set.

The big day came . . .and the youth was married. But then it happened.

After the ceremony, the groom lifted the veil of his bride . . . and fainted . . . when he came to, he called the police.

Why?. Well it seems the girl under the veil wasn't his sweetheart . . . but her ugly duckling sister. —BUP

OBITUARY

Mrs. Hazel Cox

Haliburton (PNS) The funeral of the late Mrs. Hazel Cox, beloved wife of the late Charles Cox, was held on October 17th from her late residence. She was in her 61st year.

The late Mrs. Cox was born Hazel Robertson and had lived in Haliburton all her life.

In business circles she made many friends. She and her late husband operated Dell Haven Lodge until illness prevented them carrying on. She was a kind neighbour and passed away as quietly as she had lived.

The only surviving members of her family are her sister Esther (Mrs. J. G. Mackey) of Sydney, Nova Scotia and her two brothers, Jack and Merven Robertson, both of Haliburton.

The flowers were beautiful, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

After a brief service at her home on the Lakeshore Road the remains were taken to Kingdom Hall where many friends and relatives were present to pay their last respects.

Interment took place in the Ingoldsby Cemetery.

Numerous friends and relatives from out of town attended the funeral services.

Shower Tendered Young Couple

Glenarm (PNS) A most enjoyable evening was spent at Hartley Community Hall when a large number of relatives, despite so much sickness, assembled to honour Mr. and Mrs. Morley Iicholson of Whitby who were recently married in Whitby United Church. The bride is the former Joan Rea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rea of Whitby, and Morley is the second eldest son of Mr. and Mrs Donald Nicholson. He has been employed on the Police Force at Whitby for over a couple of years.

During the evening dancing, both round and square, was enjoyed with music provided by local talent.

Around midnight Morley and Joan were invited to occupy seats of honour at the front of the hall when Donald MacMillan read a nicely worded address of congratulations and best wishes from the community while Sterling McNabb made the presentation of an "Electric Floor Polisher" and an "Adjustable ironing table."

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson both replied in appreciation of the gifts after which all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

Following the presentation lunch was served after which several more hours of dancing concluded a pleasant evening.

COTTAGE BURNS ON WEEKEND

The fourth fire to strike Coboconk in a short time has made short work of a cottage in this village where there is no fire protection.

Harold Beckwith of Toronto, who was staying with his mother-in-law—Mrs. Bertna Caton—over the weekend, was the first to spot the fire. He sounded the alarm but there was nothing that could be done to save the frame cottage owned by a Mr. Thornton, of Toronto. The Thornton cottage is located just back of Lakewood Lodge which is operated by Mrs. Caton.

Breaking out at 10.30 a.m. Sunday, the fire quickly reached its peak and fears were felt for another nearby cottage owned by a family by the name of Watson. Shingles on the Watson cottage are reported to have been scorched.

A report from the village states that the Thornton family, owners of the burned out cottage, were down on Saturday but did not stay.

Last week two fires broke out in the village, one with disastrous results when it destroyed the plant operated by Cobo Minerals Ltd. The other fire menaced a local garage but it was checked before it got a foothold. In early summer the veneer and plywood plant in the village was gutted by fire.

timber companies once farmed to provision 'selves

A tale of the old days in the lumbering industry unfolds itself in this week's Dept. of Lands and Forests newsletter.

"Nowadays", the Lindsay-authored story reads, "many woods' operators purchase their camp provisions from wholesale or retail oulets. However, in the days of the past, timber companies in some instances carried on farming actively in order to produce their camps' provisions.

"There is evidence yet of one of these farms, located in the eastern section of the township of Bruton, which was cleared and developed by the Bronson Lumber Company in the days of the square timber logging, and which is known locally as the "Bruton Farm".

"The Bruton Farm had a cleared area of four hundred acres, which produced hay, grain, vegetables and even apples. This produce was distributed to the outlaying logging camps, where no doubt it was thoroughly enjoyed.

"In addition good buildings existed on the farm — barns, stables, sheds, a large house, a threshing mill and an office.

"With the passage of time the need of the farm has lessened, and slowly the forest has encroached upon the once cleared land. The buildings have been destroyed by fire or torn down, until today the only biulding left is the original office, which is utilized as living quarters for a Department towerman who mans a nearby fire lookout tower.

"Many present day trout fishermen who visit the York branch of the Madawaska River take time out to ramble over part of the old farmlands, clim the fire tower and view the surrounding countryside".

Reeve and Warden Is Leaving Field Of Local Politics

Reeve Ada Greaves has announced that she is going to get out of municipal politics.

Miss Greaves, who this year also held the wardenship of Victoria County, revealed her intentions on Friday afternoon. She said she felt she had reached the point where she felt it was time to step out of the picture and let someone else take over.

Miss Greaves has long been associated with municipal affairs, and while an ordinary member of council, she was instrumental in the formation of the Lindsay Parks Commission. Taking an active interest in this work, she attended conventions and studied systems in other parts of Ontario.

This year, as reeve of Lindsay, she held office for the town's Centennial celebrations and, as warden of Victoria County, she was in office for the official opening of the new wing for the County Home for the Aged. Earlier this fall she was at a Canadian Good Roads Convention in Saskatoon.

A few days ago she was hostess at a banquet in her honour at Gil-Mar Lodge. On this occasion the Town of Lindsay held a reception in her honour, an event which followed the unveiling of a historical plaque in McDonnell Park.

In private life, Miss Greaves is associated with her brother, Morley, in the company bearing his name.

Cheque Is Presented To Kinsmen Band

The quarterly meeting of the Lindsay Kinsmen Band Association was held in the Band Rooms recently, with President Stewart Peel presiding.

After the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Parkin, the treasurer's report was given by Mr. Sleep in the absence of Mr. Hickson.

Mrs. Bertie, president of the Mother's Auxiliary took great pleasure in presenting Mr. Peel with a cheque for four hundred dollars, money raised from various activities during the summer.

A report was given on the sale of the Band post cards, and the suggestion was made that these could be sold as Christmas cards.

A motion was made that a letter of thanks be sent to the Kinsmen Club for their wonderful support in the past, and also in the coming year, through the new Kinsmen representative, Mr. Carl Deyell. The thanks of the Association was also tendered to Mr. Harold Kennedy, who has capably acted as Kin representative since the beginning of the Band.

Mr. Peel was pleased to report that between 25 and 30 new boys are now enrolled with the band on a ten week trial period. These boys will be warmly welcomed into the band.

The idea of holding a Penny sale in November was brought up and thoroughly discussed. It was decided to leave this project to a committee for further investigation.

Mr. Peel reminded the members that the election of new officers will be held at the December meeting, and a nominating committee of five parents was chosen.

The members of the Band have had a busy summer and played in competition at Waterloo and Toronto, Exhibition, attended the July 12th parade at Peterborough, played at both the Kinmount and Lindsay Fairs, and assisted with the Centennial celebrations. They have also had one church parade, given a concert at the Home for the Aged, and were in attendance at both Kiwanis and Kinsmen functions. Individual bandsmen have assisted at many other functions supplying musical entertainment at a party for he Blind, at a Kinsmen Meeting and at a Community Chest meeting.

Of necessity, the Band will not be as active during the winter months, but will still be busy practising for their annual concert in February. Mr. Banks will be busy training new members to replace the older boys who have found it necessary to relinquish their membership.

After a brief discussion of coming events, the meeting was adjourned.

Lindsay Man Sees Tower Collapsed By Pranksters

A Lindsay man was among those who happened to be passing through Norwood just after the town's water tower was partially collapsed by pranksters.

According to Claxton's manager Cy Bassman, the responsible parties had turned on several fire hydrants simultaneously and the sudden rush of water from the tower caused it to cave in. Spectators pointed out to Mr. Bassman that the tower wouldn't have folded had a valve for allowing air to enter the tower from the top been left open.

Half a million out of work by mid-winter is prediction

A research economist says half a million Canadians will probably be without work by mid-winter.

Dr. Eugene Forsey told an International Rotary convention in Toronto that by next March unemployment in this country will hit its highest point since the end of World War II.

The director of research for the Canadian Labour Congress said that the hard winter will also mark a decline in inflationary trends and cut in on company profits.

He said that a stable wholesale price index and a decline in profits and inventory were other indications of a return to higher economic stability.—(BUP)

Smoke Billowing From Garage, Boys Give Accounting Later

When smoke billowed from a garage on 46 King Street at 10.30 a.m. Saturday two little boys who had been playing therein were nowhere to be found.

A quick run by the Lindsay Fire Department was made; The smoke, it was found, was issuing from a pile of cedar bark but there were no flames.

The garage belonged to the premises of H. Graham and a neighbour called Mrs. Graham's attention to the smoke. "I opened the garage door, but closed it again and called the Fire Department," Mrs. Graham related in describing the incident to "The Post".

"Later my little boy said he and another eight-year-old companion had been setting off caps in the garage. However, I still believe they were playing with matches," she added.

"We were very lucky there was no actual fire. The young lads said they did not tell of the smoke because there was no fire. The Fire Department had all under control in a few minutes," the mother stated.

The Human Mind and Body

By Peter J. Steincrohon, M.D., F.A.C.P.

Dr. Steincrohn is author of "How To Add Years To Your Life."

ARE YOU "UP IN THE AIR" ABOUT FLYING?

Dear Mr. Steincrohn: I wish you could straighten out a difference of opinion I've had with a friend of mine about flying. I said that anyone can fly in a commercial airplane these days because the cabins are pressurized so that there is no strain on the human being. He disagrees. He says that not everybody can. I think that this would be of interest to many of your readers, too. Thank you. Mr. H.H.

ANSWER: What has to be considered is the effect of decreased atmospheric pressure because of increased altitude; and also the effect of the excitement of flying. Because of pressurization the actual cabin altitude rarely exceeds 8,000 feet. For most people, this is sufficient to guarantee safe flight. However, there are exceptions.

Dr. Russell J. Vastine, Jr., Chairman of the Scientific Committee of the Flying Physicians Association, presented the following material in an exhibit at the American Medical Association in New York.

These people should not fly:

1. Women who are pregnant beyond the eighth month. 2. Pregnant women who habitually abort. 3. Infants less than 14 days of age. 4. Patients with congenital heart disease who cannot tolerate climbing one flight of stairs. 5. Patients with a hemaglobin of less than 60 per cent or those who have had a recent transfusion. These people should not fly until the possibility of a reaction has passed. 6. Diabetics who cannot administer their own insulin or who are easily subject to reaction or coma. 7. Patients with active pulmonary disease or cavitation. 8. Patients with valvular heart disease who are not fully compensated (who have shortness of breath, etc.). 9. Patients with other than symptom-free angina pectoris. 10. Coronary Thrombosis patients prior to a lapse of six weeks from onset. 11. Patients with contagious diseases. 12. Bulbar Poliomyelitis patients. 13. Patients with wired jaws; large unsupported hernias; intestinal obstruction, draining or open abdominal wounds; wet gangrene; odorous colostomies; ulcers that are threatening to perforate, or postsurgical patients prior to a lapse of 10 days. 14. Psychotics or potential pschytics. 15. patients who do not have control of bodily functions. 16. Patients with acute upper respiratory infections.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Have you ever met the kind of a person who is always bewailing the fact that time flies and that old age is upon one before he realizes it? It's natural, of course, to note the apparently quick passage of the years. What is unnatural, however, is to treat the calendar as one's enemy; to be unable to accept gracefully—and thankfully—that one has grown old.

In his Medical Semantics column in Medical Times, Dr. J. E. Schmidt tells of a reader from Virginia who wrote in asking: "What is horaphthia?" He could not locate this word in his dictionary. Dr. Schmidt answered: "It is a word used infrequently to describe the pathologic or at least excessive yearning for one's youth, or for bygone days in general. It is based on the Greek "ora" (youth or prime of life) and "phthio" (to pine).

Do you suffer from "Horaphthia"? Be thankful that you are still around. Consider the calendar your friend rather than your enemy.

DISCUSS POLICIES

In Montreal, Canadian and American business leaders are meeting to discuss American wheat export policies . . that's the top item for discussion in a meeting sponsored by the Canadian and U-S Chambers of Commerce.

We have made known that American surplus disposal programs are cutting into some of our normal import markets.

CHECKERED CAREER

The Canadian sheep industry has had a checkered career.

The Federal Agriculture Department says Canada has never adopted a standard practice for producing high quality market lambs. But the department is now trying out a program--similar to one followed in Sctoland.

In the Scotish program cross-bred sheep are used to get a maximum of hybrid vigor.

The sheep in this country numbered almost four million head at the end of World War Two--and now the sheep population has dropped to about one and one half million.

In Montreal--one of Canada's largest sheep anl lamb marketing centers--almost 40 per cent of the lambs coming to market for the surrounding territory were grading "cull"--which means an economic loss that can't easily be overlooked.

So the agriculture authorities tried to correct the problem. J. W. Graham of the Government's livestock section was sent to Scotland where he purchased a small group of sheep for cross-breeding. Then he set up the first trial in Quebec.

Since then--the industry, generally speaking, has been on an increase.

FALL WEED CONTROL

Farmers are now putting into practice fall weed control programs.

Most farmers realize that weed control on the farm does not end with harvest. Some of the best controls for perennials have been attained by continuous control programs all through October until freeze-up.

Farmers should give their fallow a final working for eradication of weeds this month. Some of the weeds to be eliminated are Canada and sow thistle, couch grass, toad flax, leafy spurge, and hoary cress. It's a good idea to list or ridge the fallow to reduce erosion.

After harvest it's timely to shallow cultivate stubble and bring on fall germination and winter killing of wild oats. Cultivation in the fall will provide a seedbed for the remaining wild oats and fire rapid germination in the spring.

Where necessary, it's still not too late to apply soil sterilants like DB granular, plybor chlorate, and sodium chlorate—for the first time or as a follow-up weed treatment.

The farmer can be spared of extra weed treatment if screenings intended for later use are stored indoors in covered containers. Other screenings should be burned with care, because if they are permitted to, they will spread and cause serious infestations.

HARVEST ENDING

The early October snowfall has caused a delay of operations in some parts of Saskatchewan.

The Saskatchewan Agricuture Department reports that though there has been some snow in the province, the harvesting of the 1957 grain crops is now almost completed.

NEW DAIRY PRODUCT KEEPS FOR MONTHS

A research team has developed a new dairy product . . . A sweetened cream that can be kept for up to six months at room temperature, without refrigeration.

This new form of cream developed in the United States can be used in a wide variety of ways . . . But its biggest potential market is probably in the manufacture of ice cream . . . replacing the frozen cream now used by most ice cream producers.

The sweetened cream may find a place in homes and in other food industries . . . it can be whipped into a topping for fruit, cakes, and pies . . . it could be used in candy, pastries and other baked goods . . in cake icings, or in flavored drinks.

And that's not all . . research workers say the new form of cream can be diluted for use in coffeee and on cereals . . . adding sugar and cream to these foods at the same time.

The new product contains about 40 per cent butterfat, 30 per cent sugar, 10 per cent non-fat milk solids, and 20 per cent water. It contains about twice as much butterfat as ordinary coffee cream . . about five times as much betterfat as sweetened condensed milk.

The high sugar content keeps the new cream product from spoiling at ordinary room temperatures . . . just as jams and jellies keep because of their high sugar content.

The experiments have proved the sweetened cream can be stored for six months at a temperature of 70 degrees in a closed container without losing flavor . . . and it can be stored even longer at lower temperatures.

After the container is opened the cream keeps for a week or more at room temperature . . . . longer in a refrigerator.

QUIRK

New Jersey males are on notice that operating a car is a full time job.

Seems an irate woman wrote the State Motor Vehicles Division after spotting a man shaving himself while he drove his car.

Her question—isn't there a law against that sort of thing?

Officials could not find a specific statute to cover the situation. But the woman was assured that a shaving driver will be picked up on a careless driving charge, if he is caught.—(BUP)

OPENING OF LAKESHORE SCHEDULE NOW LESS THAN TWO WEEKS AWAY

The opening of the 1957-58 Lakeshore League Intermediate A Season is less than two weeks away, according to the schedule drawn up on Wednesday night last by the four teams constituting the group.

The Muskies, Lindsay's entry, will open their season at home on November 8, a Friday night, against Port Hope Redman. Other teams in the group, to start ,will be Bowmanville - Orono Combines and Cobourg.

Reporting on activities, a club spokesman states that the group meeting at Cobourg, agreed that more teams were desirable, and Convenor Mel Cunningham and Matt Leyden, of the OHA, will attempt to obtain further entries, probably from Trenton and possibly Oshawa or Whitby.

"For the present ,however, a complete four-team schedule has been drawn, giving each team 24 games. The schedule will end on February 15th.

"Season's tickets for the Muskies will go on sale next week. There will be no subscribers' tickets for Muskie games sold this year.

"A substantial discount is being offered the purchasers of season tickets. The total cost for the 12 games will be $7.50.

"This year, the Muskies are as yet unsponsored, and need a large sale of advance tickets to start the season off. Should further entries be attracted to the league, their games will be added to the schedule, but will not count on the season tickets. Holders of season tickets will then have their tickets for these games reserved for them.

"Holders of subscribers' and season tickets last year will have preference in purchasing this year's tickets, but they must pick them up next week as the balance of tickets will go on sale to the general public the following week.

"Efforts are being made to arrange an exhibition game before the regular season opens.

Liked Extension of DST

28 Sussex St. S.
Lindsay, Ont.
October 26, 1957

The Editor,
The Lindsay Daily Post,
Lindsay, Ont.
Dear Sir:

I liked the extension of DST very much. You are to be commended for advocating this measure. The extra daylight is a great boon to those who have a garden for a great deal of the harvesting is done in October. For those whose work confines them to an office or factory during the day the extension of DST has meant that they have been able to enjoy the out-of-doors to a greater extent.

So here's my vote for the same thing in future years.

Sincerely,
DST FAN

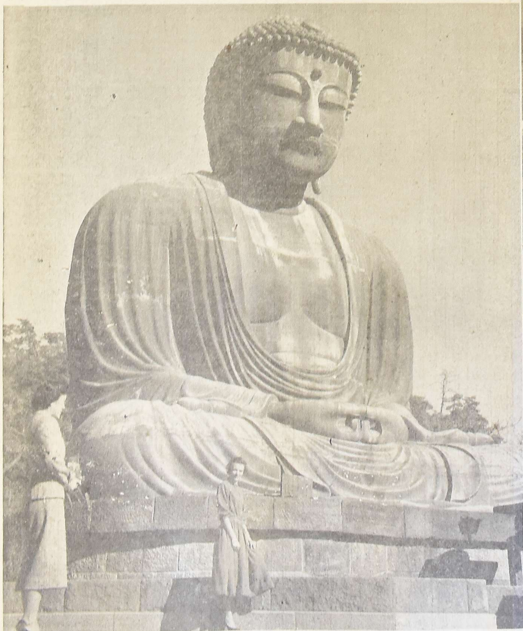
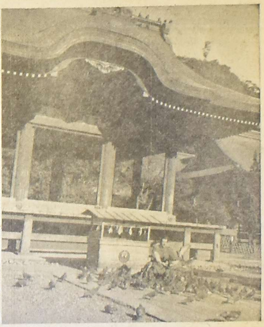
Canadian Girls Fly Between Two Worlds

West Coasters Like Orient



Canadian Airline Hostesses Colleen Watt of Rosebud, Alberta, (left) and Joanne Saimoto of Vancouver, B.C., (right) ply the skies regularly between Canada's West Coast and the Far East. Flying the Vancouver-Tokyo run, the girls have come to feel equally at home in both worlds and enjoy exploring the unique beauties of each. Above, the famous bronze Buddha at Kamakura is photographed for their album.

When in the East Colleen Watt believes in doing as the Orientals do. She uses chopsticks to sample the Sukiyaki dinner which the Japanese maid has prepared over a charcoal burner.



Japanese shrines are among the finest in the world and Miss Watt travels Japan seeking out the most beautiful ones. Pigeons, she says are the same everywhere: eternally curious, perpetually hungry.

Colleen Watt is a great admirer of the easy, graceful lines of the Japanese national costume. The gown she is trying on retails in Tokyo for about $10.

Colleen and Joanne don their Airline uniforms for the return flight to Vancouver — a 22-hour hop via Alaska. Both girls say they love the life and their fortnightly spin between two worlds.
